New Cabinet to Continue Mediation Policy.

BRITISH VESSEL IS SUNK.

Two Turkish Battleships and Cruiser Have Been Sent to Re-enforce the Squadron in the Dardanelles. War Correspondents Held Up by Sanitary Officials.

London, Oct. 5.—Late reports from Constantinople say that a new cabinet has been nominated and that it will continue the policy looking to mediation.

Two Turkish battleships and a cruiser have been sent to re-enforce the squadron in the Dardanelles, Turkey, it is stated, has troops aboard two Russian steamers now held up at Suez. This tends to confirm the Vienna report that Turkey has ordered the Yemen expeditionary force to occupy the coast of the Italian colony of Eritrea, with the support of a squadron of warships.

A dispatch to the Times from St. Petersburg says the Black sea exporters, alarmed by rumors that Turkey would proclaim grain and coal contraband of war, have had a conference with representatives of the Russian ministry of commerce, who decided to telegraph Constantinople and Rome requesting to be informed as to what articles will be declared contraband.

The Times' correspondent at Malta in a dispatch bitterly complains that a large party of Italian, French and English newspaper correspondents bound for Tripoli are being detained at Malta by the sanitary authorities because they touched at Italian seaports where cholera is believed to prevail. The correspondent adds that two Turkish sailing vessels have been seized by the Italians in Palermo harbor.

A special from Constantinople says that an Italian warship destroyed a coast guard boat that was flying the British flag off Hodeidah, in the Red sea. The boat was intended, it is understood, for the British navy, but had not been delivered when it was attacked. The British firm that owned the craft has entered a complaint against the action of the Italians with the British consul at Hodeidah.

AIM OF TURKS BAD.

Shells Fired at Italian Warships Before Tripoli Miss Mark.

Rome, Oct. 5.—Another account of the bombardment of Tripoli says that Vice Admiral Faravella signaled to the cruisers Varese, Giuseppe Garibaldi and Francesco Ferruccio that the bombardment was about to begin. These, with the battleship Benedetto Brin, the flagship, steamed within two kilometers of the town. The Garibaldi fired first and six well placed shells struck the governor's palace. Immediately the palace and the Amelia and Sultan's forts replied with fifteen centimeter guns. Their aim was bad the shells fell wide of their marks.

Then the Varese and Francesco Ferruccio fired at the fortifications, the lighthouse and elsewhere. These replied with small guns. The consulates flew their national flags, and the forts the crescent.

After an hour the lighthouse collapsed into ruins. The Italian fire became heavier and that of the Turks more feeble. Many guns were seen to be dismounted, and the palace was severely battered. The central forts soon ceased firing, but the outer forts continued a bitter fire.

Take Trunks From Steamer.

Rome, Oct. 5.—Dispatches from Taranto say that Italian warships captured the British steamer Sheffield. The vessel sails from Grimsby. Turkish officers and war material were on board the steamer. The vessel was released after the Turks were taken off.

Many Vessels at Tripoli.

Turin, Oct. 5.—Thi Giornale di Italia says that nine armored ships and sixteen destroyers participated in the bombardment of Tripoli. They had a total of 300 guns.

BANKS PLAN MONEY ORDERS.

Members of Association to Bid For $750,000,000 Business.

Minneapolis, Oct. 5.—Twenty-six thousand members of the American Bankers' association will go into the money order business in the near future and bid for the $750,000,000 of business the government handles annually.

Letters advising the bankers of the new money order plan, copies of an original dictated in New York by Joseph T. Talbert, vice president of the National City bank, New York; E. D. Durham, of Onarga, Ill., and Joseph Chapman, Jr., of Minneapolis, have been detailing the plan.

Princeton Defeats Rutgers.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 5.—Princeton completely demoralized the Rutgers eleven and had no difficulty in winning from their one time rivals by the score of 37 to 0. Six touchdowns and a field goal made up the score.

Drowned in Shallow Brook.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The little daughter of Peter Peterson of Penn Yan fell face downward in a shallow brook and was drowned.

CONNIE MACK.

Manager of Philadelphia Team in the World Baseball Series.

New York, Oct. 5.—The pennant's safe. The Giants put a strange hold on the National league flag by winning the game with Brooklyn. It makes no difference now what the Chicago Cubs do. They can lose or win every game they play.

"I am glad that it is all over," said Manager McGraw. "It will give me a chance to rest up some of the men who are not in the best of shape right now, as the result of the hard trip the team has had in the west. I will now prepare for the highest honors in baseball, the world's championship, and our team will give a good account of themselves when the bell rings for that important set of games."

The series for the world's title with the Philadelphia Americans begins Oct. 13.

GOT GLEWS WITH SMILES.

Man Held in Murder Mystery Owes Arrest to a Girl.

New York, Oct. 5.—The loose tongue of a young man of Grove street, a tipster's keenness for a story to sell and the detective ability of a seventeen-year-old girl brought about the arrest of Martin Garvey, who was held without bail by Magistrate Corrigan for the murder of Adolph Stern, nephew of the jeweler Jacob Jacoby.

Until the tipster and the girl pointed the way central office men had got nowhere in the taxicab murder mystery. They knew that on the night of July 22 three men left a taxicab in front of Jacoby's shop at Sixth avenue and Thirteenth street, smashed a show window, snatched a tray containing fifteen diamond rings, shot young Stern, who tried to hold one man, and fled in the taxi as boldly as they had come.

Samuel Webberman is a young man who occasionally sold tips to some newspapers—odds and ends of news that reached his ears in unusual ways. Webberman has a sister-in-law, Beatrice Wolfe, who is seventeen and pretty and shrewd. He took her now and then to picnics near Jamaica, N. Y., where young men of his acquaintance showed their admiration for the girl and contended for her smiles.

William Demarest, a truck driver, was introduced to Miss Wolfe and danced with her several times. Toward evening there was a fight among members of rival social clubs. In drawing away from the crowds that were fighting Demarest made some remarks that caused Webberman to smell some news items.

Webberman later on persuaded his sister-in-law to write to Demarest, asking him to meet her near her house. Demarest appeared and chatted with her for an hour or two. They met again at the West End casino in Harlem, where Miss Wolfe pressed Demarest to tell her of the men to whom he referred. He said that one of the men in the crowd was Martin Garvey, who had shot Adolph Stern in front of Jacoby's jewelry store.

Webberman tried to sell the tip to a newspaper, but failed. The central office men jumped at it. His report put the detectives on Garvey's trail. He was located and watched for several days. Witnesses saw him and seemed positive that Garvey was the man they saw shoot Stern. He was arrested. He denied his guilt, but the police say they have the right man.

ZAPATA'S FORCE ROUTED.

Mexican Federal Troops Defeat Rebels With Heavy Loss.

City of Mexico, Oct. 5.—Federal troops under Romulo Figueroa are making a vigorous campaign to wipe out the rebels headed by General Zapata, in accordance with the government's decision to give them no quarter.

A fight occurred near Santa Barbara, at the junction of the states of Puebla, Guerrero and Oaxaca. Zapata's force of 800 men was routed with considerable loss.

Slayer Pleads Self Defense.

Oregon, Ill., Oct. 5.—Dr. Henry E. Webster, under arrest charged with the murder of his bigamous wife, Besie Kent Webster of Chicago, will attempt to prove that he killed the woman in self defense and that she had often threatened his life.

NOT A LYNCHER.

Jury Acquits Nineteen-year-old Boy at West Chester.

VERDICT MEETS APPROVAL.

Joseph Schwartz, Who Had Confessed to Being in Crowd That Burned Negro Several Weeks Ago, is Freed of Murder Charge.

West Chester, Pa., Oct. 5.—Joseph Schwartz, the nineteen-year-old boy on trial here for the alleged murder of Zack Walker, the negro who was burned at the stake in Conestoga some weeks ago, was acquitted of the charge.

There was a rapid shifting of the scenes, and as a result the jury was charged by Judge Butler for an hour after lengthy addresses by District Attorney Gawthrop and Deputy Attorney General Cunningham for the commonwealth and W. W. MacEree and Walter Greenwood for the defense.

The jury at once retired and deliberated for two hours, when it filed into court, and when the foreman announced the verdict there was a murmur of approval.

Judge Butler overruled the objection made by W. W. MacEree, senior counsel for Schwartz, to the admission of the defendant's confession in the testimony.

The court's decision was to the effect that assumption of guilt was not intimation, and therefore the district attorney could not be accused of using the "third degree."

The first witness for the defense was John W. Booth, a room mate of Schwartz's. He declared that he and Schwartz left the Brandywine fire house at 8:50 o'clock and followed the crowd to see what was going on.

While on the way out, he testified, they met Mary Bowman, Elizabeth Bradley and Warren James. Booth said that he and Schwartz separated and that he (the witness) later mounted a wall at the hospital entrance, where he saw the crowd coming out.

REWARD FLOOD HEROINE.

Austin Telephone Operator to Have Double Pay For Life.

Austin, Pa., Oct. 5.—Kathleen Lyon will receive one earthly glory for her bravery Saturday afternoon when she stuck to her switchboard and warned hundreds by telephone to seek the highlands because the dam had broken. The telephone company has ordered the plucky sixteen-year-old operator be placed on double pay during the rest of her life.

Another girl probably will be similarly rewarded. She is Lena Duckley. Both girls were employed in the same exchange. Survivors of the terrible disaster figured that Miss Lyon was among the dead until Sunday afternoon, when she was found on a hill side.

It was her frantic calls to telephone subscribers at Costello that probably saved a hundred lives in the limestone town three miles below Austin.

MILLIONS GOING BEGGING.

Illinois Man Writes That German Brothers' Heirs Can Have It.

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—Postmaster Thomas B. Smith received a letter from L. W. Trummel of Clinton, Ill., who asks his aid in finding descendants of Peter and Chris Gardner, who are supposed to be scattered about somewhere in Pennsylvania, Maryland and California.

The communication states that there is a fortune of at least $18,000,000 now waiting to be claimed by them in Germany. A woman by the name of Mrs. Anna Otto of 2963 Washington boulevard, Chicago, is supposed to be handling the search in this country, while Lina Hunemann is looking after the interests of the heirs in Germany. Trummel does not state what connection he has with the case.

AUTO RACERS INJURED.

Car Driven by Rigger Plunges Into Tree.

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—Rounding a dangerous curve in Falkmont park at terrific speed in a Mercer car, which they were tuning up for Saturday's 200 mile automobile road race, Harvey Rigger, a well known local amateur motor racer, and Thomas Bowen, his mechanic, were seriously injured when their car plunged into a tree and turned over.

One of Rigger's arms was broken, and he was badly lacerated. Bowen sustained a double fracture of a leg and contusions.

BLACK HAND BUSY.

Explodes Can of Nitroglycerin Under Rooming House.

Pittsburg, Oct. 5.—Fifteen occupants of a house at Haysborough were thrown out of bed when a charge of nitroglycerin was exploded under one corner of the building. Little damage was done to the building, the explosive having blown outward.

The owner of the building, Peter Caruso, had been threatened by Black Hand letters when he paid no attention to demands for money. This is supposed to have led to the attempt to destroy his building.

SENATOR SUTHERLAND.

Member of Stephenson Probe Committee, Now in Session.

SENATOR'S HONOR AT STAKE.

Chairman of Stephenson Committee Warns a Witness.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 5.—The honor of Senator Stephenson, if not his seat, is in danger in the inquiry now in progress here by the special senate committee. A warning to that effect was served by Chairman Heyburn upon E. A. Edmunds, his campaign manager, after he had spent several hours almost without respite in trying to learn how any of the money was spent. He urged Edmunds to rise to the solemnity of the occasion. Mr. Edmunds resented the implication that he was withholding information. Mr. Edmunds had said in answer to a question what was done with $5,000 given for organization of one county that it was impossible to give the information.

"Impossible or dangerous?" asked Heyburn, and Edmunds, rising angrily, said he was giving all the information he could remember, but that he had kept no account of the manner in which the funds were spent. The committee, following this futile effort to get information from Edmunds, will hand every witness the big interrogatory point, what became of the money, for the investigators are determined to learn how $107,000 can be spent in such a campaign. Another attempt of Edmunds to involve La Follette's campaign methods was squelched by the committee. Mr. Edmunds admitted that he was an easy mark as to money when people approached him with offers to aid Stephenson.

MAY BE A KIDNAPING.

New Jersey Hamlet Aid Father Search For Child.

Somerville, N. J., Oct. 5.—Practically the whole town of Frankfort, a little hamlet eight miles from here, spent the night with lanterns and dogs scouring the countryside in an effort to find the two-year-old daughter of John F. Gray, who disappeared from the front yard of her father's home.

Mary Zorniski, who lives near Philip Diehl's general store and in sight of the Gray home, says she saw a stabby one seated auto stop in front of the place and saw the driver, a man, get out and lift something into the machine. Then he drove away toward Somerville. When the child's father learned this he phoned to George D. Cotten, county detective, who joined the searchers.

Before he got there an organized searching party, with Mr. Gray at the head, was already at work, searching every place where the little girl might have strayed. There are not many more than half a hundred inhabitants in the hamlet of the town, and both men and women joined in the search.

PASS DIRECT PRIMARY BILL.

Measure Desired by Governor Dix Finally Adopted.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The primary election bill desired by Governor Dix, which passed the assembly early Sunday morning, passed the senate, and now all that remains is for the assembly to concur in a few amendments made by the senate. The Democratic leaders expect the assembly to concur promptly today and that the legislature will adjourn finally immediately thereafter.

This direct primary bill, which is known as the Ferris-Blauvelt bill, passed the senate by a vote of 27 to 19.

Penny Beats F. and M. Team.

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—More by the kind hand of fate rather than by any much superior playing Pennsylvania beat Franklin and Marshall on Franklin field by the score of 14 to 0.

Authorities Learn Startling Facts at Austin.

DAM WAS ALWAYS IN DANGER.

Much Sensational Testimony Expected From Engineers and Others at Inquest Tomorrow—State's Attorney Hints at Criminal Prosecutions.

Austin, Pa., Oct. 5.—Startling evidence that for nearly two years before it burst on last Saturday the Bayless dam was a constant menace to the thriving towns of Austin and Costello, the ruins of which are still strewn over five miles of the Sinnamahoning valley, is now in the possession of the state authorities.

Following the departure of Governor Tener from Austin after he had made a personal inspection of the broken dam and of the scenes of devastation stretching far below it it was learned that criminal prosecutions may develop from the testimony that will be presented at the inquest District Attorney Harry L. Nelson of Potter county will hold tomorrow.

The inquest, at which Deputy Attorney General William M. Hargest will represent the state, is expected to develop much sensational testimony from engineers who have carefully examined what remains of the broken dam and by others who are prepared to swear that for many months the condition of the dam was so bad that the many gallons of water retained by it threatened the dwellers in the valley below it with momentary death and destruction.

"I am more than ever convinced that the state's experience at Johnstown and the destruction of this place demands legislation that will give the state control over all these dams and the surrounding conditions," Governor Tener said. "My heart goes out to these poor people who have lost so much, and I am surprised after viewing the ruins that the list of dead and missing is as low as it is reported."

When the search of the ruins was continued thirty-eight bodies had been recovered and forty persons were reported as missing. There are nearly 800 laborers at work.

Postal service has been re-established, and Postmaster Toy, with two women assistants, is overworked in handling incoming mail.

There is no ceremony in the burial of the dead. There are no carriages or vehicles except one undertaker's wagon. When a body is turned over to relatives a simple service is read and the casket is borne to one of the two little cemeteries, where it is lowered into a grave.

Two bodies and bones that indicate two more of the missing may be accounted for was the latest result of the search of the ruins.

WINS AFTER THREE YEARS.

Divorce of Asbestos King's Son Is Set Aside.

New York, Oct. 5.—A fight covering three years by Mrs. Agnes C. Mattison to upset a decree of divorce obtained by her husband, Richard V. Mattison, Jr., a druggist of Philadelphia and son of the asbestos king, was won by the little woman when the court of appeals reversed the judgment and ordered a new trial of the case.

Mrs. Mattison is a Scotch woman and met her husband in 1904 when she had gone to London from Glasgow on a shopping trip. He married her after six weeks' courtship, and three days after the marriage he sailed for America alone. Later she came here and was met by her husband, who left her in a hotel while he went to Newport to arrange for her reception at the summer home of his parents, Busby park.

COMFORT BAGS FOR SAILORS.

Women of Georgia Remember Men Aboard Ship of That Name.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 5.—Aboard the Clyde line steamer Rio Grande, which sailed from Brunswick for New York Monday, are nearly a thousand "comfort bags" for the men of the United States battleship Georgia. For months past the members of the Georgia W. C. T. U. have been busy making a number of "comfort bags" for the men on the battleship. The bag contains a full sewing kit, with a small testament and a "first aid to the injured" outfit.

A painting by Mrs. N. T. Gautier, artist, of Columbus, Ga., will also be presented to the battleship.
