OLDEST PLAYERS IN AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Honor is held by "Kid" Eiberfeld—Other Old Timers.

The Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune says that of all the 200 players who were in the American League the season of 1901, the year when the younger organization really made its bid for equal honors with the national, only three are slated for American League berths as players during the campaign of 1912. And, curiously, each of the three is still regarded as a star in his department of the game and expected to deliver goods even as brilliantly as he did several years ago. Nap Lajoie, Cleveland, Eddie Plank of the Athletics and Billy Sullivan of the White Sox, are the three survivors. It is likely to survive several more seasons in fast company.

In 1901 Lajoie was with the Athletics, but the following spring joined the Naps, of which team he has been member ever since. Plank, however, has remained with the Athletics these years, Philadelphia, being the only big league club to which he belonged. Sullivan has been league's mainstay behind the bat of its manager one year.

Should Norman Eiberfeld be retained by Washington, he will be the fourth survivor of the American league's inaugural as a big circuit. Eiberfeld, in fact, has served longer the American than any other player, he being a member of the Detroit club in 1900, the sole player of that year to be still in the Ban Johnson organization. But the "Kid" is tied for the minors.

Aside from the four mentioned, there are others who were big league players in 1901 who cast their fortunes with the American the following year and have been in that circuit ever since. For instance, Sam Crawford was with Cincinnati in 01. He has been a star Tiger ever since. Bobby Wallace and Jack Wells were with the Cardinals that year, coming over to the more aggressive league the following spring. He was also in 1902 that Doc White and Bill Donovan decided the National League and joined the White Sox and Tigers. Tom Hughes and Max Hartsel were members of the Chicago Nationals in 1901 and went over to the American to start the campaign of 1902. Hartsel has just returned for the minors, but Tom Hughes, after an absence of one year, is again in the American.

Ty Young went over in 1902, but a National leaguer once more. Arley Hemphill, Jimmy Callahan and Matty McIntyre are three others to come close to getting into the major list. Hemphill, however, is in the same class as Hartsel, retiring to become manager of a minor league club while McIntyre, a member of the Athletics in 1901, served a season or so at Buffalo before going back into the American. As for Callahan, the manager of the White Sox, he stepped out of organized base ball a few years ago.

The National League can point to six players who have served continuously since the spring of 01. They are Wagner, Clark and each of the Pirates; Mathewson of the Giants; Kling of Chicago and W. of Boston and Chance of the Cubs, Chance then being an outfielder.

Donlin and Roger Bresnahan are other National League veterans, each of whom worked for a few seasons in the American League between 1901 and 1912. Donlin was out of the game altogether for a few years.

The season is only 75 days off. Griffith admits that he is trying to get heaven and earth to secure first baseman Morlarity from the Reds.

Colonel Hedges will not send into Cross to do scouting duty for Browns until next season in half completed among minor leagues.

President W. A. Witman, of the United States league, says the new organization will have a short season a year. He did not mention the length.

Manager O'Day thinks he has a bid in Howard H. Williams, a young in-pro. pitcher. Williams will go with the Reds and will receive a try chance to make good.

Jimmy McAleer says it is the play and not the manager who makes great club. Yet the organization is to have a change of manager so can select those great players.

Miner Brown neared in 53 games last year, eight more than Mathewson, and yet the slabman with only one-fifths of a fin worked in but 11 innings, 37 less than his Giant ally.

John M. Ward says that two or three regular boxmen are enough for major league club. He must have been looking over the records made last season by the Boston twirlers.

During the discussion about the per amount of work for a pitcher, might not be amiss to note that the best season Ed Walsh had with White Sox (1908) was when he worked 66 games.

When it comes to answering questions about his team, Wallace is called a Sphinx. Why, even Chubby Murphy or Horace Fogel would be as deaf mutes if either had only the Browns to brag about.

No spring exhibition schedule will be arranged for the New York National's second team until McGraw has been at Marlin a while looking the young bloods over.

"There is no extreme heat in that section of the South where we are going to train," said Manager Wolterton, and our club. The Hilltop here is likely to have cold or windy weather in the early weeks, and it wouldn't be good for us to meet too much of a change. For that matter my belief is that a club can get in tip-top condition in cool weather. No matter how cold it is players won't suffer ill effects so long as they keep in action while they are at it. Short, sharp practice is what I favor, but with everybody moving. It's this thing of working a while, then standing around doing nothing that lays players up in the uncertain spring weather."

The Washingtons have an ambitious spring schedule. They will play the Phillies, Orioles, Giants, Boston Braves, Brooklyn and Cornell.

Chicago—Jack Johnson announced that he had a telegram from G. E. Schetski, Salt Lake City, offering him $30,000 to wrestle Frank Gotch in that city. "After much thinking I've decided I'm the man to defeat Gotch and become both the champion pugilist and the champion wrestler," said Johnson.

Jimmie Doyle, Cubs third baseman, died at his home Friday at Syracuse. President Murphy of the National League, attended the funeral.

Princeton—Thirty-two, and in case of a tie with Yale, thirty-three, games have been scheduled for the Princeton baseball team during the coming spring, according to the schedule announced to-day by Manager Reilly. This is one of the longest schedules in years.

Not including the Detroit backstops Ty Cobb considers Ed Sweeney and Steve O'Neill the best throwing catchers in the American league. And he declares that Jack Warhop is the best pitcher at holding runners close to bases.

Chicago—T. S. Andrews, of Milwaukee, obtained the agreement of Johnny Coulon,bantam-weight champion of the world, to fight Sid Smith, the 112-pound champion of England.

Unless the plans of Manager Jennings and President Navin, of the Detroit American League, baseball club, are changed between now and February 14, the departure date, thirty players will probably compose the active squad during the spring trip. Ty Cobb has announced that he expects to join the team in New Orleans late in March, instead of waiting until April.

First Baseman Tim Jordan, of the Toronto International League club, has sent in his signed contract to Manager Kelley. Since the national commission passed adversely on Jordan's request to collect salary from the Brooklyn club for 1910, it has been rumored that he would manage a team in the new United States League. The fact that he has signed with Toronto also disposes of the rumor that he would play first base for Pittsburgh next season.

The New York National League club announced last week that signed contracts had been received from Outfielder Josh Devore, Pitchers Tesreau and Maxwell and Infielder Stock. Tesreau and Maxwell are the most likely pitching recruits in the Giants roster. Stock is a 19-year-old recruit from the Fond du Lac Club, of the Wisconsin-Illinois League.

All rumors that Arthur Devlin, third baseman of the Giants, would be sent to some other club have been set at rest by the receipt of Devlin's signed contract. Devlin, however, will be used as a utility man and will not be played regularly.

An effort to hold another Vanderbilt cup race on Long Island is being made by the residents of Riverhead where new roads have just been completed which they say would make an ideal course for the big speed event. Riverhead, the residents point out, is far enough from New York to keep away the uncontrollable crowds.

What is believed to be a world's record for one game by a two-man team was established last week at Rochester, N. Y., by Reisky and Kondolf, bowling against two other teams for a side bet. Reisky rolled 267, and Kondolf 266, for a total of 533.

President Horace Fogel, of the Philadelphia National League club, has received the contract of Centerfielder Dode Paskert, who has signed for three years.

The Chicago Cubs have secured "Lefty" Nagle, the former Syracuse pitcher and are to give him a thorough tryout.

Memorial to Nancy Hanks.
The statue which John E. Madden is having erected at Hamburg place, Lexington, Ky., of Nancy Hanks, 2-04, the ex-trotting queen, is now well under way and gives every promise of becoming the handsomest memorial ever erected to the memory of a horse in this country. It is being placed on a knoll overlooking the paddocks and stables of Hamburg place and can be seen for miles around. Never has a retired trotting mare or, for that matter, a retired mare of any kind received the kindness and attention that is lavished upon the old trotting queen. She is the pet of every man, woman and child on the place and is affectionately called Nancy, her full name being seldom heard.

Rose Makes New Shot Put Record.
A new world's record is claimed for Ralph Rose, the well known California athlete, who at an indoor meeting given under the auspices of the Olympic club in San Francisco recently put the shot forty-eight feet nine and five-eighths inches. Rose's new record beats the previous record, made by W. W. Coe of Boston, by one foot three and one-eighth inches. Coe threw the rubber shot forty-seven feet six and a half inches.

Famous Walkers May Meet.
A. T. Yeomans, holder of the two mile heel and toe walking record in Great Britain, is out with a challenge to meet George Goulding, the sensational walker of Canada, for any distance, from one to five miles, for $1,000 a side. The challenge was made through George McDonald, the English sporting man who directs the destinies of Matt Wells, the lightweight champion boxer of Great Britain.

Garrels to Leave Michigan.
Allen Garrels, who was counted on to win the hurdles at the intercollegiate meet next May, will leave the University of Michigan at the end of the present semester, Feb. 9. He had three more seasons of track and two of football before him. He is a brother of Johnny Garrels, also a hurdler and left guard on the university football team last season.

Sandow Mertes to Umpire.
Sam (Sandow) Mertes, an old time National League baseball player, has been named as one of the umpires who will officiate in the Pacific league at San Francisco during the season of 1912. Mertes became famous as left fielder of the New York Nationals in 1904-5. His last engagement in fast company was with the Toronto club a few seasons ago.

Will Spend $50,000 For Game.
New Jersey will spend $50,000 in further stocking the state with English pheasants, Hungarian partridges, quail and deer. An order has already been placed for 6,000 English pheasants and 1,000 Hungarian partridges. The game will be delivered next March.

John Paul Jones, the famous Cornell runner, who startled the athletic world last summer by making the new world's record of 4 minutes 12-5 seconds for the mile, was honored at his college recently by being elected to the captaincy of the Cornell track squad by his teammates for 1912. The great miler received the honor doubtless as a reward for his remarkable achievement in winning the intercollegiate individual cross country title for two successive seasons. He was also a member of the winning team for three years. Jones succeeds Tell Berna, the great two mile runner and intercollegiate title holder at this distance.

Jimmy Tamsett, of Albany, announces that he has practically closed a deal for the purchase of an infielder, a man who last year batted .294 and in 1910 .311.

The ice yacht records were established over the Shallow Point course at Long Beach, N. J., on Thursday last. J. C. Gibbon's Ingenue covered the ten-mile course in 16:52. Walter Content's Clarel did fifteen miles in 26:04.

HINTS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE
Ash Sifting Shovel With Cinder Crusher Attached.

An ingenious implement for sifting ashes is the ash sifting shovel designed by a New York man and shown herewith. As will be understood by the name, it performs two operations practically simultaneously. The scoop of the shovel, which is unusually spacious, is meshed and bound in iron strips. In the back is a series of sharp toothed wheels, projecting slightly through slots in the bottom of the scoop, so that when the latter is passed over a supporting surface the wheels revolve and cut the larger clinders into pieces small enough to fall through the mesh. Good coal will be too hard to break up in this way. Therefore as a man takes a shovelful of ashes from the heater he need only turn to an ash box with a strip on top, on which to operate the wheels, and pass the shovel across this once or twice.

Boiled Salad Dressing.
Four tablespoonfuls of sifted flour, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, one tablespoonful of mustard and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of turmeric powder. Mix the above with enough cold water to make a thick paste. Next stir in one egg, then add a cupful of boiling water in which one-half of a teaspoonful of black pepper has stood for five minutes and add one cupful of vinegar. Mix all and strain through a coarse muslin. Then add two cupfuls of milk. Put in a double boiler and cook until thick and creamy. Remove from the stove and add one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt and butter the size of an egg. If too thick add more milk, or to make it more delicious add cream. This will make a quart of nice salad dressing.

Delicious Chicken Pie.
Stew two good sized chickens until tender with a small slice of bacon added and unless very fat a little butter and salt to season. When done remove all bones, then add the liquor to make it very juicy, with plenty of pepper and flour stirred in to thicken.
Crust.—Take one and a half cupfuls of good sour cream and half a cupful of buttermilk, half a cupful of lard, a little salt and one teaspoonful of soda. Flour to make a dough soft and easy to handle. Line a pan with half of the dough, pour in the chicken filling and cover with the remaining dough, leaving plenty of air holes. Bake one hour.

Hot Pot.
Cut into inch wide strips half a pound of beefsteak or mutton. Peel one and a half pounds of potatoes and two large onions. Use a stone jar having a lid (a bean crock will do). Place a layer of meat in the bottom, then a thin layer of sliced onions and then a layer of sliced potatoes. Sprinkle over a little flour, pepper and salt, and so on, having some larger pieces of potatoes on top and finishing with flour. Lastly add at one side half a pint of water, put on the lid and bake three quarters of an hour. Remove the lid and brown on top.

Chopped Meat Pie.
Chop meat, raw or cooked, one or two kinds, if they blend well, as veal and ham, beef and pork, enough to make about two cupfuls and season. Make a good biscuit crust of two cupfuls of flour, roll not too thick, longer than wide, put the meat in and wet the edges, pinch together on the top and bake in a quick oven about twenty minutes. Have ready some gravy. If none is left over make some with a little of the meat, pour over the pastry and return to the oven for about ten minutes.

East Indian Curry.
For an East Indian curry dredge with flour a large onion cut into thin slices, an apple chopped fine and half a cupful of green peas drained from a can. Add two level-teaspoonfuls of curry and cook in a couple of table-spoonfuls of butter until the flour and onion brown, then add hot water or better, real stock. Put in a chicken that has been cut into the usual pieces and simmer the mixture slowly until the chicken is tender. Season with salt and serve around a mound of hot boiled rice.

CONFIDENCE.
We Back Up Our Statements With Our Personal Reputation and Money.
We are so positive that we can relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of all cost if we fail.
We think that it is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Cathartics may do much harm. They may cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels, and make constipation more chronic.
Constipation is often accompanied and may be caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those parts and restore them to healthier activity.
The discovery of the active principle of our remedy involved the labor of skillful research chemists. This remedy produces results such as are expected from the best of the best-known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.
We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They apparently act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels, having, it would seem, a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause inconvenience. If they do not promptly cure chronic or habitual constipation and thus relieve the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, your money will be refunded. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Three sizes of packages, 10c., 25c., and 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store.
