FOR ASSISTING DEATH.

Inquest May Result in Holding Shaker For Murder.

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 19.—The little town of St. Cloud, near Kissimmee, is today the scene of the final inquest in the case of Sadie Marchant, one of the Shaker colony sect at Ashton Aug. 22. The Marchant woman, who was very old and in the last throes of consumption, asked to be put out of the way.

"Let me go peacefully; assist me out of life," she is alleged to have said to E. B. Gillette and Elizabeth Sears, other members of the colony, who were at her home to aid her. They gave her opiates. When she came out from under the influence the next day she asked again for death. And they gave it to her through use of chloroform. Several days passed before the news leaked out. They were arrested and frankly told their part with simple directness. They did not see that they had done any harm. They were held by a justice of the peace for action of the grand jury, bail for Gillette being fixed at $5,000 and for the woman $2,000. Later the body of Sadie Marchant was exhumed. The intestines and stomach were withdrawn and a chemical analysis has been made to ascertain what drugs may have been given her.

RUSH TO CANADA TO VOTE.

Reciprocity Campaign Elections to Be Held Thursday.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 19.—The political campaign reaches its climax today and tomorrow, and although both sides claim to be sure of the people's verdict the party managers have not ceased their exertions. As a matter of fact, the leaders of both parties are anxious because of several elements of uncertainty which prevail in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, and the most vigorous campaign arguments are being resorted to by both sides.

The party leaders have made arrangements whereby many Canadians in New England and elsewhere in the United States who are registered in Canada will return to vote next Thursday. It is said that fully 5,000 of these former residents will vote in Quebec and the other eastern provinces.

The executive officers of the unions employed on the Midland, the Great Northern, the Great Southern and the Midland railways left for Ireland to attend a meeting to be held at Dublin to consider the question of a strike.

NO AID TO REBELS

Story From Mexico Riles Standard Oil Officer.

ONE RUMOR IS UNANSWERED.

H. C. Folger, Jr., Secretary of the Company, Fails to Deny Statement of Negotiations For Lord Cowdray's Oil Interests.

New York, Sept. 19.—H. C. Folger Jr., secretary of the Standard Oil company, in reply to a Washington dispatch saying that Standard Oil was negotiating to take over the oil holdings of Lord Cowdray in Mexico, also intimating that John W. Gates had previously acted as the Standard's agent in this matter and that the Standard had helped finance the Mexican revolution, made this statement:

"In the course of the late revolution in Mexico the Standard Oil company had occasion to deny fully and emphatically that it had ever contributed in any way to the revolutionary cause. Now, in the face of recent recitations, it wishes to repeat its denial. In being revived the story has had an additional misstatement tagged to it, namely, that the Texas company (an oil corporation identified with the late John W. Gates) is a subsidiary of and owned and controlled by the Standard Oil company. That is absolutely untrue. The Standard Oil company has no interest in the Texas company, and any negotiations Lord Cowdray may have had with Mr. Gates in respect to the Pearson properties was of no concern to the Standard Oil company. The statement leaves unanswered the report that negotiations between the Standard Oil and Lord Cowdray are now in progress for the taking over of the Pearson holdings in Mexico by the Standard Oil company.

TAFT TALKS ON WAR.

At Bay City He Urges Strong National Defenses.

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 19.—It was nearly midnight when President Taft ended the day that he had begun at Detroit at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The president stopped off to say a word of peace and arbitration to Saginaw. He had a big crowd there to greet him. Here Mr. Taft shifted suddenly from peace to war. He talked on the national militia.

"The Lord looks after children and drunken men and the United States. We have put ourselves in that helpless category in the past by what we have done with our national defense. Let us not keep our window open at night and our silverware exposed just because we favor the abolition of burglary. I favor a policy of common sense," he said.

It was 1 o'clock this morning before the president's special left here for Sault Ste. Marie, where he is to speak this afternoon.

BOWERY STATESMAN DIES.

East Side Tammany Assemblyman Will Be Missed at Albany.

New York, Sept. 19.—Assemblyman James Oliver—"Paradise Park Jimmie"—is dead. Some Tammany men who had heard he was in the hospital paid calls there, but other Wigan men were surprised that the white-haired statesman from the third district would not be in his seat at Albany.

For years Oliver was the most picturesque legislator in Albany. He insisted at all times on wearing the garb of a statesman—a high hat and a long frock coat.

Oliver would not take off his frock coat when the thermometer was at 92.

RODGERS TO TRY AGAIN.

Third Aviator in Cross Country Flight Not Discouraged After Fall.

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 19.—With his Wright flying machine, which was smashed when he fell thirty feet in it, completely dismantled and the underground parts laid aside for use in putting together another machine, Calbraith P. Rodgers, who started from Sheepshead Bay Sunday, is waiting for news from the Wright company which will determine when he can resume his flight.

The broken machine was removed to the special train which follows the flier and he, with his cousin, Lieutenant John Rodgers, United States navy, and several mechanics were busy taking the wrecked machine apart. S. I. Dekraft, Rodgers' manager, stated that the parts for the machine ought to arrive here late today, and if so Rodgers could resume his flight tomorrow.

EXPECTS COTTON TO GO UP.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Urges Growers to Hold Crop.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 19.—E. R. Keene, state commissioner of agriculture, has issued an address to Texas cotton growers calling upon them to hold their cotton until the price reaches 15 cents per pound. He says that the crop is short and this fact, together with the demand for the staple justifies a fifteen-cent price.

PROTECT GUNNERS' EARS.

Navy Looking For Guard to Soften Terrific Concussion.

An exhaustive study is being made by the medical corps of the navy to devise means of protecting the hearing of American sailors from the disastrous effects of gunfire. Ear safeguards used in foreign navies are being compared with similar devices now supplied to American seamen, and it is expected that a protector shortly will be evolved that will adequately resist the terrific concussion of the big guns. The subject is being investigated by Dr. E. M. Shipp of the naval medical corps.

The ear protectors now used are filled with cotton. The great shock from one of the mammoth guns is likely to rupture an eardrum and produce deafness at once unless the delicate organ is properly protected; also it is feared that the constant firing of the small arms, such as the service rifle, may gradually produce the same effect.

CAN BE HEARD 12 MILES.

Electric Horn Will Be Installed on Angel Island.

The time when a ship will be welcomed twelve miles out at sea by national airs, popular tunes and perhaps eventually phonographic records belted from gigantic foghorns seems not far distant.

Pleased with the harmonious tooting of electric automobile horns, Lieutenant Commander William A. Moffat, lighthouse inspector of the California district, made inquiries as to the possibility of making a similar horn for lighthouse service to replace the dismal blare of the foghorns now in use. He learned that one could be made which would be heard at the Farallon islands, twenty-three miles out at sea. As a sample, however, he decided to order one with a twelve mile range. It will be installed immediately on Blunts point, Angel island.
