THE CITIZEN, FRIDAY, DEC. 15, 1911.

Grand Jury After "Inner Taft and Anti-Taft Men Start

DUAL LIFE OF J. J. M'NAMARA NEW SEES THE PRESIDENT.

Gircle" of Dynamiters.

Indianapolis, Dec. 14.-The federal trail for men of the "inner circle" who are said to have inspired the McNamara's and Ortie McManigal in their dynamiting exploits is declared to lead to eight cities in which live important labor leaders who are alleged to be advocates of the "direct action" which led to wholesale explosions. The federal grand jury, which met loday to continue its investigation of the ramifications of the "inner circle." will have presented to it, it is said, proof that there really were men "higher up" in labor circles who advocated the use of explosives in the war against capital.

Indictments against these eight men are confidently expected by the federal authorities in charge of the probe. Their names are being mentioned here freely, and it is admitted that each one is under surveillance. It is declared on excellent authority that the federal authorities have in their possession documents pointing so strongly to the guilt of these men that little doubt is expressed of their speedy indictment.

It is expected the grand jury will hear much indicating the dual personality of John J. McNamara. Women. some of whom have been subpoenaed. others who will be called later, will be compelled to reveal the habits of the so called "brains" of the dynamite conspiracy in so far as they may shed light on the planning and execution of the plots.

One woman, for whom the Burns detectives searched for weeks, was known in certain quarters as "Mrs. McNamara." Her child, whose parentage she attributed to John J. McNamara, is now five or six years old. For several years, according to reports of the invostigators, McNamara was devoted to this woman, and she possesses much information which will be of value in determining the extent of the dynamite conspiracy. Later she and McNamara had a faling out, and he charged that she was trying to blackmail him.

Republicans who are urging Colone Roosevelt to run again believe that the surest way of promoting the Roosevelt boom is for the former president himself to remain silent on the subject. There were indications that Mr. Taft's suporters were also appreciating this fact and that their efforts in the near future would be directed toward putting Colonel Roosevelt in a position where he will be obliged to say something personally on this subject. BUSY IN LOS ANGELES TOO.

Arrests of Labor Leaders Expected a Result of Disclosures.

Angeles, Cal., Dec. 14 .- Seven-Los teen men and women were witnesses before the federal grand jury in connection with its investigation of activities of the McNamaras, self confessed dynamiters. All of these were from San Francisco, and most of them told of having seen J. B. McNamara prior to the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building and subsequent to that disaster.

There are persistent rumors that arrests of prominent labor leaders are imminent as a result of the testimony given before the jury. J. E. Munsey, secretary of the Salt Lake City Structural Ironworkers' union, probably will go before the jury today. He is said to have harbored J. B. McNamara several weeks after the Times building was dynamited. Bert H. Franklin, the former deputy attempting to bribe Robert F. Bain, a juror in the McNamara case, was before Justice Young, and his preliminary examination on the latest charge brary at the White House reducing his was set for next Monday. He was re-

It is taken for granted that if the president reports that St. Petersburg still refuses to make concessions the senate will at once concur in the Sulzer resolution.

Representative McCall of Massachusetts spoke in opposition to it. Representative McCall expressed the opinion that the trouble should be adjusted by arbitration, declaring that as a matter of policy it was unwise to abrogate a treaty of amity in the way proposed. Representative Mann complained that the language employed was curt and impolitic. He objected specifically to the provision which set forth in terms that Russia has discriminated against American Jews. He urged that the language be softened so as not to give offense. Every motion that was made proposing a change in the resolution was defeated by a practically unanimous vote.

Nearly forty members of the house spoke in support of the Sulzer resolution
