

DAMASCUS.

(Special to The Citizen.)

Damascus, Oct. 30. Woodchucks are out yet. Meadow strawberries are in blossom. Sweet elder, pumpkin pies, pork sausage and buckwheat cakes are in order. Farmers are busy getting in the fall crops. Some of them are not yet through digging potatoes. Those digging now report much rot. W. T. Reilly, of Cocheont, shipped eleven carloads. Did you ever notice the foliage drop from the trees as early in October as it has the present year? And the foliage was so dense, too. There are two Damascus men who are taking thought of the morrow. One has made a concrete slab to mark his last resting place. It is set in a foundation or base of the same material and is all ready for setting when the proper time comes. The other man, a near neighbor, has made his casket all complete for the final crisis. They are not considered eccentrics either.

On the timber tract now being operated upon by B. H. Dodson was an ash tree upon the stump of which a team of horses stood side by side, so we were told. There were forty feet of trunk straight as a tree could grow before coming to the limbs. Mr. Dodson is still busy cutting from the tract and will not finish for some time to come and when he is through the lot will literally be denuded. Everything small enough for a stick of acid wood is cut.

GOULDSBORO.

(Special to The Citizen.)

Gouldsboro, Oct. 31. Mrs. Susan Heller has closed up her house for the winter. After a short visit with Mrs. Alice Heller and family in Factoryville she will go to Binghamton, N. Y., where she will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. E. Marthas.

In the spelling contest held on Saturday, Miss Mabel Griffin was the lucky contestant. In the oral spelling the writing will be given another opportunity as there was a tie of three: Miss Hilda Dutot, Miss Margaret Smith and Russell Flower doing equally well.

There was a large attendance at the M. E. church Sunday evening to hear Rev. G. F. Robinson's address on the rules, aims, etc., of the Boy Scouts. The Scouts with their Master, A. G. Flower, attended the services in a body and marched to the front of the church, their leader carrying a large flag. The church was tastefully trimmed with flags and bunting. Miss Helen Crooks sang one of the Scout's songs; the boys joined in the chorus.

Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Robinson, who are still located at Wilkes-Barre, have been spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sebring at West End and calling on their new friends. As soon as the contemplated improvements are made in the parsonage they will move here.

The new hall built by Clifton Grange at Lehigh Glen is to be dedicated Saturday, Nov. 2. A number of noted state grange speakers are to present, and the occasion promises to be interesting one. Dinner and supper will be served. The dedication services will be held in the morning, and in the afternoon and evening there will be dancing.

The annual fair of the Ladies' Aid society held in I. O. O. F. hall on Thursday and Friday evenings proved a success in every way. The Gouldsboro Cornet band furnished the music. There was a very large turn out both evenings.

The funeral of Frank Newell, whose death occurred Monday, was held from his home Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. G. F. Robinson officiating. Burial was made in the family plot in Lehigh cemetery. His sons acted as pall-bearers. Deceased was born at Tobyhanna and spent his entire life in this section. He was united in marriage in 1872 at Daleville to Julia Ace. Mrs. Newell died Sept. 18, 1907. DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

HUBBARD FOUND "NOT GUILTY"

quietness in the places he has been, and having heard the testimony of the Baptist minister from Schenectady, we will not doubt that your verdict will be in this case."

Marsden A. Hubbard was the first witness called by the defense. His testimony was as follows: In 1911 I lived in Philmont until I was 18 where I was married. Have two children. Knitter by trade. Worked in Philmont 15 years. After failure of firm went to Cahoes, N. Y., where I worked five months in Victor Knitting Mills. They failed and I went back to Schenectady where in April I was taken sick with pneumonia. Was in hospital two months and then went to Adirondacks for three months. Went back to Schenectady and they had a strike on and could not get work. Came to Carbondale March 4, 1912, having been asked to come by my aunt who lives there and I thought perhaps I could get work there. I worked in the Textile Knitting mills six weeks but the work affected my lungs and heart and had to quit. While at my aunt's I met Mrs. Laura Leonard and Mrs. Dolph. The former invited me to visit her in her Wayne county home and I went there twice. I worked for Mr. James about ten days and finished haying with him. I intended to leave for some time but I was persuaded to stay by Mrs. Leonard and also by Mr. Dolph. I play the harmonica and the guitar and played several times at the Leonard home. I played there Saturday night, July 27. The company went home about 11 o'clock. I retired about 12 o'clock. Mrs. Leonard and the members of the family were in the dining room. I slept in a little room on from the front room. Had occupied that bed at other times. Didn't know where the others slept. Some slept up stairs and some down. Being tired I asked to be shown my room and Mr. Dolph took me into the room I was to occupy. He went out and commenced quarreling with the children and his wife. He was cursing and swearing and using language not fit for a woman to hear. I heard him threaten to cut Mrs. Dolph's heart out and to kill all the members of the family. He walked back and forth across the room, all the time swearing. Shortly I heard a child crying and begging the father to leave it alone. It was begging for protection from some one. I felt as though I would like to get up but didn't want to interfere with their family troubles. I did get up but was all in a tremble. Mrs. Dolph rushed into my room. I got up and saw that Dolph was not hurting the child but tantalizing it. I went back to my room but left my trousers on, not knowing when I would be called again. I heard Dolph swearing and cursing still. I did not know what to do. I looked into my suitcase to see if revolver was there. I took it out for two reasons. So that Dolph would not get it and for my own protection if needed. I put it under my pillow. All of a sudden I heard Mrs. Leonard say, "Look out, here comes Tom with something in his hand." Mrs. Dolph with the child in her arms rushed in, with her husband following her with up-raised arm. He had his arm raised in an attitude to strike. I raised up in bed and saw something glitter in his up-raised hand. Just then he grabbed me at the right shoulder with his left hand and I grasped my revolver. He pushed me back on the bed and I pulled the trigger. In my excitement I kept pulling. Could not tell how many shots I fired. Had revolver twelve years. Used to belong to target shooting club. Never carried it on my person. I saw the glitter in Dolph's hand and thought he had a dangerous weapon. Never had any intention of wounding Dolph. Was excited and thought my life was in danger. Dolph had been drinking. Cartridges used were light about half power of those put in later.

Cross-examined—The examination brought out the facts of his life and where he worked as previously given, except he named a few more places where he had worked. One of these was at the Gurney Electric Elevator Works in Honesdale some time in June last. Hubbard stated that he did not know personally of the family relations between Dolph and his wife. He had heard that they had trouble but never saw any while he visited there. He said that he had been at Lake Lodore during the day and returned on the evening train. He said that he had gone over to the James home in the evening, not as Mr. James testified, to ask them over to the Dolph house to spend the evening but to see whether he could stay with Mr. James during the night, as he said he did not want to stay at Dolph's because he did not want to get mixed up in any of their family affairs. He said that James had company and he knew he could not stay there so he went back to Dolph's. The rest of his testimony was a repetition of that previously given. Hubbard was on the stand over two hours. When asked about the revolver he said that he had it in his hand when Dolph pressed him down on the bed. He contradicted himself here as he had testified in direct testimony that he had reached for the revolver after he was pinned down. Here Judge Searle asked him a question: "You say you were afraid of Dolph. Did you have any trouble with him during the afternoon to justify your fear?" Hubbard answered, "No, sir." "Who told you there would be trouble?" Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Dolph told me."

Cross-examined—Mrs. Dolph testified that she had been married 5 years and lived with her mother. She said that her mother took in boarders and sometimes had as many as six. She said that she did not go to Dymond's store at Waymart and have provisions charged there to her mother. She acknowledged getting clothes but not provisions for the house. That Dolph would not pay the money to her mother but would pay it to Dymond at Waymart. Sometimes he would spend all of his money in drink and go on a month's spree and would pay the bills when he got money from his work when he got it after becoming sober. She testified that Dolph threw three cups at her the night he was killed but did not hit her. He also threw an alarm clock at her while she was standing in the doorway. The clock was shown in court. Mrs. Dolph told a very creditable story of the affair and all the time she was on the witness stand answered all the questions of Hubbard's attorneys and also those of the prosecuting attorney in a voice that could be heard all over the court room. She did not break down while telling of the tragedy in which her husband and the father of her children was the victim and did not shed a tear. Her testimony all through was in the defence of Hubbard.

At five o'clock adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Wednesday Morning.

Q. "Were you ever out walking with Hubbard?"

A. "Yes; we walked to Waymart one afternoon and once we went to a neighbor's house together. When we went to Waymart my husband went ahead for he had to stop at Farview to get his pay and I was to meet my husband in Waymart at the store." My husband brought home a bottle of whiskey that Saturday night and put it in the pantry. Later I found it upstairs near the bed. He had a razor somewhere upstairs but I don't know just where he had it. My husband never made any threats against Hubbard and they had been good friends. I did not expect company that Saturday evening as I had not invited anybody to come in. When we went to Uncle James' that night we returned home about 9 o'clock Sunday morning after the sheriff and coroner had been there. When asked what effect drinking had on her husband Mrs. Dolph replied that he could drink a great quantity without it affecting him in the least but he always got cross and violently insane whenever he drank for any length of time.

Frank C. Kimble called—Was at the Leonard house about 6 o'clock with the coroner. I saw the body. It lay on the left side with right arm partly extended upward. The fork was clutched tightly in the hand so that I could raise the arm by taking hold of the fork.

Mrs. Laura Leonard called—I keep boarders. Hubbard boarded with me on July 27. Dolph paid me $20 a month board. He went to Waymart that evening and was there one or two hours. When he came home he was cross and disagreeable which was caused by drink. She told of her brother and wife and family coming over and went over a good bit of her testimony of Tuesday. The cross-examination of this witness failed to bring out any material points. When questioned about the broken dishes and where Mrs. Dolph had put them she said that they were put in a heap in a corner of the kitchen and they forgot about them in the excitement. She said that she had interfered between Dolph and his wife several times when the former had threatened to kill her daughter. She testified that two years ago Mr. James had to hold Dolph while Mrs. Dolph made her escape from him. Mr. James and Mr. Tegeler were called to quiet the man. She also said that Dolph and his wife had quarreled ever since they were married and that the quarrelling commenced long before Hubbard arrived in the neighborhood.

William James called—Hubbard worked for me 10 days. Knew that he could not stand much work so I put him on easy jobs. Didn't notice that Dolph had been drinking that Saturday night. He said that Dolph always kept cider in the house.

Alford W. Rogers sworn—I reside in Schenectady and am pastor of Emanuel Baptist church there. Have been there seven years. Have known Hubbard almost two years. He is a member of our church and by the general speech of the people of that community he has a reputation for peace and quietness that is remarkably good. He was not cross-examined. Two other witnesses from Schenectady, viz. Oscar Rector and Edward J. Russell, both testified to the good reputation of Hubbard in his home town for peace and quietness. John Bucker, David Holmstead, both of Carbondale township, testified to having known Hubbard while he stayed with his aunt there and that he bore a good reputation while there.

Mrs. Ina Stephens, of Texas township, formerly of Carbondale, also testified to Hubbard's good reputation there.

James T. O'Neil, proprietor of the hotel at Whites, was sworn and said that he had known Hubbard for about six months and that his reputation for peace and quietness in the community in which he lived was very good.

Howard Oimstead, of near Whites, also testified to this. Robert Stevens, an employe in the Gurney Electric Elevator works here, testified that he had known Hubbard well for about six months before July 27. That his reputation was good. He said Hubbard never told him that he was a married man.

Depositions of the following witnesses were read in court and all testified to the good reputation for peace and quietness of the defendant:

From Schenectady: Mrs. Elizabeth Hubbard, Mr. Hubbard, Mary McGinnis, Mrs. Joseph E. Cork, Edward L. Martin, Axel Sandstrom, Robert Steen, William Younglove.

From Philmont: Mrs. L. W. Nichols, Jacob Smith, John H. Snyder, Eugene Gartner, Geo. A. Lockwood, Adela Krosz. The latter is the mother of Hubbard's wife and stated that her daughter was ill in bed and was unable to attend the trial of her husband.

Marsden Hubbard called: "When Mrs. Dolph came to your bedroom with Dolph following, what were you apprehensive of?" Answer—"I was afraid Dolph would take his wife's life. When he grabbed me in bed I thought he was going to kill me. I had a quilt over me when he grabbed me and I couldn't get up."

Cross-examined: I did not get revolver when Dolph first came in. It was under my pillow. I did not get out of bed when Dolph attacked me or put my feet on the floor. I did not pass myself off to Dolph or his wife as a single man. I did say on the card at the Elevator works that I was single for I did not want them to make provision for a house for me. Some manufacturers require a married man to live in company houses and as I came here alone and without my family that is the reason I put single.

Judge Searle asked Hubbard a question here: "You say that you were afraid of Dolph. Did you shoot to do him harm?" A—"No; I did not. I shot to frighten and scare him away. It was not my intention to kill him."

Earl James sworn: He testified that he was son of William James and was at Mrs. Leonard's house on Saturday night, July 27. He said that Dolph appeared to be intoxicated by the appearance of his face and his actions.

Rebuttal.

Wednesday Afternoon.

The prosecution called several witnesses in rebuttal.

Joseph Fox sworn: Testified that he lived in Honesdale and had testified to Hubbard's good reputation there.

known Thomas Dolph 4 years. That Dolph weighed about 145 lb. and was a little over 5 ft. in height.

Walter Tadmam sworn: Testified to his acquaintance with Dolph. Gave Dolph's height about 5 feet 8 inches and weight about 140 pounds. On cross-examination he stated that Dolph weighed about the same as he did, as they were both weighed at Waymart at the same time.

John Dymond sworn: Testified that he lived in Waymart and knew Dolph. He also stated his height to be about 5 feet 8 inches and his weight to be from 140 to 150 pounds. The testimony that he was to give about Dolph's transactions at his store in Waymart was objected to and the objection was sustained.

Mrs. Dolph called: She was asked, "Did you not say in the presence of P. H. Skelton and N. B. Spencer that Hubbard shot two or three times in the air on Sunday, July 18." Answer—"No, I did not."

N. B. Spencer called: He stated that Mrs. Dolph had told him in the presence of witnesses that Hubbard had shot in the air. He also said that when he asked Mrs. Dolph where she had put the broken bits of dishes, she had replied that they were scattered around the yard somewhere but didn't know where they were at that time.

P. H. Skelton sworn: I was present in the bedroom where the shooting took place and heard Mrs. Dolph say that her husband pushed her over against the washstand and grabbed her by the throat. I heard her say to Mr. Spencer that Hubbard had shot two or three times in the air.

Cross-examined by Mr. Lee: "You interviewed Hubbard in the county jail after the shooting, didn't you?" And he told you then that he did not fire any shots in the air." Yes, I interviewed him and he said that to me." Lee—"Then why did you go directly back to your office and write a story directly opposite to what he told you there?"

H. C. Van Alstyne sworn: He said that he had heard Mrs. Dolph say to Mr. Spencer that her husband had pushed her up against the washstand. He testified to being upstairs when Spencer was there and that he saw Spencer pick up the razor from the suitcase which contained a suit of underclothing. The bed in the hall was also searched and nothing found in it or under the pillow.

Dr. H. B. Ely sworn: His testimony was to be on the tests made by him and Mr. Spencer as to the distance required to make powder marks on the man's shirt. The counsel for the defendant objected and the objection was sustained. The prosecution rested here.

Attorney W. H. Lee opened the argument to the jury for the defense and gave a strong argument. He spoke 25 minutes. Attorney F. P. Kimble also for the defense, followed up with a forty-five-minute speech to the jury.

District Attorney M. E. Simons took up about three quarters of an hour in his argument and he explained the different points of the case and offered the exhibits to the jurors to take into the jury room with them. Court adjourned at 5 o'clock to meet again at nine o'clock Thursday morning.

This morning after court opened Judge Searle began his charge to the jury. He went over the evidence of the defense and the commonwealth in an impartial manner and gave the law in the case. His charge favored the defendant as the evidence given warranted. His charge covered nineteen typewritten pages and took forty-five minutes to deliver.

The jury went out at 9:55 and returned with their verdict at 10:35. Hubbard, who had been taken to his cell in the county jail to await the return of the jury, was called in to hear the verdict. A hush swept over the court room as the Prothonotary said, "Gentlemen of the jury, hearken to your verdict as you have rendered it."

October 31, 1912, we, the jury find a verdict in favor of the defendant, Not Guilty.

Hubbard sat between his attorneys while the verdict was being read and his face betrayed no emotion. When he heard the words, "Not guilty," one could see a slight sigh of relief pass over the man's features. Hubbard was then called before the court.

Judge Searle said: "Mr. Simons have you anything more against this man?" "No; I have nothing further," said the prosecuting attorney.

"Then, Mr. Hubbard, you are discharged."

Hubbard then received the congratulations of his friends and after shaking hands with some of the members of the jury, he left the court room accompanied by Mr. Lee, one of his attorneys.
