

SPORTING GOSSIP

The New York Giants finished their Cuban trip by vanquishing the strong Almendares team in Havana by a score of 4 to 1. In the series McGraw's men won nine games and lost three, which is the best showing ever made by an American team in Cuba.

The Cubans had come to the belief that their teams were well nigh invincible, having triumphed over all the strong major league aggregations which invaded their island in the last few years. The Detroit team won some games from the islanders by scant margins last year, but the World's Champion Athletics lost six out of ten games to the Cubans.

However, the Athletics stacked up against the Cubans without Connie Mack, Eddie Collins, Frank Baker and Rube Oldring. Prior to their games with the Giants, the Cubans spent out the Phillies in a series of 22 battles.

The double umpire system will soon be in vogue in all organized baseball. The American Association and Eastern Leagues both adopted the scheme in 1911. The Pacific Coast, Southern, Western and Northwestern leagues have endorsed the policy for 1912. In a number of the class B circuits eight arbiters are employed.

Connie Mack plans the most strenuous training trip of his career for the world's champions next spring. Athletics will condition themselves at San Antonio, Tex., which is a bath city. Mack will follow the policy of McGraw of the Giants. He will take his youngsters South about February 20. The terms will report on March 1.

The Cubans in the recent Giant games were mostly interested in the title between "Big Six" Mathewson and Mendez, who is known on the island as "The Black Diamond" and the Black Mathewson." Were it not for Mendez's color he undoubtedly would be one of the greatest twirlers in the big leagues.

He has repeatedly stood American sters on their heads, and the games lost by him were few and far between. Last summer Mendez pitched for the Cuban Stars, which aggregated played many games with New York's crack semi-professional teams.

York wants Monte Cross for manager. So does Lynn, Mass.

Yale has cut Penn off its rowing list.

President Herrmann, of the National Baseball Commission, has presented for the time the publication of a report regarding the world's series bet-scandal which Ban Johnson, head of the American League, claims to have in his possession.

Fleider Jones is likely to be the president of the Northwestern League, in which case the league office will be transferred from Vancouver, B. C., to Portland, Ore. Jones consented to become a candidate for the office, and it is freely predicted that the one-time idol of Chicago will be elected unanimously.

Baseball magnates are still talking of a winter league, which would include Jacksonville, Tampa, Pensacola, and other Florida towns, and possibly Mobile and Savannah.

The Boston National League baseball club passed officially into new hands last week and during the coming season James E. Gaffney, of New York, and John M. Ward, the famous pitcher of the New York team twenty years ago, will direct its affairs.

Frank Baker, the home run hitter of the Athletic baseball team, is in the real estate. He has just bought the Baker farm, containing 100 acres on the Ferry road, near Apple, Md., for $4,300. This farm was formerly owned by Baker's father. Last week Baker bought a 200-acre farm situated just across the road from the Baker farm.

HERE'S A WAY TO SAVE DOCTOR BILLS.

Physicians Give Free Advice by Which Parents May Profit.

It was an association of gentlemen, professionally physicians and assistants, all of whom were born in a drug store, so to speak, and who have been connected with it all their lives, who first gave to the world a pleasant and effective remedy for the ailments of infants and children. It has always been recognized a meritorious preparation, and its use has been the greatest popularity, but by inherent merit. All parents put upon the market; attained not by flamboyant advertising or by deals in ignorance or vulgar prejudice, but by inherent merit. All physicians recommend it, and many of them, prescribe it.

Many parents call in the family physician. Many other parents take advantage of what the physician says when he was first called in consultation. All good family physicians say: "Give the children Castoria." Healthy parents know a remedy of old, for they took it themselves as children. It was more than thirty years ago that Castoria made a place for itself in the household. It bore the signature of Charles H. Fletcher then, as it does today. The signature is its guarantee, which is accepted in thousands of homes where there are children. Much is printed nowadays about families. Dr. William J. Mann, of Omaha, Neb., is the father of these much-read-about pills. Here is what he says:

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have, in my years of practice, found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Medical Journals are reluctant to discuss proprietary medicines. Hall's Journal of Health, however, says: "Our duty is to expose danger and record the means for advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health by regulating the system, not by stupefying it, and our readers are entitled to the information."

Always Room At The Top.

When it comes to a thirst for knowledge a great many men, and some women, are Prohibitionists.

How often we find a young man in a position of some trust who appears to be so thoroughly satisfied with his place that he never thinks of fitting himself for something more important and more remunerative.

Such a man is never ready when opportunity knocks at his door.

When he finds some one else promoted over him he is prone to lay the blame upon luck or "pull." He rarely sees that he himself is responsible for his stationary place in the commercial or professional activities of the world.

There is always room at the top, but he or she who never looks up invariably slips back in the long run.

Learn what the man ahead of you is doing. Learn to do that as well, if not to do better than he can, and you will find the knowledge not only a light burden but an enormous advantage in the fight for success.

As Theodore N. Vail says in Business Magazine: "Understand what you have to do and do it."—Oakland Inquirer.

Offer $500 For Best Poem.

The board of trustees and the council of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences have offered a prize of $500 for the best poem on the battle of Brooklyn to be written by a United States citizen and submitted to the Institute on or before October 1, 1912.

The poem shall include the main historical facts connected with the battle of Brooklyn. It shall not be less than three hundred lines or more than six hundred lines in length.

The poem shall be either typewritten or written in a legible hand, and four copies of the poem shall be submitted.

In case no poem is considered by the judges worthy of an award, payment shall be withheld. Such poem as may receive the award shall be the property of the Institute, to be published as the Institute may determine.

The award shall be made by the Institute on recommendation of a committee of three judges, consisting of Prof. Caleb T. Winchester, of Wesleyan University; Prof. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton; and Prof. Bliss Perry of Harvard.

DR. PALMERTON PRESENTED A FINE AUTOMOBILE.

Dr. R. K. Palmerton, Cannonsville's popular physician, is feeling pretty good natured these days, he being the possessor of a fine five-passenger Marmon touring car, presented him by Mrs. Anna Woerishoffer, mother of the unfortunate young lady who was killed in an automobile accident near Cannonsville last September. The car is the one which Miss Woerishoffer was driving at the time of the accident. It was shipped to New York where it was taken to a garage and thoroughly overhauled and repaired. The doctor received word from Mrs. Woerishoffer a few weeks ago that she intended presenting him with the car in consideration for his services and kindness at the time of her daughter's accident, and that she would ship it to him as soon as the repairs were made. The machine arrived last Friday and is as spick and span as new; in fact it is practically a new car, being of the 1911 model.—Deposit Courier-Journal.

No Joy Without Health.

Every man, woman and child are interested in what kind of foods they put into their stomachs. From half to two-thirds of the sickness and ill feelings people encounter are due to what they eat. A prominent physician said the other day, "How can people expect to enjoy good health while loading their systems with all kind of mixtures, many of them being poisonous?" The health and well being of the body should be among every individual's first considerations. It is impossible for anyone to enjoy life without good health. The writer believes, from his own experience, that it is possible for every person, by living as near to nature as possible and eating with regularity plainest kinds of foods properly prepared and cooked, to live in almost a perfect state of health. All wild things enjoy perfect health, why can't we? People contract colds and so-called attacks of grip, not by living in the open air, but in the foul and overheated and oxygen-robbd atmospheres of their homes, business places and shops. Artificial heat that is minus moisture and oxygen is positively a dangerous heat.

Many people suffer almost constantly from dull feelings and headaches, fills that children so often complain of returning home from school. The old-fashioned morning and afternoon recess in schools has been largely abandoned. This is a great mistake. There should be two brief recesses at every morning and afternoon session of school in order that the children might be able to fill their lungs with some health-giving atmosphere and escape for at least a brief period the poisonous and foul air of the schoolroom. Open or outdoor schools are being held in some of the western cities.

FOOD COMMISSIONER FOUST DECLARES MILK TO BE GOOD.

Exhaustive Tests Made by Department of Agriculture.

Exhaustive tests made by the Dairy and Food division of the State Department of Agriculture are accepted by Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust as indicating that the complaints against the milk standard fixed by the recent act of assembly are not well founded.

Six thousand samples were collected during three months by agents of the division and tested by experts to see whether they showed 3 1/2 per cent. butter fat and 12 per cent. solids in milk and 18 per cent. butter fat in cream, as required by the new law. The fact that the samples taken in 70 cities and towns were up to the standard convinces the state officials that the standard is not too high. As a result any attempt to induce the next legislature to modify the law will be vigorously opposed.

"It is a notorious fact," said Commissioner Foust, "that the people of Pennsylvania have been buying and paying for a very inferior quality of milk during the recent years. It is equally well known that much of the milk has left the dairyman in good condition. But some of the distributors, a good many of them, have made a practice of tampering with the milk, to their own profit and the disadvantage of the consumer. It was for the purpose chiefly of getting at these dishonest middle men that the law was enacted and it will be rigidly enforced. Knowledge of this was already resulted in a marked improvement in the quality of milk on sale throughout the state, but the average must be better yet."
