LOCAL NEWS

Charles E. Dodge paid Mrs. Stephen Bergman $1,000 on Thursday, being the amount of insurance her late husband carried in the New York Life Insurance company.

Announcement was authorized from Washington last Friday that Thursday, November 30, will be set apart by the President as Thanksgiving Day this year. There are five Thursdays in November this year, and some had contended that the fourth Thursday would be observed as the day for Thanksgiving.

It will soon be time for candidates to get a move on themselves. The primaries will be a large one. County and township offices are to be filled and voters want ample time to make up their minds. In Wayne county many of the candidates are introducing themselves by having their photos printed in the papers. Next to seeing a man's face this is a good way to get an idea of appearance.—East Stroudsburg Press.

Deative N. B. Spencer has his eye peeled for one C. P. Myers, who claims he is a dealer in hides. Myers disappeared a week ago Saturday with a sorrel bobtail mare from Fred G. Rickert's livery, and no clue has been received of him since last Thursday. The horse has a white star in her forehead, two white hind feet and is a good roadster. The harness is brass-mounted and the buggy is rubber-tired. When last seen Myers was going toward Poyntelle.

The Thirteenth Street Quoit club has developed a number of good players. The Spettigue team is hard to beat. One evening last week a member of the team got a game in two pitches, having thrown two "ringers." The players are becoming proficient and Captain Fryer has recently appointed two lieutenants. They are crowding Captain Fryer for his honor. The rivalry existing between the West street players and the Thirteenth street pitchers is keen, but the latter team has a number of players that can trim their opponents two to one. The foot measure is the only "rule" that settles disputes in making close points. The interest is increasing nightly, in that reserved seats are now bringing a high premium. The club is considering erecting artificial lamps, enabling the players to pitch after dark.

The Pomona will meet at Calkins Aug. 23. It is hoped that J. A. McSparran, Lancaster county, a member of the executive committee of the State Grange will be greeted with a large gathering. State Organizer Theodore Klein, Ariel, will also be present and has prepared a proposition which he desires the farmers' hearty co-operation. It is on the growing of fruit and corn which Wayne county is particularly adapted to, the soil being the proper nature to produce large crops.

The Republican party of Damascus township will hold a caucus at Pethick's hall on Saturday, Aug. 19, at 2 o'clock p. m.

Invitations have been received here from Mr. and Mrs. John Shannon Mason, Westborough, Mass., bidding relatives and friends to the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Weld, to Walter Merrick Whitney, Honesdale. The ceremony will be performed Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Aug. 31, in the Evangelical church at Westborough, Mass. The bridegroom-to-be is a son of Mrs. Allis Whitney of Church street.

Monday morning's Tribune-Republican announced the marriage of Miss Stella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yanaan, Carbondale, to Joseph M. Rosler, Albany, N. Y. The contracting parties are both well known to many Honesdale people, the bride having delighted Easter congregations at the Episcopal church here the past two seasons, while the groom was a member of the local base ball club during the 1903-04 season. The marriage took place in Albany on Saturday, Aug. 12, where the groom has an excellent position with the Delaware & Hudson company. Mr. and Mrs. Rosler will make their future home in the New York State capitol.

The celebrated Lawrence Band of Scranton will give one of their high grade concerts in the Bethany Presbyterian church on Saturday evening, August 26. Ice cream and cake will be served. 66t2

The land is rich on the east coast of Florida in the everglades, it being from 10 to 12 feet thick. It is the purpose of the government to develop this land and grow vegetables thereon. The Gulf stream comes within three miles of this section of Florida and the climatic conditions are said to be unequalled. Florida promises to be one of the largest market truck places in the United States.

DISPLAYS AT THE FAIR.

There are on display several domestic utensils, farm implements and labor saving machinery made by local and Wayne county representatives. Erk Bros. of Honesdale, have a Blizard Ensilage Blower in operation. It is the first of its kind to be displayed on the fair grounds. The fodder is fed into a cutting box and forced up a high stack and would go into a silo if there were one on the ground. There are gasoline engines, air and water-cooled type, lumber wagons, manure spreaders, etc. An important demonstration is that of a spraying machine, operated by a gasoline engine of one horsepower. As a whole the display is up-to-date and demonstrates what modern machinery will do for the farmer. The display is of the International Harvesting company's machinery.

C. L. Highhouse, Carley Brook, has a small but fine display of the Woodpecker gasoline engine in four and six-horse power sizes. The latter has an attachment to the fly-wheel so that when the machinery is being operated it can be stopped or started anytime without stopping the engine, which is a great advantage over the ordinary engine. Mr. Highhouse also has a fine display of patent roofing and the Unadilla silo. The latter is exceptionally unique. The doors, by a simple lock, remain wherever placed. The fastener also serves the purpose of a ladder.

Murray & Co. has an excellent display of farm and lumber wagons, single, spring and covered buggies. Their farming implements are varied and represent some of the best goods upon the market. Their display is well arranged and cannot help but catch the farmer's eye. It is in charge of Philip R. Murray, Jr.

O. M. Spettigue has a fine representation of household and farm necessities on display. They include plows, rakes, scythes, pumps, stoves, and almost everything found in an up-to-date hardware store. O. M. Spettigue, Jr., has charge of this display.

Philip Reining, Cherry Ridge, has a fine match team of black stallions that are greatly admired. They are well groomed and well mated. There is an absence of out-of-town conveyances this year, for which the local liverymen and home drivers are thankful.

The management of the fair has the road leading from the fair ground sprinkled thereby laying the dust and making traveling better for the public.

Owing to the fact that several of Honesdale's hotels were filled Monday night is good evidence that the attendance at the fair will be large this week.

FAIR NOTES.

Come to the Wayne county fair. The greatest of all Wayne county fairs is now open and there is one of the best exhibitions in cattle and poultry ever seen.

Everything is in fine shape on the fair grounds. The track is excellent this year for races and the horses are speedy. Two fine exhibitions on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Come and bring your family with you.

Every afternoon the Starretts will give exhibitions on the platform in front of the grandstand. There will be trained Shetland ponies and dogs, acrobatic acts by professional tumblers and numerous other stunts that cannot fail to please. This show alone is worth the price of admission.

The Erie railroad will run a special train into Honesdale Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. Returning the train leaves Honesdale at six o'clock, which will enable a number of persons from the southern part of the county to visit the fair.

BOARD OF TRADE WANTS MEMBERS

Plan to Increase Membership of Organization to 200

METHOD OF DOING IS NOT YET FULLY DETERMINED, HOWEVER.

The Greater Honesdale Board of Trade has inaugurated a campaign for new members. The board has a membership of over 100 of the representative citizens of Honesdale and vicinity. It is desired to increase this membership to 200. Each member is requested to present to the membership committee before the next regular meeting night the names of two good, public-spirited citizens of Honesdale or Texas township.

The Board of Trade has voluntarily received applications for membership from reputable citizens of the town, who if put into the harness would accomplish results. These are the kind of men the Board of Trade want. The recent action taken in town matters has created a sentiment for the betterment or improvement of local conditions and the board is being highly commended for what is being done and what has been accomplished.

The method or system of securing new members has not been fully determined. It has been suggested that the present board members be equally divided, either into numbers, uptowners and downtowners, or the blue and red, each side choosing a color, and that prizes be awarded to the successful contestants.

Every citizen of Honesdale should belong to the board of trade. It is here that you have decided to earn your living. Your business is here and where that is your interests are centered. If the town can secure more industries of a varied nature, so much the better for you and the place in general. What helps your business helps the town and what helps the town helps better conditions at large. You can help make these conditions better by supporting the Greater Honesdale Board of Trade.

The times in Honesdale are growing better every day. If there were not so why would its stores be crowded to overflowing the evenings they are open during the week? Why are the amusement houses so largely patronized every night of the week and what occasion would commercial salesmen have to say things were better here if they were not selling goods?

Help make these times still better by joining the Board of Trade and place Honesdale on the map. The larger the membership the stronger and more influential the board will be. Greater and more probable things can then be accomplished.

The membership committee of the board of trade consists of William Katz, C. T. Bentley, John Erk, J. B. Nielsen, E. H. Pohle, J. A. Robinson, and E. B. Callaway.

Death of Albert T. Heberling. On Wednesday, August 9, 1911, this well known and well-loved Pike county son was laid to rest in the Moravian cemetery at Newfoundland, Pa. Deceased was the oldest son of Henry and Bertha Heberling, born Nov. 8, 1877, at Panther, Pa. In this vicinity he was reared and LOVELY COMPLEXION. A CLEAR SKIN AND BRIGHT EYES ARE EASY TO GET.

All the beauty creams in creation won't improve your complexion if your stomach is out of order. Belching of gas and heartburn means bad food in the stomach. Bad food means bad blood and bad blood means a bad complexion. Try MI-O-NA stomach tablets for stomach misery, biliousness, dizziness and indigestion. They relieve in a few minutes; they make rich, red blood. They are guaranteed by G. W. Pell to cure or money back. 50 cents a large box.

matured to manhood. After a short course of study at Lancaster, Pa., Mr. Heberling started in the jewelry business at Parksburg, about 40 miles from Philadelphia. The lapse of ten years found him still in Parksburg, prospering in his business and beloved by a wide circle of friends and comrades in community, church and fraternal organizations.

In the promise of full-budding, ambitious manhood, Albert Heberling was suddenly called higher. He succumbed after a short illness to an attack of typhoid fever, breathing his last on August 5, at 4:30 p. m.

A loving memorial service was held in the Presbyterian church at Parksburg, where the entire community paused for a season to take a last look into the face of a good man, a good friend and a good citizen. Then, accompanied by a brother and sister, friends, his pastor and brothers of the fraternal organizations, his remains were brought to Panther, Pa., to the home of his boyhood and young manhood. From here followed the interment on Wednesday morning, after a sympathetic and crowded service had been held in the Moravian church at Newfoundland.
