

JAPANESE MIKADO DIED THIS MORNING

THIRTEENTH REGIMENT NEWS.

From the Seat of Things Sent to The Citizen by a Member of Company E.

(Special to The Citizen.) The 13th regiment left Scranton in three sections Monday. The 2d section on which Company E traveled left Scranton at 9:45 p. m. and arrived at Gettysburg at 6:45 a. m. Tuesday morning, everybody in good spirits but some tired after the long ride. We found that the advance detail had everything in good shape for the company when they arrived. The first thing in order was for the men to get settled in their tents and then breakfast was ready for them. After mess the company was taken out for a drill in the pitching of shelter tents. In the afternoon there was an hour of company drill and at 5:30 we went out for regimental dress parade.

The trip from Scranton to camp was uneventful. Privates Raymond Alberty and Walter Glosenger were appointed corporals just before the company left Honesdale.

Some of the boys had mail waiting here for them when they arrived.

"Scrappy" Heft is the mascot of Co. E this year and he is enjoying it too.

July 25.—Yesterday morning started in bad for the boys; it started to rain early. The first duty was inspection of companies in their company streets; then the companies marched away from camp, carrying blanket rolls. We marched about a mile into the country and turned in to a large field and were inspected in the erection and striking of shelter tents. The boys got pretty wet. That was all that Company E boys did for the day except in the evening at 5:30, the regimental guard was taken from our company. Capt. Kelley was officer of the day and Lieut. Doney was officer of the guard. Wilbur Bodie was chosen as orderly to the Colonel at guard mount last night.

The boys who were not on guard last night and to-day were relieved from duty and went over the battlefield to see the sights.

Co. E boys have a very easy time of it to date but expect to get some hard work the last of the week.

The rookies, or new members of the company, who enlisted since last camp, were initiated tonight after mess by running through the paddling machine. Lots of fun for the old members.

Serg. Duane Faatz leaves camp tomorrow (Friday) morning for home to look after his work with the Electric Light company. Berg. Boolhagen will take his place for the rest of the camp.

Private Bodie was the only rookie who didn't go through the paddling machine; he didn't have the nerve.

The camp lies about one mile from the town of Gettysburg and the roads are very muddy from the rain of yesterday and the consequence is that visitors to the camp are more scarce this year than ever before.

The health of the company is very good. The water down here is not good. If you want a good drink you have to go to some farm house where there is a spring.

To-night at mess the men put up a kick at the article the state commissary was issuing for "butter." If it wasn't "oleo," then we would like to know what "oleo" is. Hardly any of the boys attempted to eat it.

To-night at the Y. M. C. A. a doctor from the 9th Regiment gave a lecture on the "first aid to the injured." It was very interesting. The nights here are very cool and the boys who brought an extra blanket from home were wise.

DAISY OPIE GRACE.

She is on Trial For Attempted Murder of Her Husband.

Atlanta, Ga., July 30.—Mrs. Daiste Ulrich Opie Grace was placed on trial here accused of having attempted to kill her husband last March. Accompanied by her mother and a nurse, Mrs. Grace appeared in the courtroom early, and after the charge against her had been read she pleaded not guilty. Her voice carried to all parts of the chambers, and she appeared cool under the gaze of spectators.

Contending counsel immediately got to work weeding out undesirable tales, and in a short time the jury was selected.

After the jury had been chosen the invalid husband, who is paralyzed from the waist down, was carried into the courtroom on a cot. Mr. Grace was worked up to such a pitch of excitement that a trained nurse had to administer a hypodermic.

Mrs. Grace looked frequently at her husband, but finally hitched her chair about so that one of her attorneys obscured her view.

BURNS MEN ACTING

Investigating Police Department of Philadelphia.

CITIZENS PAY ALL EXPENSES

Prominent Residents Understood to Have Agreed to Foot Bills—Superintendent Taylor to Be Called Upon to Face Charges Based on Reports of Agency.

Philadelphia, July 30.—When the Blankenburg administration assumed office on Dec. 1 last and George D. Porter was named director of public safety almost his first act was to confer with Detective Burns. The western man was asked the cost of a thorough investigation of police conditions in this city, and after a meeting with several public spirited citizens it was decided not to undertake the probe at that time, but to give the present head of the uniformed force, Superintendent Taylor, an opportunity to rid the department of undesirable men and to stop many of the existing evils.

After this plan had been in force about three months the director found that he was under constant espionage and that conditions in his department were not improving as they should. Porter then sent for Burns again, and an arrangement was made whereby two prominent citizens, it is understood, agreed to meet the expense of this investigation.

Burns' work here has been confined entirely to a probe of the relations that exist between the police and disorderly house keepers and the gambling houses that flourish under the guise of political clubs. Several of the latter have been raided recently by the police to show their activity, but they are of little consequence. Burns men have been at work here now since June 1, and according to present plans when Superintendent Taylor returns from his vacation he will be called upon to face the charges that will be founded on the Burns agency reports.

WILL APPEAL TO MRS. ASTOR.

Youth Who Says She Saved Him on the Titanic Stranded.

Pittsburgh, July 30.—Harry Miller, seventeen years old, who says he was rescued by Mrs. John Jacob Astor after the Titanic sank with all the other members of his family, arrived in Pittsburgh stranded.

Mrs. Harry Reed, a charity worker, sent him to New York, where he will ask Mrs. Astor's aid in proceeding against the White Star line. Young Miller, who says he is a son of a specialist of Warsaw, Russia, jumped from the Titanic to an ice floe, he says, holding his baby sister. Then he slipped into the water, the baby being drowned.

He was pulled into a boat by a woman, who, he found out afterward, was Mrs. Astor. He says he has been a victim of sharks since his arrival in this country.

MAY REDUCE TRAIN SPEED.

Pennsy and New York Central Advised to Make Winter Changes.

Pittsburgh, July 30.—Officials of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads have been consulted by the public service commission of New York regarding a suggestion that the high speed of trains to Chicago be reduced during the winter months to afford greater safety to travel. Both railroads operate expresses on an eighteen hour schedule between New York and Chicago.

A representative of the Pennsylvania railroad said he did not believe a change in the schedule would be made in the near future. He was reasonably certain that the Pennsylvania railroad would agree to a suggested twenty-hour time if the New York Central would operate on the same schedule.

COUPLE NEAR DEATH IN CREEK

Young Woman and Man Fell Off Bank, but Were Rescued.

Holmesburg, Pa., July 30.—Miss Matilda McLaughlin of Westmont, N. J., and Laurence Tobin of Philadelphia met with an unpleasant experience while on a house party here.

A number of the guests went to Pennypack creek for a sail, while others watched from the bank. Weakened by recent rains, a portion of the bank caved in, and Tobin and Miss McLaughlin were thrown into the water. They were in danger of drowning when Roy A. Taylor of Collingswood plunged into the water and helped the young people to the piling of a pier, where they were able to hold themselves until they were dragged out.

TYLER HILL.

(Special to The Citizen.)

Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Jackson, celebrated her eleventh birthday with her young friends in a most pleasant and entertaining manner. The celebration was typical of camp life and was observed in the picnic grounds on the shores of placid Laurel Lake. An open fire place was built, a crane erected and the dinner was cooked over the hot embers. A tent was erected near the fire place with guns and fishing rods standing nearby. Some of the children wore juvenile Indian suits and were highly elated over the occasion. Pictures were taken and as a whole it was enjoyed by all. The camp was visited by several chiefs and squaws during the day, which greatly delighted the papooses. Undue credit is due A. D. Stone, of Scranton, for the originality of the affair, who planned and carried out the idea of outdoor camp life.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Callaway, who have been staying for a week at the home of W. L. Jackson, returned to Honesdale Wednesday. They spent the remainder of their vacation in Dunmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Koolen, both of New York City, are spending two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jackson, near Laurel Lake.

The Wetzler farm lies in Manchester township, and is a little way from the Delaware river. It is improved with a wood turning mill, saw mill, general store, dairy and seven houses, besides barns and outbuildings. The tenor, it is understood, will make his summer home on the farm, and operate the saw mill and turning plant and dairy as an investment.

Jorn, personally, with his manager, Paul Hahn, and Mr. Wetzler, who has been living in New York, for some time, arrived in Honesdale last week and closed the deal

Fashion Notes.

Ostrich feather plume is the most highly favored hat trimming of the season.

Large shady lace and rose trimmed hats are worn with lingerie frocks.

Among a recent showing of taffeta gowns one of short wedgewood blue with an underdress of white crepe de sole and trimmed with mellow tinted lace was charming. With it was worn a picture hat in black trimmed with blue and white ostrich feathers.

Shaded or two-toned ostrich plumes are much in existence this season, the list including French gray, tipped with old blue, amber-hued shading to apricot, green shading to gold and sulphur colors tipped with rose.

The summer hat, is delightfully simple. It is either an enormous flat arrangement in straw, with a lot of low trimming of no particular importance or a quaint Girondin with a sky-scraping aigrette.

At a Paris milliner's was shown recently a charming hat said to be a copy of one worn by Marie Antoinette in a certain portrait. The full crown is of ivory velvet with an almost invisible brim, about which is twisted a beautiful scarf of deep-toned old lace, and two exquisite ostrich plumes set upright at the right side, one deep cream, the other old gold.

Together with the felt hat a quantity of velvet for decorative purposes is appearing in the millinery realm.

Violet and navy blue is charmingly combined in a simple hat of violet straw lined with navy blue. One long pliable quill in violet, spotted with blue, forms the trimming.

Another modish combination is seen in a big sailor shape of canary yellow with thick black silk cord, and cockade to match, for decoration.
