The supper was in charge of the ladies of the Parish Aid society and the serving and sale of fancy work was presided over by the King's Daughters of Bethany. Whittaker. —In probably the fastest finish ever seen in the Rink, the Maple City Five defeated the strong Catholic Club team of Scranton on Saturday evening by a score of 17 to 11. The locals again demonstrated their "never say die spirit" and with a score of 10 to 3 against them in the first half, scored 14 points to their opponents 1 in the last session and won out by a safe margin. It was a peculiar incident that each team was held to no field goals in the first and the Scranton team couldn't find the ball or the basket in the second. Capt. Brader's foul shooting was a feature. The Scranton boys were very much disappointed over losing the game, after having what appeared like a safe lead in the first half, but took it good naturedly and asked for another chance to come here to prove their asserted superiority.

The Taylor team is one of the best amateur teams in the state—very few being better—and the very fact that the locals have proven themselves their equals, or nearly so, by playing them at the same time, is evidence that the games will be well worth seeing and shows that the locals are deserving of good support. The Maple City Five claim that they are going to win at least one of these games, perhaps both. At any rate they will be two fast and exciting games. —The summer was suddenly brought to a close during the early hours of Sunday morning, when the thermometer dropped several degrees and snow fell during the morning, the temperature hovering between 35 and 30 degrees. In the afternoon it was colder and the snowfall soon averaged six inches on the level in Honesdale. In many other places in the county the average fall of snow was about 8 inches. It continued to fall all Sunday afternoon and Monday morning and about noon it stopped. Telephone wires in many parts of the county were down and communication to several sections was entirely cut off until Tuesday night. The storm is supposed to have come from the Great Lakes and it came without any forecast from the weather bureau. One of the unusual features of the storm was the thunder storm which accompanied it and to this fact is credited the cause of the many telephone difficulties through the valley. —The killing of does is entirely too general in the woods of the State this fall, say men connected with the State Game Commission which is keeping an eye on the hunting throughout Pennsylvania, and it is probable that hundreds of dollars of furs will have to be paid and a sentiment for a closed season on deer, which has been growing in order that the game may multiply, will be stronger than ever. Reports received at the Capitol are to the effect that scores of does and even fawns have been shot down by hunters and allowed to lie in the woods. The law puts a penalty of $100 on each doe or fawn killed and hunters rarely make any effort to take the carcasses away. The game warden with the assistance of State police are taking steps to trace hunters who have shot female deer and it is thought that some of them may be brought to justice. It is said, from experience of wardens, that hunters who have shot their single buck, which is all the law allows, are to blame for the shooting of many does as they cannot resist the temptation to shoot again, although it is recognized that some of the killing is done through honest mistakes or by inexperienced sportsmen.

—The telephone and telegraphic service was badly crippled throughout the country owing to the severe snow storm. Communication between Honesdale and Scranton could not be reached as late as Tuesday. —A few of Grace Miller's friends surprised her on Monday evening, it being her birthday. A most delightful evening was spent. Five Hundred was played and Miss Lactea Hawkins won a prize. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. R. J. Miller. —The aged widow of John Dermody, of Cochecon, N. Y., who dropped dead one day last week on his way to the home of his deceased friend, Michael McCue, in Damascus township, has not fully recovered from the shock of her husband's death. Her condition is very critical. —W. J. Varcoe, son of W. H. Varcoe, and a member of the Doyle Stock Co., appeared in Dowagiac, Michigan, on Monday evening, Nov. 18th, in the role of the undertaker, in "Everybody's Doing It," a conglomeration of nonsense. Mr. Varcoe won the greater portion of the applause and made a big hit. —The fire department of White Mills held an old-fashioned fair in Florence theatre Thursday of last week and the attendance well repaid them for their efforts and a neat sum was realized from the sales. About $400 was taken in and the money thus cleared will be for the purchase of necessities by the fire company. —Sheriff F. C. Kimble accompanied by Benjamin White left Tuesday morning for Philadelphia. White will begin serving a sentence of not less than two years in the Eastern Penitentiary. He was sentenced to not less than two years or more than ten years by Judge Searle after he had been found guilty of burning a barn by a jury in the October term of court. —There were six cases of smallpox reported in the family of Warner Wormsley in Buckingham township the first of the week. They are directly across the Delaware river from Hancock, N. Y., and evidently the disease was brought from that city. One case was also reported in the family of Cora Adams at Starlight in Buckingham township. One case was also reported in the family of William Eberline at Winterdale, Scott township. —To allay the fears of many people and to deny the many erroneous rumors as to the smallpox situation in Honesdale we will say that Honesdale has only one case and that one is very mild. No new developments have been reported and Dr. H. B. Ely stated today that by the end of this week all persons exposed to the disease would be out of danger if nothing happens before that time. It is very unlikely that any further developments will take place here as every precaution was taken against its spread.

Mrs. Smith has a number of Wayne county friends who will remember her and who will regret to learn of her death. For many years Mrs. Smith taught school at Hollisterville, Wayne county.

Death summoned one of Dixon's most talented women when Mrs. Harriet M. Smith, wife of the late Robert M. Smith, passed away Monday, Oct. 28, at her home, 1024 West Third street. Two years ago last August Mrs. Smith was first taken ill, and since that time has gradually been growing weaker, but was able to be around and attend to her household until three weeks ago when she was taken with her last illness. The deceased was a very intellectual woman.
