Music and humor will hold high carnival at the Lyric to-morrow night when the Black Patti Musical Comedy company presents the latest musical success, "Capt. Jasper." PROTECTION ENGINE CO. NO. 3. HISTORICAL SKETCH OF PRO.

First Headquarters. Protection Engine Company No. 3's first quarters were located on a lot near the Kubbach home on Court street, and later an engine house was erected on Main street a little south of the present quarters.

The Barker pump was not sufficient to fight fires and it was replaced by other hand engines and finally by the steam engines. At this time several of the boys dropped out of active service.

Charter and Surviving Members. The original charter, dated Sept. 19, 1853, bearing the names of Messrs. Penniman, Foster, Conger and others has since been lost. For many years it was the prize of the company's property, but in some unaccountable manner it was disturbed from its moorings and today cannot be found, much to the regret of the company.

Company Incorporated. Protection Engine Company No. 3 was incorporated February 3, 1869. The company has passed through several vicissitudes since then and at one time its membership consisted of only six faithful fire fighters. After the purchase of the rotary steam engine by the town council the membership began to increase and has grown continually until now the Honesdale fire equipment is equal to any volunteer company in this part of the state.

Only One Life Lost. The company has fought some hard and stubborn fires without the loss of a member until the Reif fire on January 14, this year, when one of the most active and faithful fire fighters, George J. Bergmann, lost his life.

Veteran Firemen.

Among the early firemen who are still living are: H. J. Conger, W. H. Ham, C. C. Jadin, C. J. Brown, E. A. Penniman, George Foster, R. W. Brady, J. O. Terrell, Julius Bussa, M. Freeman, H. T. Menner, G. M. Genung, Otto Taebner, E. B. Hardenbergh, O. T. Chambers, H. Z. Russell, L. F. Bishop, all of Honesdale; N. B. Shuman, Montclair, N. J.; C. P. Matthews, R. J. Matthews, C. Brandamore, E. P. Kingsbury, of Scranton.

Oldest Members.

Among the oldest members in active service of Protection Engine No. 3 is Calvin J. Brown, of High street, who joined the company March 2, 1870; then there is John M. Lyons of Park street, chief engineer, who became a member April 29, 1875. Major G. H. Whitney joined at the same time and was employed as driver of the steamers until about three years ago when he was compelled to retire owing to ill health, holding the reins over the teams for 35 years. He was always prompt, responding to every call of fire during these years. Mortimore Brandamore is the oldest living member of the company, having joined December 2, 1864. Mr. Brandamore, to within a year ago, had also been actively engaged, but on account of rheumatism was compelled to withdraw from fire duties.

Members Over 25 Years.

The other living members who have served twenty-five years or more were elected as follows: Wm. F. Briggs, May 10, 1876; Frank McMullen, Sr., Jan. 8, 1877; F. F. Schuller, June 9, 1884; E. F. Dudley, Fred C. Schoell, G. J. Mueller, April 12, 1884; Thomas F. Carroll, Sept. 14, 1885; W. J. Ferber, June 4, 1886; W. G. Ball, August 10, 1886.

Hose Company No. 1.

Hose Company No. 1 is an auxiliary to Protection Engine Company No. 3. It has its own truck house, located at the corner of Main and Fifth streets. The apparatus includes a 45-gallon La France chemical engine and a hose truck. The company has a membership of fifty. The officers are R. J. Murray, president; E. E. Williams, vice-president; Leon Katz, secretary; John Wasman, treasurer; foreman, Benj. F. Loris; E. E. Williams and P. R. Murray, Jr., assistants; Lawrence C. Weniger, chemical foreman.

BESSIE CELEBRATES--IS JAILED

Came to Honesdale to Have Good Time, But Started Too Soon--Will Spend the Week in Sheriff Kimble's Hotel.

Mrs. Bessie Rollison, who was called before the justice of the peace a few days ago for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in the borough of Prompton, was again arraigned before Justice R. A. Smith Monday afternoon for a like offense in the borough of Honesdale on Saturday night of last week. Bessie had been to a celebration in Bunnelltown and had taken too freely in some of the refreshments. She has a "strong" voice, which several of the people residing on Cliff street and in the borough will vouch for. When she reached the borough line Chief J. J. Canvan gently tapped her upon the shoulder and took her into the toils of the law. When she appeared before Justice Smith she did not remember anything from the time she left Bunnelltown until she awoke in the jail Monday morning. Justice Smith sent her to Hotel De Kimble for ten days as a punishment.

TWO PRIESTS ARE HOME

FROM TRIP TO HOLY LAND.

Rev. Henry Burke, of Hawley, and Rev. W. W. McCarthy, of Pleasant Mount, resumed their work in the diocese of Scranton Sunday after a tour of the Holy Land, that was marred at its beginning by the distressing scenes attendant upon the sinking of the Titanic. Father Burke and Father McCarthy were passengers on the Cunarder Carpathia that on its outbound trip heard the wireless appeals of the Titanic and picked up the survivors of the disaster. The priests ministered to the sufferers and returned with them to New York, later resuming their journey to Palestine. Father Burke and Father McCarthy landed in Boston Thursday on the Arabie.

Menner vs. Honesdale Borough.

The case of Joseph Menner against the Borough of Honesdale was argued on the rule granted by Judge Charles B. Staples, of Stroudsburg, Monroe county, a few days after the trial to enter judgment in favor of the defendant upon all the evidence in the case. This is in accordance with the Act of 1905 which provides that upon hearing had by the trial judge judgment may be entered in favor of the defendant in the opinion of the judge the evidence in the case would not sustain the verdict. Argument was made by Homer Greene for Mr. Menner and by C. A. McCarty and Searle & Salmon for the Borough of Honesdale. Judge Staples said he would read all the evidence again and write his opinion as soon as convenient. He intimated that the points at issue were very close. Mr. Menner obtained a verdict against the Borough of Honesdale in the amount of $1,508 at the April term of court for damages which he sustained by being thrown from his wagon at the intersection of Fifteenth and West streets more than a year ago. Mr. Menner alleged in his suit that the injury was caused by the defective construction of a ditch along West street which was so deep that the street became dangerous for public travel. His suit was originally brought for $10,000.

THIS BIRD A "SINGER"

Singery, Alias Singering, Alias Singing Missing From Erie Depot--Money Too--Was Here a Week--Robbed Safe Saturday Night.

The Erie depot at East Honesdale was burglarized Saturday night or early Sunday morning and considerable money taken. Suspicion is pointed toward Leeland Singery, telegraph operator and clerk, who is missing and who had been in the employ of the road since August 13, a week ago.

The money drawer was found in an empty freight car near the station. There were several checks in the drawer, but they were not disturbed. The key to the station was found Monday morning lying along the tracks several hundred feet below and near Borden's new milk shipping station.

The discovery was made when Singery did not appear at the depot Sunday morning to sell tickets for the east bound passenger train, which leaves East Honesdale at 9:43. Singery, who posed under three different names during his short stay in Honesdale, was last seen Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, when he left his boarding house at East Honesdale. Mrs. John Markey, with whom Singery, alias Singering, alias Singer, stayed, skipped his board for the week.

Singery had evidently closely watched Joseph Breun, clerk at the station, whenever the latter went to the safe. The combination was so arranged that when Mr. Breun desired to open the safe he could do so by turning the dial part way to a given point. Singery undoubtedly availed himself of the opportunity and watched how the safe was locked and unlocked.

He was sent to Honesdale by the Dunmore dispatcher. Singery hailed from Mexico, where the company now wish he had remained.

Singery, whose occupation is that of a telegrapher, was sent to Honesdale during Daniel Maloney's absence, the latter having gone to Jamestown, N. Y., where he attended a convention of the station agents of the Erie railroad.

Guy Ralph, Erie lieutenant of police, is in Honesdale working on the case. Mr. Ralph has notified all stations on the Erie line between New York City and Chicago to be on the alert for a man answering the following description:

When last seen Singery wore a brown suit of clothes. Black derby hat and tie. Has a smooth face, flat nose, front teeth missing. Weight, 125 pounds. Age, 35 years. Height, 5 feet, 7 inches. Gives name as Leeland Singery, Singling and Singer.

If any officer should see a man answering to this description he is authorized to arrest such person at once and notify Guy Ralph, Erie lieutenant of police, Honesdale, Pa., who offers a reward for his arrest.

After looking over the numerous locations pointed out to him by the land owners, he concluded to abandon the Poconos and build on his farm known as the garden place of South Sterling.
