Something over 5,000 horses have either died or been disabled from the effects of the heat so far this summer in New York City and very near a like number in Chicago and in consequence there is an almost unprecedented demand for all classes of horses, especially the draft type and delivery chunks. At this season with the excessive heat, horse owners cannot be too careful in using preventive measures to protect their animals from prostration. Unquestionably the loss of thousands of these horses could have been prevented by proper treatment.

AN OUTING SONG. [By S. S. Robinson.]

We're tired of the noise and the strife— In the city where business is rife, With plenty of lunch, We're out in a bunch, Having the time of our life; Where the fields of ripening grain Are kissed by the dew and the rain, And the apples are red, On the boughs overhead, By the moss-covered wall in the lane.

CHORUS. We're out for a jolly good time— Oh, life in the fields is sublime! We'll revel in fun, Till day light is done, For we're out for a jolly good time.

The tables delightfully groan With baskets of goodies from home, There's no need to fast As long as they last And there's more in the cupboard at home; How it brings back the old-fashioned days, When resting from innocent plays, We lunched on the grass, As the moments would pass Into hours of those beautiful days.

In the shade of the old orchard trees, Where the meadow is swept by the breeze, What glorious fun To walk or to run, Or to do just whatever you please, Each spot in our childhood we knew When skies were delightfully blue, With fish-line and hook We strolled by the brook, Just to catch a speckled beauty or two.

Sing a song of rollicking glee, As we sang when careless and free, We'll join in the plays As we did in school days, For we're young as we used to be, When we're out with the girls and the boys, We always make plenty of noise, We cannot resist, The years seem a mist, Since we played with our dollies and toys.

FOREST LAKE HOTEL NOT DESTROYED.

The report that the Forest Lake Hotel had burned as the result of forest fires is without foundation. In a telephone message from A. L. Bishop, keeper, to the Citizen Thursday morning, Mr. Bishop stated that fire is not within a mile of the hotel and that it is now well under control. The fire started Monday west of the hotel at Wolf Lake and has burned the underbrush for a distance of two square miles. Forty men have been out day and night fighting the flames. None of the cottages were endangered.

The Forest Lake Hotel is having a fine season there being about 120 guests at present.

OHIO GRAFTERS UNEASY.

Efforts Being Made to Prevent Diegle From Confessing.

Columbus, O., Aug. 23.—Strenuous efforts are being made by lawyers from various parts of the state to get Sergeant at Arms Rodney J. Wiegler not to confess all he knows in the legislative bribery matter. One minute he declares he will tell all he knows and the next he swears that he will remain silent and go to the pen.

It is up to Diegle to say what he will do, according to Attorney General Hogan. He is out on bail with a possible penitentiary sentence hanging over him on conviction of aiding in securing bribes for legislators, and he has a promise of immunity from Judge Kinkead if he will confess all he knows.

He must prepare a written statement between now and Monday. Undoubtedly many members of the legislature are frightened because there was a sudden influx of lawyers and members of the legislature into Columbus.
