

$25,000,000 FROM CARNEGIE

Makes His Total Gifts Pass $200,000,000 Mark.

CORPORATION IS ORGANIZED.

It Will Carry on After His Death the Work He Has Been Doing as an Individual—Institutions and Causes to Be Benefited.

Andrew Carnegie has organized the Carnegie Corporation of New York with a capital of $25,000,000. It may be described as the incorporation of the beneficent activities of the ironmaster. By its charter it is authorized "to promote the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of the United States," and it will carry on the work of founding libraries and endowing colleges after Mr. Carnegie has passed away.

The new corporation obtained its charter under a bill introduced in the last legislative session at Albany by Senator Frawley. Mr. Carnegie issued this statement, explaining what he had done and what he hoped to accomplish by it:

The Carnegie Corporation of New York, incorporated by an act passed by the New York legislature June 5, 1911, was organized Nov. 10, 1911.

The purposes of the corporation, as stated in the charter, are as follows:

"Section 1. Andrew Carnegie, Elihu Root, Henry S. Pritchett, William N. Frew, Robert S. Woodward, Charles L. Taylor, Robert A. Franks, James Bertram, and their successors are hereby constituted a body corporate by the name of Carnegie Corporation of New York for the purposes of receiving and maintaining a fund or funds and applying the income thereof to promote the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of the United States, by aiding technical schools, institutions of higher learning, libraries, scientific research, hero funds, useful publications and by such other agencies and means as shall from time to time be found appropriate therefor."

The incorporators met at Mr. Carnegie's house Friday afternoon, Nov. 10, 1911, accepted the charter, adopted the constitution and bylaws and elected the following officers:

President, Andrew Carnegie; vice president, Elihu Root; treasurer, Robert A. Franks; secretary, James Bertram.

Mr. Carnegie transferred to the corporation for its corporate purposes $25,000,000 par value first mortgage gold bonds of the United States Steel corporation.

It is intended that the business of founding and aiding libraries and educational institutions, which has been carried on by Mr. Carnegie as an individual for many years, will be turned over to the corporation at an early date and carried on by the corporation.

In addition to the officers mentioned in Mr. Carnegie's statement the incorporators enumerated in the Frawley bill were Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching; William H. Frew, president of the board of trustees of the Carnegie Institute of Pittsburgh; Robert S. Woodward, president of the Carnegie Institute of Washington, and Charles L. Taylor, president of the Carnegie hero fund.

Senator Root, who is vice president of the new corporation, is also president of the Carnegie endowment for international peace. Robert A. Franks, the treasurer of the Carnegie corporation, is president of the Home Trust company, and James Bertram, the secretary, is Mr. Carnegie's private secretary.

This new gift of $25,000,000 brings Mr. Carnegie's benefactions comfortably above the $200,000,000 mark. As accurately as can be estimated the amount the ironmaster has now given away in the interests of philanthropy and education is $208,235,000, distributed as follows:

Hero funds.....	$7,250,000
Carnegie teaching funds.....	21,500,000
Carnegie Institute at Washington.....	22,000,000
Colleges in the United States and Canada.....	20,000,000
Colleges in England.....	10,000,000
Trust for Scottish universities.....	10,000,000
Dunfermline trust.....	2,500,000
Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh.....	22,000,000
Relief fund for steel workers.....	4,000,000
Gifts for church organs.....	4,000,000
Building for the bureau of American republics.....	750,000
Building for The Hague peace tribunal.....	1,500,000
Endowment for international peace.....	10,000,000
Libraries.....	50,000,000
Carnegie Corporation of New York.....	25,000,000
Total.....	$308,235,000

John D. Rockefeller's gifts to date have been estimated at $150,000,000.

In addition Mr. Carnegie has distributed a great deal of money in small sums to persons whom he considers deserving of assistance, and he is continually adding to his grants in aid of libraries and colleges, so that any estimate is likely to fall considerably below the mark.

MAN OF 81 MAYOR OF LONDON

Pageant and Tableau Marked Inauguration of Sir Thomas Crosby.

Sir Thomas Boor Crosby, M. D., was inaugurated lord mayor of London with the time honored street show. The chief features were a pageant and tableau representative of the naval and military history of Great Britain in the period from Queen Elizabeth to Waterloo.

His term will be the seven hundred and twenty-third mayorality of the city, and, as he is eighty-one years of age, he is one of the oldest citizens to occupy the office. It is not the oldest. It is quite certain that he is the first medical man honored in this way.

TWO NEW CARDINALS.

Mgr. Falconio and Archbishop Farley, Snapped Last Night.

New York, Nov. 14.—The farewell ceremonies attending the departure of Archbishop Farley for Rome, where on Nov. 27 he is to be elevated to the cardinalate, began when 6,000 parochial school children participated at 8 o'clock this morning in a simple service in the cathedral, the feature of which was the singing of "God Bless Our Cardinal," as the children waved American and papal flags.

While this service was going on, 20,000 Catholics from the churches in Manhattan and the Bronx assembled on West Fifty-first street and lined both sides of that thoroughfare from the cathedral to the North river dock.

With Mgr. Diomedo Falconio, who arrived here last night from Washington, Archbishop Farley walked down the aisle of the cathedral to the waving of the children's flags and took his place in one of the carriages that conveyed the official party to the steamer Rosedale, which, leaving the pier at 9 o'clock, carried them across to the liner, Kronprinzessin Cecilie in Hoboken.

SENDS SON TO ASYLUM.

College Professor Bases Testimony on Alienists' Report.

New York, Nov. 14.—Dr. Frank C. Kavanagh, chief examiner of the municipal civil service commission and formerly professor of psychology at New York university, appeared as a witness against his son, James C. Kavanagh, on a motion before Supreme Court Justice Bischoff to commit the son to an asylum.

The son called the father to the witness stand and conducted the examination himself. In answer to questions as to whether he really believed his son insane the father testified:

"I believe, my boy, that you are very ill and should undergo treatment. I base my opinion on the testimony of three alienists who have had vastly more experience than I and who swear that you are mentally ill."

The court said he would sign an order committing the son. Kavanagh, who is thirty years old, was sent to Bellevue with a delusion that a girl whose picture he saw in a magazine was suffering an injustice at the hands of the Vanderbilts.

JAPANESE CONSUL TO CHINA.

Kikuchi Midzuno Transferred From New York to Peking.

New York, Nov. 14.—The present situation in China is responsible for the cablegram of recall which Kikuchi Midzuno, for three years consul general of Japan at New York, received on Saturday, which ordered him to report at Tokyo immediately. The orders from his home government notified Mr. Midzuno that he would be removed from the consular service and appointed first secretary of legation under Hirokouchi Ijima, minister of Japan at the court of Peking.

The recall of Consul General Midzuno and his pending appointment to Peking indicates the pressing need of his government for a man high in the consular service of Japan who has done duty in China and who knows the intricacies of the present situation brought about by the revolution. Mr. Midzuno served as Japanese consul at Chefoo during the Russo-Japanese war, and subsequently he held the consular post at Hankow, in the province of Hupeh. He was promoted from that post to New York.

STRIKERS LOSE.

Mayor Gaynor Denies Interview With Mediators.

POLICE GUARD HOUSE TOPS.

Believing They Have Won the Fight Against Street Cleaners, New York Officials Plan Reorganization With New Force of Men—Strike Leaders in Quandary.

New York, Nov. 14.—The striking drivers of the street cleaning department are willing to knuckle under and go back to work in the dark if Mayor Gaynor is willing. But the mayor won't have it. He holds that the strikers are mutineers who have cut themselves off from consideration. He adds that the department will be reorganized without their services.

All sorts of efforts were made to influence the mayor in behalf of the strikers. Strike leaders let it be known that the strike would be called off and that the men would return to their carts provided the mayor agreed to reinstate drivers who could show that they had been intimidated. They figured that about 90 per cent of the drivers could by that excuse reconnect with their jobs, but the mayor returned no answer. He considers that the strike has been broken and Commissioner Edwards is winning his fight all along the line. William H. Ashton, the teamsters' organizer, who called the drivers' strike and who has been directing it, tried to see the mayor and was rebuffed.

Ashton requested an interview with the mayor, and Secretary Adamson conveyed the request to the inner office. The mayor looked up just long enough to say, "Tell this Mr. Ashton that I do not care to see him or to have anything to do with him."

Michael Reagan, mediator of the state board of arbitration, who was with Ashton, wanted to know if Mr. Gaynor would talk to him. Mr. Gaynor wouldn't.

"I have nothing to do with either of them," said he.

Later Ashton renewed a threat to call a general teamsters' strike. So far as a quiet investigation that has been conducted by city officials shows, the teamsters are not likely to quit.

After the mayor had got through work in his own office he paid a call on Commissioner Edwards. As he left the mayor paused long enough to say to the reporters:

"I am very happy over the progress that has been made. There is practically no disorder anywhere in the city. The much larger force of drivers that Edwards has at work in Manhattan is amply protected by policemen armed with clubs and revolvers. They were ordered to use their clubs on provocation and to shoot to kill if necessary."

The police go at the job with a little more system. Before a procession of carts enter a street plain clothes men see to it that the roofs are bare of men and women brick and bottle throwers. They stay on the roofs until the carts pass out of the street. In the next block another squad repeats the precautions. Women screech from windows and shy a few dishes that are apparently of no use to them, but that is about the limit of disturbance.

In the Yorkville court Magistrate Breen had before him John Cooney, a sailor, who had punched a strike breaker in the face. He sent Cooney to the workhouse for a month. Others were equally as severely dealt with.

FINES FOR EMPLOYERS.

New York State Labor Bureau Proceeds Against City Violators.

New York, Nov. 14.—Sixty mercantile concerns were defendants in special sessions on charges of employing children of less than legal age, some for failing to provide proper accommodations for their employees and others for locking their doors in working hours.

Frederick R. Cunningham, counsel for the state labor department, provided the cases. He said that the defendants were arrested only when they failed to heed a warning. Most of those brought to trial were first offenders and got off with a suspended sentence. Some were fined $10 or $15 each.

ROYALISTS TRY AGAIN.

Portuguese Subscribe to a Fund of $10,000,000.

Lisbon, Nov. 14.—The royalists are again preparing for an invasion, which will be begun as soon as the weather clears. The whole of north Portugal is being flooded with torrential rains.

Prince Miguel of Braganza, son of the pretender, has left Paris for London, where he has succeeded in raising another loan of $10,000,000, guaranteed by wealthy Portuguese royalists who are living abroad.

A part of this is to be used for the purchase of twenty Maxim guns, thirty field guns, 2,000 horses and mules and winter clothing for the troops and to pay another installment on warships.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 14.—The supreme court of appeals denied the petition for a writ of error by Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., convicted murderer.

This decision on the appeal from the judgment of the Chesterfield court, which sentenced him to die in the electric chair Nov. 24, is final. Clemency or reprieve by Governor Mann only can save the condemned man.

On the night of July 18 last Henry Beattie took his young wife driving in their automobile on the Midlothian turnpike, just outside Richmond, Va. At a lonely spot in the road the young woman was murdered, her head being almost blown off with a shotgun.

FINDS FAMILY MURDERED.

Brooklyn Italian Accuses Dead Wife's Brother.

New York, Nov. 14.—When Adolfo Lofaro climbed the stairs of the brick tenement at 739 Park avenue, Brooklyn, he found that his kitchen door at the top of the second flight was bolted on the inside. He couldn't understand why his wife, Marchella, and her mother, Mrs. Antoniana Delomo, didn't come to let him in. Lofaro ceased knocking and listened. From the bedroom across the kitchen he could hear the young baby girl protesting against being neglected. Lofaro forced in the door and found the baby fretting in its cradle and the others lay in a heap beside the disarranged bed, his wife, his mother-in-law and his little daughter. When he spoke to them they didn't stir. Dr. Broff head, from Cumberland hospital, and Coroner Gamon's physician, Dr. W. W. Ernst, said that the three had been dead three or four hours.

Matteo Delomo, a brother of his wife, was the man whom he asked the police to find. Lofaro hadn't a doubt that he was the murderer. Delomo is a shoemaker.

The police were disposed to attach a good deal of importance to what Lofaro said because there was no indication that anything in the flat had been disturbed.

SPENCER TRIAL BEGINS.

Springfield Murder Case Promises to Be Legal Battle.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 14.—Springfield's "gentleman burglar," Bertram G. Spencer, is on trial here for the murder of Miss Martha B. Blackstone on the night of March 31, 1910.

The opening of the case before Judge John C. Crosby of Pittsfield was marked by intense excitement. Arrayed against the prisoner is the best legal talent in the state, Attorney General J. M. Swift, his assistant, F. B. Greenhaile, and District Attorney C. T. Callahan. Defending the accused are R. P. Stapleton and C. L. Young.

Throughout the proceedings attending the selection of a jury Spencer displayed great nervousness.

India's railways carried over 371,000,000 passengers last year, and the average rate charged to travelers of all classes was about half a cent per mile.

In twenty-five years electric railways in the United States have grown from nothing to their present splendid proportions, which it is estimated by experts give support yearly to about 800,000 people. These figures include families of employees, but the number of actual employees is somewhat short of a quarter of a million.
