Jesse VanCleft Cooper, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., formerly of Wayne county, and Miss Nina Douglas Hamilton, daughter of Col. William R. Hamilton of the regular army were married recently by the Rev. A. W. Cooper, of Schenectady, father of the groom, at the residence of the bride's grandfather, Richard B. Douglas, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in the Heather Tea rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper left later in the day for New London, Conn., where they will spend their honeymoon. They will reside at 125 South Third avenue, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Some papers have contained articles of late concerning the survey of the proposed Wayne county Traction company, claiming that the route would go through the Gurney Electric Elevator company's factory site. It will be recalled that the traction company applied to the county commissioners about two years ago for the privilege of crossing the bridge over the Lackawanna river on Fourth street and that the county commissioners granted the request, providing that an extension or separate bridge be built so that it will take the strain off the bridge. The papers that printed the story probably couldn't remember that after this privilege was granted that the Traction company went to considerable expense in grading and removing the sidewalk on Willow avenue from the right to the left side of the road. This occurred only a little while ago. Surely our journalistic friends remember this. The proposed route for Honesdale's trolley road (and it is coming) is down Main street to Fourth street; thence east across the Hermann bridge to Willow avenue and on down the original survey to Hawley.

The foundry men of the Gurney Electric Elevator works are enjoying a few days' vacation while the furnace is being relined.

There were fewer fireworks sold in Honesdale this year than any season in the history of the town. A sure sign of a safe and sane Fourth.

Miss Jones helped to entertain the boys.

The county commissioners met in the court house on Tuesday and transacted the business of the county. Among other things they ordered the bills paid. In the afternoon they went to Hawley to inspect the bridge that spans the Middle Creek near West Hawley station. It was recommended for repairs and will be built up on a level with the street. One of the items that was paid by the commissioners at this monthly session was that of $181.50, being sheep claims.

SIXTY-one suits for the sale of milk and cream below the new standard set for Pennsylvania by the act of 1911 were entered in this state during June by agents of the State Dairy and Food Division, extensive sampling of milk supplies having been undertaken when the weather began to get warm. The milk suits comprised almost half of the total number of pure food actions begun, the chief offending counties being Allegheny, Beaver, Lawrence, Washington, Fayette, Delaware, Schuylkill and Westmoreland.

The dance hall at Swamp Brook was destroyed by fire early Friday morning. A dance was conducted in the hall Fourth of July, afternoon and evening. The trippers of the light fantastic departed at 10 o'clock and an hour later the building was in flames. As there were fire crackers shot off on the premises during the day, it is presumed that some of the parts smoldered under the building and ignited the hall. The dance hall is a favorite place for young people. It was 10x100 feet and owned by Charles Ehrns, of Scranton.

Norman E. Mack sent his resignation as chairman of the Democratic national committee. It is customary for the presidential nominee to select his own chairman. There is considerable talk that William F. McCombs will be Mr. Mack's successor.

CHEERS FOR CHAMP CLARK.

Representative Moore Bitterly Attacks Bryan on Floor of House.

Washington, July 4.—Champ Clark and Oscar W. Underwood received noisy and enthusiastic greetings when they entered the house of representatives. Republicans and Democrats alike arose and cheered the speaker and the majority leader.

The speaker was unmoved by the demonstration. As soon as he could get hold of his gavel he whacked his desk and demanded order. Chaplain Couden referred in his opening prayer to the political misfortunes of the house leaders by a supplication to "help us submit to the vicissitudes of life."

Many of the messages received by Speaker Clark express sympathy with him for his treatment by Colonel Bryan and bitterly attacked Mr. Bryan for his attitude toward Clark in the convention. The speaker would not comment any further upon his defeat.

Representative Moore of Pennsylvania referred to the Bryan-Clark affair in the course of a speech on the floor of the house.

"It was shown in the Baltimore convention," said Representative Moore, "that one man who has been leading his party unsuccessfully for sixteen years and who has been the center of public opinion can in one fell swoop take away the character, reputation and everything else from a great man who has been attending to his public duties and who has had the good will of the people."

PRINCE TRIES SUICIDE.

Disheartened Because of Love Affair With Miss Duke, Report.

Paris, July 4.—Prince Ludovic Pignatelli d'Aragon, the Spanish grandee who figured prominently in society while visiting in the United States several months ago, attempted to kill himself. His friends declare that he was disheartened because of a hopeless love for Miss Mary L. Duke of New York, $300,000,000 heiress daughter of Benjamin L. Duke, the tobacco king.

Prince d'Aragon shot himself in the breast. The bullet struck a rib and came out through his back. A servant who heard the report rushed into the room and disarmed the prince as he was about to fire a second time. Professors Barbara and Bayeux are hopeful of saving his life, but they cannot determine for several days if he will recover.

"POP" PRAYED FOR CLARK.

Meaning Kermit Roosevelt's "Pop," the Colonel.

Sea Girl, N. J., July 4.—State Senator Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, one of the delegates to the Democratic national convention, was a visitor at the "Little White House." He sunbored up to the cottage, and shaking hands with Governor Wilson, congratulated him upon his nomination. To some newspaper men Senator Roosevelt afterward said: "I saw Kermit in New York and he said, 'Pop's been praying for Clark.'"
