

HARRY N. ATWOOD.

Aviator Whose Maine Flight Ends In an Ocean Dip.

Boston, Jan. 2.—Instead of making a flight from the Point of Pines to Portland, Me., Harry N. Atwood, the aviator, dropped into the chilly waters of Lynn harbor and had a narrow escape from drowning. He was rescued by the crew of a fishing launch.

Atwood got up only a few feet when his motor suddenly stopped, and the fresh wind whirled the aeroplane tail to and started to carry it out over the bay. Atwood made frantic efforts to get his engine working again, and finally it popped a few times. The machine struck the water about 300 yards offshore, and the aviator almost immediately discovered that one of the pontoons was leaking and the machine was sinking.

Atwood began undressing and throwing his clothes into the sea and was on the point of diving free from the machine and trying to swim through the freezing waves when two Italian fishermen came alongside in their power boat.

TELL OF GAEKWAR'S ACTION.

Indian Prince Actually Snubbed King at Delhi.

London, Jan. 2.—More light was shed on the conduct of the gaekwar of Baroda at the recent durbar at Delhi when the king-emperor took formal possession of his Indian empire. As recent dispatches have told, the Indian ruler, who ranks as one of the foremost of Indian chiefs, actually snubbed the king and queen when it came time for his recognition of the rulership. The gaekwar is noted for his unconventional doings; also he figured a week or so ago in a divorce suit.

The latest advices received state that the Indian ruler was dressed in plain white, more unceremonious than a butler. Instead of bowing deeply three times in a backward movement from the throne, the gaekwar gave a curt nod to their majesties and turned his back to them.

A previous dispatch stated that the Indian ruler was made to apologize for his conduct.

COMPLAINS OF BOYCOTT.

Grain Dealer Sues Fifty-two Buffalo Brokerage Firms.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 2.—Richard S. Patterson, a grain dealer, who says he has been boycotted and blacklisted, signed papers in a suit against the Corn Exchange of Buffalo and fifty-two milling concerns, brokerage firms and others of Buffalo and vicinity.

Attorney General Wickersham has directed that there shall be a hearing of the case before the United States circuit court for the western district of New York in Buffalo Thursday.

Patterson asks $150,000 damages. He says that he has been engaged for several years in buying grain in Buffalo. He now says that the fifty-three defendants conspired to ruin his business, that he was blacklisted on the Buffalo corn exchange, and as he cannot buy there now his business suffers because he must buy at more distant points.

TO STUDY HIS PRICES.

American Economists Propose International Commission.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Acting in accordance with a resolution adopted at one of the branch meetings of the American Economic association held here last week, Professor Irving Fisher of Yale university today brought to the attention of the president the proposal for the creation of an international commission to study the cost of living.

This plan has been publicly endorsed by Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, Crawford of South Dakota and Smoot of Utah. It has the support of many of the leading economists of Europe.

To Get Rockefeller's $100,000.

Greenacres, Ind., Jan. 2.—Subscriptions to the endowment fund of De Pauw university exceeded the $400,000 necessary to obtain $100,000 from John D. Rockefeller. Dr. Sak a Towne, who directed the money raising campaign for the university, said the total subscriptions, including everything, amounted to $541,000 and that most of the money has been raised by the 700 Methodist churches in the state.

TRAGEDY OF LOVE.

Boy of Seventeen Shoots Girl and Then Himself.

QUIT ANSWERING HIS LETTERS

At Waverly, N. Y., Nina Lawrence, Though Gravely Wounded, Feels Sorry For Boy Who Tried to Kill Her—Parents of Levis Take His Body Home to Detroit.

Waverly, N. Y., Jan. 2.—A seventeen-year-old boy shot a girl of his own age with whom he was in love and then blew his brains out in front of the First Presbyterian church here. The girl, who was shot in the throat, is lying in a serious condition in her home on Chemung street.

Young Barrett Levis, who did the shooting, was visiting his grandmother, who lives here. The Levis family comes from Detroit. He met Nina Lawrence, who is one of the leaders among the young people here last summer. Barrett fell in love with the girl, and they started a correspondence. After a few months, however, her letters became less frequent, and, although Barrett kept up his end, the answers from the girl finally ceased.

Then Barrett came on from Detroit, and at a dance here a few nights ago he saw Miss Lawrence again. He had taken another girl to the dance, but at the sight of Miss Lawrence he forgot all about his partner.

He monopolized her dance card and when he went back to his grandmother's home did nothing but talk about the girl. Barrett was to have gone home on New Year's eve, but he pleaded with his grandmother for another day at Waverly, and she arranged it for him.

Nina Lawrence and a girl friend started to a meeting at the Presbyterian church, but when they reached the door Miss Lawrence told her friend that her head ached and suggested a walk.

As they turned they met Levis. He was very nervous and pale and asked Miss Lawrence if she would walk with him alone for a minute. She said afterward that they walked around the block, and when they came in the shadows of the church again he turned and asked her if she cared anything for him. She told him that she did not and never could. Then, according to the girl, the boy clapped a hand to his pocket and said, "I'm going to kill you."

The girl said that the boy had fired point blank at her four times. She had dropped at the first shot, and the other bullets had gone over her. The first shot had struck her in the cheek and lodged somewhere in the back of the throat. Barrett shot himself through the head. He was taken to his grandmother's home and there died.

Surgeons worked over the girl, but were unable to locate the bullet. They think that she may recover. At no time has she manifested anything but curiosity about the motives that led Levis to shoot her, and several times she has told the doctors that she felt sorry for the boy.

Levis' father and mother came from Detroit to take away the body of their boy, who was an only son.

PRAISE TAFT PEACE PLANS.

Diplomats Accredited to France Speak of Arbitration.

Paris, Jan. 2.—The diplomatic corps paid their customary New Year's visit to President Fallieres. Sir Francis L. Bortle, the British ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, in a short speech on behalf of his colleagues referred to President Taft's arbitration proposals. He said: "It is to be hoped that the generous initiative of President Taft in favor of the extension of arbitration of international questions will produce increasingly greater results in the coming years. The countries we represent are convinced that France is a power of the auxiliary toward obtaining such results."

President Fallieres in replying said, "President Taft's valuable adhesion to the principle of arbitration is a matter of congratulation for us as well as you."

M'MANIGAL TO INDIANA.

Dynamiter on Way East to Repeat His Confession.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 2.—Ortie McManigal is on his way to Indianapolis the dynamiter whose confession spelled prison for the McNamara was taken from the county jail by Under-sheriff Robert Brain and Malcolm McLaren, personal representative of Detective Burns. Secrecy surrounded all the preparations for the trip. It is supposed the automobile in which they left was driven to some station east of Los Angeles, where the party boarded an eastbound train.

Detective McLaren said that the case against the labor leaders arrested Saturday depends largely on what McManigal has told and the papers seized in Indianapolis in the international headquarters of the ironworkers.

Member of American Tennis Team Playing in Australia.

Christchurch, N. S. W., Jan. 2.—The matches for the Davis tennis cup, the premier honor in the tennis world, began here. The weather was splendid and the attendance large.

The American players lost the two first single matches. Norman E. Brookes, captain of the Australian team, defeated Beals Wright, 3 to 1, the score being 6-4, 2-6, 6-3. R. W. Heath, also of the Australian team, beat Larned 3 to 1. The score was 2-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-2.

KILLS SON-IN-LAW.

Alabama Woman Confesses to Murder of Fred Wasserleben.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 2.—Mrs. Mary T. Godeau is in one cell, her son, Willie Green, in another, and her daughter, Theresa Virginia Wasserleben, is in still another at the county jail charged with murder, the victim being Fred Wasserleben, husband of the latter, and for some time a member of the Mobile police department.

The body, in police uniform, was found in a pond some distance from the house in Mohawk avenue, where it had been hauled and thrown after the crime was committed on Saturday night during a heavy rainfall.

Mrs. Godeau confessed to killing her son-in-law, claiming he tried to assault her in his room, and after she beat him off he fired at but missed her. He then threw the pistol on the bed. Seizing the weapon she fired a bullet into his forehead. When the body fell on the floor she sent two more bullets into his body. She then claimed, after her children had gone to bed, to have tied a rope around the man's neck, dragged the body downstairs, placed it in a wagon, carted it to the pond and threw it in. Returning, she tried to wash away the bloodstains.

Nine years ago Mrs. Godeau's husband was killed on a rainy night in his home at Cottage Hill, and his body was found in a lot nearby. His life was insured. A previous husband, Charles Stein, was mysteriously killed, as was a son-in-law, all at the homes of Mrs. Godeau. Wasserleben had $7,000 insurance.

MERRITT LEADS IN RACE.

Unless Koenig Springs "Dark Horse" Opposition Is Lost.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Unless the Brooklyn Republican leaders, headed by Samuel S. Koenig, infuse new life in the boom of Charles A. Dana for speaker of the assembly or uncover a "dark horse" who will develop unexpected strength Edwin A. Merritt, Jr., appears to have a safe majority of the votes.

Mr. Dana has arrived at Albany after a trip through the up state counties. "I have not asked for a single vote," he said. "I have found, however, a feeling in many places that the party should elect a speaker who was above criticism."

WOLGAST AGAIN ILL.

Lightweight Champion Threatened With Pneumonia.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 2.—Ad Wolgast, champion lightweight pugilist, is seriously ill at the home of his manager, Tom Jones, at Venice, being threatened with pneumonia. He contracted a serious cold on an automobile trip.

The day before his scheduled fight Thanksgiving day, at Vernon, with Freddie Welsh, Wolgast underwent an operation for appendicitis.

TUFTS STUDENT A SUICIDE.

Albert D. Pecker, a Junior, Ends Life With Gas.

Boston, Jan. 2.—Albert David Pecker, a Tufts college student from Marblehead and a member of the junior class, was found dead in bed at West Hall. The body was fully dressed. The gas jet was turned on. It was a case of suicide.

No cause is known for Pecker's action.

Shy at Turkish Cabinet.

Constantinople, Jan. 2.—The report that Said Pasha had succeeded in forming a cabinet which included nearly all the members of the old ministry is premature. The grand vizier is experiencing the greatest difficulty in forming a new cabinet.

State Lines.

One hundred years is the estimated life of the oil and gas fields of Oklahoma.

The petroleum area of Pennsylvania covers 2,000 square miles, and the gas area is 2,730 square miles, in which she excels all other states.

New York shows the greatest water-power development of any of the states, due in a great measure to the harnessing of Niagara. The state has 6,513 wheels, generating 885,862 horsepower.

WILL AID RICHESON.

Mother of Girl Accused Minister Was to Weo Will Testify.

Boston, Jan. 2.—Mrs. Moses Grant Edmunds, mother of the young woman who was to have married the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, will, it is believed, play an important part for the defense when the young minister goes on trial for the murder of Avis Linnell. Mrs. Edmunds, accompanied by her husband, held a lengthy conference with Attorney William A. Morse.

It is the first time she has visited the lawyers defending the accused murderer. For an hour she remained in the private office of Mr. Morse discussing various phases of the case. During this period Mr. Edmunds remained in the outer office. He was called into the conference, however, and remained closeted with Mr. Morse and Mrs. Edmunds for nearly an hour.

Richeson's senior counsel, John L. Lee of Lynchburg, Va., is here.

"Our plans may be somewhat modified by the developments of the last two weeks," Mr. Lee said. "Richeson is innocent and will be acquitted. I have kept in touch with the case since I went away, and my opinion as to the outcome has not changed."

REBELS ATTACK HANKOW.

Fighting Still In Progress, With Result Unknown.

Peking, Jan. 2.—Revolutionists to the number of 4,000 made an attack upon Hankow. The fighting is still in progress.

The city of Hankow was taken from the rebels some time ago by the imperialist troops, and later stories declared that the rebels were intent upon recapturing it.
