LOCAL NEWS

—Not a single will was probated in the office of the Register of Wills Emerson W. Gammell during the month of September.

—William E. Curtis, the well-known traveler and political writer and journalist of Washington, D. C., died of apoplexy in Philadelphia on Thursday last.

—The one-cent-a-word column is the place to put your house for sale, rent or farm advertisement. It will be read by thousands of people and undoubtedly bring you a ready buyer.

—Footballs are manufactured in Philadelphia to the extent of more than 45,000 per annum. These are the real footballs, too, and not of the toy sort, and Philadelphia doesn't quite supply the entire demand either.

—It is estimated by a social expert that a woman worker in Boston must spend at least $150 a year for food, at least $65 or $70 a year for dress and, if a clerk, more than $80, and if a factory girl, not less than $55 a year for rent.

—William A. Lewis, a body guard of Abraham Lincoln during the Civil war, and a policeman at the White House with a doorkeeper's duties for 35 years, died at Washington last week. He was 85 years of age, the oldest policeman on active duty.

—There has been considerable change of property in Dyberry township lately. Nathaniel Sargent recently sold his farm to James Clemon for $3,500 and Mr. Sargent has purchased the Lloyd Woodward farm for $5,000. Other sales are pending.

—Among the men whom Governor Tener named last Wednesday to attend the conference on dairy products at Milwaukee, October 10-12, were the following from Northeastern Pennsylvania: W. C. Horton, Waymart, Wayne county; Guy Wells, Laceyville, Wyoming county; Arch Brumbaugh; J. Detrich, 438 Adams county; J. D. Detrich, 438 Adams avenue, Scranton, Lackawanna county.

—The country weather prophets are enumerating the signs which foretell a hard winter. An old Indian tradition indicates that the coming winter will be a severe one and that there will be sufficient snow to cover up a wild flower known as Indian posies. These are said to already be higher than they have grown in years. The immense crop of nuts, which furnish food for wild game, is also taken by some as a prediction of a hard winter.

—Mr. Merchant: Keep advertising and advertising will keep you.

—The marriage of Miss Edna Blake and Russell Gammell, both of Bethany, will be solemnized on Wednesday, October 18.

—Potatoes are being sold in Chenango county, N. Y., at 70 cents per bushel. The crop in that vicinity will be a good one, the average being from 175 to 225 bushels to the acre.

—Rev. A. J. Van Cleft, who for nearly two years has been pastor of the Great Bend Methodist church, has tendered his resignation owing to ill health. Rev. Mr. Van Cleft was a former pastor of the Honesdale Methodist church.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Greater Honesdale Board of Trade will be held on Friday evening of this week in the city hall. There will be business of importance to transact and every member is requested to be present.

—Mrs. John F. Igler, Scranton, has begun suit to recover damages from the Scranton Transfer company for the death of her husband, who was run down by one of the defendant's taxicabs, last spring. Mr. Igler was formerly of Honesdale.

—Among the Democratic innovations at Oxford in recent years is the opening of the summer vacation lectures to workingmen students. The board of education makes a grant for that purpose, but during the past summer the grant was insufficient and many of the university tutors generously gave their services free.

—The four large ten hundred ton engines belonging to the Delaware & Hudson railroad, which have been in the round house, Honesdale, since last spring, have been taken over the Moosic to Carbondale. The two last locomotives left Honesdale on Saturday. According to Delaware & Hudson officials one of the biggest booms in the coal business is promised this winter.

—The electric railway operating between Seattle and Tacoma out on the Pacific coast is probably the fastest running suburban line in the country. It has recently further reduced the time of its limited trains. Train orders on this line are delivered by station agents and in order to save time in the delivery of orders the station men are now delivering many orders by means of a wire loop, the conductor catching the loop at high speed.

—Hardtack is about to be almost eliminated from the rations of the American soldier. Field bread will take its place, except as an emergency ration. At the big Texas maneuver camp scores of new things have been tested, and many new theories have been tried out and conclusions reached that may work a revolution in the conduct of military affairs. Field bread is like the fresh bread that has always been made for the troops except that it is of a finer, porous structure and is covered with a thicker crust. It keeps fresh for a week or 10 days. Hardtack still will have a place as part of the rations, but it will be used much less than in the past.

—Judge A. T. Searle, of Honesdale, won out for the judgeship nomination in Wayne county, by about 800 majority over E. C. Mumford. This will be good news to the judge's many friends in Susquehanna, as he has been frequently seen on the bench at Montrose the past couple of years. He is an able judge and should be elected by a handsome majority. M. E. Simons was also the Republican nominee for district attorney. Some of you readers will remember Simons. A fine fellow.

—Cards announcing the marriage of George Osborne Foster of this place, to Miss Mabel L. Hoyle, Carbondale, in the latter city, Thursday, Oct. 5, have been received by Honesdale relatives and friends. The marriage of the young couple was a happy surprise for Maple City people. The bride is an only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hoyle, Carbondale, while the bridegroom, until recently was a resident of Honesdale. He is now an employee of the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton. The bride was attractively gowned in a brown traveling suit. The couple were unattended. After a wedding trip to New York city and other points of interest Mr. and Mrs. Foster will take up their residence in Scranton. The many Honesdale friends extend best wishes and congratulations.

—An attempt to bribe Mayor Kniffen, of Wilkes-Barre, was made on Thursday last when William B. McGuire appeared in the mayor's office with $4,000 in bills and $25,000 in five per cent. bonds. McGuire represented a new electric light company in that city, which was endeavoring to get a franchise to do business in Wilkes-Barre. Mayor Kniffen had been told that a representative of the company would come to his office concerning the franchise. The mayor took advantage of the tip and called in two witnesses, whom he closeted in his office. McGuire appeared with the money and bonds and at a signal given by Mayor Kniffen the two men, one an officer, came out from their place of hiding. The officer seized the money and placed McGuire under arrest. He is held under $1,500 bail. Other men, it is said, are implicated in the attempted bribe. McGuire was one of Mayor Kniffen's best friends and the latter has expressed himself as being sorry that he caught McGuire. "Every thing, it is claimed, had been fixed" with the select and common council and it remained with Mayor Kniffen to sign or veto the franchise. The mayor's political opponents claim that it is a "grandstand" play on the part of the mayor in that he wants to make a good impression upon the public as he is candidate for sheriff. Mayor Kniffen is called the "Man of the Hour" by the public in general.

—A cent-a-word in The Citizen is an advertisement in the home.

—Commencing to-night (Tuesday) Oslek tribe No. 318 meets weekly at 7:30 p. m. in Freedom Hall.

—Miss Ethel E. Wheeler, Gelatt, and Harry Watson, Pleasant Mount, were married Tuesday in Uniondale by Rev. H. J. Crane.

—The Methodist Ladies' Aid society will hold their annual chicken pie supper in the church parlors, Thursday evening, October 12. First table at 5:30. Price of supper, 35c.

—The Delaware & Hudson railroad company carried 66,000 passengers to Lake Lodore during the past season. It is claimed that the company cleared $31,000 over all expenses.

—The local order of Knights of Columbus will observe Discovery Day with no special exercises this year. During the evening the first degree will be exemplified upon eight candidates. A smoker and lunch will follow the initiation exercises.

—B. Golden, Optometrist and Optician of Carbondale, will be in our midst again next week. He is advertising to spend two days in Honesdale and three days in Hawley. Mr. Golden claims that he has been of service to over 4,000 Wayne county people.

—For the month of September there were six deaths and thirteen births reported in the district embracing Honesdale and Prompton boroughs, Texas, Oregon and Berlin townships. Honesdale is credited with one death and three births, and nine of the births occurred in Texas township.

—Capitalists have secured the right to secure the water of the Neversink river and convey it to Paterson, Passaic, Newark and Jersey City to provide these cities with drinking water. An immense lake will be built to serve as a reservoir and work has begun near Bridgeville, N. Y., for that purpose.

—J. A. Bodie, Sr., is the proud possessor of his great-grandfather's clock. It was shipped recently from Holyoke, Mass., and for many years was in possession of his uncle. The clock is an old-fashioned type of cherry casing and brass works. It keeps excellent time and is an heirloom that money cannot buy.

—In Wayne county Judge Searle received 2160 votes and E. C. Mumford his opponent 1315, an apparent Republican vote of 3475. Hon. F. P. Kimble received 1166 and C. A. McCarty 780, a total of 1946 Democratic votes. If the above indicates party votes Wayne county is decidedly Republican.—Pike County Press.

—The fall term of the United States District court opens in Scranton Oct. 16. G. W. Taylor, of Laurell, has been drawn on the petit jury. Court is presented with the unusual fact that there are but three cases on the criminal calendar to be tried. There are two bankruptcy cases and thirty civil cases, the latter being more than ordinary, so that court will be in session two weeks and more.

—The government has established a new rural delivery route to take effect Wednesday, November 1. Starting from Lakewood postoffice it will run via Doyle's Corners, Preston, High Lake, Lake Como and return to Lakewood. This service has been much needed and will be greatly appreciated by the patrons on the route. Much thanks are due to postmaster E. J. McLean for his interest in getting the route established.

—Miss Hannah McGettigan, aged 80 years, died on Friday last, of some of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bridget McGettigan, on Linwood street. Miss McGettigan had been a resident but one year, having come from Philadelphia to Honesdale. The only survivors of the deceased are Mrs. Bridget McGettigan, a niece, Miss Margaret McGettigan, and nephew, Daniel McGettigan. The funeral was held from St. John's Roman Catholic church Monday morning.

—Judge Alonzo T. Searle granted a preliminary injunction restraining the school directors of Canaan township from erecting a new school house. October 14 at 10 a. m. was fixed as the time for a hearing in the matter. The action was brought by Messrs. W. W. Zizer, Harvey J. Daniels, C. B. Cobb, Abraham Jagers, C. W. Bryant, C. C. Shaffer and John Jagers for themselves and other residents and taxpayers against Messrs. Alex M. Cook, E. D. Spangenberg, Loren Fielding, Chas. Hetzel, H. L. Megargel, W. R. Shaffer, directors of the school district of South Canaan. Homer Greene, is the attorney for the plaintiffs.

—The fifty-eighth annual Firemen's Parade and Ball scheduled to take place on the afternoon and evening of October 20 bids fair to be the social and financial success of the season. All the local companies will be in line when the parade forms at City Hall at 1:30 p. m. The fact that the ball will be held in the new Park Place Armory is ample assurance that the large crowds of former years, when as many as 1000 and 1200 attended this public function, will be well taken care of. The committees of Protection Engine Company No. 3, under whose auspices the celebration will be held, are working hard to make the affair a success. Remember the date, October 20.

—Mrs. Emma Taylor, Mrs. A. B. Transue and William Riefler left Saturday for Flushing, L. I., where that evening they attended the funeral of their nephew, Everett Gates. The latter was 25 years of age and had been married a year. He leaves a wife and infant son, who was born the day after he entered the hospital. Mr. Gates had peritonitis and became delirious shortly after he was taken sick, and did not recognize his wife when she was able to call a few weeks later. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gates, the mother being formerly of Carley Brook, Mr. Gates is survived by two sisters, Marie and Frances, also two brothers, Gordon and George. Interment was made at Flushing Sunday afternoon.

—An application was made to the court October 6, for the appointment of a guardian for Tyler Hankins, a feeble-minded person. The petition was made by his wife, Anna Hankins, of Mount Pleasant township. She alleges that her husband has become insane or feeble-minded and is unable to care for his property. A hearing for the case was fixed for October 18, at 2 p. m.

—There is a joint movement on between the members of the Business Men's Association and Board of Trade for better freight service on the Honesdale branch of the Delaware & Hudson railroad. A petition in charge of the committee is being readily signed by all shippers. It asks for the restoration of the former schedule, that of two freight days to be operated from Honesdale and a switch engine, the latter to insure prompt delivery, being furnished.

—Last Thursday evening District Deputy Arthur M. Leine went to Maplewood where he presided at the raising of the elected and appointed chiefs of Macoby Tribe, No. 234, I. O. R. M., to their respective stumps. He was accompanied by a delegation from Oslek Tribe No. 318, consisting of Messrs. L. Blumenthal, C. P. Searle, Esq., William Schloss, L. D. Katz, C. L. Dunning. The installation ceremonies were open to the public, and were witnessed by about 250 people. After the exercises, an oyster supper was served in the hall. NOT A PLEASANT PLACE TO LIVE

Miss Mary Major, an industrious young woman in the employ of S. S. Robinson, manufacturer of men's clothing, who has been residing with Mr. and Mrs. Brown, a colored family who live on the towpath, since she was a little girl, when it is alleged her mother deserted her, has found life with Mrs. Elizabeth George Brown, who is said to be half Indian, since the death of her husband some time ago, very hard. Accordingly she had a search warrant issued for her personal belongings and Constable P. J. Moran served it Tuesday morning. Mrs. Brown, it is said, was rather loath to have her foster child depart. It is even said that a 38-calibre revolver figured in the removing of her daughter's belongings which P. J. Moran, it is said, wrested from Mrs. Brown before she could do any harm with it. Mary is now living in more congenial quarters.

WHAT IT COST THEM.

Less than a dozen of the candidates for nomination for offices in the primary election of September 30 have filed their expense accounts in the office of the Prothonotary and Clerk of the Courts.

Four victorious candidates swore that their expense accounts did not exceed $50. Six of the seven defeated candidates, who filed affidavits, declared that their expenditures did not reach $50.

Ferdinand Kroll, a defeated candidate for County Commissioner, affirmed that his expenses totaled $206.60, itemized as follows: Printing and advertising, $121.60; traveling expenses, $40; writing letters, $20; incidentals $25.

The following candidates have filed their bill of expenses with Prothonotary M. J. Hanlan, the amounts when not mentioned, claim did not exceed over $50: I. G. Simons, commissioner, Sterling; F. C. Reichenbacher, treasurer, Honesdale; A. M. Henshaw, commissioner, Indian Orchard; Artemus Branning, commissioner, Atco; C. E. Dodge, prothonotary, Honesdale; John E. Mandeville, commissioner, Hawley; Gottlieb Landers, commissioner, Honesdale; C. K. Schoonover, sheriff, Honesdale; M. E. Simons, district attorney, Honesdale; A. F. Voigt, treasurer; Benjamin Maxey, mine inspector, Carbondale; W. O. Avery, auditor, Bethany; J. P. Flynn, auditor, Hawley; W. H. Dimmick, Judge, Honesdale.

F. P. Kimble, Democratic candidate for Judge, $250.10.

WHAT HONESDALE WILL BE REQUIRED TO DO—SOMEDAY.

The borough of Susquehanna has been directed to build a sewage disposal plant by the state department of health under penalty of having the state take summary action. The town sought to extend its sewage system and plans to conform with the health department's regulations were approved by Dr. Dixon, the commissioner. It will require a bond issue to make the improvements and the voters will pass upon it at the November election. Much opposition has developed among some of the taxpayers and as a result there are harsh differences of opinion as to Dr. Dixon's sanitary plan for the protection of the Susquehanna river against typhoid and other pollution caused by sewerage.
