REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President,
WILLIAM H. TAFT.
Vice-President,
JAMES S. SHERMAN.
State Treasurer,
ROBERT K. YOUNG.
Auditor General,
A. W. POWELL.
Congressmen-at-Large,
FRED E. LEWIS,
JOHN M. MORIN,
ARTHUR R. RUPLEY,
ANDERSON H. WALTERS.
District Congressman,
W. D. B. AINEY.
Representative,
H. C. JACKSON.

TO WAYNE COUNTY REPUBLICANS.

We are on the eve of a presidential election. It is an election of extreme importance. No election has been held in a generation to settle issues of as great importance as those which confront the voter today.

They are issues on which depend the prosperity and happiness of the great bulk of our American people. If Republican voters do their duty next Tuesday Republican success is assured in the State of Pennsylvania and in the country at large. If every voter who believes in the principles of the Republican party goes to the polls and casts a full Republican ballot, neither the destructive doctrines of Democracy nor

The premises to be sold in all the dangerous fallacies of Roosevelt can possibly prevail. It is of the greatest importance that the state of Pennsylvania should hold fast to her Republican moorings. With her thirty-eight presidential electors she can almost dominate the situation in the electoral vote for President. Wayne County Republicans must do their share. The old line conservatives, the young progressives who have not found it necessary to leave their party, the independent Democrats who believe that Pennsylvania needs protection, joined together at the polls in an effort to preserve what has been gained through half a century of struggle, are sure to accomplish a notable victory. The party in Wayne county has done little in the way of campaigning. We are depending on the silent, thoughtful, well-considered vote, the vote that cannot be changed by oratory and red fire, and the music of the band. And it is for you, Wayne County Republicans, to see that this vote is polled. Stand by your ticket, not only for the national candidates but for the candidates for state and county offices as well. Every candidate on the Republican ticket has received his nomination regularly and fairly and is entitled to your full support. Keep Wayne county in the Republican column, and so help to save the state and the nation to those Republican policies which have been tried through many years and have never been found wanting.

SUPPRESSION OF NEWS.

There has been a great deal of complaint against Republican newspapers in this campaign for "suppressing news favorable to Mr. Roosevelt." Mr. Roosevelt himself has complained about it very bitterly. His followers and journalistic aides have been even more indignant about it.

We believe that any reader of any Taft newspaper will agree that Mr. Roosevelt gets his full share of the space allotted to political news and that there isn't much relating to Mr. Roosevelt's doctrines, his sayings and his doings, his going and his coming, that hasn't been pretty thoroughly exploited in the columns of newspapers opposed to him.

But let us see what the Roosevelt newspapers are doing for Mr. Taft. To what extent are they practicing what they preach by telling Mr. Taft's side of the story?

In Washington last Monday it was testified before the Senate subcommittee investigating campaign expenses that Mr. Roosevelt was choosing his leaders and forming his organization before "the seven Governors" issued their famous call; that he was hard at work on his plans to capture the Republican nomination before the "collapse" of La Follette, whose candidacy the "progressives" were supposed to favor until his physical breakdown "necessitated his removal from the field."

It was testified that Mr. Roosevelt had made overtures to Senator Penrose to handle his campaign in Pennsylvania before he ever thought of Flinn; that Penrose had been given ten days "to think it over" and that it was only after he had informed Roosevelt that he would stand by the President that the Bull Moose captain thought it necessary to brand him as a dangerous and vicious person.

It was also proved that Flinn's denial that he had ever called on Senator Penrose relative to procuring a United States senatorship for himself was false.

This is legitimate "news," isn't it? It is something that the voter ought to know before he casts his ballot for President, isn't it? It is perfectly proper that such circumstances should be taken into consideration before swallowing hook, line and sinker all the pretensions of the Washington party bosses in Pennsylvania, isn't it?

Yet the leading Roosevelt newspaper in this State—a newspaper which stands so close to him that it has or has had three of its own employees in secretarial positions with the Roosevelt party—a newspaper which has fairly torn its hair over the suppression of Roosevelt news in the Taft newspaper—carries not one word of any of that testimony in its report of Monday's hearing.

Here is a delicate "coloring of the news" the like of which cannot be found in any newspaper supporting the President.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

You will make no mistake if you vote for Jackson for Representative.

Nothing can prevent the election of Wilson except a rallying of Republicans to Taft.

A vote for Jackson means your interests at Harrisburg will be properly taken care of.

The high cost of living will hit the workman much harder if Democratic success cuts wages in two.

Vote for Hon. W. D. B. Ainey for Congressman of the Fourteenth district. He is deserving of your support.

In a contest between Republicans who believe in protection, and Democrats who seek to tear it down, the protectionist who votes for a third candidate is giving aid to the enemy. In effect, he votes for the Democrat.

THE PROBABILITIES.

According to the reapportionment act of 1911, the Electoral College will cast 531 votes, of which 266 will be necessary to elect.

The Republican National campaign managers are now ready to give out figures, and they claim with confidence that President Taft will in all certainty receive 280 votes, or 14 more than necessary. They claim the following States as certain for Taft:

Connecticut 7; New York 45; Delaware 3; Ohio 24; Idaho 4; Oregon 5; Illinois 29; Pennsylvania 38; Iowa 13; Rhode Island 5; Maine 6; Utah 4; Massachusetts 13; Vermont 4; Maryland 8; Washington 7; Michigan 15; Wisconsin 13; Missouri 18; Wyoming 3; Montana 4; Wyoming 3; New Hampshire 4; New Mexico 3.

They concede the following to Wilson:

Alabama 12; North Carolina 12; Arkansas 9; South Carolina 9; California 13; South Dakota 5; Florida 6; Texas 20; Georgia 14; Virginia 12; Louisiana 10; Mississippi 10. Total 122.

The following States are doubtful:

Arizona 3; New Jersey 14; Colorado 6; North Dakota 5; Kansas 10; Oklahoma 10; Kentucky 13; Tennessee 12; Indiana 15; West Virginia 8; Minnesota 12; Nebraska 8; Nevada 3. Total 119.

From the letters which The National Tribune has received it confidently expects that Colorado, Kansas, Indiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Jersey, Oklahoma and West Virginia will be brought into the Republican column, and has strong hope of carrying Kentucky and Tennessee.

WASHINGTON PARTY INDORSES W. D. B. AINEY.

The action of the Washington party of the 14th district at Tunkhannock in endorsing the nomination of Congressman Ainey is to be highly commended. It evidences a proper conception in keeping the office of Congressman in this district out of the factional contest over the presidency.

There is a sense in which the office of Congressman is of more importance to the people than that of president. In any event it stands in the closest relation to them of any federal office.

Congressman Ainey was renominated at the primaries upon his open record of efficient service; was the unanimous choice of the Republican party. Those who are now members of the Washington party at that primary election voted for him; thus assuring him and the public of their commendation of his excellent service as their representative at Washington.—Bradford Republican.

REASONS WHY THEODORE ROOSEVELT SHOULD NOT BE PRESIDENT AGAIN.

1. He has broken his solemn pledge not to be a candidate again, and therefore no reliance can be placed upon any promises or pledges he may make to govern his future conduct.

2. He has himself announced as late as 1911 that "My (his) nomination would be a national govern his future conduct."

3. While he was President the number of unlawful business combinations increased from 149, with approximately three billions of dollars ($3,000,000,000) capital, to 1020 trusts, with thirty-one billions ($31,000,000,000) dollars. This is his method of destroying the trusts.

4. No trust was convicted of a crime while he was President, despite his continued denunciation of wicked trusts.

5. There was not a single criminal prosecution by the government of any individual offender against the Sherman law while he was President, despite his continued denunciation of "malefactors of great wealth."

6. He refused to prosecute the Sugar Trust, although Geo. H. Earle tendered him ample evidence to obtain a conviction.

7. He forbade the prosecution of the Harvester Trust, his personal friend and political backer being the organizer and principal director.

8. His two administrations were unparalleled for extravagance costing the country approximately nearly Eight Billion dollars ($7,740,000,000) more than DOUBLE the appropriation for the four years of Civil War.

9. His elective term from 1905 to 1909, cost the people of the United States $3,522,982,186.97, TWICE as much as the combined administrations of Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren, Harrison, Tyler, Polk, Taylor, Fillmore and Pierce and Buchanan.

10. When he became President he inherited a large surplus from the McKinley administration, and despite the largely increased revenue of the government, he bequeathed to his successor, W. H. Taft, a big deficit—$57,000,000 dollars. This deficit has been wiped out by the Taft administration and there is now a surplus of approximately $40,000,000 dollars.

11. His attitude towards the bosses of the Republican party was exposed in the following telegram to the widow of Senator Quay at the time of Boss Quay's death, "MY LOYAL FRIEND IS DEAD." He denounces bosses but accepted the appointment of assistant secretary of the Navy, this appointment being made at the personal request of Boss Platt. He accepted the nomination of Governor of New York state, being the nominee of Boss Platt. His nomination for Vice President was the joint work of Boss Platt and Boss Quay. He has been the associate and intimate of every boss he now denounces, and is now the intimate friend of Boss Flinn of Pennsylvania, Boss Brown of Ohio and Boss Lyon of Texas.

12. He personally bossed the Republican National Convention that nominated W. H. Taft; also personally bossed the 1910 N. Y. State Republican convention, selecting all the nominees, wrote the platform, stamped the State and claimed he had the Democrats "licked to a frazzle," but the returns on election night showed he had elected the whole Democratic ticket including the legislature which elected a Democrat as U. S. Senator.

13. His failure to secure the Republican nomination, started him on a campaign of hate and revenge in which every public man who refuses to support him is called a thief, a liar, a burglar, a jackal or a knave, and shows that to gratify his personal ambition he is willing to wreck the party which has given him every public position he has ever held.

Under Provision of Post Office Appropriation Bill of Aug. 24, 1912.

MR. JACKSON VS. MR. SPENCER.

Mr. Editor:—Mr. Spencer in his article of October 29th published in the Citizen, under the title of "Spencer or Jackson," says that I am now making promises of what I will do if re-elected. He also says that at the last session of the legislature I voted against the proposed election of U. S. Senator by direct vote of the people. In saying this I believe he says what he knows to be false.

The fact is as I stated in an article published just before the spring primaries, that the resolution on this question did not come to a vote in the House at all but was in a very unfair and underhanded way ruled out until too late to present to Congress before the adjournment of that body. I did, however, have the pleasure of signing a petition with, I think, about eighty-five other members of the House, who would have voted for it, setting forth our approval of electing U. S. senators by a direct vote of the people.

Now, as to free bridges on the Delaware. Mr. Spencer says: "I claim to favor them." I do, and in this he states the truth; but what he further says that "the bill failed to pass at last session on account of my inactivity" is not true. From the proceeds of my farm, toll is paid over two of these bridges and I have reason to be very much interested in free bridges on the Delaware and have strong hopes of securing the needed appropriation to do away with the toll bridges at the next session, if I am elected.

I made every effort possible at the last session of the legislature to bring the bill out of committee and before the House, but objection was made on the grounds that neither the New York nor the New Jersey legislature had made any appropriations for free bridges, hence, it was needless for the Pennsylvania legislature to tie up $750,000 for the purpose.

Now, he says that "the voters must choose between Mr. Spencer and Mr. Jackson when they vote for representative and that the past record and characteristics of each man should be carefully considered before the final choice is made." Right again. I earnestly invite the fullest investigation of and comparison between the two candidates and then vote intelligently.

I am in favor of the initiative and referendum which means rule by the people and not by political bosses; therefore, I favor local option and all measures that give voters a chance to say just how they shall be governed. On none of these important questions has my opponent, Mr. Spencer, told the people where he stands.

Yours respectfully,
H. C. JACKSON.

AINEY FOR CONGRESS.

One of the most important offices which comes before the people is that of congressman. In the selection of a man to represent a congressional district the voters should give the matter more than a passing consideration.

It is not our purpose or intent to laud Hon. Wm. D. B. Ainey, our present representative, and who seeks re-election, except for what he has done in the sixty-second Congress, and even with this in view, we do not know where to begin.

Mr. Ainey's peculiar fitness for the office has been spread vividly before all who have followed him since last December. His splendid legal mind and unusual powers of oratory have already marked him in the lower House. In Washington they say that Ainey is a coming man, and he is whether he returns for the sixty-third Congress or not. We believe that he will obtain a larger vote and majority than he received last year.

Our congressman has lived in this district all his life. He is a keen observant of affairs in general and was well qualified for the office because he knew the wants of his constituents. This district is different from many congressional districts by reason of the diversified interests, agriculture, manufacturing, mining, etc., and it is no easy task for one man to subserve every want. And yet so it is that Mr. Ainey, knowing so well the needs of the district as we have said, has zealously guarded every point and the secret of his success has been that he has been everlastingly at it. No task, large or small, has been too large or of too little moment for him. His selection as a delegate to the Inter-parliamentary Union for International Peace, held at Geneva, Switzerland in September, where nearly all the civilized nations of the world send picked men, men who make their laws, congressmen of their countries, was not only a delicate tribute to Pennsylvania, and the Fourteenth Congressional District, but it was a recognition of his ability to serve and mingle with the most eminent statesmen of Europe.

We cannot conceive any reason why Mr. Ainey should not again represent our district. The future must be judged by the past, and his past sparkles with accomplishments. As one man voiced it by saying,

If every style suited every woman, well-dressed women wouldn't be as rare as they really are.

The tastefully gowned woman is so because she has selected a particular style that suits her age, build, complexion and carriage. She has not selected a style simply because it looked well in a picture or somebody else.

But you can't do any "selecting" unless you have a variety from which to select. Therefore, the first step toward being tastefully dressed is to go to a store that offers a wide and a carefully chosen variety. And that is just what we give you here.
