She Was His Favorite Author. Long ago a friend asked Frank Doubleday, the head of the publishing of Doubleday, Page & Co., who is his favorite author.

ROUND THE GLOBE

A new English bullet ignites the gas of a soaring balloon.

By the addition of pulverized mica concrete is made to imitate granite.

There are said to be many imitations of dried codfish on the market.

In 1911 foreign countries invested $100,000,000 in American farming machinery.

A Cincinnati packer has invented a way to cure hams in thirty days instead of ninety.

Waste cork, formerly thrown away, is now an important byproduct which sells at $24 a ton.

The Italian authorities are now unearthing the most magnificent villa yet discovered in Pompeii.

Of all the nations the United States alone allows the use of white phosphorus in making matches.

Hawaii's exports during the fiscal year 1911 were valued at $41,938,583, and her imports at $27,512,580.

The Chinese Anti-opium league reports that in 100,000 market towns throughout the empire all opium dens and dives have been closed.

A double sided flounder, both sides being marked alike, with duplicate fins, and having a misplaced eye, was recently caught in English waters.

The number of divorce suits tried in the Scottish courts last year was 210 as compared with 224 the year previous. In only six cases were decrees refused.

The governor of Hawaii recommends the creation of a national park to include the largest active volcano, Kiluaea, and the occasionally active Mauna Loa.

For 35 cents one can send a parcel weighing forty pounds, insured for a value of $200, from any point in Switzerland to any railway station within the republic.

On Broadway, New York, there is a sign outside a barber shop which reads: "Come in and have your eye painted. Black eyes done over for 10 cents."

Though a battleship building in England for China's navy will have a tonnage of but 2,400, it will be a complete Dreadnought in miniature and will be used as a training vessel for naval cadets.

The assessed valuation of property in Greater New York, according to the last compilation by the state tax commissioners, comprises substantially 75 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the entire state.

Germany's naval budget has increased in nine years from 194,000,000 marks to 434,000,000 marks, while the annual expenditure on the German army has risen from 677,000,000 marks to 807,000,000 marks.

The vast extent of northern Rhodesia renders it impossible at present to estimate even approximately the extent of the rubber areas, but such evidence as is available points to the great prospective value of this asset.

Some 2,200 applicants answered a London advertisement for a caretaker to be paid $8.75 a week. Of these 900 had excellent testimonials as to faithfulness, honesty, tact and intelligence. The job went to an Oxford graduate.

At one point near Lyons the Rhone, at times when the snows melt in Switzerland, runs through a defile that makes it the most powerful of European torrents. This wasted force it is now proposed to turn into electricity.

At the recent sale of the Nightingale porcelain at Christie's, London, a Bristol teacup and saucer, painted with figures emblematic of liberty, sold for $850. A hexagonal teapot and cover of Chinese enamel went for $680.

London, through the system of water waste detection introduced by the chief engineer of the metropolitan water board, has reduced the daily consumption ten gallons per head of population. In east London enough water has been saved to supply a city of 400,000 inhabitants.

Levi P. Morton has given his pew in Grace Episcopal church, Broadway and Tenth street, New York, to the church corporation to be forever a free pew. This makes the eleventh such pew in Grace church. This seat which Mr. and Mrs. Morton have had for many years, is on the middle aisle on the pulpit side, near the front.

According to the czarinas, Russia's troubles are due to the education of women. All girls, says she, should be taught to sew, to care for their homes and to become helpful wives and good mothers, but they should never be taught history, philosophy or science, "because those studies when offered to women only result in such terrible times as Russia is now passing through."

The proportion of lunatics to the sane is almost exactly the same in England as in the state of New York. Dr. Forbes Winslow estimates that in England there is one lunatic to every 275 sane persons. The New York state commission in lunacy says that one adult person in every 279 of the state population is insane. As the state population is 9,117,279 there must be 30,000 insane persons in the state.

Woman's World

Mrs. T. P. O'Connor, American Wife of Irish Leader.

MRS. T. P. O'CONNOR.

Mrs. T. P. O'Connor, wife of the famous Irish member of parliament, is in this country for a short stay and has recently made a tour of the south gathering material for a book to be called "My Beloved South."

Mrs. O'Connor is herself a daughter of the southland and as Miss Pascal spent most of her young life in Texas, but for the past decade or so she has been a brilliant figure in the literary and social life of London.

The wife of the great Nationalist is the author of several interesting books, but as a playwright she has gained most distinction, her latest play, "The Stronger Sex," having met with great success both in America and in London.

Mrs. O'Connor is a woman of wonderful charm and has the fire, active brain, dark hair and eyes, olive skin and comely figure of the southern American lady. A fluent talker, she has a delightful fund of anecdote; a woman of great common sense and generous disposition, she has many times helped those striving journalists to whom her talented husband is also a friend and a benefactor. She is mistress of a delightful, rambling old house in Upper Cheyne row, Chelsea.

Nose and Goggle Party.

A family of fun loving girls recently gave an amusing party. It was called a nose and goggle party and helped a number of young people to pass an evening very merrily without much expenditure of energy and thought in the matter of a disguise.

Each guest wore a false nose and goggles. The noses were purchased or made by clever fingers of heavy cardboard covered with chamolis and were not removed until after refreshments were served.

As the guests arrived each was given a card perforated with ribbon run through in order to wear the card around the neck, so that every one could see it.

The cards had on one side a number by which each guest was known, on the other side a list of figures—1, 2, 3, etc., as many figures as there were guests—with a space opposite each figure for a name.

In the social conversation which followed each guest guessed who his or her entertainer was. Of course, with intimate friends the familiar voice revealed the personality, but in many cases this was not easily done, if they attempted to disguise the voice, and much amusement and many absurd guesses were made.

As each guess was made the name was placed opposite the number on the card of the guesser corresponding to the number of the person with whom he or she was talking. For instance, if some one thought he knew No. 4 he turned his card and wrote the name opposite No. 4, etc. It was voted by all the gay people who were present as no end of fun and a most original way of spending a jolly evening.

When Cutting Striped Material. One of the most difficult things for the home dressmaker to accomplish is the proper cutting of striped materials.

To be able to cut a striped dress well is a proof that you are by no means a novice at the art of dressmaking.

Skirts are always cut first. Lay the material out flat on the cutting table, and if there is no "up and down" to the material you will be able to fit the gores into each other, cutting the material in an economical way.

Remember to have the line of small perforations found in the center of each gore of the pattern run straight with a stripe. This will cause each cut edge to be slightly bias and when joined will look far better than if a bias edge was joined to the straight.

The center of the front gore must, of course, be on a stripe. Double your material before cutting in order to have both sides exactly alike. When cutting sleeves be sure the material is doubled and save yourself the trouble of having one sleeve different from the other, thus ruining the garment.

Stripes should run straight from the shoulder to the waist in sleeves. Have the stripes run straight down the center of the front and straight down the center of the back when cutting the bodice. Always allow plenty of material for seams when striped material is used and be sure that the stripes match in the joining of seams.

COURT PROCLAMATION.—Whereas, the Judge of the several Courts of the County of Wayne has issued his precept for holding a Court of Quarter Sessions, Oyer and Terminer, and General Jail Delivery in and for said County, at the Court House, to begin on MONDAY, MARCH 11, 1912, and to continue two weeks;

And directing that a Grand Jury for the Courts of Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer be summoned to meet on Monday, March 11, 1912, at 2 p. m.

Notice is therefore hereby given to the Comoner and Justices of the Peace, and Constables of the County of Wayne, that they be then and there in their proper persons, at said Court House, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said 11th day of March, 1912, with their records, inquisitions, examinations and oaths, remembrances, to do those things which their offices appertain to be done, and those who are bound by recognizance or otherwise to prosecute the prisoners who are or shall be in the Jail of Wayne County, be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.
