FLYING INTO FAME.

The quickest and surest route to fame lies in the direction of the Milky Way. The bubble reputation, once sought at the cannon's mouth, may now be plucked from the skies by any aeronaut daring enough to man. soar after it. Within the last two years dozens of men have won national and in some cases international renown through sensational flights, Big Pond where she will be a guest though some of them have not lived to enjoy their glory. Witness Moissant, Johnston, Hoxey and a host of others.

The most recent of these celebritles is Mr. Atwood, but yesterday unknown, to-day one of the most talked of, most written about men in America. The precise measure of this bold aeronaut's glory cannot be esting several weeks at the home of mated for want of a suitable standard, but if he has been rash enough Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Unger. mated for want of a suitable standard, but if he has been rash enough to subscribe to a press clipping bureau he will have a heavy bill to pay.

His name will live, however, even after other sky fliers shall have thrown his St. Louis flight into eclipse. Already a cocktail has been called after him-a beverage that "puts you up in the air," if the inventor is to be believed-and the chances are that his name will be forever linked with those masters of the cafe jurisprudence, Rickey and the two Collinses, Thomas and John.

-:0:-AROUND THE WORLD IN FORTY DAYS.

Poor Jules Verne! Every one of his dreams have become realities. Reality keeps on the heels of imagination, and sometimes runs beyond it. Frome of the bride, only the immediate was served at the bride, only the bride, only the bride, only the immediate was served at the bride, only the bride, only the brid was a flight of the imagination that thrilled the reader. Yet here is a Paris newspaper man, Andre Jaeger-Schmidt, who makes the circuit in 39 days, 19 hours, 43 minutes and 37 4-5 seconds, cutting Verne's time in half. "Nellie Bly," a newspaper woman, started out on November 14, 1889, and girdled the globe with a speed that broke the record and excelled by many ways the mark set by the French novelist. The com- and son Frank, Mr. and Mrs. John pletion of the Trans-Siberian and other railways in Europe and Asia, faster trains and the greatly increased speed with which steamships plow across the Atlantic and Pacific have enabled Jaeger-Schmidt to reduce the record by more than a third. He started from Paris on July 17 to beat the rec-ord made by Stiegler, of the Paris Matin, who completed the circuit of the Seldon Sebring, manager of the C ord made by Stiegler, of the Paris Matin, who completed the circuit of the world in 63 days. Jaeger-Schmidt has set a pace that will be difficult to equal in making the tour, in less than 40 days. But we can never hope of horses and two-seated pheaton belonging to Enoch Adams. With a girdle 'round about the earth in 40 minutes." An electric girdle, however, has already been put round the globe, and a message, if not a messenger, can be sent around it in less time than 40 minutes. The Parisian journalist might have made better time, however, if he hadn't had so heavy a name to carry.

HOW SOME WOMEN SPEND MONEY.

Listen to this: Mrs. Stilson Hutchins has just told the District of Columbia court that a millionaire's wife cannot live properly on less than $67 a day. Mrs. George A. Trude, sued in Chicago courts for $27 for cape having the back of the pheaton one month's bill for face powder, says her "beauty wants" total $1,875 a year. (She must be a howling beauty or else her case is hopeless.) Mrs. over the bank. Fortunately none Fannie P. wants only $240 a year for toilet articles and drugs, although needing $300 for physicians and $60 for massage.

Mrs. Hutchins wants $15 a month for charity. She needs a like amount for music, a similar sum for flowers, $120 for theatre tickets, $60 for candy and $24 for books. It would seem as though she could see a lot of 10, 20, 30 cent shows on that money.

Whereas Mrs. De Bost needs hundreds of dollars a year for a dentist for her daughter, Mrs. Hutchins can struggle along on $60.

One item in Mrs. Hutchins' list strikes the keynote of economy.

Though she would spend $3,600 a year for clothing, she would pay $240 Mrs. W. L. Harvey. to cleaners. Napoleon, Victor Hugo said, was found of old clothes and wore no new ones at St. Helena.

When ladies so disagree as to their necessities how is mere man on the bench to decide? We wish to point out this fact, however, that any lady who spends $450 for face powder, must either have a remarkably large facial acreage, or is trying to grow some new kind of vegetable,

The Boyertown horror caused an the conduct of amusement places all over the country. In spite of these reforms a horror occurred at Can-onsburg on Saturday night which showed conclusively that laws may control many things but they are not proof against the fool who shouts "fire" or the panic of a mob.

That theatre was protected as well as legislation and common sense could devise. Nevertheless twenty-six people were killed in the terrible jam that ensued when some one frantically shouted fire. Fire escapes were forgotten, discretion was thrown to the winds, humanity was stifled in the mad rush for the main exit. Over a score of men, women and children were trampled to death. Yet there was no fire.

With all our organization of in-tellect it seems that little is requir-

Beware the You may not be able to help being in such a mob but you can help becoming a part of it. It is the part of every man and woman who reads the horror to be impressed with the necessity of battling such a movement should he or she ever become involved in it. In reading the accounts the horror of it should not be stronger than the hatred of such be stronger than the hatred of such an occurrence and the resolve never to participate in a similar affair, developing a habit of thought that will lead, or ought to lead, to fortitude lead, or ought to lead, to fortitude flower, Mamie Laugel, Rose and Minnie Courtney. lentown Call.

only one organization for boys."

Fred Krummel, Clinton, Conn., says "I am awful sorry that there are no facilities for the Boy Scouts in my town. I think that I am going to be my own Scout. How much do you charge for suits? I think that you said that you sell suits to boys who have not got any chance of heing Boy Scouts.

"One good thing in Boy Scouts Is that they love animals. I cannot see any one kick or be cruel to animals. Father has got three dogs, two horses, and over one hundred chickens, and also two cats.
"I am certainly very sorry there can't be any patrol formed in this dried out town, but I guess I can have some fun anyway in being my own Scout. Please write me your charges or rather prices Boy Scout supplies." on

The answers to these letters from boys, mothers, fathers, and school teachers require the thoughtful at-tention of the leaders of the scout organization. As the movement was originated to appeal to the boy's sense of heroism and fun and is designed to stimulate him to greater activity, not only for his own enjoyment, but for the upbuilding of his body, mind and character it is necessary to give thought to the questions and wishes of the boy. The movement is for the boys, and therefore, the boy gets the bulk of the attention. This has been the principle set down by James E. West, Executive Secretary of the Boy Scouts of America. To that task more than forty persons in the head-near parents. J. James and wife.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

I hereby announce myself to the voters of Wayne county as a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of County Commissioner, suboffice of County Commissioner, subject to the primaries to be held September 30. To those citizens who do not know me would say that I was born in Wayne county, and have spent my life so far within its borders, excepting two years of volunteer service in the last of the Civil war. My occupation is now and has been chiefly that of fewer. and has been chiefly that of farming. This is my first request for county office, and if nominated and elected will discharge the incumbent duties in an honorable, and I trust an efficient manner.

Respectfully yours,

THE AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHER

A great deal of the work of the average government clerk is copying, copying words or figures. This was done formerly by pencil and pen. Letters, for instance, used to be written first by one clerk and then pen-copied by another clerk for the office records. Water press copies were not considered sufficiently safe or legible.

The latest transcribing device to be used by the departments is a photocopying machine—a machine that makes photographic copies of manuscript. Years ago there was a good deal of talk about such a machine, but its use was not practical because of certain defects. It would not, for instance, make a photo-graphic copy of any kind of type except of a dark color on white paper. These defects have been overcome by using a peculiar kind of photo-graphic paper and also a color screen, which strains out the white rays, so that indistinct words on tissue manuscript, for example, are made even clearer in the photographic copy than in the original itself.

The documents to be copied placed upon a table which is illuminated by strong mercury-vapor elecric lamps at each side of glass tubes about three feet long. At ordinary temperatures the mercury is in the metallic form, but when the electric current passes through it, it is vapor-ized and the vapor becomes brilliantly incandescent, with a peculiar greenish-blue light that has a photographic value.

The time of the exposure of the manuscript to the lens of the camera depends upon the kind of material to be copied and from four to thirty seconds are necessary. The entire operation, from the beginning of the exposure, through the developing, to the completion of the fixing in the hypo solution of the print, is about minute.

The photo-copy machine copies two typewritten pages at once. That is at the rate of six hundred words a $1 Will Open an Account.
