WEDNESDAY, JULY 5, 1911.

ENCOURAGING.

$33,000,000 over and above all expenses with some $7,000,000 still due from the corporation tax is the way in which Uncle Sam balances his books for the fiscal year. The cash balance in the treasury exceeds $100,000,000. From every source of national income except customs the receipts total about $685,000,000 and taken with the postal receipts make the whole grand total almost one billion of dollars.

In view of the fact that this has not been a remarkable prosperous year, these results are both interesting and encouraging.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN MERCHANT.

In the death of Mr. Lewis Bregstein on Sunday, Honesdale loses one of its most prominent residents and retired business men. Respected by all, his untimely death is a sad blow to his immediate family and his hosts of friends. Emigrating to this country at an early age, his life is an example of the success that a young man with pluck, determination and perseverance can win. Broad-minded, courteous, fair and honest in all his dealings with his fellowman, the late merchant was held in affectionate admiration and esteem by all with whom he came in contact.

To his bereaved family The Citizen extends its sincere sympathy and shares in its sorrow.

WHEELS OF JUSTICE NOT SO SLOW.

Another banker—former President Reichmann of the Carnegie Trust Company, New York, has been convicted of making false returns to the State Banking Department and has been sentenced to prison. Of all sinners the banker who is false to his trust deserves less sympathy and merits quicker punishment than any other class. "If banks are not safe nothing is safe and if bankers who sin go unpunished, there is no use of punishing anyone."

A self-respecting burglar would scorn the thieving banker and if the former is bad the latter is far worse. It is to be hoped that the lesson that the laws are not to be broken will shortly be learned even by derelict bankers.

MAIN STREET.

In another column of The Citizen is found a humorous comment by Editor Warg of the Hawley Times ament the Main street of Honesdale. It is to the effect that the stop watches provided the police for timing speeding automobiles are unnecessary and that a medal should be given the automobilists who can drive along the principal thoroughfare of this flourishing town and not be thrown out of the machine.

Mr. Warg probably wrote his little item before the roller had commenced to make Main street somewhat more presentable, and when the street was a disgrace to the town. New York or New England would not have tolerated such a condition for a moment, much less than years and years. It has hurt Honesdale more than a little in the past, and if its present comparative smoothness wears away in the near future it will continue to hurt Honesdale in days to come.

In most towns the Main street is kept in the finest condition possible, because the character of the street is taken as an index to the character of the town. Just as the yard of a private citizen which is not kept spic and span, with the hedges neatly trimmed, the grass cut, and the dead leaves and bits of paper cleared away is a pretty good sign that the owner of the yard is a sloppy, lazy, indifferent man without an atom of personal pride, so the town which allows its main street to disintegrate into a mass of ruts, gullies and mud holes, unsafe for horses and nearly impossible for automobiles, does not stand very high in the respect of visitors and strangers who form their opinion of the town itself from the condition of its main highway.

If Mr. Warg will run up to Honesdale he may witness some slight improvement in the character of its main street.

Patriotic Services at Methodist Church

REV. W. H. HILLER PREACHES STRONG SERMON ON CHURCH AND STATE.

The services in the Methodist church on Sunday were of a patriotic nature. The pastor, Rev. W. H. Hiller, preached a strong sermon in the morning on the "Church and State" and in the evening the theme was the ideal of the church and state and how realized. The pulpit was draped with a large flag, which was the only decoration. The singing was of the usual high class. C. J. Dibble rendered a sweet tenor solo, and a male quartette composed of Raymond Dibble, George Hayward, Elwin Butler and Neal Hiller, sang a beautiful piece, which was appropriate for the day. In the evening the rendition of several anthems and solos by members of the choir was greatly enjoyed. The choir was assisted by Sonner's orchestra, Mrs. N. J. Spencer organist, and C. J. Dibble director.

The Flies' Revenge.

Ten little flies
All in a line;
One got a swat!
Then there were
Nine little flies
Grimly sedate,
Licking their chops—
Swat! There were
Eight little flies
Raising some more—
Swat! Swat! Swat! Swat!
Then there were
Four little flies
(Colored green-blue!)
Swat! (Ain't it easy!)
Then there were
Two little flies
Dodged the civilian—
Early next day
There were a million!

Heurich - Saunders Case Settled by Arbitrators

SAUNDERS WINS AND HEURICH HAS TO PAY THE COSTS.

A board of arbitrators composed of A. F. Voigt, J. F. Katz and Jas. O. Mumford listened to evidence in the assumpt suit of Carl Heurich against Charles Sanders at the court house on Friday. The plaintiff brought suit against the defendant to recover $500 with interest since May 19, 1904.

Herman Harmes was counsel for the plaintiff, while Attorney C. A. McCarty represented the defendant. The hearing occupied the time of the arbitrators from the morning until after 1 o'clock without intermission.

May 19, 1904, Charles Sanders borrowed from Carl Heurich the sum of $500 for which he gave Heurich a receipt. In July, 1905, a man called upon Sanders and produced an order from Heurich for the collection of the amount paid. In 1909 Heurich wrote to Sanders asking for the money but received no answer. Both parties at the time of the transaction lived at Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Sanders moved to Paupack early in 1910. In May, 1910, Heurich came to Hawley, where he met Sanders and demanded a settlement. Heurich relined that he ever authorized anyone to collect his money; said the order was a forgery and that he never received any part of the debt.

About two hours after the case was closed, the arbitrators, who tried the case, returned an award in favor of Sanders, Heurich to pay all costs.

GRANTED A CHARTER.

The Wallenpaupack Power company, whose principal incorporators are Scranton capitalists, were granted a charter by Governor Tener Thursday. The amount of the capitalization of the charter is $5,000.

TO PREVENT LOCK-JAW.

Again State Health Commissioner Dixon calls attention to the serious danger attending Fourth of July explosive wounds. In issuing the annual warning—a warning which it is believed has been listened to and heeded. Dr. Dixon announces also the preventive measures which his Department has arranged to combat tetanus or lock-jaw as a result of injuries from explosives.

The 67 tetanus antitoxin state distributing stations will be replenished with a stock of tetanus antitoxin for use among the poor who may be unfortunate enough to be injured on or about the 4th of July, and Dr. Dixon again urges the necessity of prompt use of the antitoxin in cases of wounds received from explosives in order to ward off lock-jaw. No such wounds should be considered trivial. Send for a physician at once. If medical aid cannot be secured at once, wash out the wound thoroughly and apply a hot antiseptic, such a solution as one antiseptic tablet, commercial corrosive sublimate, to five pints of hot water. The injured part should be completely immersed in this solution for a considerable length of time. If these tablets are not available, wash out the wounds thoroughly with pure hydrogen peroxide. If no antiseptics are available ordinary hot water of such temperature that it will favor bleeding from the wound may be of some service. Let there be no delay however, in sending for a physician for death lurks in explosive wounds.

In the list of tetanus antitoxin distributing stations appears the name of C. C. Jadin, Honesdale. If you or your friends receive injuries on July 4 you may receive the preventative at this store on request.

Food Ferments

Causes Indigestion and Stomach Distress.

Indigestion or any chronic stomach trouble leads to loss of vigor and vitality; half the nervous wrecks in America today can blame indigestion for their condition.

Fermentation of food means that your stomach is run down; that your food does not digest and that the blood, not being supplied with nutritious elements, cannot supply the various organs of the body with sufficient nourishment.

That's why indigestion often causes eye weakness, brain fog, palpitation of the heart and inactive liver.

MI-O-NA stomach tablets will build up your run down stomach, will banish indigestion and put your whole system in good condition if you will give them a chance. They are sold by G. W. Peil at only 50 cents a large box.
