—At a recent meeting of the incorporators and members of the Wayne County Concrete Construction and Development company it was decided to offer the plant for sale owing to the illness of the president, F. C. Farnham, who is unable to give the business his attention.

—Every community has its "Knicker" family—the members of which never miss an opportunity of condemning every act of public improvement which has not originated with themselves. But the weakness of the individual who is always finding fault with everything in sight, and also in perspective, is in the fact that he finds so much fault that other people are looking for it and he is never taken seriously by those who know him.

—Hawley, who has not yet come to feel the discomforts of a coal famine, is now threatened with one. For some time only a limited supply has been shipped in and each family has been limited to a half a ton apiece. Now it is said that the last car of coal arrived last Wednesday, that is, it may be the last until work is resumed at the mines. The Erie has been furnishing Hawley with coal all during the time Honesdale has had none. Why don't somebody begin developing that coal mine found by a well digger a few weeks ago?

—The day set apart by the people of the country for the honoring of American motherhood was observed all over the land on Sunday, May 12, and was fittingly observed in Honesdale. Many men and women wore white carnations, the symbol of purity and virtue of mothers, and in many of the churches here the pastors specifically referred to the significance of the day. Mothers' Day was founded by Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, and since its inception the movement has spread to every state of the Union and has become a world wide occasion for the reverence of mother.
