It is hoped that a large number will attend from Honesdale and help the good folks at Prompton in clearing the debt on their church.

Samuel Alvin Seitz, a leather dealer of Philadelphia, was accidentally shot and killed by Joseph A. Murray, of Germantown, near Stroudsburg. Seitz and Murray, two of a party of eight prominent Philadelphians, who had gone there for a few days in the woods, were hunting together when the accident occurred. Murray, who was on his first hunting trip, had shot a pheasant and was jubilant. Hastily reloading, the gun was accidentally discharged and the shot struck Seitz, who died almost instantly. Mrs. Seitz was in the party and is prostrated. It took the combined efforts of a guide and other members of the party from preventing young Murray from committing suicide when he realized what he had done.

In an interview with W. A. Dellmore, local district manager for the Bell Telephone company, he told us that a fund of ten million dollars would be available January 1st next for the 175,000 employees of the Bell system. About as soon as the Democrats of Honesdale realized that Wilson had gained a victory at the polls, they began to look about to see what would be theirs in the way of political "spoils." Their attention was immediately centered on the postoffice, which will undoubtedly be vacated on April 31, 1913, by the present postmaster. There are as many as eight Honesdale Democrats campaigning for the job, some of whom are out with petitions getting the signatures of voters of Honesdale irrespective of party. There is nothing like being the early bird, but when there are as many as eight early birds, the outcome will probably not be settled until April of next year.

The vote for President in 1908 was: Taft 75, Bryan 81. In the table printed last Friday there were several changes made in the official count which was completed Thursday afternoon by Judge A. T. Searle, W. H. Lee, M. J. Hanlan and W. J. Bader. The changes did not materially affect the totals for any candidate.

Of the many beautiful, artistic and most realistic windows that have been trimmed in Honesdale, Erk Bros. at present have a window that would take a prize for window decoration. It represents a hunting scene. An old stump in the background with a quantity of dirt thrown out in front of it represents a fox's home. Breezy Fox is eyeing a squirrel in the branches of a tree nearby, while other birds and animals are in a natural pose. It represents a winter scene, the supposed ground being covered with a light fall of snow. Evergreen trees form a background. In different parts of the window is displayed rifles, hunting ammunition, hunters' coats and other articles. The window was trimmed by John Wasman and is very artistic, reflecting credit upon the decorator. Photographer J. A. Bodie recently took a picture of the window.

All the foundations are in for the machine shop and foundry of the new Gurney Electric Elevator plant. The lime-stone trimmings for the northern end of the factory have arrived and are now being set in their respective positions.

Dr. John, of Wilkes-Barre, and Major Everett Warren, an absent vestryman. C. D. Sanderson was chairman of the reception committee, and W. A. Avery is chairman of the Guild.

George S. Reineohl, a former official of the old Pennsylvania Telephone Company, has been appointed Division Manager of the Harrisburg Division of the Bell Telephone, vice J. H. Crozman, Jr., recently promoted to General Commercial Superintendent of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. Mr. Reineohl, although he has been located in Pittsburg for the past two years as District Manager of the Bell Company in that city, is very well known hereabouts as he has been at various times manager at Lebanon, Lancaster, Scranton, Reading and Chief Clerk to the General Manager at Harrisburg.

The Maple City Five defeated the defenders at the Rink on Saturday night by the score of 21 to 8. The game was rough, especially on the part of the Defenders, the Maple City bunch seeming to be a little afraid to mix in the first half which ended 8 to 6 in favor of the Defenders. The local champions awoke in the last half and while scoring 15 points themselves held the Defenders scoreless, once again showing that they are good finishers. Lineup: Defenders—D. Faatz, J. Jacobs, forwards; Rose, center; C. Faatz, Hessler, guards. Maple City Five—J. Polt, Ross, Mangan, forwards; Brader, center; Tarkett, McDermott, Bader, guards.

Peter Herbric, superintendent of construction of the F. A. Havens company, who are building the new elevator plant at this place, says he has received over 200 applications for work since he has been advertising for help in The Citizen. He is highly pleased with the results and told a representative of this paper that he considered The Citizen an excellent advertising medium. "Your paper is thoroughly read," concluded Mr. Herbric. Now, Mr. Merchant, the above is only one instance in many where direct results come from advertising in The Citizen. If you are not a regular advertiser of this paper try its columns and be convinced. Rates cheerfully given.
