LOCAL NEWS

—Why wouldn't it be beneficial to Honesdale to have a clearing house?

—The German Catholic club held a business and social meeting in their club rooms under St. Mary Magdalene's church on Tuesday evening.

—A picked up basket ball team consisting of Tarkett, Mangan, J. Polt, W. Polt, Kieglar and Rose expect to play Damascus High school Friday night.

—The old idea that the gripe is in the air, and extends independently of personal contact with the sick, is refuted by Surgeon-General Sternberg in an article soon to be published in The Youth's Companion, which in simple language gives both the history and the pathology of the death.

—The marriage of George Miller and Miss Grace Martin of Cherry Ridge occurred at the parsonage of the Methodist church in Honesdale, Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Will H. Hiller. Miss Martin is the daughter of Mrs. Elmira Martin of Cherry Ridge while Mr. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller of this place. He is a glass cutter by trade.

—Many people who saw the 24-hour race here last year and remember the team, Yale and Burke, which won that race by two laps, will be interested to know that these two men were in a similar race in the Metropolitan Rink in New York City a short time ago, but were racing against each other. The team of which Burke was a member (he was the larger of the two) won the race.

—In one of the local papers it was stated that there was no provision made in the new Parcels Post law for the collection of parcels on Star routes. This is an error and in order to set our readers right as to the law on the point we print the following: Section 10—Article 2—Parcels collected on Star routes must be deposited in the next postoffice from which carrier arrives and postage charged at the rate of that office.

—Robert Simpson, of Waymart, has joined the ranks of the non-smokers. The last time that he lit up his old jimmy pipe was on the occasion of his son's death a month ago, when father and son lit their pipes from the same match as they were starting on a hunting trip. Before the morning had passed away Roland Simpson lay dead by his own hand as the result of an accidental discharge of his gun. The father thereupon quit the tobacco habit as he declares the smoke always reminds him of that day's tragedy.

—Preparations are being made to erect the large smokestack by S. E. Morrison at the Gurney Electric Elevator plant.

—There will be a game of basket ball Friday evening in the gymnasium of the Honesdale High school between the Comets and the second German Catholic club team.

—The Eagles held an installation of officers at their hall on Monday night. The officers elected three weeks ago were installed. A smoker was held afterwards and a luncheon was served.

—A roller skating race between two prominent business men of Honesdale will take place at the rink on Friday evening, January 24. A hilarious time is expected. Come and enjoy a merry evening.

—It will cost you nothing to have the Thrice-A-Week World sent to you for a few times. You can secure a good county paper also for the price of one. Why not subscribe now. Sample copies gladly sent you upon request.

—Miss Alice Tallman entertained about twelve of her friends at her home on Main street Wednesday evening. Five hundred was played and dainty refreshments were served. Prizes were won by Mrs. Leon Ross and Miss Estelle Congdon.

—Northern Wayne is now about free from the smallpox situation and the quarantine has been lifted. Dr. Frisbie, of Starbuck, who has had charge of the situation there, stated recently that only a few cases remained. A total of 41 cases were reported in Wayne but there were at no time over a dozen cases and none of them of a serious nature.

—As 1913 will probably see the first use of the Panama Canal, there is special fitness in The Youth's Companion's announcement of a serial, "The Steam-Shovel Man," by Ralph D. Paine, author of "The Cross and the Dragon." This absorbing story of the Canal Zone will begin before the end of 1913, and will be followed by seven other serials by such authors as Ella W. Peattie, C. A. Stephens, Arthur Stanwood Pier and Archibald Rutledge.

—Long Eddy is in the throes of another exciting episode which is likely to make lurid history in the annals of that hustling village and the inhabitants are up in arms at the audacity of one party who, by their profusely at writing letters have caused no end of trouble between husbands and wives in a number of families. And husbands and wives are not the only ones who have suffered the humiliation of being basely defiled, for fathers have received copies of the supposed-to-be shameful escapades of their daughters. The letter writing has been going on for a couple of months, although it was not until lately that the trouble which they have been causing became unbearable in a number of families.

—Auditors J. L. Noble, of Arlington, and D. D. Weston, of Honesdale, completed auditing the accounts of the Wayne County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company on Tuesday. The company's assets amount to $9,360.27. This includes cash in the agents' hands, furniture, safe, etc. The receipts for the year 1912 amounted to $14,774.52. The disbursements for this length of time were $15,158.46. A balance of $8,751 is in the treasury. The amount of insurance in force December 31st last was $4,476,607 and the amount paid out for losses since the organization of the company 23 years ago is $113,700.67. A complete statement of the Wayne County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company will appear in a forthcoming issue of The Citizen.

—State Treasurer C. F. Wright is having a search of the books of his department made to ascertain the amount of money due to the new State school fund now that the State Board of Education has completed its plans for the investment and administration of the money which is to be devoted to the Commonwealth's educational foundation under the school code. Pennsylvania is one of the few States which had no State school fund until the enactment of the code, but steps are being taken to provide it for the future. Under the code ninety per cent of the net income from the State's forest reservations, which now amount to from $6,000 to $7,000 per year; water rights, which have heretofore not yielded much income; sales of real estate to the State, which is comparatively small and escheated estates which aggregate from $20,000 to $25,000 a year, together with any legacies. These moneys will be due the fund from the date of its approval in 1911 so that the State will start off with a fair sum.

—An elderly lady arrived on the 10 o'clock Delaware and Hudson train Tuesday morning and was bound for Cochecon, N. Y. As there are no connections less than five hours between the arrival of the Delaware and Hudson train and the departure of the 2:53 afternoon Erie train the elderly lady was compelled to wait. The hour hand of the big depot clock slowly advanced to the leaving time, when the stranger boarded the Erie passenger coach. She alighted at Lackawaxen, where she changed cars for the Cochecon train on the main line of the Erie. Here she had the pleasure (?) of two more long hours' wait before her train was due. This long wait might have been averted had the passenger gone from Carbondale to Susquehanna and from there to Cochecon. She would have arrived at the latter place at 2:41 p. m., whereas the route she took kept her on the road until 8:56 p. m. The difference is only 80 cents in car fare. Connections on the Ontario and Western are just as bad at Hancock. That train arrives only two minutes before the Erie train, but the depots are nearly a mile and a half apart. It is impossible to make connections if the trains are on schedule time. A flying machine might be used to advantage between these stations. It seems absurd that two roads coming into a town that better connections cannot be made. Honesdale is no exception.

—In St. John's Lutheran church, services will be as follows on Sunday: 10:30 a. m. sermon entitled, "Im Reiche Gottes gilt nur die Gnade." 11:45 a. m. Bible school; 7:30 p. m., "Every man to his own place."

—William Hittinger, of the firm of Ham & Hittinger, of White Mills, while loading a car of lumber from the dock at that place, fell and fractured his right collarbone. The accident happened just before noon on Thursday. Dr. E. B. Gavittie reduced the fracture.

—The second reading in Mrs. Friedewald's course will occur Saturday, Jan. 18, at 3:15 p. m. Of her subject, "The Promised Land," by Mary Antin, Mrs. Friedewald says, "It is the most interesting and absorbing book that I have ever presented." It is hoped that many will attend outside of the regular patrons.

—Wayne county is recognized as an apple growing country. A number of good varieties were raised last year by farmers and grangers. Corn also showed some remarkable growths last season. The Pomona of Wayne county want the public to see these crops. It has made arrangements for an exhibition to be held in Odd Fellows hall on Tuesday, February 25, to which everybody is invited.

—The Honesdale District Sunday School convention began this morning in the White Mills M. E. church. There was a large attendance. The program will last all day. This afternoon Mrs. Wallace J. Barnes talked on "Temperance Teaching in Sunday School Work." This evening Rev. Will H. Hiller of Honesdale will speak on "That Great Half Hour." The singing at each session will be led by the choir of the White Mills church. In the evening the choir was assisted by the Male quartette.

—About nine o'clock Wednesday night fire broke out in a back room of Hawker & Barthelme's meat market on Eight street. Fire was caused from an overheated stove pipe which passed through a wood partition. The blaze caused considerable damage to the inside of the office and a back room before it was extinguished by buckets of water and a chemical extinguisher. The fire did not at any time get on the outside of the building. Protection Engine Company No. 3 and Hose Company No. 1 responded but the fire was put out as soon as they arrived.

—Rev. L. C. Muddock, D. D., district superintendent, has announced the following dates on which quarterly meetings will be held in this county: Sterling, Jan. 10; Hamilton, Jan. 11-12; Lakeville, Jan. 11-12; Hawley, Jan. 17-19; White Mills, Jan. 18-19; Lackawaxen, Jan. 24; Damascus, Jan. 25-26; Beachlake, Jan. 26; Clifford, Jan. 30 to Feb. 2; Carbondale, Jan. 31-Feb. 2; Forest City, Jan. 30-Feb. 2; Ariel, February 4-9; South Canaan, Feb. 5; Waymart, Feb. 5; Uniondale, Feb. 7; Thompson, Feb. 8-9; Lake Como, Feb. 8-9; Orson, Feb. 8-9. The first date is the quarterly conference and the last date the Sunday following.

—"No factory law can do as much toward the prevention of accidents as a system that will make it directly and immediately expensive to the employer to be careless of the safety of his workmen," is the expressed belief of the industrial accidents commission, whose report has just been submitted to the Pennsylvania legislature. "This should be borne in mind," says the report, "in weighing the relative of workmen's compensation." The commission, which was appointed by Gov. Tener in pursuance of an act passed by the last legislature, investigated the subject of the prevention of industrial accidents and the compensation of injured workmen and their dependents. Several suggested acts drafted by the commission covering the subjects it inquired into were transmitted to the legislature with the report.

—Miss Loretta Frances Cawley, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Cawley, of Scranton, who graduated last Spring from the Scranton Private hospital, was tendered a surprise reception last week in the lecture room of the hospital by a number of the nurses and their friends. Miss Cawley completed her term last week. The young woman was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. Following music and dancing luncheon was served. The room was elaborately decorated with ferns and palms. Those present were: Misses Anna Whally, Rose Shook, Mary Sullivan, Mary O'Connor, Isabelle Connor, Della Smith, Margaret Curley, May Grogan, Rose Gubin, Helen Nothing, May Cawley, Bernice Underhill, Mildred Forchner, Elizabeth Cawley, Julia Compton, Catherine McColligan, and Loretta Frances Cawley, and Paul Smith, Herbert Stone, Dr. W. O. Smith, Carl Sullivan, Thomas Roche, James O'Malley, Daniel O'Hara, John Murray, John Gavin, James Collins, William Noble and Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Cook at South Canaan.

—Postage! One cent postage would be profitable to a few large commercial houses, but it would do very little for the rank and file of mankind. An association organized at Cleveland and probably with well paid officials, is endeavoring to carry on a propaganda to reduce the postage on letters and to increase it on newspapers, magazines and periodicals. The misleading statement is made that the first class mails earn an annual surplus for the government of $70,000,000 while the newspapers and magazines represented in the second class mail are a tremendous burden on the Government. The Hughes Commission appointed by President Taft thoroughly disproved this latter statement. It is well that the newspapers and other periodicals that are being besought to print the absurd, one sided statements of the National One-Cent Letter Postage Association should refuse to lend themselves to a propaganda aimed at them. We wonder who pays the bills of this association? Is it the express companies, the railroads, or some other good angel without wings?—Leslie's.

—Ice cutting on the different ponds and lakes in Wayne county has been or will soon be commenced. At Ariel the ice is about six inches; Poyntelle, 10 inches; Lodore, six inches; Cajaw, seven inches. The Pocono Mountain companies fear that the crop will be light owing to the warm weather, rain and cutting winds.

—While digging holes in the yard of a McAdoo foreigner named Krusna at Wilkes-Barre recently, Jos. Lukatz and Bernard Gallagher of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre chain gang, came across a dinner pail in which $1,300 was stored. The money was returned to the foreigner. He said he had no faith in banks and had stored the money in the pail underground.

—A special from Neversink says: Game Protector Cross was called to Claryville last Friday to look after a deer which had injured itself while trying to keep away from a number of dogs, which had been giving chase for a long time. On Thursday night the deer, a large buck, apparently slipped while coming down a steep incline within 200 feet of York's hotel at Claryville and injured itself so badly that its hind legs were useless. He managed to drag himself to the river before the dogs came up, when Oliver Bally hearing the commotion drove the dogs off, and with the help of others carried the deer into York's barn. W. A. Briggs while making an inspection of the "beauty" was suddenly attacked, with the result that a new overcoat was torn in shreds. Mr. Briggs presumably thinks that the deer is of the Bull Moose family and so took this dire revenge for lack of attention in the campaign last fall.

—What is known as the "county and municipal local option" bill will be introduced in the Legislature this year, provided the Anti-Saloon League officers find that this plan of fixing the unit is satisfactory to most of the local option members of the Assembly. This bill differs from the Boyd bill of the session of 1911 which fixed the voting unit at wards in cities, boroughs and townships. The plan advocated recently at headquarters' meeting of the Anti-Saloon officers provides for a unit of an entire county, unless there are boroughs or cities of 10,000 or more population in which cases the municipalities would be permitted to vote on the question separately. The officers of the league placed the question of the final form of the bill in the hands of State Superintendent Charles W. Carroll after recommending the type of bill, and he will confer with the members of the Legislature. "We want to give the legislators a bill they will vote for," said Dr. Carroll after the meeting, "and if they think some other plan would be preferable the bill will be drafted as the local option men desire. The measure will be introduced early."

—W. C. Knapp, of Hawley, was in town recently. William Mengel spent Wednesday at Lackawaxen. Miss Mary Brown, of Hawley, is visiting in Honesdale. Mrs. T. B. Clark entertained at cards Wednesday evening. C. A. Davey, of Torrey, called on relatives in town on Tuesday. Marion Guinney, of Ridge street, is confined to her home by illness. Lee Sheard, of Fallside, was a caller in Honesdale on Tuesday. Howard Miller is confined to his home on Ridge street with grippe. Miss Hazel Warfield, of East street, is visiting relatives at Lookout. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Budd spent part of last week with relatives at Torrey. Marks Bregstein was attending to business in New York city the first of the week. Mrs. Oram Sutton will entertain the sewing circle of the German Lutheran church at her home this evening. Hon. E. B. Hardenbergh went to New York Thursday where he expects to spend the remainder of this week. Nicholas B. Shuman, of Montclair, N. J., is spending a few days in Honesdale and Waymart renewing acquaintances. William F. Wood, of Beachlake, ex-commissioner of Wayne county, made a pleasant call at The Citizen office Wednesday while in town. T. Y. Boyd, W. B. Leshar, Charles Boyd, and Bert Bennett left on Wednesday to attend the Automobile show in New York city this week. Jacob Doetsch has returned to this place after spending a few days at Callicoon where he was called last Friday by the serious illness of his mother. George Nicholson, who has been employed in Carbondale, is now working in the machine shops of the Gurney Electric Elevator Co. He is living with his brother, Rex, of Upper Main street. Fred Hattler has been obliged to take an indefinite layoff from his work on account of ill health. Mr. Thompson, formerly of Yonkers, N. Y., is taking his place as foreman of the machine department of the Elevator Works.

THOUGHT IT WAS A TELEPHONE

An amusing story drifts in from the rural districts. Recently, it is alleged, a farm resident who has abtained in several years broke over and fell a victim to too much hard cider, while sitting beside the barrel in his cellar. A friend from the neighboring farm was sent for to render assistance. Upon entering the cellar he found the man in a reclining position with the spigot of the cider cask held close to his ear, listening intently! When asked what he was doing the reply came: "Sh! I'm listening to the women buzzing over the 'phone."—Unadilla Times.

How Many of the Descriptive Sketches Did You Answer?—Answers Given and More Guesses Coming.

The descriptive sketches of Honesdale's prominent men which appeared in the last issue of The Citizen created considerable favorable comment. Some correctly guessed who the characters were while others opinions are foggy. For the benefit of the latter we reproduce the names of the first four gentlemen. They are as follows:

- 1.—Hon. A. T. Searle. 2.—Rev. John O'Toole. 3.—Rev. W. H. Swift. 4.—Rev. J. W. Batta.

See if you are as lucky in guessing the following sketches as you were the above. Here they are:

Eighth Grade—A Grammar. By Elizabeth O'Hea.

The subject of this sketch is very tall and thin. He has dark hair which is very thick. He dresses carefully and has a habit of wearing a peculiar collar. He has long features, a strong voice and he likes music. He is one of the most respectable citizens Honesdale has. He is very humorous and enjoys a good laugh. He is sympathetic and generous. He addressed the school very often. He likes large coat pockets, and has them, as he thinks that they are very serviceable. This gentleman always seems to be in a great hurry and if you are not on the lookout you may have a collision with him at any time. If so, he will give you a curt "beg pardon," and rush on faster than ever to make up for lost time. No. 5.

Eighth Grade—A Grammar. By Edith Robinson.

The subject of this sketch is one of Honesdale's most prominent business men, also in his church affairs. He is of medium height, medium weight, about one hundred and sixty pounds. His hair was once black, but it is now quite white. He has very heavy eye brows which are also white, and he wears glasses. He generally wears a light suit, and black overcoat, and a soft velvet hat. He always has the appearance of a gentleman. No. 6.

Eighth Grade—A Grammar. By May McCabe.

The subject of this sketch is a tall but not stout man, although he is not thin. He has broad shoulders, one of which is slightly lower than the other but he is not round shouldered. His hair is dark and wavy and slightly sprinkled with gray. His eyes are gray with long dark lashes. He also has an oval face with a wrinkle between his eyes. He walks rapidly which his position sometimes requires and is inclined to lean a little forward when walking. He has a clean, smooth voice and is pleasant and gentle to converse with. He has excellent manners and is very brilliant as well as educated and holds a county office. No. 7.

—Less gold was produced in the United States in 1912 than in any years since 1907, according to the official estimates of the United States Geological Survey. It was declared, however, that more silver was mined during the twelve months than during the similar period since 1892. The passing of the picturesque prospector with his pack mule and pick, leads the survey to fear that few rich gold "finds" will be made in the future. None was made in 1912. The value of the gold mined during 1912 will approximate $92,000,000, a decrease of $5,000,000 from 1911. The decrease is ascribed mainly to the failure of the bonanza camp of Goldfield, Nev., to maintain the rich character of its ore.

"THE BOSTON LYRICS."

"The Boston Lyrics" in a delightfully varied program will appear at the Lyric under the auspices of the High school, on Thursday evening, Jan. 23. Features of their program are: Vocal selections, cornet solos, trombone solos, marimbaphone solos and duets, cartoons, pastel readings and songs, monologues and humorous skits. This concert will make the third one of the High school course, and the fact that the other two gave such fine satisfaction ought to help considerably in getting "The Boston Lyrics" a capacity house on their appearance here.

Another Letter From Windy City.

The Citizen is in receipt of a belated letter sent to the Honesdale postoffice. It was received the first of the year, but was not given us for publication until yesterday. It speaks for itself:

Chicago, Dec. 28, 1912.

Dear Sir Postmaster: If you know any farmer who wants to sell a farm from 35 to 50 acres, please let us know. As I am thinking about buying one in that part of the country, if you know a farmer there by the name of George French. They call him Fox for short or Bendcost or Moses Cole, please send us the address, and let us know how farms are, whether they are higher now than they were 18 or 19 years ago. Answer soon.

JOHN HALSIN, 548 West 36th St., Chicago, Ill.
