A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

Be great in act as you have been in thought.—Shakespeare.

What has become of the Greater Honesdale Board of Trade slogan contest?

Can you correctly spell the words that semi-weekly appear in the school contest bulletin of The Citizen?

If all the money that has been dropped in oil wells, sunk in some silver mines, subways or other wildcat schemes, representing Honesdale capital, were placed in home industries, there would be enough to give employment to the entire unemployed in Wayne county. Yea, and even more.

Washington, the father of our country, of whom it is said was "First in War, First in Peace and First in the Hearts of His Countrymen," was one of the great architects of his day and age. He designed and built several houses and mansions, but of course he was not the kind of architect that we have to-day. One of these houses is still standing in Washington, D. C., and is located a short distance from the White House. It is known as the "Octagon House" and for the past few years has served as the headquarters of the American Institute of Architects.

We take pleasure in presenting to our readers the pictures and special articles of two of Wayne county's best known citizens, Isaac Rosa Kimble, of Honesdale, and his brother, William Kimble, of Dyberry. Both gentlemen came from pioneer stock and for over four score years have been active business men. They have devoted their time and attention almost exclusively to lumbering and it is doubtful whether two men of like experience can be found in the United States. "Bill" Kimble, as he is better known, claims to have steered 3,500 rafts down the Delaware and Dyberry rivers in his day, while his brother, Isaac, holds a record of 49,048 feet of hemlock lumber in one saw in daylight. He has sawed millions of feet of timber but claims that that represents his best day's work. The Citizen extends most hearty congratulations to these brothers and sincerely hopes that as the evening of their lives draw nigh they may be endowed with earth's choicest blessings which will serve as a closing benediction to their lives.

By boycotting, the women of Pittsburg lowered the price of butter from fifty-three cents to forty-one cents. Butter may become one of the great luxuries. For a time it will seem as though we cannot get along without it. Eventually however there will be found substitutes for it and as far as its food value is concerned there are any number of foods which come up to its value and are not nearly so expensive, though not so delicious. Other foods have become luxuries in the world's history and have passed out of general use and people have accommodated themselves to the change. It is too bad however that a food so universal and so delightful and almost indispensable should be passing from the possibility of the general run of people. It is one of the surest means of making people dissatisfied with the trend of social conditions to have their tables affected. It is striking at the very heart of human conditions. Nothing is better calculated to cause unrest in this country than the rise in the cost of the necessities of life and butter is but one of many that are thus affected.

In the event that several automobiles will be sold in Honesdale and Wayne county the coming season, in addition to those in use, it behooves all owners of machines to get together and form an organization for the advancement of better roads and the promotion of a more social and friendly feeling among the residents of other towns and cities. Honesdale could be made the mecca for autoists. Where would they find a more congenial or prettier town to visit or while away a few hours? If an automobile association were formed cross-road markers could be obtained and placed at different points designating how many miles to Honesdale. For instance if a guide were placed at Narrowsburg, N. Y., the sign post would read "16 miles to Honesdale" with an arrow directing the pleasure seeker toward historic and beautiful Honesdale. The distance from home would be placed on the different guide posts. Let's get the people coming our way. They will go somewhere, why not here? The Citizen called attention to the advantages that would be derived therefrom in an article printed a week ago, hoping that something contained therein might cast a ray of light on the importance of organizing a Wayne county automobile association.

LET US HAVE A GREATER HONESDALE.

The word greater as used in connection with villages, towns and cities throughout the entire country is only another name for the progressiveness and wide-awake spirit which is abroad everywhere in the land. This is truly an age of great things, gigantic enterprises, undertakings and achievements are now looked upon as commonplace. Everything being equal, size is the measure of strength. The greatest amount of strength well directed, will produce the greatest and most satisfactory results. Large and progressive towns and cities are sought by those who wish to establish enterprises, industries or commercial relations. Large cities and towns have a commercial value over smaller ones, due solely to the greater number of inhabitants residing therein. Every family coming to reside in a town adds to the commercial value of the place, as a site for business or industrial enterprises. These conditions are so well recognized by the alert and progressive that the matter of larger towns and cities is now looked upon as stepping stones for larger industrial and commercial prosperity. This spirit of progress seems to have escaped the otherwise alert citizens of Honesdale, and consequently all other efforts, in the direction of improvements are hampered. Honesdale as shown by the census, contains something less than three thousand, while the territory naturally comprising the town contains about seven thousand people. This is a misrepresentation, which has deprived Honesdale of its proper standing as a town, robbed us of all the advantages which our population should entitle us to have. There appears to be no good reason why all the contiguous portions of the thickly-settled part of Texas township should not be annexed to the borough of Honesdale. It will be so annexed, peaceably if not together and if it is done altogether, conditions will more readily adjust themselves, so that there will be much benefit accrue to all the people. Applications are being made by residents of Texas township to join the borough, and more will follow. Why not come in as a whole, and give us a town of seven thousand inhabitants, with all the advantages which a municipal government has over a township; then industries will multiply, trade and commercial prosperity will follow and every person in the town will be benefited.

HAWLEY.

(Special to The Citizen.)

Hawley, Pa., Feb. 14. The cold weather continues; mercury dropped to 29 below zero Saturday morning.

Many are suffering with heavy colds and the physicians are kept busy.

George Atkinson is confined to his home by sickness.

Mrs. Frederick Everding is on the sick list.

Mrs. George Pelton, who has been in poor health for a long time, is convalescing.

Albert Wheeler, of Wilsonville, who suffered a stroke of paralysis a fortnight ago, is slightly improved.

Nancy, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Artemus Simons, is afflicted with chickenpox.

Miss Gill, of White Mills, was with relatives here on Saturday.

A load of young people from the east side enjoyed a sleighride to White Mills Saturday evening and attended the dance held in the Florence theatre.

Mrs. F. Schalm was a visitor in Carbondale over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frey of Tafton, left on Tuesday for a sojourn with friends in Buffalo, N. Y.

Word was received here of the death of C. P. Purdy at the home of his son, Harry, at Honesdale Saturday morning. The deceased was well known in Hawley. Miss Millie Tuttle's visit to Schneetzky, at the home of her brother, Frank, has been prolonged by Mrs. Tuttle's call to Honesdale owing to the total illness of her father, Mr. Purdy.

Mrs. Jennie Bingham was with Dunmore friends for several days last week. Her sister, Miss Della Hurd, of Honesdale, came to spend Sunday with her.

The Hawley Haennerchor society celebrated their 37th anniversary on their regular meeting night, Thursday. The occasion was one of good cheer, enlivening music and a bountiful repast was served.

Howard Deagrot, who has been working in the woods at Wilsonville, is now employed by Frank Stevenson in his coal yard.

Mrs. Nora Edwards expects to enter the State hospital in Scranton this week. She will be accompanied by her physician, Dr. A. C. Voigt, who advises an operation to relieve her from a long-time affection.

Mrs. Edgar Tutthill, who has been sick at her home at the Eddy, is not much better at this writing. Henry Bried is also confined to his home with inflammatory rheumatism.

Samuel Geary has returned home from a five-week visit at New York city and Allentown. At the latter place he visited at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Wheeler. It will be remembered that Mr. Wheeler did some campaign work by making several stump speeches in the interest of the Socialist party throughout the state last fall, and we must all admit and we also see how the old political parties are beginning to sit up and take notice of the rapid growth of that party.

The Brilliant Cut Glass company has been chartered by Governor J. K. Tener and has commenced business.

Mrs. Fred Kneiser was taken very sick at her home on the East side, but at last report she is some better.

The Hawley Base Ball Association will conduct a game in Odd Fellows' hall on Friday evening, Feb. 16. The admission is 50 cents a couple, with 10 cents for extra lady. The proceeds will be used to liquidate the debt and make ready for some good playing next season.

There was some excitement about the Keystone cutting shop on Sunday morning following the very cold night. Mr. Wall heard the water pouring through the floors of the building and on entering he found the floors covered and water rushing down the stairs. Pipes had burst in the acid room and that was causing the catastrophe. The fireman hurried to the scene and soon had the water turned off, but not until quite some damage was done.

Miss Helen and Lena Lehmann were in Scranton last week.

The history of Pennsylvania must necessarily be taught in our public schools as well as U. S. history. It is well that pupils know something of the history of their own state. Therefore, we wish to correct a statement that we saw in Saturday's S. T. R. that the Hon. S. E. Dimmick was Attorney General under Gov. Hoyt. He was appointed and served with Gov. John T. Hartranft.

Mrs. Alfred Oeschman was indisposed during the week.

John Hoover's daughter, who has been in the State hospital, Scranton, for treatment, has returned greatly benefited.

Russell Starnes was twenty-five feet from the explosion and escaped. He assisted the men to Mrs. George Hauser's home and telephoned for Dr. Peterson who came in a short time and did everything for the injured men. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. M. A. McMahon, of the Lake Lodore Improvement Company's general foreman at the ice plant, is certainly a hustler, as he seems to know every crook and turn in handling a large body of men. His record for 15 days is harvesting one hundred and thirty-five thousand tons of ice besides loading one hundred cars. There isn't another man in Wayne county that can beat it.

Still another rumor of the wedding bells ringing here at Steene in the near future.
