

DR. FURNESS DEAD

Regarded as Greatest Student of Shakespeare.

HAD BEEN ILL ONLY ONE DAY

He Leaves Uncompleted His Variorum Edition of Poet—Son May Take Up Work—Was Seventy-nine Years Old—Death Was Due to Pneumonia.

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—Dr. Horace Howard Furness, probably the world's greatest—certainly its most devoted—student of Shakespeare, died suddenly at his home, Lindenshade. He had been ill only a day, but owing to his advanced years—he would have been seventy-nine years old next November—he was unable to rally.

Several years ago Dr. Furness suffered from illness, but he had fully recovered and, coming from a family noted for the longevity of its members, many thought Dr. Furness would live and be able to work on his great edition of the bard for many years to come. To his family and friends, therefore, his sudden end came almost entirely unexpected.

On Sunday Dr. Furness first complained of feeling ill. Monday he grew worse. A physician was called and found him suffering from pneumonia. Then he sank rapidly. His family was summoned and was at his bedside when the end came.

Variorum Edition Incomplete.
The death of Dr. Furness leaves uncompleted his Variorum edition of the poet. His son, Horace Howard Furness, Jr., however, has been an earnest and efficient assistant to his father for several years and probably will take up the work alone where the eminent scholar left off.

Dr. Furness was born in Philadelphia on Nov. 2, 1833. His father was Dr. William H. Furness, a noted Unitarian clergyman who was pastor of the First Unitarian church for nearly seventy years and who lived to be ninety-five years of age. The elder Furness was born in Boston in 1802 and came to this city when a young man. His wife was Annie P. Jenks.

The future Shakespearean scholar was educated in this city and at Harvard, graduating from that university in 1854. Dr. Furness spent the two following years in Europe and received the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Halle.

TO LEND MONEY TO CHINA.

Ong Leong Convention Votes Half Million to the Republic.

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—The Ong Leong tong, the secret Chinese society which is holding its annual convention here, made arrangements to loan $500,000 to the republican cause in China.

The loan was made at the suggestion of Henry Moy Fut, one of the Chicago delegates, who is the authority for the statement that since the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty export and import trade with China has received a distinct impetus, and the American Chinamen are anxious to see the improvement continue.

The society also went on record as favoring the adoption of the English style of a dress for Chinamen now residing in the United States or those that may gain admittance later.

ARRESTED IN FUNK MURDER.

Overzealous Investigator Held by the Coroner's Jury.

Washington, Pa., Aug. 15.—Overzealous activity in investigating the death of eighteen-year-old Cella Funk ten days ago resulted in George Greene being placed in jail by a coroner's jury on the charge of murdering the girl.

Greene had made diagrams of the spot where the girl was attacked and strangled to death and had theories of the crime worked out in minute detail. His stories failed to agree with those of his wife, and the coroner's jury held him for the crime. Several other arrests had been made at Greene's instigation and advice.

DRIVE OUT GYPSY BAND.

Nomads Who Terrorized South Jersey Must Leave Here.

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—The band of thirty gypsies driven out of South Jersey, after they terrorized the residents of that section, were rounded up by the police. The wanderers were given hearings before Magistrate MacFarland and discharged on their promise to leave the city.

The nomads were arrested following the complaint of John H. Bergen, who alleged he was held up by the men, who, he said, attempted to rob him. Henry Cantor, Frankford, was robbed of $30 by the gypsies, he declares, when he was driving down Bustleton pike.

MUST KEEP FLIES AWAY.

Harrisburg, Aug. 15.—Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust to-day ordered three arrests to be made in Pittsburgh markets because dealers permitted flies to contaminate food. "The arrests were the result of the merchants ignoring repeated warnings and it is the idea to bring similar suits in other cities where food is exposed," said the Commissioner.

WILSON'S TENTATIVE PROGRAM

Will Not Go to Indianapolis—Talks at Gloucester, N. J., Today.

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 15.—After refusing regretfully the pressing invitation to go to Indianapolis to participate in the notification ceremonies of his running mate, Governor Marshall, Governor Wilson indicated that for the next month and a half at least he will confine his speeches and public appearances to New Jersey rallies and to non-partisan gatherings in other states. The engagements on the diary do not yet take up so much time, but there will be no trouble to fill out the dates. Although invitations are coming in daily to fill in about every day and most of the nights the Democratic nominee and his managers are agreed that it will not be well for him to undertake any formal campaign efforts until after the middle of September. In the meantime he will accept such invitations as will not interfere with his manifold tasks of being a governor and a nominee at the same time.

This does not mean that he will not touch upon political subjects in his talks. The contrary is the case. When he talked to the farmers at Gloucester today he discussed the pending questions as they affect the farmer. He will do the same in Williams Grove, and of course he will adhere to the subject when he talks from the veranda of the little white house and at Wilson and Marshall rallies.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The senate passed the army appropriation bill, carrying $94,000,000 and replacing that originally passed but vetoed by President Taft.

The new bill does not carry the provision of the original which would have retired General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Colonel Robert C. Clowry, John D. Archbold, Princess del Braga, Joseph Eastman and other wealthy residents who live along the banks of the Hudson have been much annoyed this summer by the noise from motorboats traveling up and down the Hudson without mufflers.
