The health of the county and of the community is first-class; never better. We get years that are quiet; no epidemics anywhere. Then we get years when contagious diseases are over the entire county. I guess there's only two or three cases of diphtheria here.—County Health Officer Dr. H. B. Ely.

The report of the twelfth internal revenue district for the fiscal year from Dec. 1, 1910, to Dec. 1, 1911, shows collections amounting to more than two and a half million dollars, as follows: Lists, $218,253.81; beer, $1,516,200; spirits, $90,486.77; cigars, $314,928.71; tobacco, $255,501.04; special tax, $160,971.86; total, $2,558,899.19.

Except for bears and raccoons which may be lawfully killed until January 1, the hunting season in Pennsylvania will end, practically, Sunday this fall, largely through the restrictions during the last few years against the wholesale slaughter that was allowed up to that time.

The attraction to be seen here on Christmas evening, is one of the best on the road. One writer says: They are fine both individually and collectively. They can sing. Their specialties are great. The dress suit part of the program in itself is bigger and better than any other colored companies' program all told. This of course is only the last third of it all!

The county seat shops will be open every night next week.

The express companies desire shippers of Christmas packages to send their gifts as early as possible so as to avoid delay in delivery. Special labels inscribed "Do not open until Christmas" have been furnished the public by the local express companies. This will give opportunity for the package to reach its destination before Christmas and give the additional pleasure to the recipient of the gift of having it on Christmas morning.

With Northeastern Pennsylvania adapted in soil and climate, according to expert authority, as the best apple growing section in the United States, there should be an instrument to raising this best of all the year around fruit, when oranges, brought from Florida and California, with the cost of freight, handling, etc., added, are selling in our home market at lower prices than charged for fine apples. This is worthy of consideration.

Mrs. Salo Friedewald will present William Butler Yeats' play, "The Playboy," at her recital, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Miss Brown's room at the Honesdale High school. This is the play, it will be remembered, which created so much disturbance at Maxine Elliott's theatre, New York, recently. The audience hurled eggs and vegetables at the actors by way of showing their disapproval of its characterizations of the Irish race.

School directors, supervisors and overseers of the poor should examine the list of names of those against whom taxes have been returned, and if any of the properties mentioned is located in their township or borough, they should attend to the filing of liens against same; otherwise the taxes will be lost. The county commissioners are responsible only for the collection of the county tax and will file liens for same. The local boards must file liens for road, poor and school taxes.

The state school law provides that no child who is not vaccinated can be admitted to the public schools. There are a number of children in the county of school age who are not attending school because they have not been vaccinated and the trustee officers cannot compel their attendance because there is no law compelling parents to have their children vaccinated. In most cases of this kind the parents rather than have their children deprived of the advantages of the schools, comply with the law and have them vaccinated, although they themselves do not believe in it, hence there are no children out of school for this reason in this city.

SPORTING GOSSIP

Next Friday night the 1st of a series of games between Seelyville, last year's county champions and the Rink Five, will be played at the Rink. The rivalry between these two teams is keen and as both are confident of victory there promises to be an exciting game.

The defeat of Mathewson in two games has brought forward a group of critics, who believe that Matty has reached the parting of the ways with the big league, says "Jack" Coombs. "But it is a mistaken idea. I believe that Matty is still as great as he was when he carried the whole pitching burden of the Giants. But he cannot work with such frequency as he did years ago. He must be groomed and saved and not called upon to pitch every second game. Still, he is good for twenty-five games a season, and with any kind of a break in luck he will win at least eighteen of them."

IMMORTALITY—(To the Memory of a Friend)

[By S. S. Robinson.]

With greater glory now thy soul shall shine,— Shorn of its mortal habiliment of clay, Like precious ore brought from its dark confine, With all the baser substance fused away.

Or, as a stately flower in gardens fair, Crushed to the earth 'neath Time's relentless feet, Gives forth a sweeter fragrance to the air, So now thy spirit-being is complete.

Or, as a harp, with some discordant strings Touched by the master hand of Art Divine! Makes perfect music, as an angel sings, So now thy soul is harmony sublime.

JUDGE SEARLE TO PRESIDE.

Judge A. T. Searle has been called in to decide the county jail dispute at Scranton. He has fixed Saturday at 10 a. m. as a time for hearing argument in the case of Sheriff P. F. Connor against Lackawanna county.
