Party In Wagon Run Down at Grade Crossing.

TWO ARE SEVERELY INJURED.

Woman Driver and Conductor on Rockaway Beach Branch in Hospital—Motorman Tries in Vain to Make Brakes Work.

New York, July 3.—In another Long Island railroad grade crossing accident, at the point where the Rockaway Beach branch of the railroad crosses Wood Haven avenue in Glendale, five people who were riding in a wagon were killed and the sixth person in the wagon and the train conductor were severely injured.

The dead: Jacob Cohen, 88 Avenue B., Manhattan.

Ida Cohen, his sister, same address. Leah Goldberg, 222 Plulaski avenue, Brooklyn.

Jacob Simon, 164 Norfolk street, Manhattan.

Eight-year-old girl of the name of Welner, whose address the police have not learned.

Mary Sessler of Glendale, who was driving the wagon, is in St. Mary's hospital, with probably fatal injuries.

W. B. Creed, conductor, of Far Rockaway, also is in St. Mary's hospital, with serious cuts and bruises.

All of those who were killed were members of a family party that had assembled at the farm of Isidore Goldberg, on the outskirts of Glendale.

The party felt the need of something to drink and Jacob Cohen and Jacob Simon volunteered to go to Jockey's hotel half a mile away for refreshments. The two women and the girl walked with them to the hotel.

The hotel man lent them the horse and wagon to go to the Goldberg farm. Mary Sessler, who was employed at the hotel, was sent along to drive the horse and return with the vehicle.

The approach of Woodhaven avenue to the Long Island crossing in Glendale is down a stiff grade. A five car electric train was traveling toward Manhattan at a forty-five mile rate. Though the motorman put on his brakes as soon as he saw the wagon, the speed of the train was not appreciably diminished and the first car struck the wagon in the middle.

PLANS IRRIGATION.

Madero Urges National Scheme on Mexico.

NOTE SENT TO GOVERNORS.

Heads of States Are Asked to Report by Wire How Much Prison Labor They Can Supply For the Project.

City of Mexico, July 3.—Senor Madero's first step for an economical betterment republic was made when a lengthy telegram was sent to all governors of states, asking them to cooperate with the central government in a plan for national irrigation.

The suggestion was made that all the prisoners held in the jails be organized into working companies to construct dams and canals for the reclamation of waste lands and also to insure good crops in the lands already under cultivation.

This is to avoid a repetition of the shortage of crops in the last few years, which made necessary the importation of cereals. The governors were asked to report by wire the number of prisoners in the jails who might be organized for this work, also all data on the possibilities of constructing the dams for other irrigation projects.

The government expresses the belief that an immense amount of work is possible before the end of the year and intends to start the work immediately.

Besides the reclaiming of large areas, the plan comprehends the improvement of the condition of the prisoners.

Guadalajara, Mexico, July 3.—Public manifestations against foreign interests are of almost daily occurrence here. A vigorous campaign is being waged by the followers of the political leaders against American and other foreign enterprises that are operating under concessions granted by the preceding administration.

("Down with the monopoly!") and marched to the government palace to register a formal protest against the Pacific Packing company, an American company which in January opened the most modern meat packing plant in Mexico.

A committee was sent to confer with the provisional government, and a demand for abrogation of the concession under which the plant was built was made. Governor Allende told the committee he would make an investigation.

TO ENUMERATE SCHOOL CHILDREN BETWEEN 6 AND 16.

By the provisions of the new school code school boards of each county shall, between April and September of each year, cause to be made by the attendance officer, teachers or other persons an enumeration of the school children between 6 and 16 years of age. As part of the time allotted to this work had elapsed before the code was signed, and as the enumeration was probably made by the assessors, the state superintendent directs that school boards may, if they desire to avoid the expense of another enumeration already made by the assessors, use the same enrollment instead of making a new one.

In case school boards desire to make an enumeration Dr. Schaeffer suggests that the county superintendent be informed as soon as convenient so that the necessary enrollment books may be ordered from the department for each district. Each book has blank space for 300 names. If a special enumeration is to be made secretaries, when informing the county superintendent, should state the number of books needed.

Instead of going to that place he made a round of the drinking places of the town, became intoxicated, as he admitted when sworn, driving the horse at such speed and whipping and abusing the animal to such an extent that it was completely exhausted when driven into the stable about 11 o'clock at night as testified to by Lee James, Attorney Harmes conducted the case for the plaintiff and the justice bound Williams over to court under $200 bond.
