LOOKOUT.

(Special to The Citizen.)

LOOKOUT, Pa., June 15.—A message was received on Friday last bringing the sad news of the death of Charles F. Rockwell, Honesdale, Pa. He had a great many friends here, also at Equinunk where he spent the early part of his life in mercantile business. He was a kind friend to all of the few veterans of the Civil war that are left. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

Rev. Wallace H. Finch, Mountaineer, N. Y., superintendent of the Newburg District of the Methodist Episcopal church, preached at all the appointments on the charge. Thus far we have been left without a minister for this year, but he assures us one in the near future. Dr. Finch's text was St. John 3rd chapter, and the 16th verse. His words were very plain and eloquent. Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Schiedell, Jeffersonville, N. Y., came over in their auto on Wednesday last and called on friends here; also Miss Abbie Blake who has spent the past year in Binghamton, is home on a visit and called on her many friends on Saturday last.

WHITE MILLS.

(Special to The Citizen.)

WHITE MILLS, Pa., June 15.—The thunder storm was very fierce on Sunday morning. It split a tree one foot in diameter at John Brock's and made it all into kindling wood. At the bottom of tree it turned over stones weighing about ten pounds.

The lecture, "Gold Mine Within," which was delivered at the commencement exercises on Wednesday last, was a great benefit to the human mind. The graduates all played their parts well and showed the benefit of good training. This was the first time in the history of our Independent High school that they turned out graduates from the three year course of the third class High school. We trust that the taxpayers of this district will become more interested towards the maintenance of higher education.

Rev. Walter Walker went to Narrowsburg on Saturday.

STERLING.

(Special to The Citizen.)

STERLING, Pa., June 15.—Of late we have had several very hot days and now we are getting the wet ones. In fact the heavy rain last night washed out gardens, fields, roads and did much damage. Many gardens are nearly ruined and our roads are in the worst condition they have been for many years. The water has not been properly turned off the roads, not out of the roads, and consequently about all the dirt that has recently been put on the roads is washed off and nothing but stones is left. It is not surprising that folks are complaining badly of our high cash road tax considering the condition our roads are in.

Last week Seth Bortree in driving over a little bridge between his house and the Leetown school house, broke down and he luckily escaped with a few bruises.

Last week Rev. W. E. Webster attended the ministerial meeting at Jackson and on Sunday he gave us the benefit of a paper he read on "The Country Church" that was quite interesting. At the close of the Sunday school Rev. F. L. Hartford spoke of an effort that is being made to get teachers to more thoroughly prepare themselves for teaching.

We expect to observe Children's Day next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson A. Franz of East Stroudsburg, spent the Sunday at J. E. Cross'.

Some twenty odd years ago Carrie M. Cross married Lewis R. Dunning and since then they have resided in Scranton. About two weeks ago Mr. Dunning was taken sick with pneumonia and expired on the 8th and was interred at South Sterling on the 10th. Rev. Webster officiating. The burial service was conducted by the Odd Fellows, a number of the fraternity accompanying the remains from Scranton. The floral tribute was the most profuse of any we ever saw and was very beautiful. As this is out of our jurisdiction we will simply say that a number of Mrs. Dunning's friends from here were present at the funeral and the fine church edifice was thoroughly packed. The South Sterling ladies very kindly prepared all distant friends present a fine lunch. The Anthracite Club came from Scranton and furnished the music.

Last week Earl V. Cross returned from the University of Pennsylvania where he is taking a dental course. David A. Cross also returned from Cornell University.

On the 9th Mrs. W. B. Leshar and children returned from an extended visit with New Jersey friends.

Mrs. Raymond Woodward, Adelia, was a recent visitor of friends in town.

The graduating class from the Hawley High school for 1911 were whirled in automobiles to Honesdale early Monday morning to take the early train for their week's journey to Washington, D. C. and other interesting points. Four autos were used to carry the party. The class consisted of six, three boys and three girls, viz: Louis Miller, Lester Switzer, Ernest Scheltz, Eva Harnes, Helen Beck, Nettie Decker. They will return next week. Mrs. Miller received a letter from her son, Louis, Tuesday evening stating that the party arrived at the capital O. K. and that he had already shaken hands with President Taft.

During the terrible electrical storm that passed over this vicinity on Sunday afternoon at about 5:30 the barn of John Nino, who lives some distance beyond Nell's slaughter house, received a bolt of lightning which set the building on fire. The fire had gained such headway before discovered that the building with contents was consumed. In the barn at the time was three horses and nearly all of his farming machinery. Mr. Nino managed to get out his work horses which was all that could be saved.

Miss Mary McNamara went on Tuesday morning to Scranton to attend a dance at Hotel Casey in honor of her cousin graduate.

Our horrologer for the last three months has been so quiet and so free from any disturbance or litigation of any kind that "Squire Ammerman's office and the office of the Burgess evidently looked very lonesome. But the change came in great fury on Tuesday when there were three cases awaiting to be passed upon by these officials.

On Monday Eli Bronson, Chapmantown, came to town with a spirited pair of colts bringing a load of calves which he disposed of in the early part of the day to Butcher Peoppel, receiving the cash for the same. After unloading his calves it appeared that he loaded himself with fire water to such a degree that he was unable to manage either horses nor himself. Finally after making several conspicuous tours of the town he landed with team and wagon in Lehmann's fine vegetable garden at the Eddy. Then Officer Reichardson was called to take him in charge and he was placed in the town lock-up. On Tuesday morning he was brought before Chief Burgess Murphy and fined ten dollars and costs.

After police court was over Landlord Lehmann presented his bill of eleven dollars and fifty cents for damages done to his garden. The bills were all paid by the defendant and he went home a sober and wiser man.

Justice of the Peace Ammerman had a very busy day Tuesday as there were two law suits before him that day. The first which was called at 1 o'clock, was the case of Ephraim Drake vs. M. D. Skire for assault and battery. Drake, who hails from Shiny Mountain, Pike county, came into Skier's clothing store in an intoxicated condition, became abusive and refused to leave the room whereupon Mr. Skier caught hold of him and threw him out and he claimed that he struck on the door step cutting a gash in his side and breaking one rib. Decision of the justice was no cause of action.

The next case was that of Aaron Goble who had sued Mr. James, the present owner of the Long Pond property for service with man and team, moving household goods from Hawley to his home near Lakeville. Goble was given a judgment but James will appeal to the court.

Thomas Crossley, Honesdale, has purchased a good-sized cottage at Big Pond.

Bear in mind that you may be fined $1.00 by the borough ordinance if you light or burn any fire crackers, fire balls, etc., within the borough on the Fourth of July, except between the hours of 1 a. m. and 2 p. m.
