

ONE DEAD IN RIOTS

Italian Woman Victim of Stray Bullet.

MORE TROOPS TO LAWRENCE.

During Fight Between Strikers and Police and Militia Woman Is Shot and Patrolman Injured—No Clew to Person Who Fired Fatal Bullet—Foss Acts Again.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 30.—After two hours of rioting, during which the wooden and cotton mill strikers had full control of the streets of this city, there was a pitched battle between the police and militia on one side and about 1,000 strikers near the Everett mills.

The affray resulted in the killing of an Italian woman who was standing on the sidewalk, the stabbing of Patrolman Oscar Benoit and sore heads for many of the rioters, who were finally put to flight.

The woman killed was the victim of senseless shooting by one of the mobs, who seemed to be taking great joy in firing revolver bullets into the ground on the opposite side of Union street from the woman. His identity is not known, and no arrests have been made. Neither the police nor militiamen fired a shot during the battle, and it is believed that the woman was killed by a bullet which glanced off a stone in the street. Patrolman Benoit was not seriously injured.

Governor Foss in Boston has ordered out twelve more companies of infantry, two troops of cavalry and fifty metropolitan police for the purpose of assisting in maintaining order at Lawrence. All the companies arrived in Lawrence early this morning. As there were eight companies on duty and three local companies who can be called upon at a moment's notice, there will be in the vicinity of 1,400 officers and men in Lawrence today.

DYNAMITE PROBE NEAR END.

Federal Grand Jury Expected to Return Thirty Indictments.

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—According to the present understanding, the federal grand jury which has been investigating dynamiting outrages for more than a month will complete its labors and adjourn either Thursday afternoon or Friday. It is expected that thirty indictments at least will be returned by that body, and it is said to be the plan of the government officials to have the arrests all made as nearly at the same time as possible. The warrants will be sent out to the several districts in which the indicted men reside, and local arrests. It is said, will not be made until there has been time in other districts to serve the warrants.

For more than two weeks stenographers and typewriters have been busy in the private offices of the district attorney preparing the indictments as they have been ordered by the grand jury, and while the names of the indicted men will not be given out until arrests are made, it is known that the grand jury has voted to indict some, and a number against whom the evidence is very strong are yet to be voted on.

HENRY STIRS UP FINANCIERS.

Texas Would Have House Look Into Banks and Corporations.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The seriousness to business interests of the country of the threatened inquiry into the so called money trust is just beginning to be realized by officials in Washington. No attempt is made to conceal the fact that this proposition has stirred up a fight between the Bryan and anti-Bryan men in the house that will be waged to a finish.

The situation over the proposed money trust investigation became acute when Representative Henry of Texas, a Bryan leader, presented a resolution providing for an inquiry that will affect national banks, railroads, industrial corporations and every combination and individual that has anything to do with financial affairs in the great cities of the country. His resolution is much more sweeping than that introduced by Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota, which up to this time has been the sole object of discussion in connection with the money trust agitation.

The proposed inquiry will be made the subject of a Democratic caucus.

Berlin, Jan. 30.—The Tageblatt hints that Count Wolf-Metternich, the German ambassador at London, may be replaced. Such a change, it says, would have a far-reaching effect on the relations between Great Britain and Germany. Prince Henry of Prussia, the paper says, may possibly be made ambassador.

TAFT OPENS CAMPAIGN.

President Defends Administration in Speech at Cleveland.

Cleveland, Jan. 30.—President Taft made a ringing political speech here at the McKinley day banquet of the Tippecanoe club.

He vigorously defended his administration and declared that the Republican party under his leadership had fulfilled the pledges made in the last national platform. Mr. Taft's speech practically marks the opening of the Republican national campaign, and it will undoubtedly be used as the key-note of the political spellbinders. He declared that the Republican party was backed by a strong record, and the rank and file of the Republican party should have no fear of the outcome of the next presidential election.

Mr. Taft defended the tariff legislation and insisted that all tariff legislation should be "intelligent and not destructive." The president justifies the prosecutions of the giant monopolistic corporations under the Sherman anti-trust law.

In matters of foreign policy the president declared that the administration has every reason for congratulation. He cited the new Japanese treaty, the Honduras and Nicaragua loan connections and the arbitration treaties as meritorious diplomatic projects. In conclusion, President Taft denounced the recall of the judiciary. It would be better for the Republican party to suffer defeat than adopt such a proposal.

AUNT DELIA TO WASHINGTON

Miss Torrey Will Visit Favorite Nephew at White House.

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 30.—Miss Delia C. Torrey of Millbury, aunt of President Taft, will leave her home some time this week and make a trip to Washington, where she will be the guest at the White House of her favorite nephew and his wife.

Miss Torrey, who is nearing the age of ninety, has done but little traveling the present winter on account of the extreme cold weather, but says she will go to Washington this week to answer to the earnest invitation of the president and Mrs. Taft.

It is expected that Miss Torrey will remain in Washington for several weeks and in all probability will be accompanied back the latter part of March by her nephew, the president.

DUKE OF FIFE DIES.

Exposure When Steamer Delhi Was Wrecked the Cause.

Assuan, Upper Egypt, Jan. 30.—The Duke of Fife, brother-in-law of King George of England, is dead here.

The duke had been suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy, which resulted from exposure when the steamer Delhi was wrecked off Cape Spartel on Dec. 12, and physicians say this caused his death.

The Duchess of Fife and her two daughters, who also were saved from the sinking steamer Delhi after three sailors had lost their lives in an attempt at the rescue, were at the duke's bedside.

Gage, marriage license clerk, expressing a desire to be put in communication with the twelve Lansing (Mich.) bachelors who wrote two weeks ago asking for brides to settle with them on western Washington lands.

PASS STEEL BILL.

House Adopts Revision Measure, 210 to 109.

GETS INSURGENTS SUPPORT.

While Twenty Republicans Joined Majority, Two Democrats Opposed Bill. Wild Scenes in House When Underwood Asserts Power Despite Republican Protests.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The Democratic bill revising the iron and steel bill of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law was passed by the house by a vote of 210 to 109. The Republican minority became indignant at the refusal of Majority Leader Underwood to permit unlimited discussion of the free list paragraph in the measure and by numerous amendments and ceaseless calls for "division and tellers" succeeded in delaying action on the bill for several hours.

On final passage twenty Republicans and Representative Berger of Wisconsin, the lone Socialist, voted with the Democrats for the measure. The Republicans were Jackson, Murdock and Young of Kansas, Alkin of New York, Davis and Lindbergh of Minnesota, Haugen, Woods and Hubbard of Iowa, Warburton and La Follette of Washington, Leuroot, Moore and Nelson of Wisconsin, Norris, Sloan and Kinkaid of Nebraska, Kent and Stephens of California, Lafferty of Oregon and Helgeson of North Dakota.

The Democrats—Martin Tucker and Taylor of Colorado—voted with the Republicans against the steel bill. In the Democratic caucus held a week ago to endorse the measure these members explained that they were pledged to their constituents to vote for higher duties on lead and zinc than were provided by the bill and were excused from being bound by the caucus action.

The scenes in the house just before voting by the roll call were disorderly in the extreme. Minority Leader Mann had repeatedly protested against the course of Majority Leader Underwood in moving to cut off debate on each paragraph and amendment before all the Republican members who had expressed a desire to speak had an opportunity to do so, and when Mr. Underwood, unable to induce Mr. Mann to agree to limit debate to what he considered a reasonable time, finally started the steam roller working and moved that the bill be put on its final passage there were jeers and cat calls from the Republican side, which were answered with interest by yells and cheers from the Democrats. Mr. Underwood's original motion that the committee of the whole arise and report the bill to the house was carried, 107 to 87. His motion that the previous question be ordered went through on a record vote, 133 to 116.

Then Representative Payne of New York, senior Republican member of the ways and means committee, moved to recommit the bill with instructions that it be kept in the ways and means committee until the report of the tariff board on the iron and steel schedule came to the house from President Taft. This motion was jeered by the Democrats and was defeated, 108 to 205. Then came Mr. Underwood's motion that the bill be finally passed, which went through, 210 to 109.

The bill now goes to the senate. The Democrats expect to have the support of the insurgent Republicans in that body and to send the bill to President Taft in practically its present form.

HERRICK FOR TAFT MANAGER

Washington, Jan. 30.—An Ohio man will have charge of the Taft headquarters that are soon to be opened here for the purpose of promoting the campaign for the re-nomination of Mr. Taft. Myron T. Herrick, former governor of Ohio, and Arthur I. Vorys, who managed the Taft campaign in Ohio in 1908, are the men now being considered for this place.

President Taft was scheduled for a long conference with Mr. Herrick in Cleveland, and it is understood that Mr. Herrick's availability for this place was one of the subjects discussed at that conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Kays spent Sunday at the home of H. M. Page.

Much sympathy is expressed for the family of the late Thomas Burcher whose seemingly untimely death occurred on last Saturday morning at his home at Fallsdale, Pa.

Olive Calkin died Sunday evening at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Calkin, at Forderdale, N. Y. The funeral was held from Milanville Wednesday afternoon.

Messrs. Lassley and Carthuser attended lodge at Callicon last Friday evening. Mr. Carthuser was recently initiated in the Masonic rites.

The Epworth League held a picnic on Friday last.

Rev. Meyer could not fulfill his appointment here on Sunday last because of the serious illness of his wife who, at the present writing, is critically ill with pneumonia.

Probably no where in the state is there a better opening or a greater need for at least two good physicians than in this community. No physician can be obtained during the night as Dr. Appley who has served the public so faithfully for so many years, had to consider his own health. Dr. Many made many friends and built up a good practice while at Tyler Hill and all regret his misfortune. There is a big territory and people are generally willing to pay their doctor bills and it seems pitiful that people must die for lack of medical attention in this day and generation.

The Citizen has no "sighted" pages. For the benefit of our advertisers, if no other reason, we try to put readable matter on every page. We note this for two reasons: First, that our readers may learn to read all the pages; second, that our advertisers may feel that there are no poor pages. For instance, today's issue:

Page 1—A complete account and summary of the doings of the town and county in general; including "Special Dispatches" of the day's doings.

Page 2—"Clipped from Our Contemporaries," interesting notes taken from our exchanges; besides a vast amount of other good reading matter.

NURSE HIS BRIDE.

Millionaire's Son Defies Father to Wed.

HUSBAND HER FIRST PATIENT.

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—Morton McTurk of this city, son of W. R. McTurk, millionaire coal operator, has defied his parents and eloped with a pretty nurse, Miss Teresa Audibert, who brought him back to health at the American Stomach hospital several months ago.

McTurk is twenty-three years old, and Mrs. McTurk, who was a nurse at the hospital where she met her husband less than a year ago, is twenty-one.

Miss Audibert lived in Shirley street, in which little thoroughfare McTurk's automobile was found most often after he left the hospital. After a series of quarrels with his father and threats of disinheritance McTurk wheeled his automobile into the little street on the evening of Jan. 18.

He put Miss Audibert into the machine, told her mother they were going for a spin and ordered the chauffeur to put on all speed for Hainesport, N. J. At Hainesport, McTurk and Miss Audibert spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Middleton, and the next morning they drove to Burlington, where they were married in St. Mary's church.

The marriage was in violation of the wishes of the elder McTurk, who wished his son to wait another year. He was offered every inducement, even to being taken into partnership with his father, but he declined. He was sent to Atlantic City under the watchful eyes of relatives, but he managed to avoid them and returned to Philadelphia.

Miss Audibert received her diploma only a year ago, and her husband was her very first patient.

Morton McTurk is the son of a coal operator who has a net worth of $10,000,000.
