$ BUGS" RAYMOND WAS ANX-IOUS TO SEE WAD-DELL PERFORM.

When "Bags" Raymond, whose stunts with the Giants this year may explain the derivation of his first name, was a real but eccentric star in the National league Rube Waddell was shining similarly in the American. Rube was at the height of his career then and by reason of his wanderings from conventional paths was pulling several col-umns of press agent stuff in the newspapers every day.

Raymond's team happened to be in the same city where Rube was billed to perform, and as it

"Thought I'd drop in and look this freak over," he said to the gateman. "Got a pass?" the official demanded.

When he

"Oh, no," said "Bugs" easily-"professional courtesy, you know, old man. I'm a big lenguer. Merely wanted to see Rube pitch. They told me he's so nutty the squirrels follow him. Funny how a bat like that can pitch about .999, isn't it ?" The gateman was silent.

"Been reading about him playing marbles in alleys with the kids while the managers were searching the city for him to take his turn in the box," Raymond continued hopefully. "By George, he sure is nuts, if all this stuff is true. Must be worth looking at. I'd like to see him." "You've got to show something better than a vocabulary to get in here," said the gateman.

"Why, man, you ought to pass e. I'm Raymond of the Name. tional. Merely want to size up this freak you have caged here.' "Oh, you're Raymond, are you?"

"Yep."

"The one they call 'Bugs?" "Yep."

"Well, you wait here a minute," said the gateman. "1"11 bring Rube out and let him look at you.'

PERFECT BAT NEVER MADE.

Hans Wagner, However, Used One That Was Near Perfection.

"A perfect bat has never been made and never will be," says Hans Wagner. "I have had bats break when I met the ball squarely, break after months of faithful service, and a grounder would trickle to an infield when the force I put into my swing was enough for a three base hit.

"The nearest perfect bat I ever saw was owned by a kid in a small Kentucky town where I once played in an Seybold Mark For Home Runs May Be Beaten or Equaled Before Season Closes-Other Batting Feats May Be Overshadowed.

BY TOMMY CLARK.

When the baseball season closes in October the fans will probably have new batting records to discuss. Judging from the way the batters in both the American and National leagues are hitting the ball this year, new records are sure to be made. During the present season an unprecedented number of extra base drives have been made. There is every reason to believe that new records will be established for two baggers and three base drives as well as for home runs. Since there is something magical in the words "home run" naturally the ested in the player who manages to get the greatest number of four base drives during the season.

At the present time enthusiasts al over the country are watching the bat work of young Fred Luderus, the Phil lies' first baseman, who by his batting v this year became as noted Cobb or Hans Wagner. Luderus is after the home run record made in 1899 by Buck Freeman of the Wash ington Nationals. Luderus recently slumped in his batting and was re placed by Bransfield, but Manager Dooin believes on his return he wil regain his eye. "Socks" Seybold holds the American league record for home runs. He es tablished it in 1902. The former Ath letic in that year made sixteen. Luderus' record ...mpared to those made when baseball was in its infancy might be called a joke. The game, however, has changed much since then, especially the batting and pitching. Then, too, batters played a greater part in the game than pitchers It is a remarkable feat today for a batter to make two home runs it one game, whereas in olden times two and three were not unusual. However, it is a fact that one man has made seven homers in a single game. On June 12, 1867, Harry Wright, playing for the Cincinnati club against the Holt club of Newport, Ky., made that number. A year later Lip Pike made six in one con-test. As late as 1874 Al Reach, Klein felder and Potter earned the distinction of making five in a single contest. Ping Bodie, another young player who is making good this year in big league company, eclipsed Freeman's record of twenty-five four-base drives. Last year, when the White Sox out fielder played with San Francisco, Bo die made thirty home runs.

 HERE'S ONE THEY TELL ON JIMMY CALLAHAN.

Here is one they are telling on Jimmy Callaban, the Chicago Americans' outfielder, whose comeback has been one of the wonders of the baseball world: James was running a semiprofessional team in Chicago and controlled a collection of planks and sod called by courtesy a ball park. One dark night a company of park hunting friends who wanted to pull off a benefit game for a wooden legged woman or tin eared orphans, drove up to Jimmy's residence and one of them went up to the door and punched the bell.

It was 1 a. m., and the maid was taking no chances on that door-in Chicago-at that time of night. Sticking her head out of an upper hall window of the Callahan mansion, she saluted the street fleet in the low necked cab with "What's wanted?"

"Is this where Mr. Callahan lives?" called one of the visitors. "Sure ut be," responded the maid. "Bring 'im in-I'm comin' down t' unlock th' dure."

Plans for holding the biggest ocean to ocean race in the history of yachting are being offered by Commodore Daniel H. Laubersheimer, Vice Commodore Warren Wood and Rear Commodore Hubbel of the South Coast Yacht club of Los Angeles and other yachtsmen of southern California.

They plan to pull off a race from New York to Los Angeles immediately after the opening of the Panama canal, in which hundreds of the big racing yachts of the east will be invited to participate.

SECRET OF LAJOIE'S BATTING.

Former Ball Player Says His Success is Due to "Fellow on" Style.

"The secret of Lajoie's successful hitting lies in the fact that he adopts the 'follow on' style used by golfers," said a former ball player. "He doesn't swing his bat from his side, but meets the ball squarely when it reaches a point in front of his chest, and then puts his strength into a sort of punch which carries the bat well beyond his left side. All first class batsmen do this, for it enables them to keep their eyes on the ball and to put strength into their bats when they hit the leather."

Pitcher O'Toole's Assortment of Twists Marty O'Toole, Pittsburg's new $22,-

500 pitcher, according to reports, relies entirely upon two curves, a speedy spitter and a drop. He has a fast ball with a good break that he occasionally mixes in and uses when he is in the hole. Almost every other ball he pitches is a spitter. It shoots to the right or left and breaks with such a quick snap that batters can't tell where it is going. His fast ball also breaks with a quick snap. He gets the break by snapping his wrist as the ball leaves his hand.

Ty Cobb of the Tigers is also striving for a batting record. He is after the one Hugh Duffy set up in 1894. which was .438 for 124 games.

Duffy Lewis of the Red Sox is try his hardest to beat the record ing made last year by Nap Lajole for two base drives. Last year Lajole made fifty-one doubles. Lewis has made more than half the number. If he continues his present gait he is confident of beating Lajoie's mark.

Lajoie also holds the record for the greatest number of triples made dur-ing a season. He established it in 1903, when he registered twenty-three for the sensor. To date Larry Doyle, Cobb and Cree have each passed the fifteen mark.
