

GUNMAN SHOT DEAD

"Apache" Bruno Figurski Killed Trying to Escape.

POLICE POSSE SURROUNDED HIM

Meteoric Career of Pittsburgh Gang Leader Came to Sudden End When Bullet Finds Way to His Brain. In Desperate Swim For Liberty.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 19.—"Apache" Bruno Figurski's meteoric career came to an end in the Allegheny river. With a bullet through his head he sank. Figurski was considered one of the most daring thieves and gunmen. His life was ended by Lieutenant Thomas Carroll as Figurski and Adam Schultz, another thief, were swimming the river to escape the police squad that had surrounded their house boat. Had it not been for the brilliant light thrown upon the stream by the Schoenberger blast furnace on the opposite side of the river the "Apache" and Schultz would have escaped. In the darkness the police had lost them. Suddenly the great light of the blast flared up. Carroll fired at the two swimmers, almost beyond revolver range. Figurski's arms went up, then he sank. Schultz dived and brought the "Apache" to the surface. He was dead, a hole through his head. "I'll quit—the 'Apache's' dead," yelled Schultz to the police. Schultz tried bravely to drag the body of his friend ashore, but had to let go and had barely strength enough to reach shore.

"I'VE FAILED," SAYS CONVICT.

Unable to Get Work While on Parole, Returns.

York, Pa., Sept. 19.—After telegraphing the authorities at the Eastern penitentiary, Philadelphia, to come and get him, Lind Walter of York, who was out on parole, surrendered to Captain Henry in the Central police station. "I've failed to make good, and I want to go back and get it over with," exclaimed Walter, as he walked into the lockup. "Get what over with?" asked the captain. "Why," continued Walter, "I was sentenced to the Eastern penitentiary for burglary to serve not more than eight nor less than two years. After eight months of my time I was paroled. That was about two months ago. I tried to get a job, but failed in Philadelphia, and about two weeks ago I went to Baltimore, but I could not land a job.

"No, my record was not against me, because nobody knew anything about me. I could not get work, so I want to go back, serve my time and end the suspense. I guess I'm a failure, but when it is over I'll make another try and maybe things will be different."

Parole Officer J. W. McKenty arrived and Walter was taken back to the institution.

AFTER HEALTH OFFICERS.

Carbondale Authorities May Be Sued For Not Reporting Smallpox.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 19.—Legal action against the municipal authorities of Carbondale for their alleged failure to maintain a board of health to cope with the smallpox epidemic in that city has been started by Dr. Samuel C. Dixon, state commissioner of health, according to a statement given out by Dr. C. J. Hunt of the state health department, who is in charge of the situation in the affected city. There are now forty-nine cases in Carbondale.

The board of health was removed from office by the mayor, John B. Murin, on the ground that the board had failed to report contagious cases and neglected to keep a record, as required by law. Politics, it is alleged, have been mixed with the health welfare of the city, and as no change for the better is in sight Dr. Dixon has, according to Dr. Hunt, placed the matter in the hands of the attorney general.

NICARAGUA WARNED

Rebel Leaders Are Cautioned to Stop Barbarity.

AIMED TO PROTECT AMERICANS

Declared United States Has Moral Mandate to Exert Its Influence For Preservation of General Peace in Central America.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Prominent government officers were of the opinion that the complete statement of the policy of the United States in the Nicaraguan situation as issued at the state department in the form of the text of a note presented to the Nicaraguan government by United States Minister Weltzel would go far toward clarifying the Central American situation.

This note, which was issued on telegraphic instruction from Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson, has been placed in the hands of the rebel leaders in the recent Nicaraguan revolt and published in every newspaper in the country.

The statement will also be telegraphed to every United States legation in Central America and by them communicated to the peoples of the various countries.

Guard American Legation.

The note asserts the purpose of the United States to guard the American legation, protect American life and property and prevent a recurrence of the corrupt and barbarous order of things which prevailed under the tyrannical rule of the former dictator, President Zelaya. It reads in part:

"The policy of the government of the United States in the present Nicaraguan disturbances is to take the necessary measures for an adequate legation guard at Managua, to keep open communication and to protect American life and property.

"In discountenancing Zelaya, whose regime of barbarity and corruption was ended by the Nicaraguan nation after a bloody war, the government of the United States opposed not only the individual, but the system, and this government could not countenance any movement to restore the same destructive regime.

Property Is Impaired.

"A group of some 125 American planters residing in one region in Nicaragua have applied for protection. Some two dozen American firms doing business in that country have applied for protection. The American bankers who have made investments in relation to railroads and steamships in Nicaragua in connection with a plan for the relief of the financial distress of that country have applied for protection. The American citizens now in the service of the government of Nicaragua and the legation itself have been placed in actual jeopardy under fire.

"Under the Washington conventions the United States has a moral mandate to exert its influence for the preservation of the general peace of Central America, which is seriously menaced by the present rising, and to this end in the strict enforcement of the Washington conventions and loyal support of their aims and purposes all the Central American republics will find means of valuable co-operation. These are among the important moral, political and material interests to be protected."

Prime 1,577 mixed shorthorn and Hereford steers, fed by A. W. HIS PRICE TOO CHEAP.

Chicago Policeman Who Took a Fifty Cent Bribe a "Disgrace."

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Patrolman Fred E. Brandt, a member of the police department since 1907, for taking a bribe of 50 cents was stripped of his star and termed a disgrace to the police force by Assistant Chief of Police Herman F. Schuetler.

DAMASCUS.

(Special to The Citizen.)

Damascus, Sept. 18.

Filling silos is now in order. Corn has made a heavy growth.

Miss Fannie McIntyre has gone to Binghamton, N. Y., to visit a sister. Mrs. Charles Petbick left on Sunday, Sept. 1st, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Fred Dennis. She arrived in Denver, Col., her destination, on the following Wednesday afternoon, and later made the journey on to Boulder where Mr. and Mrs. Dennis live. Mrs. Petbick found that her other daughter there, Miss Susie, had been married a few days before. Mrs. Petbick will remain in Colorado for a couple of months.

Theron Oliver and his father-in-law, E. E. Oliver, have bought Mrs. George C. Abraham's house and accompanying grounds and will soon take possession.

The Alfist reunion recently held in the Alfist home near West Damascus was attended by all the Alfist children, four sons and five daughters, a total of nine. Thirteen grand children also lined up at the festive board. Sid. J. Tyler, of Galilee, was present and took three different photo groups of all present. Group No. 1, mother and the nine children; No. 2, the nine children; No. 3 were the children with their husbands and wives, their children and other friends present.

We are sorry to have our townsman, George Clymer Abraham, move from our midst. Mr. Abraham has proved himself a genial neighbor; a worthy and respected citizen, and a practical and conservative business man worthy of all confidence. His first business activity began nearly twenty-five years ago, when he began a general mercantile traffic in Galilee. He did much for that section of country as he opened a door for farm produce and supplied the people of a wide area with necessities of which they had been obliged to go a long distance for. As circumstances permitted he widened his circle of business until he handled everything within the needs of the average farmer. He was the first business manager of the creamery started in Galilee in 1898. He has been honored by township offices, being now school director and secretary of the board. Since locating here at Damascus, Mr. Abraham has mostly been active as a lumberman, operating two steam mills at one time. Besides all this he, for several years, was undertaker and furniture dealer, being succeeded in this about a year by his able assistant, Corwin H. Valentine. Mr. Abraham's health has been falling for some time, and for this reason he, and others interested in his general welfare, thinks perhaps a change of climate may be beneficial to him. We have not learned definitely where Mr. Abraham and family may yet locate, nor has he fully decided upon the point himself, but it will be in a more balmy climate than ours. We wish for Mr. Abraham many useful years of activity and a recuperation of flagging energies, and that he may continue to fill his niche in the world to a good old age.
