

A CENT A WORD

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—THE OLD PERRY homestead at Steene; good house and barn, two large chicken coops, from one to two acres of land, well watered, with plenty of fruit. Inquire of J. E. Haley, Steene, Pa.

HOUSE AND LOT AT 1407 MAIN street, Honesdale, for sale. Black walnut bedroom suit also for sale. Inquire of Bentley Bros., opposite postoffice. 8teif.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED: SEVERAL COPIES OF the issue of The Citizen for Wednesday, November 1, 1911. Address The Citizen, Honesdale, Pa.

TEACHERS! McIntyre has three first-class used organs, suitable for school. Call 1216 Main street. It

FURS BOUGHT—HIGH CASH price paid. The undersigned will be in White Mills on Mondays and Fridays and at Waymart Wednesdays and Saturdays. F. D. Starr, Honesdale. 89oew2

FOR RENT—TWO FIVE-ROOM tenements with modern improvements on Eleventh street. J. E. Richmond. 85tf

WHEN IN NEED OF CARRIAGES and sleighs don't forget E. T. Smith, 1120 Church street, who has the largest assortment in Wayne county to select from. 75tf

WANTED—FIRST-CLASS MAN to take charge of acid room, at once. Keystone Cut Glass Co.

TEN FIRST-CLASS SMOOTHERS wanted at the Deemer Bros. cut glass factory at Great Bend, Pa. 85wool.

LOCAL NEWS

Born, a daughter, Thursday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Faatz.

Board of Trade meeting on Friday evening of this week. A full attendance is desired.

Grace Episcopal church, Sunday, Nov. 12: Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school at 12 m.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nollan died on Thursday. Funeral services will be held on Friday.

Rev. A. L. Whittaker will hold service in White Mills, Sunday, Nov. 12, at 3:15 p. m., consisting of Holy Communion and sermon.

The Board of Trade slogan contest will close Friday, Nov. 10, at noon. All persons desiring to enter this contest must have their slogans in by that time. Address, Greater Honesdale Board of Trade.

Lawrence, young son of Lawrence Weldner, street commissioner, received an injury to his right leg Sunday morning by having the horse upon which he was riding fall upon him. The accident happened at the corner of Erie and Main street. The horse was raised to its feet and the boy released. His condition, however, is not serious and he is improving, suffering principally from a bruised leg.

Some of Honesdale's industries were inadvertently omitted in the last issue of The Citizen. In addition to those mentioned we present the Honesdale Steam Mill, flour, feed, etc.; The Penwarden Manufacturing company, makers of wheelbarrows, cot and mattress frames, besides conducting a general lumbering business; W. W. Kimble, cut glass polishing wheels and planing mill; three machine repair shops and garages operated and owned by C. E. Gibbs, C. W. McMullen and E. G. Jenkins, and Borden's Milk Shipping station.

The friends and neighbors of Miles Bishop pleasantly surprised him last Friday evening at his home at East Honesdale. The occasion was in commemoration of the birthday of Mr. Bishop and his son, Harold. Light refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Joney, Mr. and Mrs. J. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. G. Niemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gregory, Miss Bessie Gregory, Mrs. Margaret Mangen, Kathryn Mangen, Frances Hoberer, Mamie Niemeyer, Wallace Goodman, Julius Rickert, Charley Mangen, George Niemeyer, Tracey Bishop, Horace Rogers.

The coming of Governor John K. Tener to Honesdale next Wednesday ought to arouse enthusiasm in every citizen's heart. The governor, his staff and members of State Army Board, and division and brigade commanders, will be here and participate in the exercises of the dedication of the new home of Company E during the afternoon and evening. Admission to the afternoon exercises, which will commence sharply at 4 o'clock, is free and the public is most cordially invited to be present. The press committee has made arrangements for a press table for the representatives of the different papers of the town. The distinguished guests will arrive on the afternoon train and be escorted to the armory. In addition to the above-mentioned guests, about 25 regimental officers are planning to be present. There will be no special demonstration outside of the military parade. The committee earnestly desires that the citizens of Honesdale decorate their respective places of business and houses for the occasion with flags and bunting. The committee in charge of the dedication has spent much time and energy in making preparations for the success of this great affair and it is equally as important that the townspeople help by purchasing tickets for the military ball. The Governor will be present at the ball in the evening and will receive the guests as they arrive. The governor's reception commences promptly at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, Nov. 15.

Miss Millie Biebas, of this place, has accepted a position as stenographer with the Merchants' Mercantile Bureau, Hawley, of which Herbert A. Plum is manager. The business was recently removed from Wilmington, Del., to Hawley. It is a credit rating system similar to Dun's and Bradstreet's, but relates to customers than to large buyers, as do the latter firms.

The regular monthly meeting of the Greater Honesdale Board of Trade will be held on Friday evening of this week in the City Hall, at which time a slogan will be selected for Honesdale. The contest, by the way, does not close until Friday, Nov. 10, at noon. Send your slogan, if you have not already done so, to Secretary Board of Trade, Honesdale, before that date.

PERSONAL

Miss Ruth Terrell is a guest of friends in Forest City.

Mrs. John James has returned from a visit with her son, George P. James, in New York City.

Miss Mabel S. Dexter, of Milan-ville, is spending some time at the home of Chas. Campfield, Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Decker are entertaining the former's sisters, Mrs. Warren Estabrook, of Susquehanna, and Mrs. James Cuddaback, of Port Jervis.

Judge and Mrs. Alonzo T. Searle are spending the week-end and Sunday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Loring R. Gale, Riverdale-on-the-Hudson.

THOSE INSTITUTE ENTERTAINMENTS.

The annual Teachers' Institute will bring to Honesdale one of the finest Lyceum courses that the people of Wayne county have ever had the opportunity to hear.

Monday evening, November 13, the Wayne County High School Contest will take place in the High School Auditorium, where all the entertainments of the week will be held.

Tuesday evening, November 14, Mr. Clifton Mallory and Company will present the beautiful English comedy "David Garrick" elaborately staged with magnificent costumes and beautiful scenery.

Wednesday evening, November 15, a musical entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Lotus Glee Club of New York, and Minnie Marshall entertainer.

Thursday evening, November 16, John Temple Graves, the most eloquent Southerner of to-day, lectures on "The Reign of the Demagogue." Reserved seats on sale at Chambers' drug store as usual.

GOULDSBORO.

(Special to The Citizen.)
Gouldsboro, Pa., Nov. 9.
The home of William Kessler, at Sunnycrest, was the scene of a very pleasant gathering last Sunday, the occasion being a birthday dinner given in honor of the 47th birthday of Mrs. Messier. A large number of relatives were present from Scranton, Clifton, Anamint and Gouldsboro. E. J. Watkins, who has been spending some time doing R. W. M. C. A. work in Arkansas, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Adams at West End. While in Arkansas he contracted malaria and is here for his health and as soon as he is able he will assist with the Y. M. C. A. work at Scranton and Gouldsboro. The first meetings of the season were held here Monday evening. The new secretary, Mr. Charles, was in charge. They will be held throughout the winter the first and last Monday evening of the month in the L. O. O. F. Hall.
Mrs. S. S. Hager is spending a few weeks with her son, W. H. Hager, at Roselle, N. J.
Mrs. T. R. Harvey and daughter, Elizabeth, of Westfield, N. J., who have been visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. Gilpin at Newfoundland, and Mrs. and Mrs. L. Harvey at Gouldsboro, have returned home.
The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church, Gouldsboro, will hold their annual fair in the L. O. O. F. Hall, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, November 15 and 16.
William Colyer has gone to Buffalo, N. Y., where he has obtained a position with the Erie. His family will remain here until spring. Mr. Colyer and family have many friends here who are sorry to have him leave Gouldsboro.
Edward Masters of Angels, was called to Ricketts Wednesday by the death of his son, Floyd. He was well known here.
Miss Ruth Hull, Dunmore, spent Sunday with Miss Bessie E. Smith.
Mrs. James Dowling, Mrs. C. Garagan, Misses Emma Bates, Grace Dowling and Anna Kintner spent Saturday in Scranton.
Mr. and Mrs. John Fahey have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Latham at Binghamton.

TYLER HILL.

(Special to The Citizen.)
Tyler Hill, Pa., Nov. 9.
Miss Fannie McIntyre, a former resident of this place, but now living in New Hamburg, N. Y., spent Saturday to Tuesday with friends in this village. She left on the latter date for Binghamton where she will spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. C. M. Welsh.
Judson Mitchell, of Howells, N. Y., passed through Tyler Hill in his big touring car Sunday.
Joshua Boucher visited Mr. and Mrs. William Henry at their Lake Huntington home on Sunday last.
Plan to attend the Sunday school convention Saturday. Two sessions, morning and afternoon.
Rev. R. D. Minch will preach in the school house Sunday night.

LEGAL BLANKS for sale at The Citizen office: Land Contracts, Leases, Judgment Notes, Warrantee Deeds, Bonds, Transcripts, Summons, Attachments, Subpoenas, Labor Claim Deeds, Commitments, Executions, Collector's and Constables' Bonds.

We print letter heads.
We print bill heads.

LAST CHANCE FOR SLOGAN.

The contest of the Greater Hones-dale Board of Trade for a suitable slogan will close Friday of this week at 12 o'clock, noon. Here are some good ones:
"Home and Irving oened the door, Manufacturers are entering galore."
"Honesdale does cut, knit, shoe, Manufacturer there's room for you."
"The Home and Irving hummer, Manufacturer come join our number."
"Locate in Honesdale, it's worth while to try."
"Locate in Honesdale, it's worth your while."
"Honesdale—attractive, historic, industrial, progressive."
"We manufacture wares and beauty."
"Honesdale is still growing. There is room for you."
"Honesdale the manufacturing center."
"Honesdale for progress—there is a reason."
"Get in the Game of Prosperity—Locate in Honesdale."
"Honesdale is IT—there's a reason."
"Honesdale can deliver the goods."
"5,000 population by 1915, When Growth Stops, Decay Sets In."
"Honesdale the town that thrives with industry that pays."
"The hall-mark of perfection—made in Honesdale."
"The place for square dealing—Honesdale."
"The place for quality and quantity."
"If you are in need, make speed for Honesdale."
"The money-making town."
"Prosperity is our watchword."
"Where quality is better than usual."
"Honesdale, where it is impossible to go wrong."
"The town of the hour, Honesdale."
"Honesdale, the foremost town in Northeastern Pennsylvania."
"To the front always, Honesdale."
"Always 'making good,' Honesdale."
"Honesdale, on the right road to Success."
"The town of Health, Pleasure and Prosperity."
"The town that sets people thinking."
"Beautiful, Up-to-date, Prosperous."
"Honesdale leads, others follow."
"The City Progressive, Beautiful and Industrious."
"Honesdale? If not? Why Not?"
"The town without equal, Honesdale."
"We are growing."
"The Home of the First Locomotive."
"Beautiful, Historic and Aristocratic Honesdale."
"Honesdale, the city of Industry."
"Industrial Honesdale."
"Beautiful, Historic, Industrial Honesdale."
"From swamps of laurels to homes of thousands."
"Honesdale the hall-mark of Homes, Honor and Happiness."
"Honesdale, the name that brings success."
"The best of everything."
"Ask us; we can tell you."
"We mean business."
"If you miss Honesdale, you haven't seen it all."
"Stop at Honesdale, Look us over, Listen to us Live in clover."
"We can, and we will."
"Seeing 's believing. Watch Honesdale."
"Honesdale is a town Of great renown, For industry, health, Manufacture, wealth."
"Honesdale, the best ever."
"Honesdale, the town that speaks for itself."
"Honesdale, the town if one leaves, they soon return."
"Honesdale, the fountain-head of all industries."
"Honesdale, a friend of the farmer and all working men."
"Honesdale, a home for any and all industries."

WHAT TO DO IN WINTER.

During the winter months, when winds are strong, the face and complexion need as much care as in the summer to protect it from the sun.

Washing The Face with Buttermilk.
Washing the face with buttermilk is considered to be a satisfactory and successful cure for freckles, as well as a good whitener for the skin, that prevents wrinkles and keeps it as smooth as satin, when used daily, as it is by some pretty girls in the country; but it is not always easy to procure, unless one lives within reach of a working dairy farm.
This milk, obtained from the soured cream in the process of butter making, is an emollient that is very soothing to the sun-heated skin, but it also contains lactic acid, which is the part of it that acts directly on the freckles, and in time bleaches them out.

To Get The Best Effect.
To get the best effect from this, immediately on the return to the house after being out in the sunshine, to rinse the face well in a quart of tepid water, to which a teaspoonful of new milk has been added, using the hands instead of a sponge or toilet glove, going in an upward direction from under the chin. Dry thoroughly, and then apply the old-fashioned freckle cure with a little square of soft white toweling (like thin white bath toweling), which can be bought by the yard at any store, cut into little square toilet cloths, and neatly named, or with one of surgeon's lint, which can be cut into four complexion cloths, and made neat with blanket-stitch round the edges, to prevent fraying.
This treatment may, with benefit, be repeated two or three times a day. At night, on retiring, the following:

Old Freckle Cure

can with confidence be used for restoring the skin to purity and beautifying it: Take of powdered carbonate of soda, powdered borax, calcium chloride, and powdered white starch, of each half an ounce; of melted white wax, fresh dairy cream, freshly expressed juice of ripe cucumbers and of emulsion of pistachio nuts, of each one ounce; of prepared chalk, emulsion of bitter almonds, pure glycerine and new milk, of each two ounces. To be scientifically mixed by a chemist and made into a cream for curing the skin of blemishes and maintaining its beauty.

WIVES SHOULD RULE THEIR OWN PROVINCE.

There are many kinds of husbands but none worse than the interfering man, that preposterous individual who does not know his correct sphere in the home.
He is well known, quite a lot of married ladies have a sample of him always on hand, and these ladies may be said to be afflicted. This sort of husband is just the kind of man no woman desires to marry, but, alas! he never shows up in his true light until marriage is an accomplished fact.
The interfering husband is a bit of a despot; he always knows just how things ought to be done, and his way is right all the time.
He meddles with his wife's arrangements, he tells her how to conduct her domestic duties, and most unfortunately, he does not hesitate to interfere with any servant who may be on the premises. I have known a husband whose chief delight was to take a peep into the kitchen from time to time—he did so in order to see that it was kept in a condition satisfactory from his own point of view. That sort of person is not a nice husband—many would say he's an old grandmother.
This sort of husband allows his wife so much per month for house-keeping expenses. Very good. Now, when a husband hands over so much per month for this purpose he should know no more about it—the spending and the result at the month's end should be matters for the wife alone and she should never trouble him about it. But the interfering husband does not so view matters; he must have a detailed account of how the money has gone. No woman of spirit can stand that long, and one fine day rebellion sets in, and peace in the house is broken up for the time being, it even may be for good.
The interfering husband, too, interferes in other ways—he makes a point of "passing" or "rejecting" his wife's friends—this lady must not come about the house, but that other lady may be invited, and so on.
Of course it sometimes is a husband's duty to meddle with his wife in her selection of friends; say, for instance, if a man knows that his wife is taking up with dubious persons.
"Has this room been dusted today?"
"Did Mary sweep out the hall this morning?"
"These curtains are not well hung, my dear, and you must put that rug a little nearer the fender, and that armchair should be just over there, not here." That's how the interfering husband goes on. Or it may be that he tells his wife what to order for dinner or supper, and lays down the law as to furnishings, and so forth—why, such a man gets on the nerves, and makes a woman miserable. And there is one thing that such a man forgets if a servant or two be about the place—he is not aware as a rule that his character is known all over the district. But it is, for a servant cannot stand a master of this class—she lets other domestics know all about him, and they in turn drop a hint to their mistresses, and the mistresses to the masters, and the masters enjoy their joke over poor "old Brown, the old wife up the street, you know."
If only the interfering husband knew how he was talked about he would speedily mend his ridiculous and annoying ways. Yet any girl may be fated to wed such a man—she who does so deserves pity and sympathy, for she can never be really happy with one of this tiresome, interfering brand.

The husband and wife should be in harmony. The wife's province is her home and his is his office and business. Let each trust the other and there will be no interfering or stepping out of place in either case.

PUPILS LOVE RAINY DAYS

(Continued from Page One.)

schools, C. P. Searle, Esq., Mrs. Harriet Arnold, a music teacher who won the medal in the triangular contest one year. Two candidates each from Aldenville, White Mills and Texas took part in the contest. It was a preliminary contest to select two contestants to compete against two from the northern end and two from the southern end of the county. The third-class High schools in the northern end of the county have selected their representatives. There are three first-class High schools in Wayne county, viz. Hawley, Honesdale and Damascus.
Prof. Oday is a firm believer in teaching the young ideas how to vote right. "We're going to have a regular election in the school tomorrow," he said, exhibiting a bundle of sample ballots to the reporter. "We'll have speech-making. The pupils have already selected different ones to speak for the different candidates and tell why the scholars should vote for them. We'll have regular election officers. Prof. Davies and I will explain the duties of the county offices Tuesday afternoon.
This election will be held in the High school and through the grammar grades. We feel it is an opportunity to learn civics in a practical way. I find most of the pupils know half of the candidates. W. W. Wood has spoken in the schools frequently. Judge Searle and Mr. Kimble have both been school directors.

"I doubt very much whether text-book instruction will ever be entirely dispensed with in the public schools. That will do for more advanced students. Of course in our more advanced classes in the High schools, we use the lecture method more or less."
The shades of night were falling fast, as out of the building the reporter past, and homeward bound he went at last to enjoy with hunger his evening repast.

CHALLENGE.

The Knights of St. Paul have chosen the following players to represent their basket ball team during the season of 1911-12: Irvin Brooks, Manager; Roy Oberle, captain; William Keltz, Sampson, Dudley and Saunders. The team is an exceedingly strong one, having a "Sampson" among their number and therefore offer a challenge to play against any team whose players are 16 years of age or under. Address all communications to Irvin Brooks, manager, Honesdale, Pa.

HE IS THANKFUL.

I want to thank the many friends who so loyally helped me by their votes, and influence to win the contest for Treasurer—especially do I thank the "GALLANT 69" of Hawley who helped us to hold the Center while we smashed the North (right) and South (left) flanks of the opposition. I don't want to forget the school boys and girls of Honesdale, who helped so much in shaping a public sentiment that was very helpful.
W. W. WOOD.

The new modeled tailored suits at Menner & Co. stores are made on modern lines of best materials, latest cuts.

We print envelopes.

RELICS OF PEARY EXPEDITION
on exhibition at MURRAY CO'S store.

PEARY'S SLED
PEARY'S SPEAR
PEARY'S HARPOON
TWO RIFLES
WALRUS SKULL
NORWHALE BONE
PEARY'S SNOW SHOES

All used on the expedition on which the North Pole was discovered.

All of the above with duplicates of Keen Kutter tools also carried by Commander Peary, now on exhibition in your window.

MURRAY CO. Honesdale, Pa.

Listen Teachers! NO!

NO end of dainty jewelry.
NO limit of our willingness to show it.
NO question of the fairness of our prices.
NO such newness of stock in town.
NO previous approach to beauty of pattern
NO doubt as to our guarantee.
NO repairing beyond our skill.

NOVEMBER 1911!
ROWLAND
1127 MAIN.

ENJOYABLE TIME AT WAYMART.

The Ensign House was the scene of a splendid banquet Thursday evening, Nov. 2, at eight o'clock. The spacious and well-appointed house was ideal for such a function, and lent the charm of home-likeness to the occasion. All present were lavish in their praise of the banquet and many say it will long linger in memory as a joyous reflection. The banquet was under the auspices of the official board of the M. E. church of Waymart. The officials were: Mrs. F. R. Varcoe, Mrs. E. P. Edwards, Mrs. H. F. Inch, Mrs. L. J. Clift, Mrs. W. Carpenter, Mrs. W. Cramer, Mrs. F. S. Stephenson, Mrs. Z. A. Wannacott, Mrs. J. Lee, Mrs. R. Lee, Mrs. D. Gray, Mrs. E. Mattison, Mrs. R. Hull, Mrs. N. J. Lang, Mrs. D. Wilson, Mrs. M. Spangenberg, Mrs. R. C. Burch, assisted by Mrs. C. Tutbill, Mrs. A. C. Kaye, Mrs. E. B. Franklin, Miss Woodward, Mrs. T. Soars, Miss Belle Dimmick, provided the banquet in their ideal way. The gracious hospitality of Miss Belle Dimmick, who with her sister, Mrs. Ensign, have long made the Ensign house so popular, was never in greater evidence than on this occasion.

A most excellent menu was served. The waitresses were from the young ladies of the church and filled their office in a splendid manner. The banquet hall was beautifully decorated with festoons, evergreen, chrysanthemums, and other flowers.

More than a hundred sat down to the feast and pronounced it excellent enough for kings and queens. The town was well represented in those present and the banqueters revelled in the social delights of the hour. Nor were the toasts attending the banquet of secondary import. Rev. R. Clayton Burch, the minister, was toastmaster. He stated that the banquet was held to inspire a larger pride and greater fidelity in behalf of the town, its institutions and citizens. He believed that the religious and social life of every community should blend, and only when they blend, is the community life in the best sense, social and religious.

All of the speakers won the heart and appreciation of the banqueters in all they said.

Evening Entertainment of the Teachers' Institute, High School Auditorium.

Doors open at 7:30 o'clock. Reserved seats on sale at Chamber's Drug Store. Diagram open at 8 a. m.

Monday evening, Nov. 13, at 8:15. The Wayne County High School Contest. Admission 25c. Reserved seats 10c extra.

Tuesday evening, Nov. 14, at 8:15. The Clifton Mallory Dramatic Co. presenting "David Garrick." Admission 25c. Reserved seats 40c and 50c.

Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, at 8:15. The Lotus Glee Club and Minnie Marshall Smith Entertainer. Admission 35c. Reserved seats 40c and 50c.

Thursday evening, Nov. 16, at 8:15. Lecture—"The Reign of the Demagogue," by John Temple Graves. Admission 25c.