Ambrose Kilgallon of West Side Avenue, received a severe shaking up on Friday last when his sled, on which he was coasting down Fourteenth street, ran into a telegraph pole.

The Honesdale Defenders journeyed to Liberty, N. Y., on Thursday last where they played the Emeralds of that place. The game was an exciting one and resulted in a score of 52 to 11 in favor of Liberty.

A four-act drama entitled "Home Ties" will be played at Pleasant Mount, Dec. 10, in the high school hall for the benefit of the M. E. church. It will be followed by a social.

T. B. Clark of this place is extending his farm interests in Wayne county. The latter part of last week he purchased the M. E. Balkcom farm located at Beech Grove. This farm joins Mr. Clark's former property.

A dispatch from Pittsburg on Sunday stated that Jefferson Garrison, aged sixteen, and Gilbert Hoover, aged eighteen, who say they live at Hawley, near Scranton, were picked up by the police here today cold and hungry. They said they had started West to seek their fortunes. They were provided with food after which word was sent to their parents as the boys say they are anxious to return home.

Six priests received notice from Bishop Hoban Saturday of their transfer to St. Mary's church, Wilkes-Barre, to the vacancy caused by the promotion of Rev. John Lynott from assistant pastor there, to pastor of the church at Ralston, Lycoming county. Rev. Daniel Dunn, of the cathedral, is transferred to Plymouth to succeed Father Healey. Rev. M. H. Corgan, assistant at St. Thomas church, Archbald, is promoted to pastor of St. Anthony's church, Stewell, and Rev. Thomas Carmondy, of the cathedral, succeeds him in Archbald. Rev. Robert E. B. Gardner, assistant priest in Hawley, and Rev. John E. McHale, of Sacred Heart church, Plains, have been notified to change places.

Trainman Kent of Conductor Nicholson's Honesdale way-freight has landed the temporary vacancy on Conductor Skeel's train which has been on the market, off and on, for the past few months. Kent is now probably fixed for the winter while Cliff and Pidgeon look on.—Carbondale Leader.

Cleveland Rogers and Theodore Bert Sayre have written a play entitled "Ransomed." It was staged at the Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, on Monday, where it will have a few weeks' stand. Mr. Rogers, who with Mrs. Rogers, has been visiting here, left the first of the week for the Quaker City.

It gives us great pleasure to state that the varioloid epidemic with which our village has been threatened during the past two weeks, has been checked and is on the decline. The disease, though in a mild form, has occasioned much worry, some scare and the loss of considerable business. But it might have been worse.—Hancock Herald.

While hunting Saturday, Monroe Whelan, of Summerdale, found the skeleton of a man lying across a log on the Blue mountain two miles back of Marysville. Dr. Geo. Gault, coroner of Perry county, was notified and Sunday took charge of the remains. The fact that two of the ribs are broken indicates the possibility of foul play. Only a few rags remain of the man's clothing. He apparently wore a blue serge suit.

Elsewhere in to-day's Citizen appears an application for a charter for an intended corporation to be called "Realty Weaving and Spinning Company," for the manufacture of all fabrics using wool, cotton, silk or any other vegetable or animal fibre, etc. The charter also asks for the privilege of erection, maintenance of such buildings and dwellings as may be necessary in the above mentioned business. The incorporators mentioned are Catholina Lambert, J. Wallace Lambert and W. F. Suydam, Jr. Searle & Salmon are solicitors.

An infuriated bull belonging to Earl Rolston, a farmer living near Fallside, broke his bonds, which had held him to a tree, Saturday and attacked two valuable horses also belonging to Mr. Rolston. The horses were in pasture and only a fence separated the two fields. The horses were in one field and the bull in another. The battle only lasted a few minutes. The bull rushed at one of the horses and sank his horns into the horse's body time and again. The other horse was gored to death in the same way. Mr. Rolston valued both horses at $150 each.

The Lutheran Pastoral association met Tuesday in St. Peter's church, Pittston, Rev. Mr. Bachofer, pastor. A very interesting program was arranged for the occasion, as follows: Devotional services by the Rev. Paul Kummer; studies in Hebrew: Genesis, 1:1-10; Studies in Greek, Revelation, 6:4-7. Sermon outline by the Rev. G. E. A. Reschke of Pittston. Pastors from Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Nanticoke, Gouldsboro, Carbondale and Pittston proper were in attendance, and a very interesting meeting was held. The present officers of the association are: President, John A. Bender; secretary, the Rev. G. E. A. Reschke, of Pittston. The association meets monthly for the mutual benefit of its members.

Part of the columns and girders for the steel work of the Gurney Electric Elevator plant arrived on Sunday and the balance is expected today. The siding from the main line of the Delaware and Hudson track to the elevator building has been laid over which other material will be taken into the plant. Seaman, Breneman and Irwin have completed their contract of furnishing 540 tons of crushed stone which will be used in the construction of the floor. A layer of crushed stone four inches will be distributed over the area for the shop floor. During the past two weeks the plant has rapidly grown and if weather permits, it is expected that the steel work on the main shop will be erected within the next few weeks.

Exactly $23,415,455.14 was asked from Congress which opened at noon Monday for all government expenses for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1913. This was the aggregate of estimates for Uncle Sam's expenses submitted by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh to Speaker Clark. It promises another "billion dollar" congress this winter. This annual "budget" is an increase by $87,680,000 over the expenses for the present fiscal year. It comprises appropriations asked by the outgoing Republican administration for the nation's running expenses during Democratic regime. Not included in the estimates are predicted expenditures by the postal service of $281,791,000 during the year ending July 1, 1914, but these will be paid in full, or nearly so, by postal receipts, that department now being practically self-sustaining.

Red Cross stamps were widely distributed in Honesdale on Saturday.

The gymnasium in the High school opened Monday night for the season.

Thomas Kelley, manager of the National House, Pittston, has returned from a hunting trip in Wayne county. He shot a deer weighing 160 pounds.

While walking along the road that leads from Clark's Summit to Clark's Green, Frederick Lieb, aged 73 years, of Jeffersonville, N. Y., but who has been living with his son, L. M. Lieb, of Clark's Green, dropped dead of apoplexy on Saturday morning. Mr. Lieb was on his way to the grocery store and left his son's home in apparently good health. Deceased is survived by several children. Burial was made in Jeffersonville.

It was necessary to tear down a section of a stone culvert on Russell street last Saturday to enable Walter Weidner to release one of the horses of his team that had fallen in the sluiceway. The horse nearest the open culvert slipped and as it went down it fell upon its back. It took the united efforts of several neighbors and a few farmers to get the animal upon its feet. The horse was somewhat cut and bruised before it was rescued from the pitfall.

For some time the Erie has been missing a lot of valuable brass at Susquehanna, and all their efforts to catch the thief have been unavailing until Thursday night, when they managed to nab the chap, who proved to be a fellow who resides about a mile from town and has one of the best jobs in the shop. He was about the last man in his department who would have been suspected. The regular watchman did not appear able to catch the chap so another man was put on the job and the regular man detailed in the department where the goods were being stolen and Thursday night caught the man in the act.

Alfred E. Sheard, of Calkins, returned Monday evening from Albany, N. Y., where he represented the Tyler Hill Dairymen's League and attended a business meeting of the general league. Mr. Sheard is a director of the Dairymen's League, which was incorporated four years ago under New Jersey laws. The league is composed of 46,000 shares, representing 95,000 cows, and is gaining at the rate of 3,000 cows per week. There are now six organizers in the field, which includes the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania. Wayne county has three leagues, all of which are located near the Delaware valley. The purpose of the league is to get farmers to control the price of milk for New York City market, instead of the producers being dictated as to what they shall receive for the milk by the buyers. The meeting was very profitable and was attended by a good representation of parties directly interested.
