LOCAL NEWS

—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Suydam, Jr., Hawley, on Wednesday.

—A marriage license was issued Wednesday, October 11, to William T. Haun, Bethany and Miss Maud E. Gregory, Beachlake.

—"Columbus had a stormy life of it. But do you know he missed one thing? He never ran for office."—Candidate to Citizen man.

—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lozier, Aldenville, Tuesday, October 10 a daughter. A trained nurse from Scranton is in attendance.

—First Presbyterian church—Rev. W. H. Swift, D. D., pastor. Morning service at 10:30 o'clock. Subject: "Power." Sunday school at 12 M. Evening service at 7:30 o'clock. Subject: "An Athlete—and Something More."

—The regular monthly meeting of the Business Men's association was held on Wednesday evening. Regular business was transacted and bills were paid. The special committee on securing better freight facilities on the Delaware and Hudson road reported progress and it was continued.

—The new concrete walk and curbing extending the length of the entire block on East Park street from Dyberry Place to the Goodman bridge is completed. It is laid on properties facing Park street and includes the Torrey estate, State armory and the Irving Cut Glass. The improvement is one that enhances the value of the properties and adds to the attractiveness of the surroundings.

—The matter of Greater Honesdale will be freely discussed at the Board of Trade session on Friday evening. Several residents of Teas township have expressed a willingness to annex to the borough proper and a chance will be given them to take advantage of the opportunity. Texas township can be annexed to Honesdale in its entirety, according to the Act of 1903. The matter will be fully explained at Friday night's Board of Trade meeting. Every member is urged to be present. Something will be said to your interest and if you don't understand you can ask questions.

—Dr. E. M. Stephenson, Denver, who is working in the interest of Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies, and especially the child, will give an address in the Honesdale Baptist church Sunday morning, Oct. 22. Dr. Stephenson is sent out by the Baptist State association. He will visit Hawley the same Sunday, giving addresses afternoon and evening. In Honesdale he will speak about the spiritual life, his subject being "The Parable of the Corn Stalk." In Hawley during the afternoon session Dr. Stephenson will tell "How to Make a Good Sunday School Better," and evening, "Factors in Religious Education." Dr. Stephenson is a very interesting conversationalist and has worked almost exclusively in the Sunday school movement during his life. His grandfather, Christopher Stephenson, was a first cousin of George Stephenson, the inventor of the locomotive. Dr. Stephenson says that the three principles that George Stephenson gave in building the locomotive have never been improved and are still used, namely, the brake, draft and the piston movement in not stopping on a dead center.

—Miss Ruth Terrel is repairing her property on East street.

—The Firemen's dance October 20 will be held in the armory.

—Frank Antonio, porter at the Allen House, has resigned his position owing to ill health.

—The Prompton creamery, which has been in operation for several years, will soon be closed.

—Edwin Bodie, Prompton, Tuesday moved his family and household effects to 1511 West street, Honesdale. Mr. Bodie has secured employment with Mrs. Coe Durland.

—Mrs. Loercher's Sunday school class netted a neat sum from the sale of clam chowder in the parlors of the Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon and evening.

—Several members of St. John's Guild of the Lutheran church enjoyed a social evening last Tuesday. Business was also transacted. Addresses were made by Rev. C. C. Miller and others.

—The engine house of the White Mills fire department is nearly completed and through the generosity of kind friends it is almost paid for. The lot upon which the building is erected was donated by C. Dorfingier.

—Fred T. Smith, of Salamanca, N. Y., assistant general car inspector of the Erie railroad, was a business caller in Honesdale Wednesday. Mr. Smith has charge of the Erie Eastern grand division, extending from Salamanca east.

—Expense accounts filed Wednesday, October 11, include A. W. Larabee, whose campaign for the nomination for County Treasurer, cost him $133.20, $40 of which went for cigars; Neville Hoigate for County Commissioner $153, $70 of which was used for printing and advertising.

—The October number of "The Parish News," a monthly church bulletin published by St. John's Lutheran Men's Guild of this place, is replete with interesting articles pertaining to that church. It also contains two fine half-tone engravings, one representing the interior of the church since it was remodeled—and another of Dr. Martin Luther.

—Wednesday morning's 11:15 D. & H. freight did not whistle for Honesdale until 1:15, two hours late. The train contained 18 cars, which accounted for its non-arrival on time. If two trains were operated during the day this would be eliminated. An effort, however, is being made to bring the desired change about. The petition in circulation has been universally signed, which represents a majority of shippers and receivers of freight on the branch.

—The ladies of the Aldenville Baptist church, upon invitation extended by Mrs. A. J. Rehbein, brought provisions for a fine chicken dinner and all the good things that accompanied it, to Honesdale Wednesday. The dinner was served at Mr. Rehbein's home, East street, about 50 neighbors partaking of the dinner. A neat sum was added to the church treasury. Rev. James Rainey and a few members of his congregation were also present. Dr. E. M. Stephenson, of Denver, was Mr. Rainey's guest.

—John Madden, Towanda, who was a member of the Third Pennsylvania Heavy Artillery during the Civil war, has just received a letter which he wrote to his wife while stationed at Fort Monroe forty-seven years ago. Where the letter has been all these years he does not know. It arrived in a different envelope from that in which it was sent and it was postmarked Towanda.

Madden's impression is that it was received by some person for whom it was not intended and has been either held or mislaid. What the motive is for returning it at this late day he does not know. In the letter he urgently requests his wife to get him a pair of pants.

—The official board of the Methodist Episcopal church of White Mills have arranged for a supper to be given Saturday, October 21, in the Florence Opera House by the Ladies' Aid society and the Sunday school. The members of the church are engaged in raising a fund to be used in enlarging the church, made necessary by the rapid growth of the Sunday school. A plan for the increase of that fund will constitute a part of the program arranged for that occasion. The program opens at 8 p. m. Speakers include Hon. A. T. Searle, President Judge of Wayne county, Hon. F. P. Kimble, Esq., Prothonotary M. J. Hanlan, as well as other men and ministers prominent in the county. Rev. Walter Walker is the popular pastor of this flourishing congregation.

—A pledge of $500 from an out-of-town donor has been received by Rev. A. L. Whittaker to be applied to the Indian Orchard church building fund. This with what money has previously been subscribed will about complete the church with the exception of the heating system, the finishing of the basement, the furnishings of the interior, and a few incidentals, which may together require $500 more. Upon the basement, which is now about completed, will be placed immediately the superstructure of stucco work with outside panelling. The architecture will be Gothic, with a tower in the corner fourteen feet square. If persons who would like to place memorials in the church will kindly inform Samuel Saunders or Mr. Whittaker as soon as possible, a considerable saving will be effected on each window thus given, both to the building committee and to the donor. There are doubtless some whose friends or relatives are buried in the Indian Orchard cemetery who would like the opportunity to put in these windows. In addition to the chancel window and the window in the front end there will be four windows, smaller in size, on each side. It is now estimated that the entire cost of the church with all its furnishings will be about $2400. It is hoped to make it a beautiful example of the small rural church. It will house the Sunday school and congregation which were established three years ago last April in a section of the county which was almost without church and Sunday school privileges.

—The D. Y. L. M. meet with Miss Edna Katz Thursday evening.

—Rev. A. L. Whittaker will hold service in the White Mills church, Sunday, Oct. 15, at 3:15 p. m.

—In twenty-nine states, against fourteen over last year, Columbus Day was observed as a legal holiday.

—Under the new school code law a list of the taxpayers who are exonerated can be published in the local papers three consecutive weeks.

—The glass cutters at Kelly & Steinmann's factory have resumed Saturday afternoon labors, beginning last week.—Deposit Courier-Journal.

—Freedom Lodge, No. 88, I. O. O. F., will celebrate its 68th anniversary Monday evening, October 16. All Odd Fellows are invited to be present.

—A box social will be held in Marshall Smith's hall, Indian Orchard, for the benefit of the Indian Orchard Sunday school, Friday evening.

—The members of the Needlework Guild are requested to send in their annual contributions by the last of October. Notice of the annual meeting will be made later.

—The County Seat fittingly celebrated Columbus Day with banks closed, and Old Glory flung to the breeze in front of many of the business places of the city.

—The meeting of the Knights of St. Paul of Grace church next Tuesday evening will be for the purpose of completing the arrangements for their supper the following Tuesday evening.

—Nature has painted the hills surrounding Honesdale, through the agency of Jack Frost, with exquisite colors. Irving Cliff side hill and Torrey's woods, near Homer Greene's are greatly admired.

—H. C. Rowland, the popular Main street jeweler, who conducts a quality shop in the 1100 block, has been commissioned to secure the class pins for the Class of 1913 of the Honesdale High school.

—Mrs. Perry Deen, mother of Mrs. Wesley M. Gardner, of Scranton, died suddenly at her home in Danville on Tuesday. Mrs. Deen is also survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Edward Rosser, of Kingston, and Miss Helen Deen, of Danville.

—Because they were dissatisfied about their teacher a number of Waymart's young "Freshmen" went out on a strike the first of the week. Superintendent J. J. Koehler visited the place after which the strike was called off and the pupils returned to their studies.

—The annual business meeting of the Golf Club, which was postponed from last Saturday, will be held at the club house on Saturday of this week at 6:30 p. m. Supper will be served to the members at 5:30. Mrs. Wm. F. Briggs will cater. Super tickets, 50 cents. Those desiring supper will kindly phone R. M. Salmon not later than Friday noon.

—A subpoena in divorce was awarded Homer Lovelass, libellant, October 12. The libel charges that the respondent, Daisy D. Lovelass in violation of her marriage vows committed adultery with Herbert Isles, at various times and places, and particularly on September 30, 1911, at Boston, Mass. The couple were married February 11, 1905, and lived together until August 19, 1911.

—Mrs. Henry Dillen died Wednesday morning at her home at Tanners Falls. The funeral will be held on Saturday and interment will be made at Bethany. Mrs. Dillen was a former resident of Bethany. Her husband died about three months ago. Two children survive, namely, James Harvey, of Indian Orchard, and Mrs. Mary J. Dix, New York City. Mrs. B. H. Helwig is a granddaughter of the deceased.

—Joseph Ruppert, one of White Mills' respected citizens, died suddenly Thursday morning of heart trouble. Mr. Ruppert had gotten up early and was preparing to do some work around the house when he was seized with a severe pain in his heart and fell to the floor. When assistance arrived he had passed away. He leaves a wife, four sons and two daughters. William Ruppert, of this place, is a son of the deceased.

—Election expense accounts, under $50, filed recently include: Dr. P. B. Peterson, for coroner; Samuel K. Dills, for county commissioner; Edwin R. Bodie, for county auditor; G. W. Howell, for sheriff; Frank C. Kimble for sheriff. Among those who spent more than $50 were the following: John Male, for county commissioner, $69.94; Fred A. Stoddard, for county commissioner, $150.29; Geo. P. Ross, for prothonotary, $113.01.

—Oliver C. Sears, of Rileyville, one of Wayne county's progressive farmers, was in Honesdale Wednesday. Mr. Sears, who is a veteran of the Civil war, being a member of the 52d Pennsylvania Volunteers, was on his way to Wilkes-Barre to attend the 24th annual reunion of his regiment on Thursday. As far as is known he is the last survivor of the 52d regiment in Wayne county. Thursday was also the 50th anniversary of the completed organization and muster-in of the 52d regiment at Camp Curtin at Harrisburg.

—The Pennsylvania Baptist General convention will be held in the First Baptist church of Reading on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 17, 18, 19, 1911, and bids fair to be one of the largest conventions ever held by the Baptists in the state. George H. Ferris, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church of Philadelphia, will preach the convention sermon. The address on Stewardship will be delivered by O. P. Gifford, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church of Brookline, Mass. Both of these speakers are numbered among the foremost pastors of the continent and to hear their addresses will be well worth going to Reading. There has been an excellent program arranged and the subjects under discussion will be of interest to every Christian in the state.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Murray leave Friday afternoon for New York city, where they will spend a few days. On Saturday they expect to witness the world's series in baseball—the Athletics vs. the Giants. Mr. Murray is acquainted with three of the professional players and has played with Christy Mathewson on Honesdale's baseball field.

A Frank Statement to the People of Honesdale and Vicinity:
I WANT to get the trade of all the best people in Honesdale by proving that it will pay them to give me their business.
Don't mistake my meaning when I say the "best" people. I have in mind the business, not the social, value of the man or woman when I say "best"; and while the rich and well-to-do are of course included in my meaning of "best," the word expresses much more than that.
The "best" class of trade is that largest number of the people of Honesdale who are thrifty; who look ahead; who plan to get the best value for the price they pay. They are settled; expect to remain here; have an interest in the general progress of our town; and have an eye to the future in behalf of their children and their children's children.
The "best" trade is not all rich, or even well-to-do, now; but it is far-sighted; has a good memory; and in time will buy more and more, and better and finer things, of the jeweler from whom it now buys the best it can afford—if the jeweler deserves their continuing good will. This "best" trade stays with the jeweler who proves to his customers that it is best for them to stay with him.
My plan for getting this "best" trade is to invariably sell what is best for my customer to buy. She does not always know what is best to buy; I do. I propose to put my knowledge entirely at her service, ignoring the temporary advantage to me in selling her what would (at present) pay me best to sell her. I am not looking for temporary gains; I am building for the future on the foundation-rock of the public confidence. I am after, and will get, that confidence, whatever it costs me in present profit on articles that it would pay me, now, to sell but would not pay my customer to buy.
I tell you frankly that I am no philanthropist; I am simply looking out for my interests when I look out for your interests; I want your trade twenty years from now as well as to-day; so I've got to make it pay you to deal with me by selling to you only such goods as will prove to you the advantage in dealing with me—the really worthy goods, and none other. The "just-as-good" kinds (which are never just as good) will have no place in this store. The "best" class of trade—the rich, and the fairly comfortable, and the thrifty poor—will not stay with the jeweler who sells disappointing goods; and I want that "best" trade.
The jewelry business is different from most others. In many other lines of trade the buyer can bank on her own judgment, more or less—in buying clothing, groceries, house furnishings, and what not. But she does not have—she cannot have—any valuable judgment as to the difference, say, in two grades of diamonds, or two makes of watch cases. She must go by her faith in the jeweler; just as she must go by her faith in the doctor, or the lawyer, or the banker. Consequently, in no other line of merchandise is there greater opportunity for deception, or for selfishness, than the jewelry business presents, for the customer must rely on the jeweler to treat her squarely.
Just in proportion as the customer's ignorance of values is greater than when buying other merchandise, the jeweler's responsibility is greater in selling. Therefore, if the jeweler would build up an enduring business—a business that would constantly widen through the favoring word of pleased customers—he must secure that public confidence which is as much a part of his capital as it is of a banker's capital.
So I shall strive to deserve the confidence of the people of Honesdale by invariably selling what is best for the customer to buy; by stating values as they truly are, in exact knowledge of their worth; and by an unvarying practice of "the square deal."
