Head of Troops Ordered to Prevent Rebel Outbreaks in Texas.

Washington, Nov. 21.—A supply of arms and ammunition apparently intended for the Reyes adherents has been found at Laredo, Tex. Officers of the war department and the civil authorities have been requested to seize them.

Information received here indicates that the proposed revolutionary movement is well organized and that considerable assistance is expected from the American side of the line.

It is believed here that the arrest of General Bernardo Reyes will break the backbone of the movement.

ARREST POLITICIANS.

Court Holds Three For Trial in "Nomination" Case.

New York, Nov. 21.—Joseph Cassidy, Democratic leader and ex-borough president of Queens; William Willett, Jr., and Louis T. Walter, Jr., were arrested this morning on the charge that they committed the crime of conspiracy in bringing about the nomination of Willett, who was defeated at the last election for supreme court justice, to the bench. Cassidy, who has been sitting as a magistrate in order to hear evidence against the three men, who have now been named as defendants, ordered that warrants be issued for them, saying that he was convinced from the evidence submitted to him that a prima facie case had been made. Willett and Walter will make no comment on their arrest.

Two sections of the penal code are believed to cover the charges against the trio. Willett, who has been a congressman, and Walter are accused under one of the sections which deals with persons who attempt to secure or accept a nomination for money. The punishment for this upon conviction is five years in prison, a fine of $3,000 or both. Cassidy is accused under the other section, which deals with an attempt to procure or promote a nomination. The penalty for this offense is one year in prison.

IS GOMPERS LOSING HOLD?

Death of Old Labor Regime Predicted at Atlanta Convention.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 21.—What many delegates believe is a forecast of the death of the old regime and the naming of new leaders within the next few years is shown at the American Federation of Labor convention in a report of a committee which has adopted providing that in future officers of the federation be elected by initiative and referendum, a Social-measure.

President Gompers became engaged in a heated controversy with Delegate Joseph D. Cannon of the Western Federation during discussion of the proposition. Mr. Gompers yielded the chair and resented the inference made by Cannon that he was not in favor of the initiative and referendum for Arizona.

R. HYDE ON TRIAL AGAIN.

Swope Murder Case Reopens in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 21.—After six weeks spent in the selection of a jury the second trial of Dr. B. Clarke Swope, convicted of the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, the making of untrue statements in the case began Judge Porterfield's court. Senator James A. Reed, special prosecutor, outdid the state's case. Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for Dr. Hyde, followed.

PRESIDENT'S COLD BETTER.

White House Physician Orders Patient to Stay Indoors.

Washington, Nov. 21.—President Taft and Secretary Hillis are both suffering from colds. Mr. Taft's condition, it is said at the White House, is somewhat improved.

Major Delaney, the White House physician, said his patient was much better and only needed to stay indoors and remain quiet for awhile to throw cold off entirely.

Abolish Pigtail.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The national assembly has passed a resolution abolishing the pigtail and establishing the western calendar beginning with the year 1911.

Mother of China's Baby Emperor Flees With Actor.

NATIVE PRESS PRINT FACTS.

Wife of Prince Regent Falls in Love With Yung Shu Lu at Imperial Performance and Clandestine Correspondence Follows—Thought Manchu Cause Lost.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Chinese papers just received here tell of the elopement of Princess Lai, mother of the boy emperor and wife of the prince regent, with Yung Shu Lu, an actor.

While some of them do not mention the princess by name, they allude to her as the wife of the first noble of the empire. The Min Lu Po, the biggest native newspaper in China, published at Shanghai, however, gives her name in full, together with the circumstances of the elopement.

It appears that the mother of the emperor saw the handsome young Chinese actor during a performance in the "Forbidden City," given by imperial mandate. She fell in love with him, and a clandestine correspondence carried on through trusted eunuchs of the palace followed.

When the revolution broke out the princess, apparently deeming the Manchu cause to be lost, stole from the palace, joined her affinity and fled with him to Mukden, where they now are.

SUN YAT SEN IN LONDON.

Chinese Reformer's Visit Secret Until After Departure.

London, Nov. 21.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the Chinese reformer, and General Homer Lea, the American who has been mentioned as the coming military ruler of the revolutionary government in China, are en route for Marseilles after a stay of about ten days in the British capital. It is understood that the two will take a German steamship for Hongkong.

While here, it is understood, Sun Yat Sen interviewed many men prominent in military and naval affairs, especially persons interested in shipbuilding and finance. Negotiations are thought to have been entered into with firms with reference to improvements which the revolutionists propose to make in China when their government is placed upon its feet, if things go as they expect.

Every day during his stay here Sun Yat Sen exchanged long telegrams with the revolutionary leaders in China. Those who saw Sun Yat Sen say he spoke in the most hopeful terms of the future of the China.

While here, it is understood, Sun Yat Sen interviewed many men prominent in military and naval affairs, especially persons interested in shipbuilding and finance. Negotiations are thought to have been entered into with firms with reference to improvements which the revolutionists propose to make in China when their government is placed upon its feet, if things go as they expect.

NO BATTLE AT NANKING YET.

Rebel Army is Concentrating About City Preparatory to Attack.

Peking, Nov. 21.—The battle of Nanking has not yet begun, but there has already been some skirmishing between the rebels and the imperial forces. Reports agree that the revolutionary army is concentrating about the city, but a large part of the force is still at some distance. Eight thousand rebels are preparing to march from Canton to Nanking.

The situation at Hankow is still obscure beyond the fact that there has been a renewal of the fighting there and each side is claiming victory.

FINE PURE FOOD VIOLATORS.

Meilen Railroad Also in Court Because of Smoky Engines.

New York, Nov. 21.—Eighty offenders against the sanitary code were arraigned in part I of special sessions, the various informations charging the sale of adulterated or putrid milk, cream, chickens, meat, cucumbers, fish, pork, liver, eggs and pie. Justices McInerney, Hoyt and Olmsted heard the cases.

The heaviest penalty was inflicted on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad—not for selling bad food, but for smoky locomotives on the suburban branch, which is the only strip of railroad entering New York that is not electrified. Attorneys for the railroad pleaded guilty and asked for clemency. A fine of $250 was imposed.

Fines for having for sale or selling bad food ranged from $10 to $100. The total of the fines amounted to $1,200.

NEW ANAESTHETIC FOUND.

Boston Surgeon Overcomes Disadvantage of Ether.

Boston, Nov. 21.—Ether may soon be superseded as an anesthetic as a result of remarkable experiments being made by Dr. Frederic J. Cotton, a Boston surgeon.

By a combination of gaseous elements of the air containing about half the proportion of oxygen in the earth's atmosphere, Dr. Cotton has succeeded in producing anaesthesia, not only without the slightest danger or discomfort to the patient, but even agreeable.

Kaiser Goes to Baden-Baden. Berlin, Nov. 21.—The kaiser, who is over his cold, has gone to Baden-Baden.

DUKE OF OPORTO.

Royalist Leader Who Prepares to Invade Portugal.

Lisbon, Nov. 21.—The government has been informed by the consuls at Galicia, Spain, that another invasion by the royalists is imminent. The royalists say that they will be aided by Portuguese troops, who will revolt in their favor. There is, however, no evidence of any republican desertion.

It is confirmed that the Duke of Oporto, uncle of the deposed King Manuel, has arrived at Vigo, where he is conferring with other monarchist leaders. They plan to strike the first blow at Oporto.

STEEL PROBE HITS SNAG.

Antitrust Suit Held as Bar to House Inquiry.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Stanley committee is up against a snag, and it is quite possible that its investigation of the United States Steel corporation will be indefinitely postponed. Richard V. Lindabury, counsel for the corporation, is the man who, figuratively speaking, threw a monkey wrench into the cogs of the machinery.

When the committee met for the first time since the latter part of August, Mr. Lindabury entered a formal objection to the continuance of the hearing in view of the fact that the government had begun suit against the steel corporation. He said that it would be unfair, unjust and unprecedented for the committee to go on as it had intended when another branch of the government was trying to strengthen its case against the defendant corporation.

At the conclusion of the session Chairman Stanley gave out the following statement: "The members of the committee present unanimously decided to reserve final decision until the assembling of the full membership of the committee. Meanwhile the committee will proceed to examine the witnesses already summoned to testify on the subjects relating to the violations of the various interstate commerce acts as directed by the resolution of the house."

MAINE BOARD IN HAVANA.

Army and Navy Officers Will Visit Wreck Today.

Havana, Nov. 21.—The board of navy and engineer officers, which is to inspect the wreck of the battleship Maine with a view to fixing the blame for the explosion, which sent the vessel to the bottom of the harbor in 1898, has arrived here. Owing to heavy rains they have not yet visited the scene of the wreck, but it is probable that they will do so today.

Captain Ferguson, who is in charge of the task of raising the hull, has prepared a model of the ship as it now appears and which shows how the different portions of the ship were torn apart by the force of the explosion.

COACH TRIES WORK CURE.

Reed of Cornell Disgruntled Over Defeat by Chicago.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 21.—The Cornell football squad has begun its preparation for the last game of the season with Pennsylvania on Thanksgiving day.

Dan Reed is very much disgruntled over the boylake attitude and overconfidence of the Cornell team in the Chicago game. It is obvious that the team is in for a week's hard driving. He believes hard work is a cure for the cockiness of the players who have worried him most.

ARMY MOUNTS BETTER.

American Officers Make Big Hit at Horse Show.

New York, Nov. 21.—One thing is shown in the horse show which is immensely pleasing to patriotic Americans, that is the showing made by the home talent against the foreign visitors. Last year, when these classes were first on the program in this country, the American soldiers made a sorry showing. After the show some enthusiastic and wealthy horsemen, among whom were Alfred G. Vanderbilt, J. W. Harriman, Judge Moore and others, gave horses to the army and subscribed to a fund for the purchase of more. The mounted service school was organized at Fort Riley, with Captain Guy V. Henry of the cavalry in charge, and there the horses were schooled and the officers were taught how to ride them to win prizes in such exhibitions as these.

The best horses that the United States officers have are Quindary, a good jumper, and Chiswell and St. Nicholas I., officers' chargers.

The mounted men make a fine appearance in the ring and drilled so well that they were heartily applauded by the contingent of army officers, who know what good drilling is.

The attendance is good. Nearly all the arena boxes were filled, as were the seats back of the arena boxes, and there was quite a steady procession passing around the board walk. With the New York police on parade and the big jumping competition between the army officers there was plenty to entertain. The costumes of the women were dainty and artistic, and their diamonds glittered as the rays from the fancy electric lights struck them.

REYES OUT ON BOND.

Alleged Mexican Rebel Leader Will Be Tried Next April.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 21.—General Bernardo Reyes, arrested on Saturday upon a federal grand jury indictment charging him with setting on foot a military expedition against Mexico, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwards and held in $10,000 bonds for appearance at the April term of the federal district court at Laredo.

Bond was furnished and the general released.

Rebels Recapture Hankow.

London, Nov. 21.—A dispatch from Hankow, by way of Shanghai, says that the rebels have recaptured the former city.

Keeler's Memorial.

After Keeler had become head of the Lick observatory and died there and his ashes were taken back to Allegheny for burial it was his friend Brashear who sealed them up in their last resting place, a hollow in the supporting pillar of the thirty inch reflector, which is Keeler's memorial.

The Kangaroo.

The big gray kangaroo of Australia measures about seven feet from its nose in the tip of its tail. It can run faster than a horse and clear thirty feet at a jump.

A Carefully Guarded Tree.

The oldest tree in the world is said to exist on the island of Cos, off the coast of Asia Minor. It is several thousand years old, but just how many no one has dared to say. The tree is carefully preserved by a wall of masonry round it, and the trunk is thirty feet in circumference.

Free From Rabies.

It is singular that mad dogs and other animals suffering from rabies are unknown in the Rocky mountain region and on the Pacific coast.

Women's Shoes.

Prior to 1825 all women's shoes were made without heels.

Reviving a Turquoise.

By the application of ammonia a faded turquoise receives a new lease of life, and, it is claimed, the same effect may be produced by treating the stone with prussian blue, which in some mysterious way is held to penetrate the gem and impart color thereto.
