THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

Welcome is that visitor who appreciates the value of another's time.

Advertising is gradually being reduced to a science. That is, the publishers are realizing and the merchants are learning that newspaper advertising is the selling of space that has a fixed value the same as staple articles of merchandising. The time has gone by when any store can hope to be a success except on the one-price system. The city daily papers, the magazines and the best conducted weekly papers have adopted the same methods in regard to advertising space and have their rates so that all business men can know just what they get. The publisher should know what space is worth in his paper based on the cost of production.

FARMERS SHOULD GRASP OPPORTUNITY.

The suggestion of the Board of Trade in conducting a market for the farmers of Wayne county meets with the general approval of the public. It would mean more money for the farmer and more business for the merchant. Trade that is now going out of Honesdale would be returned and it would be better for all concerned.

It has been stated many times that if the farmers of Wayne county would devote some of their time and attention to apple culture they would be richer at the end of the year than they are now. In order that the readers of The Citizen may become better acquainted with the possibilities in this respect articles will be printed in this paper from time to time enlightening the farmers on the subject.

There is a big future in store for those who will engage in the cultivation of apples, that if they use common sense and take advantage of the experiences of those who are but now reaping the benefits of their experiments. There are so many arguments in favor of raising apples in Wayne county that it could not be told in a single edition of The Citizen. We believe if the readers of the rural districts who are contemplating setting out new orchards will carefully read this paper that they will find considerable valuable information on the subject of apple culture from men of experience. W. H. Bullock, district horticulturist, says Wayne county is fast falling into line and before many years the majority of the farmers will be spraying and pruning their trees and raising apples on a scientific basis.

CHURCHES TO FIGHT ENEMY TUBERCULOSIS.

Sermons on the prevention of consumption will be preached in thousands of churches on April 28 which the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, has set aside a Tuberculosis Day.

Last year out of 200,000 churches in the United States, over 50,000 observed Tuberculosis Day, and millions of churchgoers were told about this disease from the pulpit. This year will be the third observation of Tuberculosis Day. Plans are being made to have the Gospel of Health preached more widely than ever before.

The movement will be pushed through the 600 anti-tuberculosis associations allied with the National Association and through the boards of health, women's clubs, and other organizations in hundreds of cities and towns throughout the country. Through these various bodies the churches will be reached and interested in the tuberculosis campaign.

According to reports gathered by the National Association in 1911 practically 10 per cent. of all deaths in church organizations are caused by tuberculosis. In a study of 312,000 communicants of 725 churches in which there were 7,000 deaths in 1910, the death rate among these church members was found to be 2.24 for every thousand communicants. This is higher than the rate for the Registration Area of the United States which was 1.60 in 1910.

"While these statistics," says the National Association, "are not comparable from the point of view of accuracy with those of the Bureau of the Census, sufficient credence may be given to them to indicate that one of the most serious problems the ordinary church has to consider is that of the devastation of its membership by tuberculosis. Every minister in the United States should give this subject some attention during the week preceding or that following April 30."

THE AWFUL FATE OF THE TITANIC.

The sinking of the Titanic steamer of the White Star line, the most costly and palatial of all vessels afloat, carrying down with it more than one thousand helpless souls, is appalling. It is an incident that will blacken the pages of history for ages to come. One cannot imagine, and in fact does not want to try to realize the awful agony the passengers aboard experienced when it was known there was no possible way of escape. That brave, God-fearing men faced death and went down in the deep, black cold waters to an untimely end, leaving loved ones behind, is something that might have been avoided if sufficient life saving apparatus had been carried on board the Titanic.

Owing to the scarcity of boats, rafts and life preservers it is alleged that the White Star line may be charged with criminal neglect. It is claimed that many passengers met the awful death of drowning by not being supplied with preservers and were unable to get into the boats. It is our opinion that it would have been better by far had some of the money that had been expended lavishly for amusements been converted into steel and placed in the bow of the boat as an extra precaution against possible collisions with other vessels or icebergs. The toll has been paid, many notables sacrificing their lives for women and children. Those who went down to the almost fathomless depths of the ocean were all gallant men. There were heartbreaking scenes upon the Titanic when fathers and mothers, husbands and wives and children kissed goodbye. Some did not leave loved ones and with scarcely any warning in the darkness of that awful night the Titanic plunged down to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean, where it now rests two miles below the surface.

The world at large mourns with the widows and orphans in the bereavement.

A NEW OCCUPATION.

When Ex-President Roosevelt succeeds in having the several states of the Union adopt a constitutional amendment providing for the recall of decisions, he will have opened up possibilities which should lead to a very attractive, and perhaps a profitable occupation. It will be remembered that the Colonel's proposition is to give to the persons interested a right of appeal from the decisions of the highest court in a state to the people generally when constitutional questions are involved. But who shall advocate the cause of the parties in interest to the people? Every case that goes to a higher court, whether constitutional questions are involved or not, must have its parties plaintiff and defendant. When the appeal is taken from the court to the people the case will still have its parties plaintiff and defendant, and as the people believe that one or the other is right they will so decide the case by their votes. Up to the time of the appeal it will have been the duty of the lawyers to argue the case in the courts on matters of law. But when the decision of the court is appealed from it is apparent that the case has gone beyond the domain of law, that the people who are hearing the case on appeal are not concerned with the legal points, and would not have the necessary knowledge to understand them or decide them if they were concerned. It is not necessary therefore that the lawyers who have handled the case thus far should handle it before the tribunal of the people. In fact they could hardly afford, nor could their clients, unless extremely wealthy, afford to keep them on the stump throughout the state during a campaign of weeks or months. And again, while a lawyer might be very learned in the law and be able to make a logical argument before the courts, he might be a very poor campaigner. It would seem, therefore, that the parties in interest might employ a cheaper out probably no less effective grade of talent to present their causes to the people. Such an advocate should be a ready talker, effective in appealing to the sentiment, the sympathies and the passions of the populace, quick-witted, a good mixer, half-fellow-well-met, the kind of man who is plausible and who makes friends. We all know such men. As a rule they are not engaged in particularly profitable employment. Their services could doubtless be readily obtained at a reasonable compensation. In a short time they would form a class by themselves, as having a distinct occupation. They would doubtless organize themselves into a body, surround their profession with proper safeguards and adopt a name for their calling. We look to see an offer of a prize for the most appropriate name.

PEOPLE'S FORUM.

No Reflection on Mr. Greene.

Editor Citizen,
Dear Sir: I would like to say through the columns of The Citizen that I do not believe the voters of the county wished to cut Mr. Greene in any sense. Wayne county voters wanted Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Greene was sacrificed. We still want him for Congressman-at-Large.
Respectfully yours,
YOUNG REPUBLICAN.

Congratulations.

The Scranton Tribune-Republican was a most ardent, faithful and honest supporter of the candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt during the canvass preceding the late primaries, and The Citizen desires to extend congratulations to that paper for the fairness with which it conducted its effort in behalf of the Colonel. We do this with the knowledge that the Tribune-Republican exerted some influence among the voters in certain portions of Wayne county.

The following article appeared in the above paper after the primaries, extending congratulations to its co-workers in the interest of Mr. Roosevelt:

All those who had a share in the victory for Mr. Roosevelt on Saturday are deserving of congratulations for more reasons than one. In the very nature of the case the support of Mr. Roosevelt has been largely due to sincere attachment to the man and his principles. The people who care for him have no interest in his candidacy apart from their interest in the cause of popular government. Those who have in a more especial way led the Roosevelt fight could have been inspired by no other motives than are proper to any man who champions a cause. The ordinary impulses of men who have jobs to keep were absent.

In a larger way the leaders identified with the Roosevelt cause are the beneficiaries of a personal popularity and enthusiasm. They will do well not to overestimate the importance of their own work in bringing about the victorious result. Every man who has ventured to support Mr. Roosevelt must admit that Mr. Roosevelt's superb leadership has conferred on him more than it has derived from him.

The Tribune-Republican for itself takes pride in recalling the fact that it has uttered no abusive word, nor, so far as we know, resorted to a single trick or device that could offend the sense of fairness in any man whether he agreed with our position or not.

All honor to the Taft supporters of Lackawanna county. They put up a good fight and a fair fight. They are sincere and will no doubt bow to the will of the majority, just as they would have expected the followers of Colonel Roosevelt to do in case Mr. Taft had been the winner.

JENNIE MUST GO TO JAIL, SAYS SUPERIOR COURT.

The conviction of Mrs. Jennie Brink, of Dunmore, on which she was sentenced to one year in the county jail, was sustained Monday by the superior court in an opinion handed down in Pittsburg.

She was twice tried at the December sessions last in this court. The first was before Judge Evans, of Bloomsburg. The jury, after being out all night, disagreed. That was in the first week of the term. She was called again the second week before Judge McClure, of Lewisburg, and found guilty.

Sentence of one year was imposed the week before Christmas. Her counsel, R. H. Holgate and Clarence Balentine, secured a supersedeas from the superior court on appeal, and the case was argued in March when the superior court sat in Scranton. Mr. Holgate argued for Mrs. Brink and Assistant District Attorney Donahoe for the commonwealth.

Mrs. Brink's conviction was the outcome of much complaint against her method of conducting the Exchange hotel at Dunmore corners. The court took her license away in August, 1911, but the warning was unheeded and the place was run even worse than before.

If the supreme court grants an appeal from the adjudication of the su-

THREE CONTRIBUTE $15,000 EACH TO ROOSEVELT FUND.

Albany, N. Y.—The expenses of Colonel Roosevelt's campaign in New York city for delegates to the national Republican convention were $59,125.75, according to the report of the Roosevelt league, filed with the secretary of state Wednesday, George W. Perkins, Frank A. Munsey and Alexander S. Cochran each contributed $15,000 towards the expenses.

Full Crew Bill is Held Unconstitutional

Harrisburg.—The Dauphin county court in a decision given Tuesday holds that the full crew act of 1911 is not unconstitutional, but is a proper exercise of the police power of the State. The court in its decision follows the lines of the decisions of the courts of Arkansas and Indiana, which were upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States. The court analyzes the act and holds that it is not confiscatory and that the legislature in providing for equipment of solid mail or express trains, which it had been contended was not germane to the law because not set forth in the title, was clearly within its powers, as it provided for facilities for men to get on and off trains and to handle them.

Sixty-eight requests for findings of fact and conclusions of law are answered by the court.

EXTERMINATE THE FLY.

Now is the time to begin the fight against the house fly. For every fly that you kill this month you will reduce the fly population in the summer by several billions.

One fly on an average lays in a season twelve sets of eggs. At the lowest estimate sixty flies are hatched from each laying. It is fair to say that 50 per cent. of the eggs hatched will be females. Each female will return hatch sixty flies. These will beget others, so that in one season a single fly will by a most conservative count have produced seven millions of flies.

Just as the bee gathers pollen from the flowers, on its legs, so does the fly collect germs. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, and many other diseases are carried in this way from the sick room to your home. Wherever there is filth there the fly swarms. The fly which lights upon your lips may menace your life with disease germs. The flies that buzz about your kitchen or your dining room may literally be poisoning your food.

As a matter of self-preservation, therefore, start right now to kill the solitary flies which, if given a chance, will beget billions of their kind.—Karl de Schweinitz, Executive Secretary of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.
