Counsel For Defense
In McNamara Trial.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—One hundred and twenty-five citizens of Los Angeles, from whom twelve may be called upon to pass on the guilt or innocence of John J. and James B. McNamara in the Los Angeles Times dynamiting case, gathered in the new courtroom of Judge Walter Bordwell. The men constituted the first venire to be summoned as jurors in the McNamara trial, which is set to begin tomorrow. They were called to enable the court to excuse those who for ordinary reasons may be unable to act.

CREW LOST IN A GALE.

Fishing Schooner Reports Wreck of British Barkentine.

Boston, Oct. 10.—An unidentified barkentine, believed to be British, is reported to have foundered with a loss of all hands, probably twelve or fourteen men, on Georges bank fishing grounds a week ago Saturday night. Captain Goodwin of the fishing schooner Good Luck reported the supposed disaster when he arrived here.

The barkentine had foundered with all hands within a quarter of a mile of the little fishing schooner that had been standing by. All that night the Good Luck cruised in the vicinity, her crew on the alert for possible survivors, and at dawn the heaving sea was found to be littered with wreckage. Spars that had belonged to the battered barkentine, pieces of her deck and fragments of deck structure were drifting over a wide area, but none of the crew was seen.

PREFERS JAIL TO A FINE.

Shoe Machinery Trust Director Then Pleads Not Guilty.

Boston, Oct. 10.—"I had rather go to jail than pay a fine," said William Barbour of New York, a director of the United Shoe Machinery company, after pleading not guilty in the United States circuit court to an indictment for violation of the antitrust laws.

All six indicted officials of the United Shoe Machinery company have now pleaded to the indictments. Mr. Barbour gave $10,000 bail.

No time has been set for the trial, but it is expected during the coming winter.

CLARKE TO MEET TAFT.

Governor of Alaska Hopes For Solution of Coal Land Cases.

Seattle, Oct. 10.—Governor Clark of Alaska has arrived from the north to confer with President Taft.

Governor Clarke said that Secretary Fisher's visit to the territory must result in great good and that the people of Alaska hoped that in addition to settling the coal land problem, the next session of congress would result in the enactment of other legislation needed by the territory.

SCHLEY'S WILL IS FILED.

Late Admiral Urges Christian Burial For Nation's Defenders.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Rear Admiral Schley's will leaves his estate to his widow, bequeaths all gifts from the people to his children, to be divided equally, and closes with the sentiment: "Give Christian burial to those who fall and only surrender when there is no longer power left to defend country and flag."

Maritime Congress Meets.

Paris, Oct. 10.—The international maritime congress is in session here under the presidency of the minister of commerce, M. Couyba. Twenty-five countries are represented. Frederic Brown is the delegate from the Association of American Chambers of Commerce.

Aviators Fall in a Lake.

Detroit, Oct. 10.—After several flights in his biplane equipped with portcoons Captain Fred H. Alger and Aviator Frank Coffyn dropped into Lake St. Clair. The fall was a short one and neither was injured.

Sheriff Scherp is Dead.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Henry Scherp, sheriff of Westchester county, who was injured Sunday night when his automobile ran into a telegraph pole near his home, is dead.

Heads First Board Meeting Since Reorganization.

INTERSTATE AFFAIRS ARE HIS

Wiley Announces He Will Look After That Branch Henceforth—Dr. Doolittle to Direct Inspections—Stops Shipment of Artificially Ripened Fruits.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The first meeting of the food and drug inspection board of the department of agriculture since its reorganization by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson on instructions from President Taft was held with Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, on hand, as well as Dr. Doolittle, the new member of the board.

Mr. Dunlap, associate chief of the bureau of chemistry, who with Solicitor McCabe formed a majority of the board antagonistic to Dr. Wiley prior to the reorganization, was present in order that he might turn over to the new board the unfinished business in his possession. He announced, however, that he would not attend another meeting. Solicitor McCabe has already resigned.

Dr. Wiley announced after the meeting that from now on he will look after interstate affairs in connection with the enforcement of the pure food law, while Dr. Doolittle will take care of inspections. Dr. Wiley's first act as chairman of the new board was to take steps to prevent interstate shipments of artificially ripened fruits from Florida to California.

FINES FOR BAD FOODS.

Sixty New York Grocers Caught in Health Campaign.

New York, Oct. 10.—Sixty men accused of selling unwholesome or adulterated foodstuffs or drugs were arraigned in special sessions. Most of them were found guilty and fined, the fines ranging from $500 down to $10. The $500 fine was imposed upon Edward Farrell of Brooklyn, manager for James Butler.

The health department condemned 43,499 cans of condensed milk in the Butler depot last April. Farrell pleaded guilty, but said that as the milk was not a loose product, but sealed in cans, he could not know it was bad.

SURPRISE BURGLARS AT WORK

Policemen Kill One, Wound Another and Arrest Third Man.

New York, Oct. 10.—One burglar was killed and another was wounded in a pistol fight with policemen in the rear yard of a cigar store in East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street. The dead man has not yet been identified, and the wounded man got away. A third man was arrested and held without bail on a charge of burglary by Magistrate Appleton. He was Jacob Goodstein, well known to the police.

Altogether there are supposed to have been six men and possibly a woman in the attack on the cigar store.

CHICAGO REMEMBERS FIRE.

The West Observes Fortieth Anniversary.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—The fortieth anniversary of the Chicago fire of 1871 was generally observed throughout the west.

The governors of Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Montana and Utah had issued proclamations formally setting aside the day as "fire prevention day."

The governors of Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and Michigan issued similar proclamations, but selected other dates.

Militiamen in Convention.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 10.—The thirtieth annual convention of the National Guard Association of the United States opened here for a three day session. The gathering brings national guard officers of every state, with a fair representation of the regular army, numbering in all between 400 and 500 men.

Straw Hat Dear to Him.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 10.—William J. Welsh, a grocer, was killed here in a fight which followed his attempt to destroy the out of season straw hat worn by Jewel Bush, a blacksmith.

Rain After Battles.

Romans believed that great battles were accompanied by rain to enable some plying god to cleanse the bloody earth with the gentle showers of heaven.

Stucco Work.

Stucco work, which was much prized by the ancients, was revived in 1760.

Laughing Tea.

A tea made of the leaves of the "laughing plant" of Arabia puts the partaker into a hilarious humor for an hour or so.

Use the Fork.

Use the knife as little as possible. Cut tender foods, such as potatoes, eggs and the like, with the fork, using the knife only when the fork would be an inconvenience.

Woman's World

Mme. Bakmetieff, American Wife of New Ambassador.

MME. BAKMETIEFF.

Mme. Bakmetieff, wife of the Russian diplomat who has succeeded Baron Rosen as ambassador to Washington, is a native of the Capital City and passed all her life there until her marriage to the Greek scholar, then a member of the Russian legation. She was Mary Beale, second daughter of General Edward Fitzgerald Beale, the close friend and staff officer of General Grant. She is the sister of Mrs. John R. McLean and will add another to the brilliant list of American chaperones of embassy and legation homes in Washington. The new Russian ambassador entered the Russian diplomatic service in his early youth. He is a native of Corinth and is a famous student of the classics. Mme. Bakmetieff made her debut in the Arthur administration. She is a fine linguist and will be one of the most accomplished hostesses in the capital. Through the will of her mother she inherited almost all the fortune left by General Beale, composed principally of real estate in fashionable parts of Washington.

Concerning Women.

Among the newest strange gifts Mrs. Taft has received are several sacred tea plants from the garden of the Buddhist priests in Ceylon. The plants were sent to the secretary of agriculture, who will have them cared for in the tea farms of the Carolinas, which are under the supervision of the department.

The Princess Mary has some talent in modeling in clay and is taking lessons from a professional in order to become a sculptor. She got her inspiration from the Princess Louise, duchess of Argyll, who gave her the first lesson. Little Princess Mary is said to be particular about her studio dress and looks quite pretty in her long apron that entirely covers her dress.

The Duchess of Bedford, Miss Beatrice Harraden and Lady Coghlin are said to be responsible for the Halcyon club, a new woman's club, incorporated in London. The club is to be financed and controlled entirely by its members, each of whom is to be a shareholder. As the club is registered as a limited liability company, each member will be liable only for the number of shares held by her. The club will be nonpolitical and open to all professional women.

When Jack Frost Appears.

For playing outdoor in the winter nothing better protects the small boy from cold than a knitted suit. Such a costume is shown in the illustration of gray yarn with border trimmings of bright red. The suit is completed by a worsted cap, which resembles the famous brownie headgear.

Fragrant Cushions.

Dried rose geranium leaves make a very pleasant filling for sofa pillows, as they give out a delightful odor.

Partly dry stalks of lavender gathered while the plants are in bloom. Strip the leaves and flowers from the wood, discarding all stems. Make bags of heavy muslin and fill them with the leaves and flowers. Cover with other cushions.

Oh, the Difference!

"You look pretty this evening," the bachelor said to his fiancée. She gazed at him philosophically. "I am sure you mean that well," she replied, "but you have no idea how such a speech wrings the heart of one like me—or would if I had not been hardened to the inevitable. Nobody ever says to me, 'You are pretty.' It is always 'You look pretty.' There is a difference as wide as the wideness of the sea. The girl who really is pretty never has to give the subject a thought. Nothing she can do or leave undone affects the vital fact that she is pretty. The girl whom nature has not thus favored must be forever trying to make herself 'look pretty.' Of course in a way she deserves far more credit for making herself acceptable to the public than the pretty girl does—also it is a compliment to her taste, ingenuity, skill and various other mental qualities to assure her she has attained success—but it always reminds her of the battle she must continually wage." —Exchange.

The Summerless Year.

The year 1816 was called the "year without a summer." Spring came that year, but in its faintest form. Snow, cold rains and winds were incessant. It was the 1st of June before the first left the ground. The farmers planted their crops, but the seed would hardly sprout, and when they came to the surface there was not heat enough to make the frail plants grow. It is recorded that during the month of June birds froze to death in the woods and fields. Small fruits, such as there were, rotted on the stem, there being no birds to eat them. But little corn matured. Only in sheltered spots were good sized roasting ears to be found. Frosts prevailed every month in the year and almost daily. The people after repeated hopes of a change for the better settled down almost in despair. The like of it was never known in the country before and, fortunately, has never been repeated.—New York American.

Colored His Sermons.

"A minister has got to be alive and resourceful today," said a deacon of a big metropolitan church. "Ours finds he can't speak well extemporaneously, and he reads from a typewritten copy. I never knew how he managed to preach so effectively until one day I happened to see his manuscript. Half of it was underlined in different colors. It looked so curious that I asked him about it."

"A little scheme of mine," he said laughingly. "I found I was delivering what I had written in the same tone. So now, early on Sunday morning, I go over the copy I carry into the pulpit. I keep crayon pencils of six different colors on my desk. Red means one tone, green yet another, yellow and blue yet others. As I turn each page I see at a glance just how I am to speak."—New York Sun.
