INDUSTRIAL HONESDALE

Outsiders Writing Board of Trade For Information.

Honesdale is fast coming to the front as an industrial town. The Board of Trade has been the recipient of many letters of late inquiring how things were done in Honesdale. One of the inquiries came from the Stroudsburg Industrial Club, of Stroudsburg. The letter was read at the last regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade, Thursday evening. Stroudsburg, in making her debut, wants to know what to do. Knowing of Honesdale's experience along this line she looked to us as an advisor. The secretary of the local Board in reply sent samples of its stationery and publicity matter to inquiring Miss Stroudsburg for which her representatives were very grateful. Watch the dirt fly in Stroudsburg.

Another complimentary letter was received from Ira H. Shoemaker, industrial agent of the Delaware and Hudson system, of Albany, relative to Honesdale. Quoting from Mr. Shoemaker's letter, he says: "As familiar as I am with this road and the cities adjacent to it, I did not realize the extent of the industries, nor did I realize the beauties of the locality, prior to my visit to Farview about a week ago." * * Referring to the special writup of Honesdale in The Citizen of November 8, headed "Boom Honesdale and the County—Bright Outlook for Development of Lackawaxen Valley," Mr. Shoemaker continues, "This is a well written article and my suggestion to you is that this article be embodied in a little booklet and published by your Board of Trade and sent over the country." Mr. Shoemaker sent under separate cover to the Board several little pamphlets of interest to the farmer in the line of development of his land, etc. Mr. Shoemaker would be glad to send copies of these little books to farmers. They can be obtained by dropping a postal to I. H. Shoemaker, Industrial Agent, D. & H. R. R., Albany, N. Y.

A communication from Luis Jackson, industrial commissioner for the Erie railroad, was also read. Mr. Jackson asks that industries along the Erie line place signs on their factories, telling the name of the manufacturer, the kind of product made and the name of the town and state. For instance: "Dexter-Lambert Co., Silk Manufacturers, Honesdale, Pa."

The Board was called to order by President F. W. Kreitner. After the reading of the minutes of the last regular and a special meeting, Treasurer Edward Deltzer reported $253.48 on hand.

W. M. Cuminsky was elected a new member of the Board of Trade. W. W. Wood read his report on the Globe Yarn company. A large subscription for the sale of stock was secured at the meeting. Mr. Wood also made favorable reports on other prospective industries.

The secretary was instructed to send a statement to every member of the Board, giving the amount of dues in arrears and for one quarter in advance or until April 1, 1912. On motion of L. Blumenthal, seconded by L. C. Weniger, it was carried that the present Board of officers be nominated for another year, as follows:

President, F. W. Kreitner.

First Vice-President, R. J. Murray.

Second Vice-President, S. T. Ham.

Treasurer, Edward Deltzer.

Secretary, E. B. Callaway.

The election will occur at the Board's regular monthly meeting in January.

Bills amounting to $24.41 were ordered paid.

PROF. BULLOCK LECTURES AT DECKER FARM.

The orchard lecture and demonstration which took place on the farm of H. B. Decker, Stroudsburg, the scene of all the previous meetings, was well attended, which is evidence enough of the great popularity of these events. Ordinarily it is not so easy to draw a good-sized audience to an open air meeting on a winter day. It is true that it was an ideal winter day, the sun shining from a cloudless sky, giving warmth and cheer, but the roads were heavy, especially in the afternoon, when the surface was thawed out to the depth of several inches.

Professor Bullock, one of the state's orchard inspectors, had charge of the meeting. He spoke at length, dwelling on pruning, spraying and other topics of interest to the fruit raiser. Some of these topics had been discussed before, but the speaker brought out and dwelled on some new points in an interesting manner. His remarks were listened to with great attention. Many questions were asked by members of the audience and readily answered by the speaker in an obliging manner. He clearly proved that an orchard meeting can be made very interesting even in mid-winter, if well conducted.—[Monroe Record.]

"FIRE OUT" RECALL SIGNAL ADOPTED

Councilmen Enjoy Farewell "Smoker"

CITY FATHERS MET LAST THURSDAY NIGHT—NOVEMBER BILLS TOTALED $1200.87 — ADJOURNED IN A BLAZE OF GLORY!

Adopting a "Recall—Fire Out" signal, of four short blasts, to let the people know when a conflagration is extinguished, the Town Council, following the transaction of considerable routine business, at the last meeting in the old year at City Hall, last Thursday night, adjourned in a blaze of glory at 9:35 p. m.

Following the reading of the minutes in which mention was made of the issuance at a special meeting held November 17, of scrip to the Torrey estate for 115 feet and to the Irving Cut Glass Company for 113 feet on Park street, Treasurer Penwarden reported as follows:

TREASURER'S REPORT. RECEIPTS. Balance on hand last meeting... $2389.50

Engineer John M. Lyons, a member of the committee on plugs, reported that he had looked over the plugs, made all the necessary repairs, corked the leaks, oiled the caps, and put the threads in first-class condition. All the plugs, he said, are now in first-class condition, except the one at Main and Fifth streets.

Treasurer Penwarden reported that he had arranged for the printing of lists showing the location and number of fire plugs in the borough, November 1, 1911.

Under the head of unfinished business, President Cauffield stated that he had been informed by a representative of the Torrey estate that if the Town Council didn't care to accept Rock street, which is an extension of Spring street, they should notify J. H. Torrey, Scranton, and he would see that the street would be closed up and taken care of properly. The street has been laid out for many years, but as far as the Torrey estate knew, it has never been accepted by the borough. The Street Committee was ordered to visit the street in question, and report later.

Upon motion it was decided to place the matter of adjudicating the cost of laying the sewer extension asked for by Mrs. Stangle, in the hands of the president.

The $307.29 received from the State as premium on business done in the borough by Foreign Fire Insurance Companies was ordered paid over to the Firemen's Relief Association. Adjournment was taken sine die at 9:35 p. m., the city fathers expressing their sorrow at the departure from their midst of Messrs. P. R. Murray, W. W. Kimble, George M. Genung, whose terms expire this month.

WHATSOEVER'S CONDUCT FAIR

Central M. E. Women Raise Money

ANNUAL OYSTER SUPPER AND FAIR A FINANCIAL AND SOCIAL SUCCESS—PRICES OF SUPPERS INCREASING, IN HONESDALE.

Following the custom inaugurated many years ago of holding an oyster supper and fair in the parlors of the Central Methodist Episcopal church on the first Thursday night in December, the Whatsoever Circle gave one of these delightful affairs on the evening of the seventh.

The usual financial and social success attended the efforts of the president of the society, Miss Irene F. Long, who was ably assisted by an aggressive corps of churchwomen, who served on committees.

Beautifully-bedecked booths, to the number of four, presided over by beautifully-gowned women, to the number of fourteen, were speedily robbed of their wealth of beautiful fancy goods, beautiful and useful aprons, and delicious home-made candy. Everybody was candy-hungry. "Everywoman" needed at least two aprons. And "Everyman?" Well, he needed whatever he could be persuaded to buy. "Everyman" came to the supper with "Everywoman" light in heart. He left the fair lighter in purse.

Lest we forget: These are the names of the booths; the color schemes employed on each; and the names of the churchwomen in charge:

Fancy goods (yellow and green): Mrs. M. E. Simons, Mrs. J. M. Arnold, Mrs. C. F. Bullock.

Doll (pink and white): Mrs. E. E. Williams, Mrs. H. A. Oday, Mrs. Ada Kelley.

Candy (Japanese): Mrs. H. E. Bassett, Mrs. Emma Johnson, Mrs. Frank Lent, Mrs. L. B. Swingle, Miss Alice Birdsall.

Apron (blue and white): Mrs. M. E. Bolcom, Mrs. F. H. Crago.

Mrs. Joshua A. Brown was chairwoman of the decorating committee. She was assisted by a score of willing workers.

The "higher cost of living or the cost of higher living" was present in the price of the supper, which was fifty cents, or an increase of one dime over the charge heretofore made.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Harry G. Young of Scranton, was a business caller in Honesdale and vicinity this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Cole attended the funeral of the former's mother, Mrs. Sarah S. Cole, on Sunday. Mrs. Cole died of pneumonia on Thursday last at her home in Green Ridge. She was 70 years of age and is survived by two sons, Percy L. of this place and Harry of Dunmore.

—Fred Geither, aged 60, a plumber in the employ of Samuel Morrison, was arrested Saturday night on complaint of his wife who charged him with being drunk and disorderly, and committed to the county jail. "Squire" William H. Ham gave the parties a fatherly talk Monday morning, and Geither promised to be good in the future.
