—Half a million dollars damage is the rough estimate of a fire which razed a section of the business district of Halifax, N. S., recently. The fire, driven by a fierce gale, threatened several nearby hotels and the Nova Scotia legislature building, but was soon put under control.

—Traffic on the Erie's Wyoming division was delayed Thursday on account of the derailment of a coal car at Kimbles. Train 30 was half an hour late on arrival at Port Jervis. Several cars were derailed and smashed up at Campbell Hall on the Erie and Jersey late on Thursday night. There were no personal injuries.

—Judge Searle addressing the constables of Wayne county this week said when you see people on the streets intoxicated, Sunday nights, it means somebody has violated the liquor laws. It may be somewhat embarrassing for constables and saloon keepers to have a judge with wide open eyes living in the same town with them, but it also may have an excellent effect on the community.—Pike County Press.

—Allen, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Boyd of Thirteenth street, was taken to Scranton, Friday by his parents and operated upon by Dr. Reed Burns for an ailment of one of his legs. The little fellow had just recovered from chickenpox and it is believed that some of the poison of the disease settled in his leg. Under the knee puss had formed. Last reports bring encouraging news. Dr. Burns claiming that the chances for recovery are good. This is exceedingly glad news for his many Honesdale relatives and friends.

—There seems to be a strong sentiment in this section in favor of giving the Republican nomination for one of the four to be elected Congressmen-at-Large, to Homer Greene, Esq., of Honesdale, Wayne county, a gentleman widely known as an able lawyer, a scholar and an honest man. No better or cleaner nomination could be made. Mr. Greene is not only worthy of the appellations just given him, but of any and all that could be given a brainy, upright, far-seeing, kindly citizen. This is not froth, but facts, and it is a distinct loss to this Congressional district that he wasn't seated in the National capital, years ago. He is "B" in all respects.—Nicholson Record.

—The "Anitas," a singing orchestra composed of ladies, is the attraction booked for the Lyric for Tuesday evening, Jan. 23. Their unique program is made up of orchestral music of choruses, of instrumental and vocal solos, duets, trios, quartets and readings. The repertoire is varied. It includes songs of both Grand and Light Opera, classic and popular music. This company was secured through the Redpath-Brockway Lyceum Bureau, which is a guarantee in itself of the merits of the attraction, the "Hussars," the "Le Brun" Grand Opera Co., the "Dixie" Chorus and the "Dunbars," bell ringers, were all booked through the same office and they certainly pleased their audiences in every instance. The "Anitas" will equally please the patrons of the Lyric on next Tuesday evening. Seat sale starts at 9 a. m., Monday, January 22.

—The Wyoming Seminary basketball team defeated the Rink Five at the rink on Friday. Score: 17 to 15.

Death of Mrs. Mang.

Mrs. John Mang, a well known resident of Pike street, Carbondale, died Saturday at Emergency hospital after a week's sickness. She was aged 26 years and a life-long resident of that city.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, her mother, Mrs. Walter Cannon; two sisters, Anna and Mary Cannon, and the following brothers: James, Patrick, Charles, Thomas, Roderick, Roland and Ralph Cannon. The funeral took place Tuesday morning from the home on Pike street. The cortege left the house at 9:30 o'clock and after a requiem mass in St. Rose's church, interment was made in St. Rose cemetery.

Mrs. John Mang is a sister-in-law of Philip Mang, constable of Texas township, and she has many friends here who will mourn her loss.

Mrs. Jacob Balles Dead.

Mrs. Jacob Balles died at her home at 325 Green street, Honesdale, at 3 o'clock p. m. on Saturday. Death occurred as a result of old age, deceased having been 72 years, 4 months.

Anna Marie Howe was born in Prussia, Germany, on September 2, 1839. After her father's death early in her life, she came with her mother to America and they took residence in Mongaup, N. Y. She was then twelve years of age. Soon after they came to Honesdale and have made this place their home since.

On the 13th of June, 1861, she was united in marriage to Philip Balles of Honesdale. If she had lived, they would have reached the 50th year in their wedded life.

Mrs. Balles was a woman of remarkable character, and loved by all who knew her. She was a kind and loving mother to her children and a kind neighbor. She is survived by her bereaved husband, and the following children: Peter Balles and Mrs. Frank Brunner of Honesdale; John Balles, of Port Jervis, N. Y.; Jacob, Martha, Margaret, William and Henry at home; Mrs. William Baroin, of Newark, N. J. The funeral was held at St. Mary Magdalene's Catholic church, of which she was a devoted member, on Wednesday morning, January 17, at 9:30 o'clock, by Dr. Barta officiating. After a requiem mass interment was made in the German Catholic cemetery.

Five Killed in a Joy Ride. Three girls and two young men were killed early today when a heavy touring car, in which they were taking a joy ride in the almost zero weather, skidded and plunged through the ice on the power canal at Brookville, three miles from Trenton, New Jersey. The left rear wheel, not protected by a skid chain, collapsed as the overloaded car swerved around the second turn of a sharp "S" curve. Then it swerved up the opposite bank and ricocheted across the road and plunged through the ice backwards. Owner and driver escaped.

A Millionaire Just For a Day. John J. McDevitt left his boarding house in Wilkes-Barre on Friday and for twenty-four hours he lived like the most extravagant millionaire. His day cost him more than $1000. He paid $600 for a special train which carried him to New York for dinner and a trip to the theatre.

McDevitt stepped magnificently aboard the $600 special about noon on Friday, with a negro valet, and accompanied by Johnnie Lenahan, his secretary. Then casting off his top coat and his dressy frock coat, he slipped on a smoking jacket and stretched himself out in comfort and luxury. He smoked the costliest cigars, and read the brightest magazines, and took lunch at what ever hour he pleased and was delivered in New York to be frisked in a burnished limousine to a hotel where he partook of a dinner that made a $100 dent in his roll. After dinner he went to see a Broadway production. After a midnight luncheon he retired. John J. McDevitt returned to Wilkes-Barre. There he "chucked" the millionaire staff. He got off his special train and took a plebian trolley car back to his modest lodging house. All this just to feel like a millionaire for a day.

Complimentary Words for Mr. Barlow. Concerning Jesse C. Barlow, one of the lessees of the Wayne Hotel, at this place, the Republican Watchman, of Monticello, N. Y., in their issue of the 12th, says:

"Under Sheriff Jesse C. Barlow is about to engage in the hotel business at Honesdale, Pa. He has rented Hotel Wayne, a popular hotel stand at that place, and will move his family and effects this week. Mrs. Barlow is already packing their household effects."

"Mr. Barlow has been Under Sheriff under Republican and Democratic administrations for the past eight years. He has been a most accommodating and faithful servant of the county, and the Watchman regrets his change of residence. He will make a splendid landlord, and his pleasant wife and two charming daughters are well fitted for their part of the business."

Murray, merchant, Honesdale; B. H. Rutledge, merchant, Lebanon; James Watson, blacksmith, Buckingham.

The Calendar for the term was gone over. Frank P. Kimble, Esq., made an application to the Court for a continuance in the case of the Commonwealth versus Chas. J. Stevens, on the ground that a four-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens is severely ill. Under the circumstances the Court granted the continuance prayed for.

Mrs. Amanda H. Singer, the prosecutrix, who occupied a front seat in the Court Room, burst into tears, when she learned that the case had been again continued, saying she had just come out of the hospital a week ago Wednesday. According to the statement of the District Attorney Mrs. Singer claims to be extremely nervous, and as the result of this alleged assault, and was very anxious to get through with it. "She's afraid she'll go crazy," is the way she put it," remarked Mr. Simons.

The case of the Commonwealth versus Charles Riley indicted on the charge of false pretense, was put over until next term. The case of the Commonwealth versus Louis Kelly and Joseph Henday, indicted for robbery, Meyer Krasvitz, prosecutor, was also continued.

When the Civil list was taken up E. C. Mumford, Esq., informed the Court that the case of E. K. Airey and P. A. Spencer, trading as Airey and Spencer, had been settled.

The case of George R. Tiffany vs. C. D. Sands was continued on application of the plaintiff's attorney, Mayor Chas. A. McCarty, who informed the Court that all his files had been burned in the Sunday morning "Red Stone Front fire." The case of Mamert Walentynowicz against Minnie Allen and William Allen was continued on application of the plaintiff, owing to the absence of an important witness. The case of Theodore Tellep vs. Jack Chapiak was listed for trial, Wednesday.

The case of Lewis S. Town vs. Chauncey A. and Eugene H. Cortright was continued on application of the defendant. The case of Charles Wood, adm'r of Eliza Wood versus James Stewart and Nancy Stewart, was continued by agreement of attorneys, owing to the destruction by fire of Mayor Chas. A. McCarty's papers. The case of Emma Conley vs. Kate McKenna was listed for trial.

Six Masters Appointed. The Court, appointed six masters, as follows: In the case of Walter A. Tanner, libellant, versus Maud Tanner, respondent, M. E. Simons, Esq., was appointed master. In the case of Gertrude J. Hale, libellant, versus James E. Hale, respondent, R. M. Stocker, Esq., was appointed master. In the case of Lillian M. Connor, libellant, versus George W. Connor, respondent, Herman Harms, Esq., was appointed master.

In the case of Sadie Pohle, libellant, versus Fred Pohle, respondent, F. P. Kimble, Esq., was appointed master. In the case of Mary C. Lehman, libellant, versus Christian Lehman, respondent, Chas. A. McCarty, Esq., was appointed master. In the case of Nellie E. Rashley, libellant versus Frank Rashley, respondent, Homer Greene, Esq., was appointed master.

In the matter of the adoption by J. W. Rohrbacher and Annie Rohrbacher, Sterling township, of Leon Rohrbacher, son of Mary Rohrbacher, the petition of the applicant was granted.

The order for sale of real estate of C. J. Weaver, dec'd, was returned and confirmed nisi, confirmation absolute to follow unless exceptions are filed within four days. On Dec. 20, 1911, the property was sold to H. B. Ely, W. F. Riefler and E. C. Mumford for the sum of $600.

In the case of Vere B. Stone, F. J. Stone and W. E. Perham, executors of H. K. Stone, for the satisfaction of a mortgage, versus May Stanton Balwin, given by Warren L. Case and Mariah H. Case to Geo. W. Rockwell, May Stanton Baldwin and Peter Palin, executors of the last will of L. N. Stanton, to secure the payment of $250, an order was made that satisfaction be entered in the Recorder's office.

Court adjourned at 2:53 p. m. to meet Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, when it is likely two of the cases of the Commonwealth versus G. W. Swartz, will be tried. The trial of these cases will probably occupy the entire day, and will be marked by a notable array of legal talent on both sides. For the prosecution, District Attorney M. E. Simons will be assisted by E. C. Mumford, Esq., and by John T. Scragg, of Scranton. Mr. Swartz will be defended by Lawyer Frank P. Kimble assisted by R. H. Holgate, Scranton.

TYLER HILL.

(Special to The Citizen.)

Tyler Hill, Pa., Jan. 13.
