MEETING OF BANKERS AT NEW ORLEANS.

Program For the Annual Convention Which Begins Nov. 20.

The official program of entertainment for the annual convention of the American Bankers' association to be held in New Orleans beginning Nov. 20 provides a continuous round of pleasures for the financiers and their wives.

On Monday afternoon, Nov. 20, the bankers will visit the city's new waterworks plant, making the trip in special street cars.

The executive council banquet, with the local bankers as hosts, is scheduled for the evening of the 20th. The ladies will be entertained the same evening with a special reception and musicale.

Nov. 21.—Reception in evening at the Country club, with fireworks and illuminations in city park opposite the clubhouse.

Nov. 22.—Ladies will make tour of the city in the afternoon in automobiles. A polo game will be played at Audubon park at 4 o'clock. In the evening the bankers and their wives will attend a reception and invitation ball at the French Opera House.

Nov. 23.—All will make a tour of the harbor in three chartered steamers and will then visit Kenilworth plantation and witness the cane grinding and sugar making processes.

Nov. 24.—Gala performance in the evening at the French Opera House. All theaters on this day will honor cards issued for the evening.

Nov. 25.—Departure of the financiers on three United States steamers for a round trip to the Panama canal zone.

NO CHICKEN ON ARMY MENU.

Commissary General Also Reports Substitute For Hardtack.

The elimination of chicken from the army menu, the limitation of turkey to Thanksgiving and Christmas, the substitution of so called "field bread" for hardtack and abolishment of the field ration sum up the important changes in the army ration for the American soldier made in the last year, according to the report of Commissary General Henry G. Sharpe. The elimination of chicken has resulted in a yearly saving to the government of $22,000.

It costs the United States 16.14 cents a day more to feed the American soldier in Alaska than it did those stationed in the United States. This is held to be due principally to the cost of beef and its transportation to the isolated posts in the territory. The daily average cost of the rations issued in the United States alone was 22.75 cents, in Alaska 38.89 cents, in Hawaii 24.10 cents, in Porto Rico 28.72 cents, aboard transports 23.52 cents, for American soldiers in the Philippines 24.56 cents and for the native soldiers in the Philippines 14.57 cents.

The experimental farm conducted by the subsistence department in Camp Vicars, Philippine Islands, to determine whether potatoes could be raised successfully in the Philippines has proved the unfeasibility of that project.

FIND 143 BOGUS $10 NOTES.

Prisoner Draws Map Showing Tree Under Which He Buried Them.

A package containing 143 counterfeit ten dollar banknotes was found buried beneath a tree on an island in Jackson park, Chicago, by Captain Thomas I. Porter of the United States secret service. The bills were recovered after a confession from Albert Leon, said to be a Russian political refugee and the head of a successful counterfeiting outfit. The notes are believed by Captain Porter to be the last of their kind unaccounted for.

For months bills of this denomination have been circulated in the west. They were made, according to Captain Porter, in a log cabin at Nootka Island, off British Columbia. Rudolph Swanson and Fred Maizek were the first members of the crowd arrested. Leon evaded the secret service men for some time, but was taken just as he was about to board a boat for Europe. After being questioned for two days he confessed to burying the money and drew a map of where it could be found. The notes were on Buffalo banks, the National Bank of Tyrone, Pa.; the First National Bank of Williamsport, Pa., and several on western banks.

FLY ACROSS SOUTH AMERICA.

Atwood Plans Air Trip From Brazil to Valparaiso For $100,000.

Harry N. Atwood, the aviator, plans to fly across the South American continent, for which he will obtain $100,000 if successful.

The route, which will take him across the South American continent, will touch Bahia and Rio de Janeiro, in Brazil; Montevideo, in Uruguay; Buenos Aires, in the Argentine Republic, and Valparaiso, Chile.

"I shall net $100,000 if I am successful," said the aviator. "I may cross the Andes mountains, but that will depend upon what conditions are prevailing. I shall go to Brazil the latter part of November and start the flight immediately on arrival."

ADVISES VACCINATION OF HIS EMPLOYEES.

Secretary Wilson Warring on Typhoid. Is Not Compulsory.

War on typhoid fever was declared by the department of agriculture in a recommendation approved by Secretary Wilson that all the 13,500 employees of the department be vaccinated against typhoid.

Secretary Wilson's action followed the report of a special committee of three appointed by him to look into the advisability of recommending that all the employees of the department be vaccinated against the disease.

It was explained that the department cannot compel its employees to submit to the vaccination, but the department expressed a strong hope that the request that the employees be vaccinated would be acceded to. Secretary Wilson gave his hearty approval of the plan. He pointed out that of the 11,000 employees of the department outside of the District of Columbia many are engaged in traveling about the country during at least a part of the year. To protect them from the dangers of impure water the vaccination against typhoid has been recommended.

Secretary Wilson said that the suggestion came from the war department. During the Mexican revolution the war department had had many of the United States soldiers stationed along the Mexican border vaccinated against typhoid and those vaccinated escaped the disease, while many of those who were not suffered from typhoid.

"When I received the suggestion," said Secretary Wilson, "I immediately appointed a committee of three to consider the matter. It has reported favorably to me, and I have approved the recommendation. Also I have instructed the committee to prepare a circular to be sent to all the employees of the department, advising them to be vaccinated against typhoid fever. Any physician, the circulars will inform the employees, may perform the vaccination. The employees may employ their own physicians, if they choose."

A similar recommendation, it is understood, will be made by the heads of the other departments to their employees, particularly to those who have much traveling about the country to do. Chief Clerk McNeil of the state department said today that while no general recommendation had yet been made to the employees of that department, still vaccination against typhoid had been recommended to the United States consuls going to typhoid infected districts. Some of them, he said, had acted upon the suggestion.

NAVY NAVIGATION HEAD.

Commander Andrews to Succeed Admiral Nicholson Jan. 1.

Commander Philip Andrews, aide to the secretary of the navy, will become head of the all powerful bureau of navigation in the navy department on Jan. 1, succeeding Rear Admiral Reginald F. Nicholson, who will hoist his flag as commander in chief of the United States Asiatic fleet. Although Admiral Nicholson will be relieved of his duty as head of the navigation bureau the first of the year, he will not assume his new command until some time in March, when he will relieve Rear Admiral Murdock, the present commander.

In announcing the proposed changes Secretary of the Navy Meyer said that he was in receipt of a telegram from President Taft approving the transfers and also called attention to the fact that he now had a number of commanders instead of admirals heading the bureaus of his department.

Commander Andrews, born in New York, was appointed from New Jersey, entering the service in 1882.

Still other changes were announced by the secretary. Rear Admiral Charles E. Vreeland, now aid for inspection, will succeed Rear Admiral Richard Walworth, aid for operations, when the latter retires on account of age on Dec. 1.

THORNLESS BLACKBERRY.

Luther Burbank Obtains It After Working Ten Years.

The thornless blackberry has arrived. Recently while Luther Burbank was showing a party of Australian boys about his gardens at Santa Rosa he said: "Now I will show you something about which nothing has been said as yet. It is the thornless blackberry. It has not been distributed yet and possibly will not be for some time. You see I have to be careful about stating anything until it is a reality." Mr. Burbank broke some branches from the bush, and they were carefully examined by the visitors. No thorns were visible, the surface of the branches being as smooth as silk. The fruit is said to be of fine flavor and quality. Mr. Burbank told the boys he had worked ten years on the blackberry bush endeavoring to remove its thorns.

Volcanic Ash.

The destructive Philippine volcanoes have value for one thing at least, says a writer in the Pacific Monthly. They are directly responsible for the finest hemp producing area in the world. Hemp thrives in a soil heavily impregnated with volcanic ash.

SIRENS AND SONS.

Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., LL. D., founder of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, recently celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his birthday at his birthplace, Aymer, Que.

For the first time in her history London has a physician for lord mayor. His name is Sir Thomas Boor Crosby, and he is eighty-one years old. It is believed that he is the oldest man to fill the office.

Ollie Merie James, Democratic member of the house committee on ways and means, began his political career as a page boy in the Kentucky legislature. He made his first stump speech when he was eighteen years old.

Vladimir Kikolievich Kokovtsov, the new prime minister of Russia, has for years been one of the most prominent members of the Russian government. He is sixty years of age, but looks fifteen years younger, and is possessed of great vigor.

Dr. Leland O. Howard, who coined the term "typhoid fly" and aroused universal interest in the crusade against these dangerous pests, is the only American on the international agricultural committee. He is an expert on insects in the department of agriculture, and it is largely due to his scientific investigations that the world became acquainted with the boll weevil and the gypsy moth.

Household Hints.

Keep a few pieces of camphor gum in your linen closet. It will aid in keeping the linen white.

The deposit which forms in the bottoms of teakettles can readily be removed by boiling vinegar in them.

Put a small cork in the oil can belonging to the sewing machine. This will prevent spilling the oil in the drawer and soiling anything there.

A tape loop on the apron band is a convenience and will save the apron from being torn if hung on a hook. Sew the loop on the wrong side of the band.

Fill lamps on blotting paper and whatever oil overflows will be absorbed, thus saving the table. Get heavy blotting paper and keep a sheet beside the oil can.

Laundry Lines.

Irons should not be allowed to become red hot, as they will never retain the heat properly afterward.

Hang skirts and dresses on the clothesline on the straight of the goods when drying, and you won't have an uneven skirt when it is laundered.

The color of almost any washing material may be set by soaking it in water to which a spoonful of ox gall has been added to each gallon of water.

To keep blue clothes from fading try adding bluing to the starch. They will retain their color better than if put in the bluing water and then starched.

Political Pointers.

A Missourian has invented a clip to hold a lead pencil upon a finger so that it will not have to be laid down if a writer desires to use his hand for some other purpose momentarily.

Uncle Sam's Eagle.

The eagle is the king of birds, the lord of the sky, the bravest, noblest and most independent of the feathered tribe, and probably that is the reason why he was adopted as our national bird. His image holds its place upon our national coat of arms by sheer merit and not merely from empty sentiment. The noble bird, loving liberty, scornful confinement, at home and at his best only when invested with the wide freedom of the glorious heavens, is the fit emblem of the "spirit of '76" and of the government that that spirit won and established on the earth. Other peoples entertain the same high opinion of the eagle, since from the time of the institution of the Roman standard straight down to the present day he has appeared as a conspicuous figure in the heraldry of the nations.—New York American.

Mountaineers to Have Hospital.

An interesting bit of humane work is that contemplated by Mrs. Beeckman Lordillard, who proposes to establish a "visiting caravan hospital" for the mountaineers of North Carolina and Kentucky. The plan is to send trained nurses through the mountains so that they will traverse certain regions at fixed periods. These nurses will attend the injured or ill or, if the cases are grave, transport them in comfortable litters to the central hospital to be established. It should be an interesting and productive experiment.
