Advertising seems to be an art yet to be discovered by some people. That is, the practical part of it. A constant stream of water from one or more fire engines will soon extinguish or get under control a very large fire, while a few buckets of water, dashed on here and there, have little or no effect. The modern fire department is practical and has outgrown the bucket system; and so with modern advertising—plenty of it, used in a practical, common sense and judicious manner, pays.

An iron water pipe lying across the sidewalk was the cause of what might have been a very serious accident to one of our oldest and respected citizens, Reuben Small, of Main street, yesterday. Mr. Small in walking past tripped and was thrown violently to the sidewalk. Willing hands helped him to the drug store of Percy Cole and Dr. Peterson was hastily summoned. He found the injuries were not serious and conveyed the patient to his home in his automobile. Mr. Small is feeling quite himself to-day.

Leo Hartford, aged sixteen, of Equinunk, was the victim of a serious hunting accident, Monday, as the result of which he will be lame for life. It appears that he went up to Pine Mills to go hunting with a club of his, by the name of Ray Knapp, aged seventeen. In some unaccountable way, Knapp slipped and fell, and his rifle went off the whole charge of small shot riddling his companion's leg. Dr. Frisbie found the bones of the limb badly shattered, and called in consultation Dr. Frank Woolsey, of Hancock, N. Y. They amputated his foot above the ankle.

Official announcement has been made of the secretaryship of the State Board of Education by Dr. J. George Becht, principal of the State Normal school, Clarion, Pa. The work of organization will begin at once though probably the formal opening of the Board will be deferred until the first of January. The special problems to which the Board will devote its energies are as follows: Report and recommend legislation to the Governor and General Assembly. Create, organize and manage the "State School Fund of Pennsylvania." Equalize educational advantages throughout the Commonwealth. Inspect and require reports of educational institutions wholly or partially supported by the State. Promote agricultural education, manual training, domestic science and vocational and practical education. Provide plans for the erection of school buildings in districts of second, third and fourth class. Prescribe regulations for the sanitary equipment and inspection of school buildings and promote the physical and moral welfare of the children.

GRANDFATHER'S CHAIR.

[By S. S. Robinson.]

Discarded, and forsaken, in the garret it stands, Laid away years ago by affectionate hands,

Disjoined and marred by long years of wear Is that precious old relic, my Grandfather's chair.

As I gaze at its form in the dim attic light, Its presence brings back fond memories bright.

Of the days when it stood by the old stone-fire place And Grandfather seated in its generous space.

CHORUS.

Oh, my Grandfather's chair hid away in the garret, That precious old relic of days long ago!

With joy I now hasten again to restore it, To its time-honored place in the fire-light's bright glow.

Beloved by all the household was that ancient old chair In its soft cushioned seat I have often sat there

Watching my mother turn the old spinning wheel Or winding the yarn on the cumbersome reel.

The hum of the spindle, the click of the reel, Would lull me to sleep, and mother would steal

Close to my side and stroke my brown hair, Then cover me up in my Grandfather's chair.

Each morning we would gather by that sacred old chair, While Grandfather led in family prayer,

From the Bible he read a chapter or two, Then he knelt by that chair as he always would do.

One night as he sat in that old chair he died, I had fallen asleep in the seat by his side,

And when I am called from this world and care, May they find me at rest in my Grandfather's chair.

OUR RAILROADS.

The report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, of the railroads of the United States, for the year ending June 30, 1910, is of great interest and importance to the people in general. It shows a total single track mileage of 240,438.84, indicating an increase of 3,604.77 miles over the previous year. There were 58,947 locomotives in service on June 30, 1910, an increase of 1,735. Of the total number of locomotives, 13,660 were classified as passenger and 34,992 as freight.

The total number of cars of all classes was 2,290,331, or 72,051 more than on June 30, 1909. This equipment was thus assigned: Passenger service, 47,095 cars; freight service, 2,135,121, and company service, 108,115. The figures given do not include so-called private cars of commercial firms or corporations.

The total number of persons employed by the steam roads of the United States on June 30, 1910, was 1,498,420, or an average of 706 per 100 miles of line. As compared with returns for June 30, 1909, there was an increase of 198,597 in the total number of railway employees. There were 64,691 enginemen, 68,321 firemen, 48,682 conductors, 136,938 other trainmen and 44,682 switch tenders, crossing tenders and watchmen.

On June 30, 1910, the par value of the amount of railway capital outstanding, according to the returns of the companies filing reports with the commission, was $18,417,132,238. Of this amount $14,338,575,940 was outstanding in the hands of the public.

The number of passengers carried by railroads of the United States during the year ended June 30, 1910, was 971,683,199, an increase of 80,210,774.

The number of tons of freight shown as carried (including freight received from connections) for the year ending June 30, 1910, was 1,849,900,101, while the corresponding figure for the previous year was 1,556,559,741, the increase being 293,340,360 tons.

The new broom sweeps clean only when there is a willing hand at the other end of it.

A LETTER.

Florence Theatre, John C. Dorflinger, Manager.

White Mills, Pa., No. 23, 1911.

Dear Friend Ben: It is with pleasure that I note that you have the "Dunbar Company" booked for to-morrow night, for it affords many of us an opportunity to witness for the second time their performance which is far above the ordinary. They played here on Saturday last, and everyone was perfectly delighted with their entertainment. You cannot recommend them too highly. I know their work will please your patrons.

Sincerely, JOHN C. DORFLINGER. To Benjamin H. Dittlich, Honesdale, Pa.

When tea is spilled on the tablecloth, as soon as possible cover the stain with common salt. The stain will soon disappear from it.

IN MEMORIAM.

At the regular meeting of the directors of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, held on Tuesday, Nov. 14, 1911, it was unanimously resolved that in the death of John Kubbach, Honesdale loses one of its foremost residents, one who was always anxious to assist in the promotion of any thing he believed to be for the advancement of the interests of Honesdale and vicinity. He was one of the organizers of our Bank and became a director at the time of its permanent organization and continued as such until the time of his death. We desire at this time to show our appreciation for his services and to express our regrets at his death in the prime of life. We also desire to tender to his family, our heartfelt sympathy at their irreparable loss, and that a copy of these resolutions be placed upon our minutes.

EFFICIENCY

How Many Men Know How to Keep It at Par.

Thousands; yes tens of thousands of men, grow old 10 years too soon. If you are a man and realize that your efficiency is on the wane and that you are losing money and happiness in consequence, get a 50 cent box of MI-O-NA stomach tablets today and take two after or with each meal for three days; then take one with each meal regularly until you feel well and vigorous.

MI-O-NA stomach tablets disinfect, tone up, restore elasticity to the stomach and intestinal canal and end indigestion. They do more; they increase the nutrition of the body and in case of nerve exhaustion, sleeplessness, night sweats, bad dreams or any condition that requires a restorative they act with astonishing rapidity. They can be found at G. W. Peil's and helpful druggists the world over.

Jeweled Gifts

Of all the rare and beautiful things that nature has given, the diamond is far in the lead. There is nothing to compare with it—and there never will be. There are diamonds—and diamonds. The former may be classed as such, but the latter are cherished for their beauty, brilliancy and value. We are showing many real gems—the pick of the market—patiently and carefully gathered.

When in Doubt There is some pretty serious talk to the effect that the price of diamonds, which, as all the world knows, is controlled by the great syndicate operating the South African mines, may be raised again before long. It certainly will not go down. If you are at all in doubt about the safety of your money put it into diamonds, and get the best prices buy of us, thus saving all middlemen's profits, for we import direct.

Buy Diamonds The buyer depending to quite an extent on the merchant, it is most important that the house should be of undoubted responsibility. It is therefore only fitting that your gift should be identified with this establishment. The value which you get for your money is by far more important than the price you pay for a diamond.
