SANE FOURTH ONLY FOURTH.

Thursday's safe and sane celebration gave more proof that we are getting further and further away from that silly old pre-tense that patriotism is measured by the noises we make .-Philadelphia Press.

DOG DAYS.

Dog days are with us, of which there are forty, during the hottest part of the year, beginning with the heliacal rising of Sirius, the dog star. The time of rising is now, owing to the procession of the equining to the procession of the equinoxes, different from what it was to the ancients, July 1, and the dog days are now counted from July 3 to August 11, that is, twenty days before and twenty days after the heliacal rising. Dog days are usually accompanied by sultry conditions, and the housewife finds it difficult to keep rulk and other foods from quickly spoiling or becoming unfit to eat. The atmosphere causes languor, and children to become peevish. The star itself has nothing to do with the atmospheric conditions, but coincident ation. with Sirius rising at the same time as the sun we have sultry and heated conditions, and has given the period named as dog days.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

The recent Democratic convention at Baltimore nominated as its candidate for president an ultra-progres sive; as its candidate for vice-president a moderate progressive; and then adopted as its platform of principles one which contains few of the socialed progressive features. It is safe to say that the farmers and laborers of this country, engaged in producing the necessaries of life, are not yet ready to come into competition with the European wage-earner or the Asiatic coolie. The Republican doctrine that the tariff should be so adjusted as to equal the difference in cost of production between here and abroad, is Some farmers state that it is plainly the only rational basis for the only theory on which the workingman, both as a producer and a consumer, is fully protected and fairly treated.
