OCTOBER TERM OF COURT.

Many Important Cases Brought Before Judge Searle.

The October term of Wayne county court was convened Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when all the constables made their returns, and twenty members of the grand jury responded when their names were called, and were charged by Judge A. T. Searle.

B. W. Raymond, Scott township, was appointed foreman of the grand jury, which included among its number two clergymen, Rev. A. L. Whittaker, Honesdale, and Rev. C. F. Smalley, Palmyra township. Constable Philip Mang, Texas township, was appointed to wait on the grand jury.

Constables E. J. Richardson, Hawley; N. B. Spencer, Honesdale; Walter Swingle, Lake township were appointed for the term. "I am glad to see that there have been no violations of the laws," said Judge Searle, following the returns of the constables. "The matter of the condition of the roads in some of the districts will be referred to the District Attorney who will notify the supervisors to attend to them."

Four grand jurors were excused by the court. They were Messrs. G. C. Abrahams, Damascus; Joseph Bellman, Texas township; T. H. Clune, Buckingham township and W. E. Lake, Mt. Pleasant.

The session of court next week promises to be a light one. The District Attorney reported that he had about a dozen indictments to present to the grand jury, one matter however containing as many as five indictments. Most of the cases to be presented are misdemeanors, although there are two or three felonies in the list. There is one bridge in Buckingham township, consideration of which will be given by the grand jury.

When the calendar was called, it was learned that these cases, listed for trial next week, had been continued by agreement.

No. 1. F. K. Airey and F. A. Spencer trading as Airey and Spencer vs. J. B. Keen, Jr., assumpsit, Simons, pif.; and Mumford, dft. This is the celebrated "carload of yellow corn" case.

No. 2. Jacob P. Klausner vs. Frank DeBreen. Trespass. Searle & Salmon, pif. and Mumford, dft.

No. 4. Mamert Walenynowicz vs. Minnie Allen and William Allen. Trespass. Searle & Salmon, Gardiner, pif. and Mumford, dft.

Negotiations looking toward a settlement are pending in the case of Hiram Cole vs. Annie Cole, admx. of Henry Cole, dec'd, and Mamie Kless, Nelson H. Cole, Daniel M. Cole, and Jennie Cole, heirs of Henry Cole, assumpsit.

The case of Morris Brown vs. C. A. Cortright & Son has been settled. The case of Cortright & Son vs. Erie Railroad Co., was set for a hearing next Tuesday morning, Judge Little, Montrose, specially presiding. The matter of the estate of William W. Tarbox has also been settled.

WHY NOT HONESDALE?

Other towns are priding themselves as being great summer resorts—why not Honesdale? If the people would awaken to the situation Honesdale and vicinity could show many, many advantages over inland towns that they would sink into oblivion.

With the advantages of the most beautiful river and mountain scenery in the State, practically on the main line of two railroads and good hotel accommodations, with a number of excellent sites available for the erection of large summer boarding houses, Honesdale and vicinity could entertain thousands of visitors. It ought not to be very hard work to get them here either.

There are very few towns where the general health of the community is better and the climatic conditions are usually satisfactory. While in the summer months we have many hot days the evenings as a rule are cool thus giving the people some relief from the heat; in fact the climate is about the same as you would find in the Poconos, one of the most popular resorts for the New York and Philadelphia people who do not care for the seashore. Usually there is excellent fishing and there is no place along the Dyberry river where there is such a long stretch of smooth water for boating as that stretch between Fiddler's Elbow and Beth Israel Synagogue.

If a little effort was put forth to advertise the town it is almost certain that the publicity boosters of the D. & H. and the Erie roads would lend a hand as it would mean increased business for them. This might be a matter for the board of trade to take up as its success would mean more business for the town for a few months of the year at least.

Where in the State of Pennsylvania is there a more magnificent view than from the State bridge, Main street, looking toward Irving Cliff? It is admired by the stranger and home folk alike. An ideal place for a summer boarding hotel. It is hoped that before twelve more moons shine that a building of this kind will have been erected by capitalists. It will be a good thing for the merchants, grocers, farmers, and in fact everybody will be benefited.

JUDGE STAPLES ON THE JOB.

The miscellaneous session of court opened this morning with Judge Charles B. Staples on the bench. There was a fair attendance of attorneys and others interested in cases to be heard.

The judge was a little late in arriving and there was wonder why as he is usually the personification of promptness, but after court had opened, that mystery was cleared away. The judge said that while he was driving in his automobile down the road in Nockamixon township, he saw several men, employees of the Philadelphia and Eastern Electric Railway Company, digging the grass from the road and throwing it into the public highway. He stopped his car and asked why they were throwing the debris into the road, and they replied that no one objected. The judge said, that while the township had purchased a road roller and a stone crusher and was fixing up the road, the trolley company appeared to be undoing the good work the supervisors had done. He directed the district attorney to notify the trolley company that it must at once remove the debris its employees had placed upon the public highway.—Doylestown Democrat, Tuesday last.

WHAT WAYNE WILL DO.

Since the nomination of Mr. Airey the Democrats have seemed to take more or less pleasure in telling of the woes of Wayne county, how she was scornfully passed by in the matter of making the Congressional ticket, and how Wayne county Republicans are going to get their revenge for the way in which Mr. Homer Greene of Honesdale was slighted, by voting the Democratic ticket, and doing other uncalled for and foolish things. Some Republicans may have believed them—we think not many. We can calm the fears of any timid Republicans there may be, and dash the hopes of the over-anxious Democrats, by the impartation of positive and most reliable information. Mr. Homer Greene is outspoken in Mr. Airey's behalf, and is supporting his candidacy most loyally. He will speak from the same platform with candidate Airey at a large meeting soon to be called. There is no disaffection among Wayne county Republicans, and we have the judgment of those Wayne counteans who are best informed relative to the political situation that the Republican Congressional vote will be as large as the vote for the rest of the ticket, and this is saying a good deal, for the Wayne Republicans have a strong ticket this year, and are going to poll a heavy vote. All this will be gratifying news to Republicans throughout the district. Wayne will do her part. Let all the other counties do theirs. Mr. Airey's majority in the district will be large, but that is no excuse for even one Republican failing to cast his vote on election day.—Reporter-Journal, Towanda, Pa.

ONION SYRUP REMEDY FOR COLD.

When all's said, the most reliable remedy for a cold is onion syrup. October colds are not easy to cure, but the good old plantation compound will do the trick. Slice a red onion, the redder and coarser the better, and sandwich the slices with coarse brown sugar. Put the sugar-and-onion sandwich in a saucer, turn another saucer upside down over it, and let it stand a few hours. The result will be a thick syrup, to be taken as often as possible. Its sweetness is so cloying you can't drink much of it at a time, but the more you drink the sooner you'll get rid of the cold. Every southern woman who has had the care of a number of children or servants pins her faith to onion syrup.

TEACHERS TO GET $3 A DAY

To Attend Institute Instead of $10 a Week

BUT IF ABSENT ARE FINED $3 WHICH MEANS LOSS OF $6 DAILY.

"This year the teachers are to receive $3 per day for attending Institute instead of $10 a week as formerly. But if they are absent the law requires that they should be fined $3 for every day's absence, which means a loss of $6 per day to them. At $3 a day it would be unreasonable for teacher to ask to be excused before the end of the last session."

So said County Superintendent J. J. Koehler, to a Citizen man, by way of impressing upon the teachers the importance of attending all the sessions of the Forty-fourth annual Wayne County Teachers' Institute which will be held in the auditorium of the Honesdale High school, Nov. 13-17.

The first session will be held Monday morning, November 13, at 10:30 o'clock, when the 244 teachers will be enrolled. Daily sessions will be held thereafter, from 9-12 a. m. and from 1:45 to 4 p. m. The evening entertainments will commence at 8:15 p. m.

The Sixteenth Annual Wayne County School Directors' convention will be held November 16 and 17.

The directors of the various school districts in the county will meet with the teachers in the High school auditorium on the afternoon of November 16 and use the same instructors as the institute does. The directors will also have a separate meeting in the Court Room on the morning of November 17, at which time Dr. G. M. Phillips, principal of the West Chester State Normal school, will deliver a lecture on "Important Phases and Sections of the New School Code, and the Duties and Powers of the New State Board of Education."

Dr. Phillips is secretary of the State Board of Education of Pennsylvania, having been appointed to that important office by Governor Tener several months ago. A talk from a member of this new educational board should be of special interest to everyone.

No doubt a number of West Chester graduates teaching in Wayne county will be delighted to hear of his coming to Honesdale. He is one of the most popular educators in the state at the present time.

The school directors are invited to bring all their differences to this meeting and no doubt Dr. Phillips will be glad to give them the proper instruction. A general discussion will follow the speaker's remarks.

There are many more females than males among the 244 teachers in Wayne county," said Prof. Koehler. "There are seventy Normal school graduates teaching in the county, nearly all of whom are from Stroudsburg, Bloomsburg, West Chester, Mansfield State Normal Schools. There are thirteen college graduates teaching in Wayne county."

Miss Vera Murray, who teaches in Texas township, is the only holder of a State certificate. The rest are divided among the provisionals, permanents and professionals. The number of provisionals is decidedly lower this year than ever before.

Miss Emma Woolheater is one of the oldest teachers in point of service in Wayne county. She teaches in Manchester township.

It is hoped that the newly-elected members as well as the present incumbents on the school board will be present at this annual gathering of the school directors. H. J. Aitken, of Sterling, is President of the Director's Association and A. M. Leine, Honesdale, is the secretary. Important sections of the School Code will be contained in the Manual this year.

Speaking of the instructors who have been engaged this year, Mr. Koehler said:

"The first instructor, Dr. O. T. Corson, editor and proprietor of the Ohio Educational Monthly, Columbus, Ohio, was here about fourteen or fifteen years ago, and he is considered one of the strongest institute lecturers in the United States. His line of work will be Methods and General School Management."

"Prof. F. A. Barbour, head of the Department of English, State Normal College, Ypsilanti, Mich., comes highly recommended from the school authorities in Michigan. His line of work is Language and Literature and English Composition. Dr. Barbour is widely known throughout the West and in the New England States as an Institute lecturer."

"Prof. Thomas I. Mairs, lecturer on agricultural education in the Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa., is a new name. His line of work is Agriculture in the Public Schools."

"Prof. John T. Watkins, Scranton, who will have charge of the musical department of the Institute, has just as much of a smiling face as he ever had before, brimful of music and sunshine. Dorin's Juvenile Orchestra will appear one afternoon. Miss Maude Rehbein will be the institute pianist."

"John Temple Graves, the great Southern orator, will deliver his famous lecture 'The Reign of the Demagogue' before an audience of teachers, directors and the general public one evening during the Institute. Henry Waterson says of him, 'He's the most eloquent Southerner of to-day.' It's a rare treat for any one to hear so noted a man as John Temple Graves."

MORE AMBITION NEEDED.

"The American people lack ambition," said James Bush to a Citizen man Friday morning. "The world wants more ambitious people, the average person is too slack. Why, do you know that in a number of different places where I sell shoes that the merchant does not even take an inventory of his goods. He does not know what he has in stock. Many times I have gone into country stores, built a fire in the stoves and then inventory the merchant's stock of shoes before selling him goods."

Mr. Bush is one of Honesdale's wideawake citizens who is always up and doing, is never found shrinking his duties and practices what he preaches.

TO SECURE MORE LAND.

The Chicago park commission suggests to the city council that 160 acres a year of public park land could be secured out of Lake Michigan without cost to the city. The way would be to allow contractors who cart away ashes, cinders, excavated earth and other material the privilege of dumping the waste in the lake, provided they build retaining walls at their own expense. This would save the contractors the great cost of carrying this material far out in the lake. Properly governed, this scheme would appear to be entirely workable, and Chicago has need of more park spaces. Her park area is 3600 acres, against more than 12,000 for Boston, and 8000 in New York.

W. W. WOOD

For Treasurer

Mr. Wood came to Honesdale in 1884. He was superintendent of the Honesdale Iron Works for ten years. He then organized the National Elevator Works, raising $50,000 capital, most of which was obtained in Scranton. The Elevator Company absorbed the Iron Works and he was made General Manager. During 20 years of his management of these concerns, the records show that over TWO MILLIONS DOLLARS was spent for WAGES, TAXES, BUYING PROPERTY, ERECTING BUILDINGS, LUMBER, and for GENERAL SUPPLIES. This money went into the channels of trade of Honesdale and some of it went into every corner of Wayne county.

Republican Candidate for REGISTER & RECORDER

W. B. LESHER.

William Brock Leshner, Republican candidate for Register and Recorder, is a son of Austin and Margaret Leshner of Sterling in which township he was born, Oct. 18, 1876. He was educated in the public schools, Newfoundland High school and Scranton Business College. When seventeen years of age he began teaching and for the five years following he taught through the winter terms, attending Scranton Business College during his summer vacations, and graduated from the college in 1898. His attainments as an accountant and skill in penmanship at once secured him employment as a bookkeeper which position he relinquished a year later to assist his father on the farm, whose health which had been poor for many years, became worse and who, by the way, has been unable to do a day's work since. Being without any resource the principal care of the family fell upon Brock, who has taken care of their needs nobly ever since.

More than ten years ago he secured employment with J. E. Cross of Sterling, involving, besides the duties of general clerk, those of assistant postmaster, a position which he still holds.

When Mr. Leshner was a candidate for County Auditor, one of his neighbors, a prominent citizen of Sterling, vouched for him as a self-made young man, honorable and upright in his business transactions and accurate and quick in his work. As a County Auditor he has amply justified this estimation of his character and attainments. He has made a first-class officer, giving careful and searching attention to the accounts of our county officials, and the statements prepared for publication by him and his colleagues have been models of accuracy and comprehensiveness. His efficiency having been amply proved by his record, his promotion to Register and Recorder should be assured.

LADIES GO TO THEATRE ONLY HALF DRESSED.

Women who come to the theatre only "half dressed" and others who insist on copying cloaks and hats hanging in the ladies' parlors were roundly scolded by Mrs. S. B. Driggs, who has charge of the ladies' rooms at a prominent theatre in Cleveland.

"Some folks come to the theatre just half dressed," she said. "They come with their shoes half buttoned and their dresses only half hooked up the back. The powder they apply after reaching here and then take a few dabs at their fingernails."

"Then they try to bribe me to let them try on coats and hats hanging in the check rooms," Mrs. Driggs continued. "Several times women have brought pads and pencils with them and sketched hats hanging just out of their reach."

Mrs. Driggs' husband, also employed at the theatre, declared men were also becoming careless in their dress. "Forty years ago a gentleman would never have come to a play not properly dressed," he said. "Now, they don't even get shaved."

CONFIDENCE.

We Back Up Our Statements With Our Personal Reputation and Money.

We are so positive that we can relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of all cost if we fail.

We think that it is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Cathartics may do much harm. They may cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels, and make constipation more chronic.

Constipation is often accompanied and may be caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those parts and restore them to healthier activity.

The discovery of the active principle of our remedy involved the labor of skillful research chemists. This remedy produces results such as are expected from the best of the best-known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.

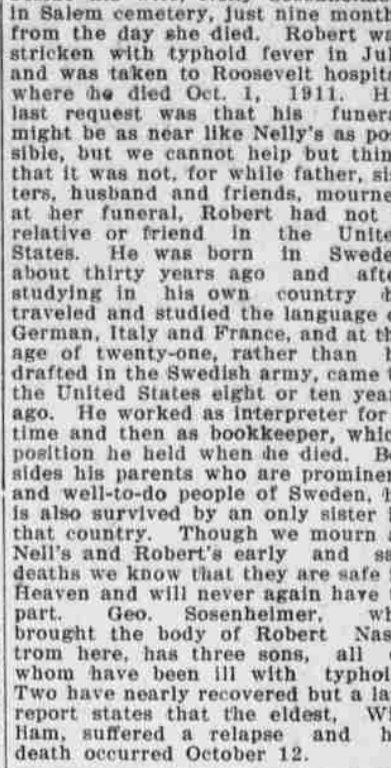

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They apparently act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels, having, it would seem, a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause inconvenience. If they do not positively cure chronic or habitual constipation and thus relieve the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, your money will be refunded. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Three sizes of packages, 10c., 25c., and 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store.

DEATH OF T. C. R. NASSTROM.

Although known by few in the neighborhood, there was a sad funeral at Moses Hollow, Wednesday, Oct. 4, when the body of Theodore Carl Robert Nasstrom, son-in-law of John Sosenheimer, was brought from New York city. Burial services were conducted by Rev. F. A. Van Seiver of Lake Ariel and the remains were laid beside his wife, Nelly Sosenheimer, in Salem cemetery, just nine months from the day she died. Robert was stricken with typhoid fever in July and was taken to Roosevelt hospital where he died Oct. 1, 1911. His last request was that his funeral might be as near like Nelly's as possible, but we cannot help but think that it was not, for while father, sisters, husband and friends, mourned at her funeral, Robert had not a relative or friend in the United States. He was born in Sweden about thirty years ago and after studying in his own country he traveled and studied the language of German, Italy and France, and at the age of twenty-one, rather than be drafted in the Swedish army, came to the United States eight or ten years ago. He worked as interpreter for a time and then as bookkeeper, which position he held when he died. Besides his parents who are prominent and well-to-do people of Sweden, he is also survived by an only sister in that country. Though we mourn at Nelly's and Robert's early and sad deaths we know that they are safe in Heaven and will never again have to part. Geo. Sosenheimer, who brought the body of Robert Nasstrom here, has three sons, all of whom have been ill with typhoid. Two have nearly recovered but a late report states that the eldest, Wil Ham, suffered a relapse and his death occurred October 12.
