A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

I think it is a magnificent thing for a young man to rise to the very best that is within him; to make the most of what he is. This hard work does him good. It brings out what he has in him.—Edward William Bok.

Considering the great courtesy with which the President has treated Mr. Roosevelt, the Colonel will win no applause by personal attacks upon Mr. Taft. Such exhibitions of bitterness as those in Louisville cannot by any possibility help the candidacy of the Rough Rider, but they can and will hurt it seriously.

Among the seven Governors whose letter Colonel Roosevelt construed to be the "voice of the people," were Governor Stubbs, of Kansas, and Governor Osborne, of Michigan. They do not seem to be backed up very much by the people of those States, for the Michigan primaries elected 352 Taft delegates, 53 for Roosevelt and 19 doubtful. In Kansas it is claimed that Taft will get all the delegates and Governor Stubbs himself is having a desperate fight for renomination.

STATE TREASURER WRIGHT.

The finances of the state of Pennsylvania have never been better handled than by the present state treasurer. It is due to his vigorous collections, and his thoroughgoing skill and efficiency that the state treasury is in such excellent condition. If Wayne county Republicans desire to retain in office so faithful and efficient a public servant they should not fail to go to the primaries next Saturday and vote for delegates to the state convention who will use every effort to secure the nomination of C. Fred Wright to the office of State Treasurer. These candidates for delegates are Dr. Lewis P. Cooke and William F. Riefler.

THE BOYCOTT DECLARED.

Messrs. Samsom and Crossley have made public, through the columns of the Independent, their real attitude as to candidates to be nominated at the state convention. They say "We will vote for no one for office or national delegates who does not represent the progressive policies and principles advocated by Theodore Roosevelt." This means that unless Homer Greene declares himself in favor of Roosevelt's radical and destructive theory of the recall, prior to the state convention, he will not receive the support or votes of these young men for the nomination for congressman at large, should they be elected as delegates to the state convention. It means also that C. Fred Wright, candidate for the nomination for state treasurer, will be opposed in the convention by Samsom and Crossley, unless in the meantime he humbly enrolls himself under the Roosevelt banner and marches down with the Colonel to his Waterloo. Are the Republicans of Wayne county ready to send to the state convention delegates who will try to accomplish the defeat of Homer Greene for the nomination to Congress, and of C. Fred Wright for the nomination to the office of state treasurer? It is well to know definitely so long in advance of the primaries, where these young men stand as to the candidacies of Messrs. Greene and Wright, and since their attitude is one of hostility, they are to be commended for letting the public know it. They have declared the boycott; it is for the Republican voters to say whether they shall have the opportunity to carry it into effect.

A WORD TO WILLIAM.

William Flinn, of Pittsburg, millionaire, one time State Senator, would-be political boss of Pittsburg, who has for many years been trying to break into national politics, is now engaged in the pleasing and harmless task of sending out picture post-cards to the Republican voters of Pennsylvania. Wayne county has recently been flooded with them. They contain a portrait of Roosevelt as he looked some twenty years ago, a decidedly impressionistic view of the White House, and the names of the Roosevelt candidates for delegates to the national and state conventions. They also contain the selected slogans of the progressive hosts, such as: "Are you fit to rule yourselves?" We don't know how it is in other parts of the state, William, but here in Wayne county we are quite fit, thank you! We have no more need of a versatile politician from Pittsburg to boss the job than we had of a distinguished gentleman from Scranton who undertook the task and gave it up. We are obliged to you for your picture post-cards, William, but we do not need to take them to the polls with us as you suggest. The names of the gentlemen for whom we Wayne county-ans desire to vote are household words with us. We do not have to carry them in our pockets lest we should forget them. And, by the way, William, you might say to your progressive friend, Frank A. Munsey, the millionaire publisher of New York, that the booklets he is sending to Wayne county Republicans containing a spot-light history of the achievements of Roosevelt, are ammunition wasted. We know about Roosevelt, and we have our minds made up. And if your other millionaire friend, George W. Perkins, of Harvester Trust fame, contemplates sending any literature into Wayne county, kindly dissuade him. Take it from us, William, you are all wasting your hard-earned money—and you know "a penny saved is a penny earned."

THE DECLINE OF ROOSEVELT.

By the above heading we do not mean the decline in Col. Roosevelt's chances to receive a presidential nomination, though that decline is rapid, and the end is certain. We mean rather his decline in the estimation of the thinking men of the country, the lowering of his own standards in order to catch the popular ear, and the lowering of his attitude toward those who differ with him in the matter of political principle and governmental policy. To call names is never an argument, and Roosevelt has descended to calling names. In his Louisville speech last week he characterized President Taft and those who support him as persons acting "from evil motives," "puzzle-headed," "dull of mental vision," "lacking in social sympathy," "men whose hearts have witnessed and whose eyes are blinded," "men who are endeavoring to quiet unrest by ingenious trickery," and so on down the line of unsavory epithets.

These tactics will not avail Col. Roosevelt anything in the public esteem. It is a pity he should descend to them. The people have not taken kindly to his advanced theories of government. They still believe with the framers of our Constitutions that it is better to leave to the courts the interpretation of the laws which have been made for the protection of the rights of all be people, than to leave such interpretation to the changing sentiment of a passing majority. It is a pity that a man with the wide influence, and with the talent and force of ex-President Roosevelt, should not bend his great energies toward arousing the people to a deeper interest in their government, to a larger participation in its affairs, to a wider knowledge of their rights and privileges and duties as citizens, without endeavoring, with all the power at his command, to undermine their confidence in the courts, to destroy their respect for law, and to lead them to substitute for orderly government the uncertain and constantly changing desire and dictation of the multitude. It is not true that the people are deprived of their rights. It is not true that the people do not rule in this country whenever and wherever they desire it. Every Pennsylvania voter who deposits his ballot in the box next Saturday knows while doing it that he is a free political agent, and that this government is what he and his fellow-voters choose to make it. In his desperation and chagrin Col. Roosevelt has descended from his high pedestal to a level with the fishwife and the demagogue. More's the pity!

GET TO THE PRIMARY.

The Spring primary election will soon be here—April 13—and every candidate is doing his level best to, by some means, get his name on the official ballot. This, of course, is perfectly natural, but the time for the people to make their selection of the men whose names are presented is at the ballot box, from the voice of which there is no appeal. As a rule, the voters are too careless concerning the primary election. They are slow to take advantage of the powers conferred upon them by the new law and very many pay but slight attention to the primaries. This is a great mistake.

LET US BE FAIR.

The enemies of President Taft have been making much of an utterance of Mr. Taft's in a recent speech which is quoted as follows: "There are those who do not believe that all people are fitted for popular government. The fact is, we know they are not. Some of us do not dare say so, but I do."

The other night at a meeting in New York city, Emma Goldman, the woman who has been spouting anarchistic doctrines for twenty-five or thirty years, aroused the gathering of crack-brained foreigners to such an extent that one of them jumped on the stage, took an American flag from his pocket, spat upon it and tore the little emblem of liberty to bits.

Does any sensible person believe that men who give such exhibitions of frenzy are capable of what they would term "popular government"? Should any public official be condemned for frowning upon such specimens of humanity as those who throw fits whenever they listen to a harangue by one of these uneasy disturbers?

Let us be fair.—Scranton Tribune-Republican.

LETTER TO HOMER GREENE AND HIS REPLY.

Before going to press a representative of The Citizen called upon Homer Greene and asked him if he had in any respect changed the views he expressed in a letter to a Wayne county voter which we published several weeks ago. He replied that he had not. We therefore republish the letter and the inquiry which drew it forth, for the benefit of those who desire to know or to recall definitely Mr. Greene's position:

As the best answer to inquiries concerning the attitude of Homer Greene, candidate for delegate to the Republican National Convention, we print the following correspondence: Hamlin, Pa., March 6, 1912. Mr. Homer Greene, Honesdale, Pa.

Dear Sir: I understand you have put yourself before the people of the 14th Congressional District for the nomination of a delegate to represent this district at the next National Convention. You will find in the enclosed a stamped envelope. Please let me know what kind of a platform you are in favor of supporting, and who you are in favor of nominating for the next president of the United States.

Yours respectfully,
HOMER SPANGENBERG.

Mrch 7, 1912.

Mr. Homer Spangenberg, Hamlin, Pa.
Dear Sir:
I am very glad to reply to your inquiry of March 6.

If elected a delegate to the Republican National Convention I shall approve of a platform which embodies the principles of the Republican party, as those principles were set forth in the platform adopted by the Republican National Conventions of eight years and four years ago, and carried into effect with signal ability and success by Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft in their administration of the affairs of the country.

I shall not at this time pledge myself to the candidacy of any person for the Presidential nomination, for the following reasons:

1st. I desire to take into very careful consideration the wish of the majority of the Republican voters in this congressional district, which wish I have not yet ascertained.

2nd. I desire to be free to support the candidacy of any person who appears by the combined judgment of the convention, best fitted to carry out the will and purpose of the Republican voters of the country, whether the name of such person has or has not been up to this time mentioned in connection with the presidential nomination.

3rd. I do not wish to fetter my judgment and conscience by pledging myself at this time to the candidacy of any seeker for the nomination, and thus tying my hands so that I shall not be free to act in accordance with what I may consider at the proper time to be for the best interests of my party and the people.

I am very glad to explain my position to you, because, if you are a Republican voter, as I assume that you are, you are entitled to the explanation.

Very truly yours,
HOMER GREENE.

DANDRUFF AND ITCHING SCALP YIELD TO ZEMO TREATMENT.

Why should you continue to experiment with salves, greasy lotions and fancy hair dressings trying to rid your scalp of germ life. They can't do it because they cannot penetrate to the seat of the trouble and draw the germ life to the surface of the scalp and destroy it.

Why not try a PROVEN REMEDY? One that will do this. We have a remedy that will rid the scalp of germ life and in this way will cure DANDRUFF and ITCHING SCALP.

This remedy is ZEMO, a clean, refined, penetrating scalp tonic that goes right to the seat of the trouble and drives the germ life to the surface and destroys it.

A shampoo with ZEMO (ANTI-SEPTIC) SOAP and one application of ZEMO will entirely rid the scalp of dandruff and scurf. Do not hesitate, but get a bottle of ZEMO today. It acts on a new principle and will do exactly what we claim for it. Sold and endorsed by the A. M. Leine's Drug Store.

LETTER FROM MR. MARVIN.

Matamoras, Pa., March 28, 1912. To the Voters of Wayne County, Gentlemen:

I am advised that Hon. H. Clark Jackson, of Tyler Hill, your present Representative, is a candidate for renomination and election.

Coming from adjoining counties, with a like constituency, led us in common paths and to form in the early part of last session a close personal friendship.

Mr. Jackson is one of the 207 members constituting the whole House. I cannot recall a single day's session of ever looking back to his seat and he not being in it, attentive to his duties and to your interests.

He was held in high esteem by the whole House and a more industrious, faithful and impartial member it has not been my privilege to know in the six years that I have represented Pike county.

I do not believe he missed half a dozen roll calls out of the hundreds taken, and his voice was invariably as his own conscious dictated and free from taint or suspicion.

He should be returned by you, for I doubt, from the whole county, if you could choose a more faithful, conscientious and honest Representative, than the Hon. H. Clark Jackson of Tyler Hill.

Very respectfully,
ALFRED MARVIN.

Member Legislature from Pike Co. 29 12.

THEODORE KLEIN.

Pennsylvania needs the people's power, if ever any state needed it, or if ever that power were needed anywhere under the sun, for in no other civilized community has bossism ever reached a fuller flower than here, and just as long as the people will vote for the machine rule, we will have bosses and grafters, under the initiative, referendum and recall. The boss and the grafter and the big business alliance become impossible, and if the people have bad government it is because the people themselves are bad, or too ignorant to enlarge their own interest.

Therefore, I favor the initiative, referendum and recall and the election of United States Senator by a direct vote of the people. I favor state appropriations for township roads and schools. I favor state roads, and am in favor of corporations paying one mill tax for road purposes, and in favor of the Allman minimum salary bill, which will compel the state to pay all school districts annually a sum equal to the salaries of all teachers employed in the district for the minimum school term.

As a farmer, I am in favor of all legislation in their behalf and that of all wage earners. I am in favor of free bridges on the Delaware the same as on other streams.

I have been an officer of the State Grange for eight years, and ask your support at the Primary Election, Saturday, April 13, 1912.

As my name will not appear on the ballot, I will have stickers at each election poll so you can get them, or you can write my name on the ballot under the heading for Representative on the Republican ticket.

I thank you in advance for all favors.

THEODORE KLEIN,
Lake Ariel, Pa. 2912

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A Doubting Thomas.

Up in Honesdale they are quite sure there is coal at Lakewood, near Orson. It is said well diggers found it. About this time of the year nothing is impossible to find in Wayne county, according to Dame Rumor. This is the hard cider season.—E. mira Telegram.
