An agreement was entered into between the Keystone Guard of Athens, Pa., American Patriots of Springfield, Ill., and James M. Goodell, Jr., of Chicago, that all the former members of Keystone Guard that keeps in good standing until July 1, 1911, will be entitled to their pro rata share of the Keystone Guard assets in their hands. Joseph Stephens says that we might better hold the July assessment and use it for advancement of education against fraud.

STERLING.

STERLING, Pa., June 22.—Although the heavy rain badly washed our fields yet everything appears to be growing nicely.

Ethel Simons and Flossie Bortree returned from the State Normal School at East Stroudsburg Saturday. Laura Gilpin took an examination there in order to add a few more studies to her State certificate. Lydia Lesher also passed a number of studies.

About fifty-one years ago Mrs. W. E. Posten attended school at Wyoming Seminary and she took in the closing exercises held there last week. A grand-daughter, Lydia Gilpin, graduated. Mason Gilpin, Hub, also graduated and was the class poet. Floyd J. Cross was another graduate and his mother and brother George were also present.

Last week a meeting of the taxpayers was held at the Webster, Leetown, and Zion school houses in order to get an expression from the majority whether they desired to run or close the schools. Websters and Zion desired a school but Leetown voted 13 to 9 to close the school. The school directors are at a loss to decide just what is best to be done. Expenses and convenience for the pupils are the two principle factors. Last year Leetown averaged a daily attendance of 7 pupils.

Children's Day was observed on the 18 and as usual there was an excellent turnout and everything passed off nicely. More credit is due the ones who so nicely train the children than what they usually receive.

On June 15 Mrs. Mary Batzel was 65 years old and her two daughters very thoughtfully made her a birthday surprise party. About thirty of her friends were present and enjoyed a sumptuous dinner. Mrs. Batzel received a number of presents and a few very pleasant hours were passed and all left wishing Mrs. Batzel many more happy birthdays.

Royal J. and David O. Cross expect to graduate in electrical engineering this week at Cornell University and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cross and Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Cross leave to-day for Ithaca so as to be able to take in the closing exercises. Susan J. Cross graduated at the S. N. S. at Stroudsburg a few years ago and she also goes to Stroudsburg to-day to take in the commencement.

Lowell Cross is the guest of his sister, Mrs. N. A. Prantz, in Stroudsburg.

BEACH LAKE.

BEACHLAKE, Pa., June 22.—Sunday being such a beautiful day all seemed to enjoy it and it proved to be a successful Children's Day as all participants did their part exceedingly well. Our pastor and wife add greatly to all our entertainments by their singing. The visitors in town were numerous. Those we noticed were: Mrs. Sidney Wheeler, Miss Mabel Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry White, Mr. Case, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bailey, and Ms. Sidney Woodley, and a host of others beside autos passing during the day.

Olin, Grace, and Maurice Barnes have returned from their school duties at Greenville, Ill.

Several attended the Sparks circus on Friday and report a good show.

The base ball management is planning to improve the ball grounds by the addition of grandstand seats and players' benches.

The report of the game of ball between the Alerts of this place and Honesdale appeared in the last issue of The Citizen.

ARLINGTON.

ARLINGTON, Pa., June 22.—The people of Arlington and neighborhood gathered at the M. E. church on Sunday evening last, June 18, to listen to the rendering of the Children's Day exercises by the Sunday school scholars and friends. "The Children's Hour" was the name of the service which was beautifully given. The platform was very prettily decorated for the occasion, and the church was filled with friends and parents of the little folks who took their respective parts right well. The following program was given: Opening song, "Children's Anthem," by the choir; prayer was offered by the pastor; and responsive scripture reading by the school; primary recitation, Lorretta Walker, Edna Becker, Ruth Noble; recitation, "Welcome," Fred Reinfort; song, "Our Brightest Summer Day"; recitation, "How We Tell," Mary Reer; recitation, "What Little Ones Can Do," Edith Bunnell; song and bird exercise by four girls and four boys, who were Robin Red Breast, Blue Bird, Oriole, Humming Bird, Swallow, Wren, Sparrow and Bobolink, respectively; song, "All is Bright and Cheerful Around Us"; recitation, "The Cradle Roll," by three little ones; recitation, "What Does Little Birdie Say," Nora Kimble; "The Smallest Girl," Beatrice Kimble; song, "Not To-morrow, But Now," by the choir; recitation, "What the Rose Thinks," H. Altemier; song, "Jesus Sees You in the Conflict," choir; recitation, "What Makes a Man," F. Reer; recitation, "Be Brave," Earl Reer; song and flag drill, the Education Brigade; address by the pastor, Rev. H. T. Purkiss, who gave some excellent advice to the children and gave a warm welcome to the adult congregation; recitation, "Reward of Giving," Lillie Reer; song, "He Cares for Me," choir; recitation, "The College Army," Elsie Reer; recitation, "The World For Christ," Ruth Noble, and the closing song, "The Word of the Lord" by the choir. The offering was five dollars and fifteen cents.

PAUPACK.

PAUPACK, Pa., June 22.—The M. E. church at Paupack presented a very pretty scene on Sunday afternoon last when "Birds and Blossoms," as Children's Day exercises, was given by the Sunday school scholars. Friends, the singing was fine. Excellent and good. The recitations also were well rendered and a good program made up as follows: Opening song, "Children's Day"; responsive scripture reading; recitation, "Birdies," Ruth Masker, Francis Singer, Helen Kellam; duet, "Glory and Sunset," Louise and Hilda Vatterline; recitation, "Apple Blossom Snow," Rose Probst; recitation, "In Happy Junetime," Edith Gumble, Anna Gumble, Edna Singer, Gertrude Fowler; recitation, "The Forget-Me-Not," Betty Speiser; song, "As the Stars," by the school; song, "Roses Sweet and Fragrant," by the school; recitation, "Dandelions," Dorothy Gumble; recitation, "Tempest and Sunshine," L. Drake; song, "More Love and Faith," by the school; recitation, "Place and Work for All," Mary Masker; recitation, "Unawares," Edith Gumble; song, "Rosebuds," the solo part being taken by four girls and the chorus by the school; address by the pastor, Rev. Maine's Hull a Rusty Shell.

After expending a vast amount of money to raise the sunken Maine it is the opinion of the engineers in charge that there is not enough left of the sunken battleship to pay for its removal. The hull of the dreadnaught is solid rust and it is believed that the guns, etc., which the government thought of saving are entirely ruined.
