TWENTY-FIVE KILLED BY STORMS

Middle and Western Georgia and Eastern Alabama Devastated.

Atlanta, Ga., April 23. - Probably twenty-five persons were killed and over 100 injured as the result of cycionic storms which swept portions of west and middle Georgia and east Alabama. The wires are down in the stricken sections, but meager details indicate a long casualty list and great damage to property.

In eastern Alabama the storm struck Adamsville, Pinckney City, Brookside and several other villages. Fifteen persons are reported dead in these places and many injured. In Brookside it is reported that thirty houses were destroyed. A large area was covered by the storm in eastern Alabama and residences and barns of many farmers were destroyed. Hail followed the storm and destroyed the young cotton and corn.

At Newborn six people are reported dead and more than a score injured Many houses were wrecked, and the occupants caught in the ruins. There was much damage done at Hampton, and two women are reported killed The storm was very severe at Cedarstown, and in Polk county, Ga., it cut a path of ruin almost through the county.

HURRICANE KILLS ELEVEN.

Twenty-Eight Hurt and Great Damage Done In Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 23.-A hurricane passed over western Indiana, killing eleven persons, injuring twentyeight and doing immense damage to buildings. Within a few miles of Morocco ten persons were killed, one family being entirely wiped out. The Rice family of six was killed without a moment's warning, the house collapsing over them.

Near Rensselaer the home of August Schultz was demolished and his fourteen-veer-old son was instantly killed. Three other houses were blown down and six persons were more or less seriously injured. At Lowell the storm plowed a path 300 feet wide through the town, wrecking several houses and injuring ten persons.

Hermit Woman's Will Reveals Hiding Place.

"GHOST LIGHTS" EXPLAINED.

Estate Worth $50,000 Left to Two Nephews Who Are Designated In Documents as "My Friends." Other Relatives May Contest.

Allentown, Pa., April 23.-There was astonishment when the will of Miss Sallie Bennighoff, the oldest woman in Lehigh county, was filed with Register German here, over the announcement that her estate was worth $50,000, Miss Bennighoff, who was ninety-seven years old, died two weeks ago. She was an eccentric lady, living a hermitlike life, and nobody supposed she owned more than two farms, worth probably $15,000, which she inherited from her parents. She kept aloof from her neighbrs and was not even friendly with all her nephews and nieces. The will provided that $10 each go to Amanda Miller and Aaron Bennighoff, three-lifths of the rest to "my friend" Frank Bennighoff and two-fifths to Roosevelt, 26,234; Taft, 19,705. "my friend" Daniel Bennighoff. Both Frank and Daniel are nephews, but stands: Bourne, 24,118; Lowell, 7,182; she was careful to designate them as Selling, 30.102. Senator Bourne's man-"friends," saying nothing of kinship.

When they came to town from the old lady's residence, which is thirty miles away, they brought $2,000 in gold to deposit in bank, which they had days. dug up in various places about the farms. Ever since her death the digging has gone on, to the wonderment of the community.

Among her documents, in addition to some gilt edge stocks and bonds, was a sealed letter containing minute instructions where she had buried her treasure.

Now that the secret is out, the people of the region believe they have solved the mystery of a ghostly light which frequently moved over the Bennighoff farms and which led to traditions that spooks and witches made their home about the lonely rural re-

She kept no books, and there is great excitement because it is believed more treasure is hidden. After the probating of the will Register German received many inquiries from relatives who were cut out. They threaten to contest. The will was made less than four years ago, when she was already ninetythree, and the disappointed kinsfolk believe they have a chance for a fight on grounds of incompetency.

SURVIVOR SHOT AT SIX TIMES.

Steerage Passenger on Titanic Was Rescued After Plunging Into Sea.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 23.-Although he was shot at six times by an officer of the ill fated Titanic, as he tried to force his way into a boat, and then had to jump overboard as the last boat pulled off, John Borak, a steerage passenger, has arrived in this city, accompanied by Mrs. Alex Thomas and her six-months-old child. They are the survivors of a party of fourteen Syrians who embarked on the Titanic, all being closely related to each other. Borak says that three times he tried to force his way into a lifeboat and that officers fired six shots at him. Finally, as the last boat was lowered and was pulled away, he dashed past the guards and sprang into the sea. where he managed to reach the boat and was pulled in. Mrs. Thomas' child was placed in one of the first boats by one of her men relatives, but she did not know it, and she climbed out of two boats into which she had been forced in order to look for the child. She was saved by the last boat, into which the sailors threw her.

LINERS COLLIDE IN FOG.

The Cretan Badly Damaged When Hit by the Iroquois.

Norfolk, Va., April 23.-The steamer Cretan of the Merchants and Miners' line, bound from Jacksonville and Sa vannah to Baltimore, is making her way slowly up the coast seriously damaged above the water line as the result of a collision during thick weather off Hatteras with the Clyde line steamer Iroquols, from New York to Charleston and Jacksonville.

The Savannah line steamer City of Montgomery was standing by the Cretan to give assistance if needed. Both steamers carried passengers.

News of the collision reached here over the United States weather burenu's seacoast telegraph line from Cape Hatterns station via Cape Henry. It stated the Cretan was in no immediate danger, but gave no information concerning the whereabouts of the Iroquois. It is thought the Iroquois perhaps sustained little damage and has proceeded on her voyage southward. No fatalities were reported.
