Vote for W. W. Wood for Treasurer.

REPUBLICAN RALLY

"Then Tommy Boyd, Most of you know Tommy Boyd. I know him. It's an important office. He's obliged to do many harsh things. He will do his duty but as gently as any man in Wayne county can do it. He will be an ideal Sheriff.

"Some of you know W. B. Leshar. I know Brock Leshar well. He has a goodness, ability and honesty of this young man. He lived in Sterling all his life. He's had a pretty hard row of it in his life. He's sometimes been sick and feeble, when he was a very young boy, and the care of the family fell on him, and he has the best care of his father. Brock Leshar deserves a great deal of credit for what he has done for himself and his family.

"Then we have W. W. Wood. W. W. Wood has been in Wayne county for a good many years. Under his management there was built up one of the largest factories in Honesdale. A great deal of money passed through his hands, and every cent was accounted for. He was an able official of that company and an old soldier. Remember that. We're not going to get many chances to vote for the old defenders of our country. They are going to be here. Here's one who is competent and qualified in every respect for the office.

"Then the County Commissioners. There is John Male, a farmer who has made farming pay. A business man, who knows how to administer his own affairs, and will bring the same business acumen to the county's affairs. And Earl Rockwell, contractor, builder, worker in concrete. By the way concrete work is of the utmost importance. Thousands of dollars are invested in bridges in Wayne county. They need looking after. Many of them will have to be rebuilt, and they'll be made of concrete. He'll know how it ought to be done, and with his experience may save the county thousands of dollars.

"Then we have our auditors, Avery and Gilpin, two farmers, accurate and competent accountants. These men are competent to go over the accounts of the treasurer which are considerably complicated. Now I've gone over the list of the candidates. I think they ought to be elected from top to bottom." (Applause.)

HOMER GREENE'S SPEECH.

Homer Greene was next introduced. Responding he said:

"Mr. Chairman, Fellow Citizens: I sat there waiting for the last speaker to say something of the good qualities of our candidate for District Attorney. He always was a lucky dog. He couldn't help getting elected. He should try. I would like to see him get a big vote just to show our appreciation for what he has done for the party. I have agreed to make a brief speech, which is quite proper thing and will not be as long as ten minutes. The chairman of the meeting said I must say something of a stranger in White Mills. I have been here in the county, say 35 years. There's a sort of robust Republicanism down here that really beats me. There are no Democrats. It's hardly worth while trying to convert them.

"Wherever you find an industrial center paying good wages to skilled labor, you always find strong Republicans. Because of the Republican doctrine and policy it was possible to start such an industry as we have here and pay good wages.

"I came down here for several reasons. Well, I came down because the County Chairman wanted me to. Then Mr. Ainey wanted me to come. Then I had a sort of idea that you would want me to come. Last week I was at Atlantic City and I received a telegram from the County Chairman asking me to come and speak to you, and so I left the bad sea waves and ugly sea serpents and came home. I wanted to come because I have been a worker for thirty years in Wayne county. I want to tell you to vote on the next election day for every single candidate. Vote it! Every man on it!

"It seems to me we have one of the best tickets in the county. It deserves the entire Republican vote and as many Democratic votes as you can get. (Applause.)

"Every Republican who believes in party rules and regularity must stand by and work for Ainey as the candidate for Congress from this district. (Applause.)

"The vacancy is caused by the death of Kipp, a Democrat.

"If we as Republicans in this district nominate and elect a Republican to fill the vacancy filled by a Democrat, that will mean a great deal to the Republican party of the U. S. It will be heralded from east to west and from north to south as a return of the Republican party to power, and we will set an example to the people, and that will mean a very great deal.

"The Democratic majority in Congress is very small. It may be that in this Congress in the next two years that just one Republican vote will mean the making or breaking of the policy of the administration. If we can pass that one vote to sustain the administration, then in Heaven's name let us do it!

"OBEDIENCE TO LAW, BUSINESS PROSPERITY, along those two principles the Republican party has worked and will work for the benefit of all of us.

"I have known Ainey personally for a good many years. I have counted him as one of my good friends for a number of years. He is a lawyer of ability. He knows the law and how to practice it. He is a good politician. He is going to develop into a real statesman. That is what we've needed. Somebody in this district who could get up in Congress and say something that will be listened to. (Applause.)

"If anyone has a right to feel sore, I am the fellow that ought to have a grouse.

"I ask you, I beseech you to vote for Ainey as your candidate for Congressman, as I believe he is the best man who can send to Congress from this district.

"Judge Searle has had a good, hard fight for his nomination. He's been on the bench for two years. Judge Searle has made one of the best Judges that ever sat on the bench. Judge Searle stands on a par with Judge Seelye, Purdy as far as ability goes. (Applause) and so far as fairness and impartiality are concerned, I expect to go on practicing before him for the next ten years.

"I want to see Wallace Barnes come through this fight with flying colors. I want to see him sit in the swinging chair in that office so that I may be treated with courtesy and civility, as I have been for the last nine years. I hope, that they are all my friends. We couldn't get a better set of candidates in Wayne county. The Republican party in Wayne county was never in better condition than it is to-night. We have absolute harmony and are all working for the same end. I would elect the ticket by one of the handsomest majorities ever rolled up." (Great Applause.)

CAPTAIN AINEY'S SPEECH.

Captain W. D. B. Ainey, Monroshire, was the next speaker, and delivered a strong and logical address, which was punctuated with liberal outbursts of applause. He said:

"Mr. Chairman, Members of the Republican Club of White Mills and Fellow Republicans:

"I give you a great deal of pleasure to consider with you some of the things in this great campaign we are engaged in this Fall. I am delighted to be here for several reasons. Mr. Greene has some litigation in the Susquehanna county courts in which he and I are on opposite sides. He informed me that he was going to give me a licking in that case. If I've got to take a trouncing I'd rather take it from him than from anybody else. I know of it shall try to brief. I am going to take but a very few moments. I won't speak more than an hour and a half.

"That reminds me of a saying of Josh Billings. He thought a sermon ought not to be more than an hour and a half long. 'If the preacher couldn't strike oil,' he said, 'after an hour and a half there was either something wrong with the timber or there was no oil.'

"It's a unique thing to have a club preserve its organization where there is not the activity of a Presidential campaign.

"Dr. Rockwell stands for tariff reduction. There are many instances where the tariff ought not to be reduced. A reduction of the tariff would mean the destruction of the glass industry. I believe you have a right to look after your interests.

"I assure you if I am elected, I shall give my best efforts toward the protection of the industry which your gentlemen represent here in White Mills:

MR. AINEY'S IDEA OF THE TARIFF.

"This is my idea of the tariff. A TARIFF SHOULD BE SO LAYED ON FOR PROTECTION THAT IT WILL PROTECT THE GREAT MASS OF THE PEOPLE. The people ought to run the tariff. It is considered. It isn't wise to generalize about tariff reduction as my opponent has done. Our opponents declare that the Democratic position on tariff reduction is to steal the Capitol, although Mr. Boyd may think I did.

"I shall seek to serve the common people, the wage earners and farmers, unhampered by any man or set of men. (Applause.)

"I've made no pledge or promise to any man or set of men, that will prevent me from doing that conscientiously. (Great Applause.)

"The greatest men of the Democracy of the age have been brought into this Congressional campaign. Governor Wilson has invaded this territory and sought to turn voters over to Rockwell. I am not a candidate for Governor. New Jersey nor for Treasurer of Pennsylvania. I'll admit that Wilson is a better looking man than I am.

"Your choice is between Rockwell and me. You haven't the choice between Wilson and myself. The eyes of the nation are turned on this old Wilmot-Grow district," declared Wilson in a recent speech. It would be a splendid thing if he could say he'd succeeded in electing a Democratic congressman from this old Wilmot-Grow district.

"The district has sent famous men to the halls of Congress. There was Wilmot. He was born in Bethany, raised in Susquehanna county and settled in Bradford. When he was elected to the halls of Congress he shook the nation because he was the forerunner of the movement to free slaves.

"No party can stand still. The Republican party and the country are running up against new problems all the time. I believe in righteousness, and I stand for it. The Democrats say that is patented by them. Yet the good Book says 'Righteousness exalted a nation, and said it long before the Democrats got the copyright on it. All business is being conducted on a higher plane, and all government is being run on a higher plane.

"I CLAIM TO BE AND I AM A PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN. I believe the people should have their say in the election of United States Senators. (Applause.) We must safeguard our rights. When they argue to us that the Republican party has ceased to be the party of righteousness they go one step further. Our old government was created with three administrative legs on which it rests. Tear one down and the Republic won't stand.

"We need another wheel," said Bryce in 'The American Commonwealth,' and the other wheels we need are the safety of the present conditions are political parties. Without them this country would go down into rack and ruin.

"Then again they say 'pay no loyalty to party.' I object to that. Something can't be analyzed by logic. You never can say why the little child, for example, takes its father's hand and walks down the street with him. It's a state of heart. It responds not to logic but to sympathy. Our loyalty to party, our loyalty to principle is a state of heart. So long as loyalty of the sort wells up in the heart of the American people, our country will be safe. We've got to stand by our party.

"A Democrat in Hawley told me today that the Republican party in Wayne county this Fall had put up the best ticket it had ever done, and that he was going to vote for it.

"Talking about your candidate for Judge I have a distinct recollection down there in Scranton when he was Assistant United States District Attorney of his doing me up in the U. S. Courts. In Susquehanna county, Judge Searle is considered one of the best Judges that ever comes to our Courts. He has the judicial temperament. A man needs not only to be learned in the law, as he is, but he needs the judicial temperament. This is a magnificent opportunity for you this Fall. The eyes of the world are on this district. You can elect your county and congressional ticket, and so show to the world, and prepare yourselves for the great battle to come next year, by showing you believe in the party, Tuesday, November 7. And you'll show that the old Wilmot-Grow district has not forgotten its moorings." (Great Applause.)

W. J. Barnes, Beachlake, candidate for Prothonotary, was introduced, after Chairman Webber remarked that he hoped the next time Mr. Ainey came here he could write Mr. C. after his name. Responding Mr. Barnes said:

"I am a candidate for a sick bed. I've got a very bad cold." Referring to Judge Searle he spoke of him as "one whom Wayne county delights to honor. It's a pleasure," he said, "to meet him anywhere. He's the same genial, companionable man no matter where you meet him. It ought to be a pleasure to help elect him." (Applause.)

"I have always stood by the ticket. I'm down here scratching for votes," declared W. W. Wood, candidate for County Treasurer, in a brief speech.

"If you want to vote for a man who voted for me, I started as a wage-earner at 12, and I've been plugging along ever since. I was in the Army at 16. Every fourteen minutes a veteran dies. I don't know when my fourteen minutes will be up." (Applause.)

Victor A. Decker, Esq., of Hawley, was introduced as "one more speaker, not a candidate, to represent the town of Hawley."

Mr. Decker's speech was short and to the point. He said:

"All the good things have been said. The ticket from top to bottom, geographically, mentally, morally, in every way is worthy of the support of every voter in the county, and I hope they'll get it." (Applause.)

Chairman Webber expressed thanks for the large number of people in attendance, which included good-sized delegations from Honesdale and Hawley. The music for the occasion was furnished by Bellman's orchestra. Following are the members: Eugene Baumann, piano; F. Bellman, violin; Frank Rombousek, snare drums; Joseph Bellman, cornet; Lawrence Bellman, clarinet.

The theatre in which the rally was held is the property of the White Mills Woodmen who have a membership of 106.

KISSING SOUNDS, EASY FOR HIM

Robert Dorin Can Imitate 200 Different Noises

BEEN PLAYING THE DRUM FOR 30 YEARS, STARTING WHEN 9 YEARS OLD.

"I started to play drums when I was nine and I'll be thirty-nine in November, so I spent thirty years on the drum. I played in the band when I was nine years old."

Such has been the preparatory training of Robert Dorin, who manipulates the one hundred and fifty-seven varieties of "effects" used in the moving picture shows at the Lyric Theatre.

"Some of the 'effects' may seem startling," he said. "If persons saw how the effects were made they would be surprised. It's a business by itself. You have to have a little natural ability about you to do it. If I should buy all the instruments I use it would run up to $200."

"Do you get tired?" he was asked.

"No," he responded, "because the excitement is there. If it wasn't for these effects the job would be very monotonous. It's a very pleasant job because the different effects coming in make it very interesting for me. I like it. I don't get tired."

"If you were a musician, and was up to popular music you'd appreciate our efforts. In some theatres they play 'Alexander's Rag Time Band' in death scenes or in church scenes, which is entirely uncalled for and jarring on somebody's nerves, and entirely out of place. We stick right to the music part of the piece.

"The average length of a reel is twenty minutes. We play appropriate music, the pianist and I. If there is a scene of a young couple caught spooning under a tree, the most appropriate thing would be 'Under the Yum-Yum Tree.' If a man and his mother stand by an old well, the proper thing to play would be 'The Old Oaken Bucket.' If it's in a happy home, the proper thing would be to play 'Home Sweet Home.' There's almost a piece of music for any piece they exhibit.

"How many kinds of effects are there?"

"Oh, there's no end to effects. Probably 150 to 200. For sawing wood we use two pieces of sand paper, and also use that for waves in the ocean. I have all kinds of little noises like in Christmas celebrations with tin horns. We had a boat race scene, recently, where we used the tinkling of cow bells tinkling in the distance. We have sleigh-bell effects so that you can almost freeze to death when hearing them. I have telegraph bell and church bell effects. Snap attacks where people get hit or in base ball games for the crack of the bat, or for tearing cloth. I have an instrument that makes a noise like kisses.

"To imitate a man at the wheel of a boat we have trolley car bells. We use the organ in church scenes. We have wind whistles, from a little gust of wind on up to a hurricane. We have tom toms, Indian drums, tambourines for Spanish dances. We have horses' hoofs for the sound of galloping horses on asphalt and ground.

"You'll admit that the effects and the music in the picture shows adds a great deal to the entertainment. People sit there and listen to the effects. They go out well-pleased and say that the show was good, while the average person don't give the musician credit for what he does. It's his effects that makes the pictures good.

"You can go into the average city and you don't get the musical effects that you do here. Why? Because in the first place in small picture houses in the city that's one of the expenses they cut down on. A first-class man with a first-class paraphernalia demands a big salary. There are lots of drummers in a theatre that can't do it. You ought to be a performer yourself to know what to do. You ought to have a premonition of what is going to happen.

"It's like playing a piano in the dark. After a person makes a study of that he can almost read the outcome of the pictures. Sometimes I get fooled."

"They have all these musical effects prepared. But the musical houses charge such enormous prices that I improvise most of the things I do. I have a hen cackle. They charge $1.50 for one. I bought a papier mache whistle for a cent, and with a little practice I get an elegant cackle on it.

"Now we have railroad effects with the bell and air-brake and noise of the train. That's made of nothing but an ordinary piece of tin doubled up with another piece over it, hit by a wire brush. The air brake is a little whistle used around Old Home Week celebrations."

It looks simple don't it? But it isn't as easy as it looks by a long shot. Musical talent seems to run in the Dorin family, however, for Robert M. Dorin, Jr., who is hardly more than twelve years of age, runs a Kid Orchestra of his own.

Vote for Hon. Alonzo T. Searle for President Judge.

DEATH OF HOWARD ERK.

The community was shocked Tuesday morning by the announcement of the death of Howard John Erk, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Erk of Church street. He was 22 years old. The deceased had been ill about two weeks, having been taken sick while on a tour with Hon. E. B. Hardenbergh, for whom he was chauffeur. Mr. Hardenbergh did all that he could for him and was as interested in him as if he were one of his own children. He was taken ill in Paterson, N. J., and a week ago Saturday came home, having since been confined to his bed and in care of a trained nurse. He died of typhoid fever at 1:20 Tuesday morning.

Howard John Erk was born in Seelyville, August 10, 1889, and lived there with his parents until two years ago, when the family moved to Honesdale. He was an exemplary young man, his habits being absolutely clean. He was of a character that might well be emulated by all young men of Honesdale. Howard was on the road to make a man of marked success, because he was dependable in every position of trust. Considering the high quality of his character held in regard among his young associates, his death is doubly severe to his family and relatives. Besides his parents he is survived by one sister, Gertrude S., and one brother, Clyde C. Erk. He was a member of the Central Methodist Episcopal church of this place. His pastor will conduct the funeral obsequies Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of his parents on Church street.

Vote for W. W. Wood for Treasurer.

Vote for Wallace J. Barnes for Prothonotary.

Who's Who In Politics

Yes, the best. Wallace J. Barnes, of Berlin, is the very best man for Prothonotary. Wayne county needs him as an office holder.

W. B. Leshar, Republican candidate for Register and Recorder, is well fitted for that office and his election would not only place an efficient man in the court house, but would help elect a representative ticket.

Vote for W. D. B. Ainey for Congressman.

Male and Rockwell were the free selection of a majority of the voters at the primaries and in their candidacy they represent the voice of the people.

Veterans, Attention! Comrade W. W. Wood, whom you undoubtedly know, is a candidate for County Treasurer on the Republican ticket. Stand by the flag, what it represents and support him on election day. He was on the firing line during the war and now an opportunity is given you to help him win in the battle of the ballots. Mr. Voter, give him your hearty support. You will never regret it.

That buzzing sound heard in the streets and around the county is not an auto or motor cycle. It is the campaign of Candidate T. J. Boyd for Sheriff.

Elect capable men to office. The office of Prothonotary is an important one and one which requires much attention. Wallace J. Barnes' business interests have qualified him for the office and he should receive the election by a nice majority.

Everybody knows Brock Leshar. If the fine vote he received at the primaries is any indication of what the vote on Nov. 7 will be, he will go into the office of Register and Recorder "with bells on."

Efficiency in office require practical men—men who understand when things are properly done. A vote for Earl Rockwell, Lake township, for County Commissioner, means a vote for a practical man.

Wayne county would be benefited by electing Neville Holgate, one of the county commissioners.

Rockwell and Male are both farmers. Give them your hearty support and they will give you a "square deal." Vote for both.

Vote for Hon. Alonzo T. Searle for President Judge.

Vote for Thomas Y. Boyd for Sheriff.

Vote for Avery and Gilpin for County Auditors.

Rockwell and Male, candidates for County Commissioners, are both farmers. They know what the farmers of Wayne county most desire and intend to work in the interest of the tillers of the soil. They will do all things give them a "square deal" and meet their farmer friends on an equal level. Both aspirants to this office which is the most important one Wayne county, desire and mean to do what is right and will stand the people who may place them in office.

For many reasons Rockwell and Male should be elected major county commissioners this fall. They are popular, capable men, of probity and notable courtesy and popularity. They are worthy and deserving of enthusiastic support. The way to properly effect their election on Nov. 7 is for each voter to see that names of Rockwell and Male are marked with a cross upon the ballot that he drops into the box on election day.

Serve your own best interests. Vote for both.

By his wise and careful business methods, Neville Holgate would the proper man for county commissioner.

VOTERS, make no mistake in election day—vote for Male and Rockwell for county commissioners. THIS IS IMPORTANT.

As county commissioner, Neville Holgate would make an ideal official.

T. J. Boyd is not only fortunate in possessing all of the necessary qualifications for the office of Sheriff, but he is well known among the businessmen of Wayne county. He has family ties of which any citizen might be well proud. Give "Tommy" your vote.

A more popular and efficient candidate for County Commissioner could not be found in Wayne county than Earl Rockwell. He is THE practical man and that is the kind we want for this office.

Male and Rockwell are competent men. Be sure that you cast your ballot for both.

Male and Rockwell, Republican nominees for county commissioners are tried and true friends of the people.

Vote for E. E. Bunnell, Republican candidate for assessor of Township.

Vote for Neville Holgate for commissioner. His record speaks for itself.

Vote for Hon. Alonzo T. Searle for President Judge.

Vote for Male and Rockwell for County Commissioners.
