

INDICT UNION MEN

Butler Grand Jury Acts In Dynamiting Cases.

MAKE CONSPIRACY CHARGES.

Special Investigation of Outrages Along Harmony, Pittsburg, Butler and Newcastle Line Results In Action Against Former Employees.

Butler, Pa., Sept. 14.—The grand jury which made a special investigation into dynamiting outrages and other acts of violence along the line of the Harmony, Pittsburg, Butler and Newcastle railway made its report to Judge James M. Galbraith and recommends that indictments be brought against twenty labor leaders and former employees of the company. Among those named by the grand jury against whom indictments shall be brought are J. J. Thorpe of Pittsburg, international vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, and C. A. Betts, president of the Harmony local union of the association.

The grand jury specifies J. J. Thorpe, C. A. Betts, W. W. Pollock, L. G. Bowman, H. F. Gaskill, D. E. Pierce, Henry Clingensmith, A. L. Householder, William Williamson, Sam Rodman, M. J. Skeelall, J. H. Roberts, Clyde Shontz, L. D. Hileman, Henry Dunbar, Clyde Jones, R. E. Thayer, John Strossnider, J. C. Baker and L. Kinshorn, and recommends that they be indicted.

Immediately after the presentment had been made the district attorney brought a bill of indictment and passed it to the grand jury. The grand jury acted immediately and indictments were returned. Two charges were brought, fifteen of the men named being charged with conspiracy for dynamiting cars and other attempts, and several of the men were named for conspiracy for soaping or greasing the tracks.

TRACE LANSDALE ELOPERS.

Pair Arrested Also Charged With Robbery and Forgery.

Lansdale, Pa., Sept. 14.—Mrs. Anton etta Manzell and Antonio Toledo, who eloped from here, have been traced to New Windsor, Conn., and are in custody. Charles Kulp, a policeman, is at Harrisburg to procure the approval of Governor Tener to requisition papers to bring the fugitives back to Montgomery county for trial.

The Manzells have their home here. The husband was thrifty and had a good position and a bank account. With Toledo's intimacy with the wife there followed quarrels between the husband and wife. A week ago Mrs. Manzell and Toledo disappeared.

Simultaneously it was developed that the wife had forged her husband's name to a savings bank certificate in the amount of $300 and procured the money from a local bank. It is also charged that Toledo smashed open the husband's trunk and took $100 in notes. Kulp was put on the case and warrants were issued by Magistrate J. Winfield White of Gwynedd for the arrest of the wife on forgery charges and that of Toledo on robbery charges.

CARRIED SLAIN PRISONER.

Policeman Forces Six Captives to Move Assailant Whom He Shot.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 14.—After being kicked under a moving train by a negro prisoner, Burton E. Sommers, a Lehigh Valley railroad policeman, rolled off the rails, drew his revolver and killed the fleeing man by shooting him in the spine. Six other men, whom Burton also had arrested for illegal riding on the train, were forced to carry the negro's body to Tunkhannock, a mile away, where Burton locked them in jail and surrendered himself.

Policeman Sommers, although dazed for a moment by the man's attack, acted so quickly that he saved his own life and killed his escaping assailant. Sommers served in the United States army in the Philippines. The negro was David Collins of Philadelphia.

WOMAN HALTS CITY WORK.

Pittsburg Milliner Won't Permit Raising House Above Flood Level.

Pittsburg, Sept. 14.—The raising of north side streets above flood level is being effectively blocked by an indignant milliner and her pet poodle dog. "What's the trouble?" Mayor Magee inquired of the contractor when he saw all of the men loading.

"Don't you see that woman and her poodle?" he asked, pointing to Mrs. Susanna A. Lynn, who was in the doorway of her store holding her pet dog Winks. "She won't let us proceed."

The mayor was powerless to interfere for Mrs. Lynn owns the building and refuses to allow the city to raise it.

The mayor thinks Mrs. Lynn will reconsider, though she camped outside her store all night on a cot with her dog as a guard.

TO IMPEACH BLEASE.

Enemies of South Carolina Executive Seek to Oust Him.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 14.—Leaders of the opposition to Governor Cole L. Blease are getting evidence against him as a basis for impeachment proceedings that it is positively asserted will be filed against him when the South Carolina legislature convenes in January. The evidence being assembled is to be put in concrete form, and he will be generally charged with malfeasance in office.

A resolution is to be introduced, it is said, to impeach him. If this is passed the articles of impeachment will be ready to be filed at once, upon which the state senate, sitting as a high court, will try him. His opponents believe that nearly two-thirds of the members of the legislature are inimical to Governor Blease.

In a speech made at Spartansburg on July 4 Governor Blease said that impeachment proceedings had been threatened against him and that if he were impeached and removed from the office of governor he would run for and be elected to the house next year.

GOULD PAYS $1,000 FINE.

Nolo Contender Plea Accepted in Wire Pool Indictment.

New York, Sept. 14.—Judge Hough in the United States circuit court here accepted a plea of nolo contendere from Frank J. Gould and fined him $1,000, but he made it plain that he accepted the plea only because his colleague, Judge Archibald, had established the precedent in the steel wire pool case. There were eighty odd indictments and about seventy of them have been disposed of by Judge Archibald. Judge Hough also let it be known that his acceptance of the plea was not to be taken as a precedent in his administration of the criminal law in this district.

As president of the Old Dominion Wire and Nail company Mr. Gould had been indicted for participating in one of the nine wire pools.

YALE PRACTICE BEGINS.

Few of 1911 Football Team Report at New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 14.—A small squad of Yale football men have reported to get their new suits for this year. The practice started this afternoon. Captain Arthur Howe is confident that there will be forty men here. Only those who have a fair chance of getting into some of the games have been ordered to report.

Of the men who won their "Y" last year those who will return, beside Captain Howe, are McDavitt and Childs, guards; Scully and Paul, tackles; Philbin, half back, and Francis, half back. Walter Camp, Jr., who was hurt last year so that he couldn't get into the later games, is here and is in fine condition.

LIFE TERM FOR KIDNAPER.

Wisconsin Justice Swift After Suspect Confesses.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 14.—John A. ("Dogskin") Johnston pleaded guilty in court to the murder of Annie Lefberger, the seven-year-old child who was kidnaped from her bed. The man made a detailed confession to the authorities.

It was twenty-five minutes after Johnson called the turnkey in the county jail and told him he had decided to plead guilty that Johnson had been sentenced and was on his way to the state prison for life.

Johnson was arrested last Saturday, but was released for lack of evidence. Monday night he was again arrested, but the lack of evidence was such that the district attorney did not venture to issue a warrant until yesterday.

GERMAN MARKET DEPRESSED.

General Feeling of Alarm Adds to Panic on Bourse.

Berlin, Sept. 14.—A state of depression has again seized the Bourse and the result is a general decline in prices and the withdrawal of French gold which is leading to a rise in Paris exchange, which is the chief factor of anxiety.

Orders from Vienna based on the reports that the France-German negotiations had broken add to the weakness of the shares.

PLEA FOR LABOR.

Foss Also Would Protect the Employers.

GOVERNORS VISIT COAST FORT

Big Guns at Sandy Hook Demonstrate to State Executives Ability of Army to Repel Foreign Invaders to Country's Gateways.

Spring Lake, N. J., Sept. 14.—Twenty-seven governors with cotton in their ears tiptoed onto the parapet of Fort Hancock, observing the habits of a twelve inch coast defense gun. Hoke Smith of Georgia was the only delegate to the house of governors to make the entertainment at Sandy Hook. Unlike some of the westerners, Mr. Smith had seen big guns at play, so he stayed at the Monmouth hotel to read the news from Georgia.

To most of the governors, who were invited by the war department to see what could be done to a battleship that tried to be rough with New York city, the exhibition of marksmanship was a treat. Some, like Stubbs of Kansas, stood by glumly, shaking their heads over good money burned up to make a governors' holiday, while others, like Kitchin of North Carolina, sermonized a bit on the economic waste of warfare. But nine out of ten had as much fun and asked as many questions as boys just let out of school.

They made the trip to Sandy Hook after discussing employers' liability and workmen's compensation problems, the only topic up for discussion, and to the majority of the governors here it is regarded as the most important. Two addresses were made, one by Governor Hay of Washington, the other by Governor Foss of Massachusetts, but several took part in the informal exchange of opinions.

Governor Woodrow Wilson's appointment was called to a statement purporting to come from Governor Osborn of Michigan to the effect that he had not attended the conference because it was merely a gathering to boom Wilson for the Democratic nomination for president.

Governor Wilson had nothing to say in reply, but ex-Governor Fort of New Jersey did what talking was necessary. It was he who as governor of New Jersey got the conference for Spring Lake, said Governor Fort, and Woodrow Wilson had nothing to do with it. Moreover, he added, Governor Osborn wrote on Aug. 16 last and again on Aug. 30 that he was looking forward with pleasure to being here. All of the governors joined in saying that it was decidedly untrue and unfair to Governor Wilson to hint that the Spring Lake conference was to be used to further his candidacy.

Governor Willson of Kentucky has invited the conferees to Frankfort to attend the unveiling of a monument to Abraham Lincoln on Nov. 8.

Governor Foss of Massachusetts read his paper on "State Legislation for Workmen's Compensation." His state has a law which goes into effect in a few months. Governor Foss favors state laws providing adequate compensation for workmen who become injured, but he insists upon proper process for the protection of the employers.

FRYE'S WILL FILED.

Daughters of Late Maine Senator Divide His Estate.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 14.—The will of United States Senator William P. Frye, filed at the Androscoggin county probate court, is in the senator's own handwriting and is dated Aug. 30, 1909. It has only one public bequest, the sum of $1,000 to the Old Ladies' home in Lewiston. It gives to the senator's daughter, Mrs. Helen Frye White, the house and lot with the contents where she lives, and which was the senator's own home, provided that she account to his estate for the sum of $10,000 for the same. It also gives to her his house and lot at Squirrel Island.

It gives to his daughter, Alice Frye Briggs of Auburn, his camp at Rangely Lakes, and as the value of this is less than the Squirrel Island property, it gives to Mrs. Briggs $1,000 to equalize the bequests. The remainder of the estate is divided equally between the two daughters, who are charged with the care and burial of Rose Lewis, a woman who was for many years a domestic in the Frye house.

SHAKERS TO BE ACQUITTED.

Pair Who Killed Woman to End Suffering Out on Bail.

Kissimmee, Fla., Sept. 14.—Charged with murder because after praying they gave chloroform to a dying woman to end her agony, it is believed here that Sister Elizabeth Sears and Brother Egbert B. Gillette, two respected members of a Shaker colony, may not even be indicted by the grand jury, such is the respect with which they are held. Both are free on bail.

The woman, Sister Sadie L. Marchant, begged them to give her the chloroform, and the action of her two friends is regarded here as assistance at suicide rather than murder. Under the laws of the state attempted suicide is not a crime.

President's Aide Makes Record For Changing Uniforms.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 14.—Major Archibald Butt has taken his physical test. It is not the prescribed army test which the president's aide took, but one unique to his post and which he voluntarily imposes upon himself. Friday the major will board the president's car for the 13,000 mile trip. He knows that he will have a record to make in lightning changes of uniforms. So he has put himself through the paces by way of preparation.

Baron Uchida called upon the president to take his formal leave of him before leaving for Japan. The major met him in full dress uniform. The call was made and the baron returned to the depot. Without omitting any bows, the major then made his getaway and hurried back home to the president's house, some two miles from the depot, changed from the full dress uniform to a little fuller dress civilian's costume and returned to the depot to catch a train to Boston. The whole thing, the ambassador's call, two trips and change, was done in forty-three minutes.

FLIER WARD UNDISMAYED.

Will Resume Coast to Coast Flight From Paterson, N. J.

New York, Sept. 14.—James J. Ward, the second flier to try for the coast to coast prize, went into the air from Governors Island. Just after dusk he settled down near the limits of Paterson, N. J., after a day of hunting through the unblazed air trails. He lost his way over Jersey City, mistook the tracks of the Lehigh for those of the Erie and swept a wide semicircle that didn't advance him a great deal on the road to Buffalo.

High, gusty winds brought him to grass twice. But he wasn't hurt, his Curtiss biplane wasn't scratched, and he said that he had every intention of continuing his flight at once from Paterson.

EXECUTE INDIAN CHIEF.

Head of Cucapas Meets Bandit's Fate in Mexico.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 14.—Juan Guerrero, noted Cucapas Indian war chief and reputed bandit, was executed in Ensenada, Lower California, last Friday, according to word brought to Los Angeles from there. Guerrero left Los Angeles for Ensenada ten days ago against the advice of friends, prompted by a promise from the Mexican government to treat with him over the restitution of lands formerly belonging to his tribe. He was arrested as he left the Ensenada wharf.

"WETS" AHEAD NOW

Prohibition Paper in Maine Concedes Defeat.

BY MARGIN OF 545 VOTES.

Election Returns Are Again Juggled, and State Long "Dry" May Be "Wet" by Small Majority on Official Count of the Votes.

Portland, Me., Sept. 14.—First it was the "Wets," then it was the "Drys." Now it is the "Wets" again.

The most dramatic climax yet in the series of climaxes that has attended Maine's remarkable election came when George W. Norton, secretary of the No License league, conceded a victory to the "Wets" by a margin of 545 votes, when two hours before the voters all over the state had settled to the conclusion that the "Drys" were sure winners.

Mr. Norton based his figures on the face of returns received from the secretary of state's office, where an accountant especially employed by the Express Advertiser, a prohibition paper, and by the No License league took the returns as fast as they were received.

Verified returns from 480 towns and cities were received, giving a "dry" majority of 2,200 votes. Four cities and thirty-seven towns were not included in this list. According to special and Associated Press reports from these places, the thirty-seven towns gave a majority of 638 for the "Drys," making a "dry" majority of 2,847 without the four cities.

But the four cities, Lewiston, South Portland, Rockland and Old Town, have an aggregate "wet" majority of 3,392, offsetting the "dry" majority and giving a majority of 543 votes for the repeal of the prohibitory amendment.

Here Are the Figures.

Portland, Me., Sept. 14.—A total vote has been given out by the secretary of state. It is as follows: Yes, 69,525; no, 69,370; majority for repeal, 155. The total vote as given out by the Associated Press follows: Yes, 69,241; no, 69,588; majority for retention, 347. Which of these reports is correct is not known. Both were given out early this morning.

INSANE AT BROTHER'S GRAVE

Myrtle Smith Now Lies in Hospital Near Man Held For Crime.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Myrtle Smith, pretty youthful sister of the lad who was murdered in an Italian shoemaker's shop last Sunday—the place afterward being set on fire in an attempt to conceal the crime, became insane at Mount Olivet cemetery when the body of the little victim was being lowered into the grave. She tried to jump in the grave and it required four men to restrain her. Finally it became necessary to bind her hands and feet. Then the girl was taken to the Washington asylum, where she lies on a cot not a hundred yards from the cell in which Tony Malino, the "shoemaker by trade," in whose shop little Harry Smith was brutally beaten to death with a steel hammer, is confined on a charge of having committed the murder.

Physicians at the hospital say that the young woman is in a serious condition and that her reason may never be restored, even if her life is saved. Mrs. Smith, mother of the murdered boy, and his little sister May are both prostrated at their homes.

At the inquest which held Milano for the crime the theory was developed that the Italian, who had long been the butt of mischievous boys of the neighborhood, thought the Smith boy, who stuttered, was trying to mock him, and killed the lad in a fit of rage.

SUGAR TRUST NOT TO BLAME.

Head of House Probe Committee Says Shortage Raises Prices.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 14.—Congressman H. H. Hardwick of Georgia, chairman of the committee investigating the operations of the alleged sugar trust, who is here, says the trust is not to blame for the price of sugar advancing as it has been during the past few weeks. He exonerates the combine from the charge of wilfully forcing up the price, although he says the matter will be investigated by his committee when it meets next month. "The increase in the price of sugar," the congressman said, "is not the result of manipulation. It is solely the result of lack of production in Cuba and elsewhere. The beet sugar crop has failed here and abroad, and supplies cannot be had. The result has been an increase in price. Just as there would be an increase in price of cotton if we should have a very short cotton crop."

Cleveland, Sept. 14.—Four men were killed and fourteen injured in a collision between a freight and work train on the belt line railroad. The wreck occurred half way between Franklin and Warren road. Three of the injured, all of whom are at St. Alexis hospital, will die today, according to the surgeons.

The wreck was evidently due to a misunderstanding of signals.

CANDIDATE FOR PROTHONOTARY.

JOHN N. SHARPSTEEN.

To the Republicans of Wayne Co.:

I take this means of announcing myself as a candidate for the nomination of Prothonotary at the primaries, Sept. 30, 1911.

To most of you I am known personally. During my seventeen years of service as a clerk in the Honesdale postoffice my efforts have been to perform my duties faithfully and courteously to the patrons of the office and the public generally.

To the voters with whom I am not personally acquainted I would say that, since a severe injury sustained by my father a few years before his accidental death when I was sixteen years old I have tried to make an honest living. My birthplace was in Texas township, district No. 4, Wayne county. My school days were limited to the district school and the Honesdale High school. As a boy of eleven years I spent my summers slate picking on the Delaware & Hudson dock and attended school during the winter. I also spent several summers working on a farm in Cherry Ridge.

After school I entered the office of the Honesdale Iron Works, known now as the Guernsey Electric Elevator Co., where I stayed a number of years and later entered the Honesdale postoffice serving two years under William F. Briggs. I then went to the Carbondale Lumber company as a bookkeeper, remaining with them until the appointment as postmaster of Miss Mary E. Gerety, who later became the wife of Hon. C. A. McCarty. In June, 1897, I returned to the Honesdale postoffice where I have been employed ever since. In coming before the people and asking their assistance and vote at the coming primaries, let me say that I am no tool of any boss or bosses. I simply desire in common with every American citizen to better my condition. Your support will be appreciated and if nominated and elected I will devote all my time and attention to the duties of the office to which I aspire and will resign my present position.

As the son of the late Newton Sharpsteen, veteran of the Civil war, I have an interest in and sympathy with all veterans.

Most cordially yours,
J. N. Sharpsteen.
