WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6, 1912.

THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

The blessed work of helping the world forward happily does not wait to be done by perfect men.—Eliot.

The fire ladders again had occasion to demonstrate their ability in fire fighting Sunday morning by confining the flames to the Erk building, despite the windy night and the cold weather that prevailed.

DELAWARE AND HUDSON CATECHISM.

What is Honesdale giving the Delaware and Hudson company. A great big share of its passenger and freight service.

That it does not pay and that it is receiving all the freight and passenger service that a branch road is entitled to.

Will the Honesdale people swallow that kind of a pink pill? No, because the sugar is worn off.

When did the Delaware and Hudson railroad run two freight trains a day in and out of Honesdale?

When the freight was considered much lighter than it is to-day. Will this company go back to its old schedule?

Not until another railroad entering Honesdale gets its former freight patrons.

Is there any danger of this? Oh, yes.

Is it true that extra crews and engines are required to handle the regular Honesdale freight trains?

It is. How can the Honesdale shippers restore this service? By co-operation and demanding their rights.

Are they assured of any assistance in the matter? Yes, the undivided efforts of the Business Men's Association, the Board of Trade and the editorial support of The Honesdale Citizen.

FOR BETTER FREIGHT SERVICE.

On Monday the Delaware and Hudson railroad company took its initiative towards better freight service for Honesdale and branch shippers. The morning train due here at 11:15 now reaches Honesdale nearly two hours earlier, and leaves here sooner in the afternoon, which is not exactly what the shippers desire.

The plan as suggested in The Citizen a few weeks ago can be worked out to good advantage and the service would be unequalled. In a nutshell it was as follows: Operate the Scranton freight to Honesdale instead of Carbondale; lay here a few hours and then return to Scranton via Carbondale. The Honesdale freight train, now being run (on almost any schedule) from Carbondale to Honesdale be transferred from that city to Honesdale and operate from this place, going to Scranton via Carbondale, returning to Honesdale the same evening.

THE PRESIDENTIAL SITUATION.

When ex-president Roosevelt announced his receptive candidacy for the presidential nomination last week, he became one of the two leading candidates whose names are to be presented to the Chicago convention next June. Others are not yet out of the race; La Follette, Hughes, and Cummins still have their adherents, and the present situation may be materially changed before the date of the convention.

PEOPLE'S FORUM. Asks For Inspector.

Mr. Editor: It seems as though the people of Honesdale pay enough water rent to enable the Water company to have someone to inspect the fire plugs all over the town once a week.

Says All Lights Were Not Out.

I would like to state in regard to the electric lights being all out ten years ago, during the flood, as mentioned in a recent issue of the Wayne Independent, that the electric lights were not all out. They were burning south of Park Lake dam.

G. E. HELSTEIN.

Letter to the Grangers.

Editor Citizen: Kindly give the following letter space in your paper:

March 18 has been designated as parcels post day, when the subordinate grangers of Wayne county will discuss that subject. The matter for and against doubling the rates on second-class mail matter and also against penny postage.

Fraternally, EDWARD E. KINSMAN, Secretary Pomona Grange.

A KICKER FOR OFFICE.

Mr. Editor: I am obliged to yield to the over-persuasion of my numerous, and otherwise friends, and allow them to elect me a member of the State Legislature. I realize the importance of this step and the responsibility that will rest upon me, and on no consideration will I accept another term.

A KICKER.

Roosevelt's Candidacy.

Roosevelt has become an arrant, even a dangerous demagogue. His speech at Columbus, made as a forerunner of his candidacy, was a vicious, high-handed attack on institutions and forms of government that have made this nation what it is today.

Homer Greene for Delegate.

Homer Greene, the well known Lawyer-Poet of Honesdale, and one of the men mentioned prominently for Congressman at large on the Republican ticket, has announced his candidacy for delegate to the Republican National convention.

Mr. Greene is undoubtedly one of the most popular men in the district and the announcement of his candidacy has met with popular approval. In his announcement he does not take a decided stand, asking the voters to trust to his judgment to do what is best for the party, and from the expressions heard they will be perfectly willing to accede to his wishes and allow him to go to the convention unhampered by any pledges that would handicap him in his efforts to what would tend the best for Republican success in the ensuing election.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

1888 and 1891, and both Mr. and Mrs. McDermott were well loved by their congregation. Rev. McDermott is now superintendent of the Wilkes-Barre division of the Wyoming conference.

"Alma, Where Do You Live?"

Such productions as "Alma, Where Do You Live," which is to be seen at the Lyric Monday, March 11, bids fair to mark a new era in real musical comedy. Alma may be described as neither opera nor farce nor yet musical comedy, but a combination of all three of them, the effect apparently being to make the music subservient to the play; this being a direct contradiction of usual form of procedure. Alma when in its original form was a French contribution by Paul Herve, with musical number by Jean Briquet, received its first presentation in this country in the German Theatre in New York where it had an extended run in the face of adverse criticism on account of its salaciousness, threats having been even heard that it was to be suppressed by the authorities. It was during this run that a performance was witnessed by Joseph M. Weber who saw great possibilities for it in English, and he immediately secured the rights and had it Americanized by George V. Hobart who eliminated all of the suggestiveness and yet performed his work so cleverly that when it was presented at Wever's Theatre it ran for an entire season to large and delighted audiences. Remember the date, Monday, March 11.
