TOOTHACHE MAY COST RAILROAD $20,000.

Suffering Passenger Who Was Ejected Discovery Made by Explorer Stefans-From Train Brings Suit.

Jurors in the Spokane county superior court, to be convened in September, will be called upon to decide what is a reasonable balm when a passenger suffering from toothache is elected from a train and forced to walk twenty-four miles to enlist the services of John H. Larson wants $20,000 from the Great Northern Railway company for what is described in his complaint as "humiliation, shame, disgrace and physical pain." The complaint sets forth that Larson boarded a Spokane bound train in Lincoln county on June 29. He was told by the ticket agent to pay the conductor, as there was not sufficient time to sell a ticket. On the train Larson tendered a twenty dollar gold coin, but Conductor Stedman refused to accept it in payment of fare. saying the coin was spurious.

Larson had $3.15 in silver, but that amount was not sufficient to pay his fare to Spokane, so the train was stopped and the passenger ejected. He sought the agent in the station at Waukon and was told the next train would be along in fourteen hours, so he decided to walk. Meanwhile the pain of the aching tooth became more aggravated, and when Larson reached Spokane, following the long hike on the grade, his jaw was swollen so his friends failed to recognize him.

THINKS HE CAN CURE LIARS.

Holy Cross Professor Says Prevention Is First to Be Sought.

The Rev. Robert Switkerath, professor of history and pedagogy at Holy Cross college, in a lecture before the teachers' congress in Boston college said that "the so called confirmed liar is not a hopeless case, but may be cured by patience and sympathetic in-

The clergyman's topic was "Prevention and Cure of School Evils, Especially Lying and Cheating."

"American boys have more common sense and a fairer appreciation of justness than any others in the world," he said. "It is important that we should know the cause of evil in the individual case. We should know whether the cause is pure egotism, excessive imagination, nervousness or excitement or from a misunderstood motive of heroism. The treatment will be different in different cases. More important than the cure of lying is the prevention of lying."

DRUMMED 33 YEARS.

And New Samuel Johnson Has Retired From the "President's Own."

Samuel Johnson, first drummer of the marine band, who has handed in his resignation after thirty-three years of service, said he had "just naturally" tired of beating a drum and intends to try something else for a while.

This is not the first time that Johnson has tied up his sticks and laid away his drum since he joined the band as a lad. In 1894, when John Philip Sousa retired from the leadership of the "President's Own," Johnson likewise retired. But the music of the kettle and the snare was too strong for him, and three years later he took down his old sticks and donned the blue and gold of the marine corps

BARTLETT A FRESHMAN.

Ex-Congressman at Forty-one Begins Study at University of Nevada.

George A. Bartlett, former congressman from Nevada, has entered the freshman class of the University of Nevada. He will specialize in general chemistry, mineralogy and mining and will spend four hours each day in University hall. He says he won't play football.

Bartlett is a leading Democrat in Nevada and is spoken of as a probable candidate for governor in 1914. He is forty-one years old. He was congressman at large from Nevada from 1907 to 1911 son-European In Features.

That there is a race of men resembling Scandinavians living in Victoria Land, in arctic America, who have never seen other white men and took the white man who discovered them for an Eskimo, is the remarkable statement contained in a letter from the explorer and authropologist Vilhjmar Stefansson, who has been in the arctic region for the last three years or more on an expedition sent out by the American Museum of Natural History. The explorer states that these far northern Americans have the speech and habits of Eskimos, but are European in features

In the finding of the new community Mr. Stefansson believes he has introduced among ethnologists a new problem of great scientific interest. He suggests three possibilities. One is that he has found a new branch of the human family. Another is that these beings may be the descendants of the 3,000 Scandinavians who suddenly and mysteriously disappeared from Greenland in the fifteenth century and of whom no trace has ever been found.

He also suggests that they may be descendants of a large party of Sir John Franklin's men who also mysteriously disappeared.

Mr. Stefansson left New York city in April, 1908. With him when he left was Dr. R. M. Anderson of Iowa, who was the naturalist of the expedition, which left here with the intention of learning something definite in relation to the ethnological puzzles of the land north of Hudson bay.

The expedition has done what it set out to do, Mr. Stefansson writes, and has also found there is no large river in the region, although one is designated on maps as the river La Ronciere. He has learned that a certain cape is an island and that a certain island on the present map is a cape.

WORLD'S GREATEST AIRSHIP.

Japan's Will Be Ninety Feet Longer Than England's.

Japan is building the greatest dirigible balloon ever known. Details regarding the aerial structure are said to be zealously guarded, but nevertheless it is announced that the aerial monster will be 600 feet long, exceeding by ninety feet the length of the British dirigible launched a short time age at Barrow

It will be a little more than fifty feet in diameter and will be fitted with six motors, each of 120 horsepower, so that its total driving power will be equivalent to 720 horsepower, or about twice that of the motors on the British

These engines are expected to be capable of driving an airship of its dimensions against a wind of forty miles velocity-that is, a storm windat the rate of thirty miles an hour, But if there should be no wind it could force its way through the air at a speed of seventy miles an hour.

The air vessel which Japan completed a few months ago was 400 feet long and of the semirigid type. The new one is being constructed on the rigid principle. It will have a lifting power of about forty-two tons-exactly double that of the British dirigible. It could take on board at least twenty ons of benzine for fuel, and any of gas would be compensated for by the consumption of the fuel. By this of 25 feet. means it ought to be able to remain in the air a week and be under full control the whole time.

About ten men will form its crew though the dirigible's carrying capacity will be sufficient for thirty more men. For ammunition and pneumatic cylinder bombs ample room is to be avail-

HERMIT DEAD.

Left a Fortune, Which He Sometimes Carried In His Clothes. James W. Churchill, a famous her-

mit of Plymouth, Mass., died recently at the home where he had lived the life of a recluse for forty years. was born in Plymouth eighty-three years ago and during his early life followed the sea. At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted in the Ninety-ninth New York regiment, Company K, and besides serving in the army was for some time on board a man-of-war.

After coming home from the war he retired to the old homestead, where his hermit's life began. With his advancing years came a positive distrust of mankind. The old man died wealthy, although the exact amount of his fortune cannot be determined.

Across the road from his home is a small pond which contains goldfish, and the old man has always been a self constituted guardian of the pool.

Once he was found on the streets with his pockets stuffed with money and bills sticking from his belt, from the tops of his boots and various other parts of his clothing. He always carried a large roll with him, which he guarded with a loaded revolver.

Champion Letter Sorter. Grove M. Torre, a clerk in the San color sergeant said.

said Files-on-Parade.

"They put the blink out of a job," the color sergeant said.

As a result of the observation advanced by two scientific men. Marie and MacAuliffe, that the sanest type of man has the biggest feet, while the sanest type of woman has the smallest feet, pedestrians all along the boulevards in Paris are taking to the habit of scanning one another's feet.
