WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1911.

BOIL YOUR WATER.

There seems to be reason to believe that the typhoid epidemic is on the increase for September, according to the report of the State Department of Health, and in most of the fatalities the contributing cause has been drinking water contaminated by typhoid bacilli. Our advice is to boil your water.

It should be remembered that the typhoid fly is still active and the drinking water from a tap that was pure a week ago may be loaded with bacilli today. Keep the flies out of the house and boil the drinking water and the chances of contracting typhoid will be reduced to a minimum.

"GOING SOME."

President Taft's departure upon his 13,000 mile speaking trip has called attention to the fact that he is probably the greatest traveler that has ever occupied the presidential chair. The Rochester Post-Express has figured out the miles covered by President Taft during his career as a public official—and its figures show that Mr. Taft has covered some 262,438 miles so far. A trip of only 13,000 miles then will probably seem to him like a jaunt to Hawley wood to most of us.

Everywhere the President goes the favorable impression concerning him becomes more marked. The misconceptions once so prevalent in the beginning of his Presidency have entirely disappeared and the American people hold him to-day in high and justly-merited affection and esteem.

POSTAL BANKS IN CANADA.

Canada established postal savings banks forty years ago and now has about a hundred and sixty thousand depositors in such banks, with forty-five million dollars to their credit. Two years ago, as a further encouragement to thrift, the Dominion Government began writing annuities. A Canadian aged twenty, say, may pay in twenty-five cents a week at any postoffice and be assured of an annual income of eighty-five dollars at the age of fifty-five or of a hundred and thirty dollars at the age of sixty. Postal banks have been a success in other parts of the country. It now remains to be seen whether the bank in Honesdale will prove equally successful.

MILD WEATHER FOR 30 DAYS TO COME.

"The way the temperature is, and the way the wind comes to-day (Tuesday), to-morrow, and the next day will determine the weather for the next ninety days."

So says Albert E. Compton, the Honesdale weather prophet, who for the past forty years has successfully forecasted the vagaries of Wayne weather.

September 19, 20, 21 are the pivotal days in his scheme of astronomical observation. "Mark the temperature at noon, to-day," he said, and that will give you the temperature for the next thirty days.

"We should have a line storm during this period. I'm afraid we won't get it. It'll run dry. It's right on the change of the moon, too, to-day.

"We get the wind from the northwest to-day. That's not a very stormy corner. If the wind held off South it might be possible we'd get our storms a little later.

"The temperature this morning at 7 o'clock was 50 degrees. I should judge it may run up to-day to about sixty.

"I don't predict any rain to speak of in the next thirty days, unless we might get it in a shower.

"I've been predicting the weather for the past forty years. I've just given you a few points. You watch things yourself, and see if I don't come out right as usual.

"The wind shifted off East yesterday. Last night it went clear around. There was a time this morning the wind was due West; now it's gone more North."

Mr. Compton's assurance that the next thirty days will be mild, clear and sunshiny will bring joy to the hearts of multitudes, who look forward with dread to the approach of Winter, when the coal man gets in his innings, preferring rather to pay toll a little longer to the ice man.

The Maple City weather prophet has a hobby, the weather, and rides it. And by so doing he keeps young, in spite of his 63 years. Every man should have a hobby. He'll live longer, and be the happier for it. "All work and no play"—but you know the rest.

We sincerely trust Mr. Compton's predictions will be verified.

RADIUM IN AUSTRALIA.

Dr. Douglas Manson, who visited Mt. Painter in northern South Australia some time ago and said he found traces of radium there, has returned from a second exploring expedition and confirms his first announcement. He claims to have located a lode of radium ore three miles long by 100 yards wide, and says that he has a quarter of a ton of ore ready for shipment. He figures that the ore will net a profit of over $1000 a ton.

PENNSYLVANIA MAN TO START OSTRICH FARM.

W. H. Hile of Bloomsburg, Pa., arrived in New York last week, with 53 ostriches which he had captured in Abyssinia and which he intends to make the nucleus of an ostrich farm. Last year he brought over a few young birds and they have thrived. The surprising part of this is that they have done well in a cold climate, for the ostrich is commonly supposed to be a bird that demands warm weather. Mr. Hile says this is not the case and intends to further prove his theory. But his plans for getting rich quick out of his ostriches are really the interesting part of the story. They may bear fruit, but they at least sound like the hopes of the man who is about to start raising chickens and who calculates a million eggs from their offspring within three years. Mr. Hile says that an ostrich is full grown when 14 months old and is then producing as good feathers as it ever will. There is a new crop of feathers every eight months and each bird produces about 90 plumes, which are worth $1.50 each. Also the females lay from 50 to 120 eggs a year. Mr. Hile says that if an ostrich farmer starts with one pair of birds he will have 50,000 ostriches in 10 years. Conservative people are hereby warned to stick to Plymouth Rocks. In Cape Town there is an ostrich valued at $50,000 and Mr. Hile says it has earned its owner $300,000. The cost of keeping an ostrich is about $20 a year.

WAYNE'S ATTITUDE.

Some people are doing some talking about Wayne county. The way they feel over in Wayne county over the congressional situation is well shown by the remarks which were made at the congressional conference last week at Montrose by Messrs. Simons and Decker, the Wayne conferees. At this conference Mr. Simons nominated Wayne's candidate, Hon. Homer Greene, who was defeated, but there was no sourness or sulkeness on the part of the Wayne conferees, as is shown by the speeches and pledges they gave after Ainey's nomination was effected. From the Montrose Republican's account of the conference we take the following paragraphs:

Mr. Simons stated that he had known Mr. Ainey personally and by reputation for some years and was satisfied as to the worth and ability of the candidate. While Wayne would have liked to see Mr. Greene the nominee, believing that county entitled to it, he knows that Wayne will do her part in electing him. It is a duty of all loyal Republicans to support the candidate, he said, and they were not going home to sulk—not the part of a man, nor the part of a good "party man." He thanked the conferees for the courtesies extended the Wayne contingent and closed by stating that if Mr. Ainey comes over into Wayne he will receive a royal welcome, and in November be elected by a rousing majority.

Mr. Decker followed in similar vein, jocularly calling attention to the fact after Susquehanna has had a couple of terms, Bradford three or four, and Wyoming a couple, that Wayne would get in the game early by putting forth her candidate, exhibiting proudly a picture of his 3-year-old son, Victor, Jr. (The only pledge we have heard Mr. Ainey make was given after the meeting, when he said he would support the candidate, if he comes up.)

Wayne's delegation made a hit with the men present. They represented the true type of Republicanism.—Reporter-Journal, Towanda.

The Sterling M. E. church choir rendered their concert at the South Sterling church last Sunday evening.

TO REPUBLICAN VOTERS!

I am asking you for promotion to the office of Prothonotary. For the past six years I have served you to the best of my ability as clerk to the County Commissioners and my term will end January 1, 1912, therefore I am asking for the nomination for Prothonotary on the Republican ticket. You know that my duties prevent me from being absent from the Commissioners' office because of the work connected with the coming primaries. I have given personal attention to the filing of petitions for county, township and borough candidates, and it will be necessary for me to attend personally to the printing of the ballots. Mistakes will occur even with the closest attention, but many will be discovered and corrected by comparing proof with petitions. Therefore you will realize that I cannot go campaigning, but I am willing to trust the people whom I serve to deal justly with me.

I am a native of Manchester township, was educated in the common schools and academies of the county and was for ten years a teacher in the schools. For nearly fourteen years I was employed by the Wayne Independent and most of you have met me personally. In whatever capacity I have been employed I have endeavored to perform my duties honestly, fairly and in the interests of my employer. My record is open to any who wish to investigate.

The office of Prothonotary and Clerk of the Courts is an important one and the person who fills it must give it personal and careful attention. If I am chosen to perform the duties of that office, I pledge myself to do this, and will guarantee to every person fair, careful and courteous attention. "Will you help me?" Thanking all who will, I am
Respectfully yours,
GEORGE P. ROSS.

SOUTH CANAAN.

[Special to The Citizen.]
SOUTH CANAAN, Pa., Sept. 19.—The marriage of Miss Florence L. Hooper to George E. Ammerman of Gravity, took place at the home of the bride's parents, the M. P. parsonage, Wednesday afternoon, September 13, at 4 o'clock. The parlor was beautifully decorated, the color scheme of pink and white predominating, pink and white astors being in profusion. The wedding march was played by Mrs. John Morris of Plymouth, cousin of the bride. To the first strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bridal party entered the parlor led by Rev. Thomas Hooper, father of the bride. Rev. James Moore of Avoca and Rev. E. Morrison, South Canaan. Next came the flower girls, Emma Hooper and Gladys Ammerman, each carrying a basket of pink and white astors, then bride and bridesmaid, Miss Myrtle E. Hooper, sister of the bride, the groom and best man, Elwood Ammerman, brother of the groom. The party stood beneath a wedding bell of pink and white astors where Rev. James Moore read the reception. Rev. Thos. Hooper tied the nuptial knot, using the beautiful ring ceremony. Rev. E. Morrison read the prayer and Rev. Moore pronounced the benediction. The bride wore a gown of white marquisette and champagne lace. The bridesmaid's gown was pink silk mousline with cream trimmings. The groom and his attendant wore the conventional black, while the flower girls were dressed in white with pink accessories. During the ceremony "Hearts and Flowers" and Mendelssohn's wedding march were softly played by Mrs. Morris. After congratulations the guests were served with an elaborate lunch. The bride is the eldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Hooper and is a much esteemed young lady in this community. She was organist of the M. P. church of this place. DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
